THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

16TH YEAR. NO. 184. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1901. TWO CENTS

THE REESE SIDE OF THAT STORY

Mother Objects to Her Daughter Working at a Saloon and For That Reason

WANTED HER AT HOME

She Went to the Anderson House After the Girl but She Hid.

ATTORNEY HAS BEEN ENGAGED

Several days ago a local paper printed a pitiful story in regard to Retta Reese, who is at present working at the Anderson House on Walnut street.

According to the story told the little girl had been subjected to much cruelty and Humane Officer Miller was asked to take a hand in the matter.

James Reese, the father of the girl, who works in a clay bank at Walker's, accompanied by his wife and the blind girl mentioned in the article called at this office today and asked that the impresseion given out be corrected.

Mrs. Reese stated that one day she sent her daughter to a West End grocery for some articles and that she ran away and came to this city and secured employment at the Anderson House. She afterwards came home and told her mother where she had secured employment and stated that the saloon run by Anderson was across the street from the building in which she was working. When her mother came to the city and found that her daughter was working for parties who conducted a saloon she told her that must come home. She didn't accede to her mother's wish and on Saturday evening the mother again came to the city and told her daughter that she must go home with her and that Mrs. Anderson was not her guardian. A man came in for his supper and the girl went to wait on him. Mrs. Reese waited for some time and then Mrs. Anderson went to the dining room and returned with the information that Retta had departed. The mother went to the office of Squire McLane, told him the story and was told to go and get her child. She returned to the Anderson House the same evening, but the girl was not to be found.

The blind girl, who is but 16 years old, said she had never gone to the Anderson House and demanded her sister's wages.

In regard to the gash in the side of Retta, which was shown Miller, the mother stated that she was quarreling with her sister just seven years ago and in running with the scissors in her hand she fell and inflicted the gash.

The mother also stated that Retta was well clad when she left home and had disposed of her clothing since she left home.

The father has employed an attorney, and this evening it is expected the girl will be returned to her parents.

NOT A CASE.

The Last Case of Contagious Disease in the City Was Discharged Today.

Sanitary Officer Burgess today lifted the quarantine at the home of John Bailey, whose wife has been ill with an attack of diphtheria.

This was the only case of contagious disease in the city and the health authorities will use every effort to prevent it getting another start. This city has been unusually fortunate in the small number of cases this fall.

OVERCOME BY HEAT.

A HOT KILN TOO MUCH FOR CHARLES STRAUSS.

He Was Taken in a Carriage to His Home on Second Street.

Charles Strauss was overcome by heat at the China works yesterday afternoon at 2:30, and is today in a very bad condition.

The young man is a kilndrawer and was engaged at that occupation when taken ill. The kiln was very hot, and the whole crew had performed a vast amount of work during the early part of the day.

Strauss was taken to his home at the foot of Second street in a carriage and medical aid summoned. He is resting comparatively easy today.

THE M. P. REVIVAL.

More Enthusiasm And Zeal Manifested Than at a Any Previous Meeting.

There was more enthusiasm and zeal apparent in the revival meetings in the Methodist Protestant church last night than at any previous meeting since the beginning of the revival. This was shown in various ways by the spontaniety of every thing that was done, the vigorous singing, the voluntary, earnest, importunate prayers and the personal work of the members. This latter feature is the most hopeful one yet.

Rev. W. A. Curfman was present and took part in the meetings, expressing himself as delighted with the prospect.

The pastor, Rev. Gladden, took his text in Romans 8:31, "If God be for us, who can be against us?" and he showed the many invincible auxiliaries of the Christian church, urging still more aggressive activities.

The meeting tonight is at 8 o'clock. All are cordially invited.

SUSPECT MURDER.

Coal Miners at Wellsville Don't Think Yates And Son Burned to Death.

The coal miners who are employed in the banks along McQueen's Run, in the neighborhood where John Yates and son George were burned to death in their cabin recently, are of the opinion that they were murdered and their cabin set on fire to destroy traces.

The miners have no evidence that the men were killed and the cabin set on fire. They think that had the men been sleeping when the fire broke out the smoke would have aroused them and they would have had no trouble in getting out of the burning building. It is because the miners cannot explain the death of the men on any other theory but one of murder that they think there was foul work done on the lonely run the night of the fire.

ARRIVED AT NOON.

Superintendent M. M. Southworth And Wife, of Fairmount Home, Are Here.

Superintendent M. M. Southworth and wife, of the Fairmount Children's Home, arrived in the city at noon today. They brought with them a child which will be placed here.

THE SMALL BOYS WILL HAVE TO QUIT

The Practice of Crying the Sale of Sunday Papers on the Streets.

THEY DISTURB THE SABBATH

Mayor Davidson Is In Earnest About the Matter and Arrests May Follow.

DEALERS WERE ALSO NOTIFIED

The practice of small boys crying the sale of Sunday papers has become a condemned nuisance in this city, and the fact that the habit has grown worse within the last few weeks has caused the authorities to resolve that it must be stopped at once.

Mayor Davidson asserts that he has on several occasions notified the agents of the different papers delivered here on Sunday that the boys must refrain from yelling on the streets, especially in the proximity of several churches of the city, but so far it seems they have paid little or no attention to the warning.

This is our Badge of Honor.

Tested for 10 these many years.

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION LABEL

Backed by the International Typographical Union.

The Pittsburg papers arrive on the train between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from that time until almost 2 o'clock the streets are filled with small boys. No attention whatever is paid to the fact that church services are in progress about that time and it would seem that they yell the loudest at the very places they should not, and the result is they have annoyed the various down town church organizations a great deal.

Then when the New York Sunday papers arrive there is another din which lasts for almost three hours, between 5 and 8 o'clock. This is also just in time to annoy the church people, and the local authorities have determined to put a stop to it once and for all. Mayor Davidson asserts that he has become weary of the nuisance and will stop it.

ENORMOUS

Has Been the Money Paid Out in Sebring During the Last Six Months.

During the past six months and since the Sebring pottery was first started there has been paid out for labor the enormous sum of $300,000. This includes the street and pottery pay. Besides this vast amount there has been paid out many thousands of dollars to mechanics, who have been engaged upon buildings which have been erected in the embryo city.

AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

The Revival Meeting Last Night Was an Inspiring Service.

The revival service held last evening at the First M. E. church was largely attended and the meeting was a glorious one, and throughout the church the spirit of the gospel was manifest. Much interest was displayed and it was an inspiring meeting.

The pastor, Dr. Crawford, delivered an eloquent sermon from Heb. 2:3, taking as his subject, "The Great Salvation."

HOT WATER.

This Young Man Will Explain When He Makes Any More Gifts of Art Ware.

A young man who resides in this city purchased a handsome piece of Oakwood ware and sent it to his best girl, who resides in Lisbon. The young lady was not up in art ware and poured hot water in it, with the result that the bottom dropped out.

The young man is now figuring whether he can stand the price of another piece of art ware to replace it.

IT IS SLOW.

Business at Police Court Continues to be Unusually Dull.

If business at police court don't pick up pretty soon, Mayor Davidson will decide the city has no need of a chief magistrate. There was not an arrest made last evening.

Chief Thompson has received no further word in regard to the man held at Altoona, who is supposed to be Milton Drew, wanted in this city for larceny.

SIDEWALKS.

Council Will Take Action And See That Some of Them Are Relaid.

When spring arrives it is probable council will take some action in regard to the many sidewalks in the city that need relaying.

The property owners will be notified to relay them or the city will do the work and charge the expenses up to them on the tax duplicate.

THE CASES

Against Contractor Robert Gravatt Were Heard Last Evening by Squire McCarrorn.

The cases of the Riverview Land company for $100 and J. W. Gipner for $88 against Contractor Robert Gravatt were heard last evening by Squire McCarron. By mutual consent the cases were both heard at the same time and judgment for the full amount was rendered in both cases.

A NICE GIFT.

Ladies of the Maccabees Present Mrs. Bostock With a Beautiful Walnut Secretary.

The Ladies of the Golden Rod Hive No. 20, of L. O. T. M., at their meeting last night, presented Mrs. James Bostock with a beautiful walnut secretary as their appreciation of her work as record keeper during the past term.

—George F. Brunt was a Pittsburg visitor yesterday.

MAY BUILT A ROW OF FLATS

It Is Stated That Professor Thompson Is Seriously Considering the Plan.

ONE FINE BUSINESS BLOCK

Will Be Erected on Washington Street and May Be Occupied By A

A NEW FURNITURE HOUSE

While it is not known definitely how Prof. W. L. Thompson will improve the land he purchased on Washington and Fifth streets, it is said he contemplates building an apartment and business house.

From a thoroughly reliable source it is learned that the professor is seriously thinking of putting up a business block on the Washington street side of his lot, extending it back to the alley in an L shape and making a splendid business room. It is said the room will be occupied by a new furniture house when it is finished.

On the Fifth street side of the lot it is stated he will build a splendid row of flats, up to date in every particular, and something the city has long needed.

A RUNOFF.

George Brunt's Fast Horse Made Time Down Fifth Street Today.

George F. Brunt's fast horse ran away on Fifth street and was stopped in the old cemetery just in time to save it from going over the bank.

Mr. Brunt's driver was holding the reins when the animal made the burst of speed.

Hoopes Has Retired.

Infirmary Director S. T. Hoopes, who for a number of years has faithfully served the county, has completed his term and retired from office. Thomas Kelley, who was the successful candidate at the last election, has taken his place.

PERSONAL NEWS

Paragraphs About People Coming And Going And Those Who Are Sick.

—John Weaver left this morning for Minerva.

—John McKinney was a Pittsburg visitor yesterday and today.

—Harry Horwell was in Beaver Falls yesterday on business.

—J. H. Mackall left this morning for Ada, O., to attend the college at that place.

—R. C. Miller left yesterday afternoon for a week's visit in western Pennsylvania.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith returned home this morning after a visit at Steubenville.

—Miss Anna Irwin, of Morristown, O., is in the city the guest of Mrs. W. R. Clark, Sixth street.

—Mrs. George Blake returned to her home in Columbus yesterday afternoon after a visit in this city.

—Mrs. James Logan, of Sixth street, left this morning for a visit at East Palestine with her son Robert.

—Frank Ikirt returned to Cleveland yesterday to resume his studies in college after a visit in this city.

THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

16TH YEAR. NO. 184. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1901. TWO CENTS

THE REESE SIDE OF THAT STORY

Mother Objects to Her Daughter Working at a Saloon and For That Reason

WANTED HER AT HOME

She Went to the Anderson House After the Girl but She Hid.

ATTORNEY HAS BEEN ENGAGED

Several days ago a local paper printed a pitiful story in regard to Retta Reese, who is at present working at the Anderson House on Walnut street.

According to the story told the little girl had been subjected to much cruelty and Humane Officer Miller was asked to take a hand in the matter.

James Reese, the father of the girl, who works in a clay bank at Walker's, accompanied by his wife and the blind girl mentioned in the article called at this office today and asked that the impresseion given out be corrected.

Mrs. Reese stated that one day she sent her daughter to a West End grocery for some articles and that she ran away and came to this city and secured employment at the Anderson House. She afterwards came home and told her mother where she had secured employment and stated that the saloon run by Anderson was across the street from the building in which she was working. When her mother came to the city and found that her daughter was working for parties who conducted a saloon she told her that must come home. She didn't accede to her mother's wish and on Saturday evening the mother again came to the city and told her daughter that she must go home with her and that Mrs. Anderson was not her guardian. A man came in for his supper and the girl went to wait on him. Mrs. Reese waited for some time and then Mrs. Anderson went to the dining room and returned with the information that Retta had departed. The mother went to the office of Squire McLane, told him the story and was told to go and get her child. She returned to the Anderson House the same evening, but the girl was not to be found.

The blind girl, who is but 16 years old, said she had never gone to the Anderson House and demanded her sister's wages.

In regard to the gash in the side of Retta, which was shown Miller, the mother stated that she was quarreling with her sister just seven years ago and in running with the scissors in her hand she fell and inflicted the gash.

The mother also stated that Retta was well clad when she left home and had disposed of her clothing since she left home.

The father has employed an attorney, and this evening it is expected the girl will be returned to her parents.

NOT A CASE.

The Last Case of Contagious Disease in the City Was Discharged Today.

Sanitary Officer Burgess today lifted the quarantine at the home of John Bailey, whose wife has been ill with an attack of diphtheria.

This was the only case of contagious disease in the city and the health authorities will use every effort to prevent it getting another start. This city has been unusually fortunate in the small number of cases this fall.

OVERCOME BY HEAT.

A HOT KILN TOO MUCH FOR CHARLES STRAUSS.

He Was Taken in a Carriage to His Home on Second Street.

Charles Strauss was overcome by heat at the China works yesterday afternoon at 2:30, and is today in a very bad condition.

The young man is a kilndrawer and was engaged at that occupation when taken ill. The kiln was very hot, and the whole crew had performed a vast amount of work during the early part of the day.

Strauss was taken to his home at the foot of Second street in a carriage and medical aid summoned. He is resting comparatively easy today.

THE M. P. REVIVAL.

More Enthusiasm And Zeal Manifested Than at a Any Previous Meeting.

There was more enthusiasm and zeal apparent in the revival meetings in the Methodist Protestant church last night than at any previous meeting since the beginning of the revival. This was shown in various ways by the spontaniety of every thing that was done, the vigorous singing, the voluntary, earnest, importunate prayers and the personal work of the members. This latter feature is the most hopeful one yet.

Rev. W. A. Curfman was present and took part in the meetings, expressing himself as delighted with the prospect.

The pastor, Rev. Gladden, took his text in Romans 8:31, "If God be for us, who can be against us?" and he showed the many invincible auxiliaries of the Christian church, urging still more aggressive activities.

The meeting tonight is at 8 o'clock. All are cordially invited.

SUSPECT MURDER.

Coal Miners at Wellsville Don't Think Yates And Son Burned to Death.

The coal miners who are employed in the banks along McQueen's Run, in the neighborhood where John Yates and son George were burned to death in their cabin recently, are of the opinion that they were murdered and their cabin set on fire to destroy traces.

The miners have no evidence that the men were killed and the cabin set on fire. They think that had the men been sleeping when the fire broke out the smoke would have aroused them and they would have had no trouble in getting out of the burning building. It is because the miners cannot explain the death of the men on any other theory but one of murder that they think there was foul work done on the lonely run the night of the fire.

ARRIVED AT NOON.

Superintendent M. M. Southworth And Wife, of Fairmount Home, Are Here.

Superintendent M. M. Southworth and wife, of the Fairmount Children's Home, arrived in the city at noon today. They brought with them a child which will be placed here.

THE SMALL BOYS WILL HAVE TO QUIT

The Practice of Crying the Sale of Sunday Papers on the Streets.

THEY DISTURB THE SABBATH

Mayor Davidson Is In Earnest About the Matter and Arrests May Follow.

DEALERS WERE ALSO NOTIFIED

The practice of small boys crying the sale of Sunday papers has become a condemned nuisance in this city, and the fact that the habit has grown worse within the last few weeks has caused the authorities to resolve that it must be stopped at once.

Mayor Davidson asserts that he has on several occasions notified the agents of the different papers delivered here on Sunday that the boys must refrain from yelling on the streets, especially in the proximity of several churches of the city, but so far it seems they have paid little or no attention to the warning.

The Pittsburg papers arrive on the train between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from that time until almost 2 o'clock the streets are filled with small boys. No attention whatever is paid to the fact that church services are in progress about that time and it would seem that they yell the loudest at the very places they should not, and the result is they have annoyed the various down town church organizations a great deal.

Then when the New York Sunday papers arrive there is another din which lasts for almost three hours, between 5 and 8 o'clock. This is also just in time to annoy the church people, and the local authorities have determined to put a stop to it once and for all. Mayor Davidson asserts that he has become weary of the nuisance and will stop it.

This is our Badge of Honor.

Tested for 10 these many years.

Backed by the International Typographical Union.

ENORMOUS

Has Been the Money Paid Out in Sebring During the Last Six Months.

During the past six months and since the Sebring pottery was first started there has been paid out for labor the enormous sum of $300,000. This includes the street and pottery pay. Besides this vast amount there has been paid out many thousands of dollars to mechanics, who have been engaged upon buildings which have been erected in the embryo city.

AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

The Revival Meeting Last Night Was an Inspiring Service.

The revival service held last evening at the First M. E. church was largely attended and the meeting was a glorious one, and throughout the church the spirit of the gospel was manifest. Much interest was displayed and it was an inspiring meeting.

The pastor, Dr. Crawford, delivered an eloquent sermon from Heb. 2:3, taking as his subject, "The Great Salvation."

HOT WATER.

This Young Man Will Explain When He Makes Any More Gifts of Art Ware.

A young man who resides in this city purchased a handsome piece of Oakwood ware and sent it to his best girl, who resides in Lisbon. The young lady was not up in art ware and poured hot water in it, with the result that the bottom dropped out.

The young man is now figuring whether he can stand the price of another piece of art ware to replace it.

IT IS SLOW.

Business at Police Court Continues to be Unusually Dull.

If business at police court don't pick up pretty soon, Mayor Davidson will decide the city has no need of a chief magistrate. There was not an arrest made last evening.

Chief Thompson has received no further word in regard to the man held at Altoona, who is supposed to be Milton Drew, wanted in this city for larceny.

SIDEWALKS.

Council Will Take Action And See That Some of Them Are Relaid.

When spring arrives it is probable council will take some action in regard to the many sidewalks in the city that need relaying.

The property owners will be notified to relay them or the city will do the work and charge the expenses up to them on the tax duplicate.

THE CASES

Against Contractor Robert Gravatt Were Heard Last Evening by Squire McCarrorn.

The cases of the Riverview Land company for $100 and J. W. Gipner for $88 against Contractor Robert Gravatt were heard last evening by Squire McCarron. By mutual consent the cases were both heard at the same time and judgment for the full amount was rendered in both cases.

A NICE GIFT.

Ladies of the Maccabees Present Mrs. Bostock With a Beautiful Walnut Secretary.

The Ladies of the Golden Rod Hive No. 20, of L. O. T. M., at their meeting last night, presented Mrs. James Bostock with a beautiful walnut secretary as their appreciation of her work as record keeper during the past term.

—George F. Brunt was a Pittsburg visitor yesterday.

MAY BUILT A ROW OF FLATS

It Is Stated That Professor Thompson Is Seriously Considering the Plan.

ONE FINE BUSINESS BLOCK

Will Be Erected on Washington Street and May Be Occupied By A

A NEW FURNITURE HOUSE

While it is not known definitely how Prof. W. L. Thompson will improve the land he purchased on Washington and Fifth streets, it is said he contemplates building an apartment and business house.

From a thoroughly reliable source it is learned that the professor is seriously thinking of putting up a business block on the Washington street side of his lot, extending it back to the alley in an L shape and making a splendid business room. It is said the room will be occupied by a new furniture house when it is finished.

On the Fifth street side of the lot it is stated he will build a splendid row of flats, up to date in every particular, and something the city has long needed.

A RUNOFF.

George Brunt's Fast Horse Made Time Down Fifth Street Today.

George F. Brunt's fast horse ran away on Fifth street and was stopped in the old cemetery just in time to save it from going over the bank.

Mr. Brunt's driver was holding the reins when the animal made the burst of speed.

Hoopes Has Retired.

Infirmary Director S. T. Hoopes, who for a number of years has faithfully served the county, has completed his term and retired from office. Thomas Kelley, who was the successful candidate at the last election, has taken his place.

PERSONAL NEWS

Paragraphs About People Coming And Going And Those Who Are Sick.

—John Weaver left this morning for Minerva.

—John McKinney was a Pittsburg visitor yesterday and today.

—Harry Horwell was in Beaver Falls yesterday on business.

—J. H. Mackall left this morning for Ada, O., to attend the college at that place.

—R. C. Miller left yesterday afternoon for a week's visit in western Pennsylvania.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith returned home this morning after a visit at Steubenville.

—Miss Anna Irwin, of Morristown, O., is in the city the guest of Mrs. W. R. Clark, Sixth street.

—Mrs. George Blake returned to her home in Columbus yesterday afternoon after a visit in this city.

—Mrs. James Logan, of Sixth street, left this morning for a visit at East Palestine with her son Robert.

—Frank Ikirt returned to Cleveland yesterday to resume his studies in a college after a visit in this city.

THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

16TH YEAR. NO. 184. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1901. TWO CENTS

THE REESE SIDE OF THAT STORY

Mother Objects to Her Daughter Working at a Saloon and For That Reason

WANTED HER AT HOME

She Went to the Anderson House After the Girl but She Hid.

ATTORNEY HAS BEEN ENGAGED

Several days ago a local paper printed a pitiful story in regard to Retta Reese, who is at present working at the Anderson House on Walnut street.

According to the story told the little girl had been subjected to much cruelty and Humane Officer Miller was asked to take a hand in the matter.

James Reese, the father of the girl, who works in a clay bank at Walker's, accompanied by his wife and the blind girl mentioned in the article called at this office today and asked that the impresseion given out be corrected.

Mrs. Reese stated that one day she sent her daughter to a West End grocery for some articles and that she ran away and came to this city and secured employment at the Anderson House. She afterwards came home and told her mother where she had secured employment and stated that the saloon run by Anderson was across the street from the building in which she was working. When her mother came to the city and found that her daughter was working for parties who conducted a saloon she told her that must come home. She didn't accede to her mother's wish and on Saturday evening the mother again came to the city and told her daughter that she must go home with her and that Mrs. Anderson was not her guardian. A man came in for his supper and the girl went to wait on him. Mrs. Reese waited for some time and then Mrs. Anderson went to the dining room and returned with the information that Retta had departed. The mother went to the office of Squire McLane, told him the story and was told to go and get her child. She returned to the Anderson House the same evening, but the girl was not to be found.

The blind girl, who is but 16 years old, said she had never gone to the Anderson House and demanded her sister's wages.

In regard to the gash in the side of Retta, which was shown Miller, the mother stated that she was quarreling with her sister just seven years ago and in running with the scissors in her hand she fell and inflicted the gash.

The mother also stated that Retta was well clad when she left home and had disposed of her clothing since she left home.

The father has employed an attorney, and this evening it is expected the girl will be returned to her parents.

NOT A CASE.

The Last Case of Contagious Disease in the City Was Discharged Today.

Sanitary Officer Burgess today lifted the quarantine at the home of John Bailey, whose wife has been ill with an attack of diphtheria.

This was the only case of contagious disease in the city and the health authorities will use every effort to prevent it getting another start. This city has been unusually fortunate in the small number of cases this fall.

OVERCOME BY HEAT.

A HOT KILN TOO MUCH FOR CHARLES STRAUSS.

He Was Taken in a Carriage to His Home on Second Street.

Charles Strauss was overcome by heat at the China works yesterday afternoon at 2:30, and is today in a very bad condition.

The young man is a kilndrawer and was engaged at that occupation when taken ill. The kiln was very hot, and the whole crew had performed a vast amount of work during the early part of the day.

Strauss was taken to his home at the foot of Second street in a carriage and medical aid summoned. He is resting comparatively easy today.

THE M. P. REVIVAL.

More Enthusiasm And Zeal Manifested Than at a Any Previous Meeting.

There was more enthusiasm and zeal apparent in the revival meetings in the Methodist Protestant church last night than at any previous meeting since the beginning of the revival. This was shown in various ways by the spontaniety of every thing that was done, the vigorous singing, the voluntary, earnest, importunate prayers and the personal work of the members. This latter feature is the most hopeful one yet.

Rev. W. A. Curfman was present and took part in the meetings, expressing himself as delighted with the prospect.

The pastor, Rev. Gladden, took his text in Romans 8:31, "If God be for us, who can be against us?" and he showed the many invincible auxiliaries of the Christian church, urging still more aggressive activities.

The meeting tonight is at 8 o'clock. All are cordially invited.

SUSPECT MURDER.

Coal Miners at Wellsville Don't Think Yates And Son Burned to Death.

The coal miners who are employed in the banks along McQueen's Run, in the neighborhood where John Yates and son George were burned to death in their cabin recently, are of the opinion that they were murdered and their cabin set on fire to destroy traces.

The miners have no evidence that the men were killed and the cabin set on fire. They think that had the men been sleeping when the fire broke out the smoke would have aroused them and they would have had no trouble in getting out of the burning building. It is because the miners cannot explain the death of the men on any other theory but one of murder that they think there was foul work done on the lonely run the night of the fire.

ARRIVED AT NOON.

Superintendent M. M. Southworth And Wife, of Fairmount Home, Are Here.

Superintendent M. M. Southworth and wife, of the Fairmount Children's Home, arrived in the city at noon today. They brought with them a child which will be placed here.

THE SMALL BOYS WILL HAVE TO QUIT

The Practice of Crying the Sale of Sunday Papers on the Streets.

THEY DISTURB THE SABBATH

Mayor Davidson Is In Earnest About the Matter and Arrests May Follow.

DEALERS WERE ALSO NOTIFIED

The practice of small boys crying the sale of Sunday papers has become a condemned nuisance in this city, and the fact that the habit has grown worse within the last few weeks has caused the authorities to resolve that it must be stopped at once.

Mayor Davidson asserts that he has on several occasions notified the agents of the different papers delivered here on Sunday that the boys must refrain from yelling on the streets, especially in the proximity of several churches of the city, but so far it seems they have paid little or no attention to the warning.

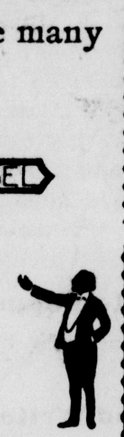

This is our Badge of Honor.

Tested for lo these many years.

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION LABEL

Backed by the International Typographical Union.

The Pittsburg papers arrive on the train between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from that time until almost 2 o'clock the streets are filled with small boys. No attention whatever is paid to the fact that church services are in progress about that time and it would seem that they yell the loudest at the very places they should not, and the result is they have annoyed the various down town church organizations a great deal.

Then when the New York Sunday papers arrive there is another din which lasts for almost three hours, between 5 and 8 o'clock. This is also just in time to annoy the church people, and the local authorities have determined to put a stop to it once and for all. Mayor Davidson asserts that he has become weary of the nuisance and will stop it.

ENORMOUS

Has Been the Money Paid Out in Sebring During the Last Six Months.

During the past six months and since the Sebring pottery was first started there has been paid out for labor the enormous sum of $300,000. This includes the street and pottery pay. Besides this vast amount there has been paid out many thousands of dollars to mechanics, who have been engaged upon buildings which have been erected in the embryo city.

AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

The Revival Meeting Last Night Was an Inspiring Service.

The revival service held last evening at the First M. E. church was largely attended and the meeting was a glorious one, and throughout the church the spirit of the gospel was manifest. Much interest was displayed and it was an inspiring meeting.

The pastor, Dr. Crawford, delivered an eloquent sermon from Heb. 2:3, taking as his subject, "The Great Salvation."

HOT WATER.

This Young Man Will Explain When He Makes Any More Gifts of Art Ware.

A young man who resides in this city purchased a handsome piece of Oakwood ware and sent it to his best girl, who resides in Lisbon. The young lady was not up in art ware and poured hot water in it, with the result that the bottom dropped out.

The young man is now figuring whether he can stand the price of another piece of art ware to replace it.

IT IS SLOW.

Business at Police Court Continues to be Unusually Dull.

If business at police court don't pick up pretty soon, Mayor Davidson will decide the city has no need of a chief magistrate. There was not an arrest made last evening.

Chief Thompson has received no further word in regard to the man held at Altoona, who is supposed to be Milton Drew, wanted in this city for larceny.

SIDEWALKS.

Council Will Take Action And See That Some of Them Are Relaid.

When spring arrives it is probable council will take some action in regard to the many sidewalks in the city that need relaying.

The property owners will be notified to relay them or the city will do the work and charge the expenses up to them on the tax duplicate.

THE CASES

Against Contractor Robert Gravatt Were Heard Last Evening by Squire McCarrorn.

The cases of the Riverview Land company for $100 and J. W. Gipner for $88 against Contractor Robert Gravatt were heard last evening by Squire McCarron. By mutual consent the cases were both heard at the same time and judgment for the full amount was rendered in both cases.

A NICE GIFT.

Ladies of the Maccabees Present Mrs. Bostock With a Beautiful Walnut Secretary.

The Ladies of the Golden Rod Hive No. 20, of L. O. T. M., at their meeting last night, presented Mrs. James Bostock with a beautiful walnut secretary as their appreciation of her work as record keeper during the past term.

—George F. Brunt was a Pittsburg visitor yesterday.

MAY BUILT A ROW OF FLATS

It Is Stated That Professor Thompson Is Seriously Considering the Plan.

ONE FINE BUSINESS BLOCK

Will Be Erected on Washington Street and May Be Occupied By A

A NEW FURNITURE HOUSE

While it is not known definitely how Prof. W. L. Thompson will improve the land he purchased on Washington and Fifth streets, it is said he contemplates building an apartment and business house.

From a thoroughly reliable source it is learned that the professor is seriously thinking of putting up a business block on the Washington street side of his lot, extending it back to the alley in an L shape and making a splendid business room. It is said the room will be occupied by a new furniture house when it is finished.

On the Fifth street side of the lot it is stated he will build a splendid row of flats, up to date in every particular, and something the city has long needed.

A RUNOFF.

George Brunt's Fast Horse Made Time Down Fifth Street Today.

George F. Brunt's fast horse ran away on Fifth street and was stopped in the old cemetery just in time to save it from going over the bank.

Mr. Brunt's driver was holding the reins when the animal made the burst of speed.

Hoopes Has Retired.

Infirmary Director S. T. Hoopes, who for a number of years has faithfully served the county, has completed his term and retired from office. Thomas Kelley, who was the successful candidate at the last election, has taken his place.

PERSONAL NEWS

Paragraphs About People Coming And Going And Those Who Are Sick.

—John Weaver left this morning for Minerva.

—John McKinney was a Pittsburg visitor yesterday and today.

—Harry Horwell was in Beaver Falls yesterday on business.

—J. H. Mackall left this morning for Ada, O., to attend the college at that place.

—R. C. Miller left yesterday afternoon for a week's visit in western Pennsylvania.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith returned home this morning after a visit at Steubenville.

—Miss Anna Irwin, of Morristown, O., is in the city the guest of Mrs. W. R. Clark, Sixth street.

—Mrs. George Blake returned to her home in Columbus yesterday afternoon after a visit in this city.

—Mrs. James Logan, of Sixth street, left this morning for a visit at East Palestine with her son Robert.

—Frank Ikirt returned to Cleveland yesterday to resume his studies in a college after a visit in this city.

25th Anniversary of Electoral College.

Ohio State Journal.

The final meeting of the Ohio electoral college yesterday and the casting of the 23 votes of Ohio for McKinley and Roosevelt has caused considerable discussion of the possibilities of the electoral machinery, and much comment among the members of the college as to what might happen if President McKinley might die before his inauguration.

Mr. Hane, of the Thirteenth district, during the course of a talk on the subject in the lobby of the Niel house yesterday, asked this question, and his colleagues who heard the inquiry were unable to answer it. Elaborate as the machinery for the election of a president is, it does not contemplate or supply an alternative for the situation that would arise in case of the death of the president-elect. In all probability, Vice President-elect Roosevelt would be held to be the successor of Mr. McKinley on March 4. But as the law now stands this would be an act of interpretation, and not by direction of any law of the land. There is no provision in the constitution or in any law of congress to cover the death of a president-elect or a vice president-elect. The constitution says:

"In case of the removal of the president from office, or of his death, resignation or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve upon the vice president."

Of course, if Mr. McKinley should die before March 4, he would not be president on that date and the constitution vacancy could not exist. All the same there would be a vacancy, and good constitutional lawyers say the only course to pursue would be to have Roosevelt qualify as vice president and then inaugurate him as president.

If President McKinley should die before March 4 Secretary Hay would act as president until March 4, and in the contingency of his being incapacitated for the duty, Secretary Gage and the other members of the cabinet in the order of the seniority of their departments would serve. The law provides amply for the succession until March 4.

Formerly the succession fell to the speaker of the house of representatives, in case there was no vice president, and after him the president pro tem of the senate. This at one time following the death of Vice President Hendricks proved a too precarious arrangement, and the Hoar plan was made a law.

The Ohio electoral college, in session in this city yesterday was the 25th in the history of the state—the silver wedding anniversary, so to speak. Beginning in 1804, when the three electors cast their vote for Thomas Jefferson, and coming down the line until the present time, there have been some pretty big men in the story of the state and the nation who have been the members of the Ohio electoral college. The list embraces one president (William Henry Harrison, who in 1820 voted for James Monroe and in 1824 for Henry Clay), several United States senators, members of the United States supreme court, members of congress, governors and other leading men in the state. Governors Nathaniel Massie, Jeremiah Morrow, Thomas Corwin, Robert Lucas, Mordecai Bartley, Ethan Allen Brown and David Tod served as members of the Ohio electoral college (Tod voting for Grant in 1868).

In the list of Ohio's representative men who have been members of the college since the organization of the state are such leaders as Nathaniel Massie, Jeremiah Morrow, William Henry Harrison, Ethan Allen Brown, Robert Lucas, Thomas L. Hamer, Jeremiah McLean, Moredcai Bartley, William C. Kirker, Benjamin Ruggles, Samuel F. Vinton, Thomas Corwin, Peter Hitchcock, Bellamy Storer, G. Volney Dorsey, LeGrand Byington, Washington McLean, Hugh J. Jewett, J. B. Stallo, Frederick Hasaurek, Benjamin Eggleston, Hezekiah Bundy, James R. Stanbery, Stanley Matthews, Mills Gardner, Samuel Galloway, A. G. McBurney, John C. Lee, Alphonso Hart, Charles H. Grosvenor, Aaron F. Perry, John W. Herron, Benjamin F. Wade, James M. Comly, Lorenzo Danford and a host of others who have a high place in the hearts of Ohioans and have held positions of honor and trust at the hands of their fellow citizens.

Beginning with 1804, when the three electors (William Goforth, James Pritchard and Nathaniel Massie) voted for Thomas Jefferson, the record discloses some interesting features. In 1808 there were still but three electors and they voted for James Madison. In 1812 there were eight, and they assisted in the re-election of James Madison. In 1816 there were eight, and they voted for Monroe. In 1820 the number was the same, and they again voted for Monroe. In 1824 the number was increased to 16, and Henry Clay got the vote. In 1828 the 16 Ohio votes went to Andrew Jackson, and in 1832 Jackson got the 21 votes of Ohio. In 1836 and 1840 the 21 votes were cast for William Henry Harrison. In 1844 Henry Clay got the 23 votes, in 1848 the state was carried by Lewis Cass, in 1852 by Franklin Pierce, in 1856 by John C. Fremont, in 1860 and 1864 by Lincoln, in 1868 and 1872 for Grant, in 1876 for Rutherford B. Hayes, in 1880 for James A. Garfield, in 1884 for James G. Blaine, in 1888 for Benjamin Harrison, in 1892, 22 votes were cast in the college for Benjamin Harrison and one (James P. Seward, of the 14th district) for Grover Cleveland, the first time in the history of the state the college has been split.

The present electorate college that yesterday completed the work of honoring Ohio's great son, William McKinley, is composed of representative Republicans, well known throughout the state. But one of the 23 has ever seen service before on the college—Myron T. Herrick, one of the electors at large, who, in 1892, shared with the late Hon. Lorenzo Danford the honor of being an elector-at-large and voting for Harrison. William Woodbury, of the Twelth district, has the honor of being the youngest man who ever served in the position, being but 23 years of age.

HE WAS SAD.

The Absence of Little Virgil Halstead Caused a School Boy to Shed Tears.

When little Virgil Halstead ran away a few days ago her parents were not the only sad people she left in the city. In one of the rooms at the Central building is a 13-year-old boy who is much smitten with Virgil, and the day she was gone his teacher had her troubles, as the youngster spent the entire day crying. He is now once more in a happy frame of mind.

On the River.

The river started to fall yesterday and the marks at the wharf this morning registered 13 feet and falling.

Advantage was taken of the rise and during yesterday and today a large amount of coal passed this port.

The Ben Hur passed down last night and the Kanawha is due down tonight. The Queen City landed at this port this morning from Cincinnati and brought a large shipment of straw to the city.

Sympathy With Quay.

Pittsburg Commercial.

Congressman R. W. Tayler, of the Eighteenth Ohio district, was a passenger for Washington last night. He said the sympathy of the lower house of congress was with Colonel Quay, and that the majority is gratified over the good prospects of his election.

Left for St. Augustine.

Mr. and Mrs. George Peach and H. S. Rinehart made up a party which left this morning for St. Augustine, Florida.

Mr. Peach has been ill for some time and goes to that place in the hope of benefiting his health. The party may remain at that place until April.

—Harry Davis left yesterday afternoon for a visit with his mother at Sebring.

A MESSAGE FOR YOUR PASTOR--CARRY IT TO HIM.

OUR PLAN FOR INDIA ORPHAN ADOPTION.

Between now and January 31, 1901, for the purpose of adopting all the famine orphans now in the hands of our American missionaries in India—who should be supplied with the necessary funds for the support of these orphans, and not be compelled to divert missionary funds for that purpose—we call upon every church in the United States, of whatever denomination, to adopt one single orphan, to be trained in a mission of their own selection. And we appeal to the reader of this announcement to present it to the pastor of the church to which he belongs, and to urge upon him compliance with the foregoing request. Should it be impracticable for any church to undertake the support of one orphan, at the rate of five cents a day, the members of the Sunday school, or the Young People's Society might be induced to assume the obligation. In its first issue in March next, the Christian Herald will publish the names of every church, Young People's Society, Sunday school and Foreign Missionary Society which, responding to this call, has undertaken the support of at least one orphan. We hope that every denomination will be largely represented in this monumental Christian charity, which is the crown of glory of the closing nineteenth century.

It Costs Only $15 a Year to Support One Orphan

If you succeed in getting an orphan adopted by church, Sunday school or society,

Take a Postal Card and Write as Follows

and mail it to the India Orphan Department, Christian Herald, Bible House, New York.

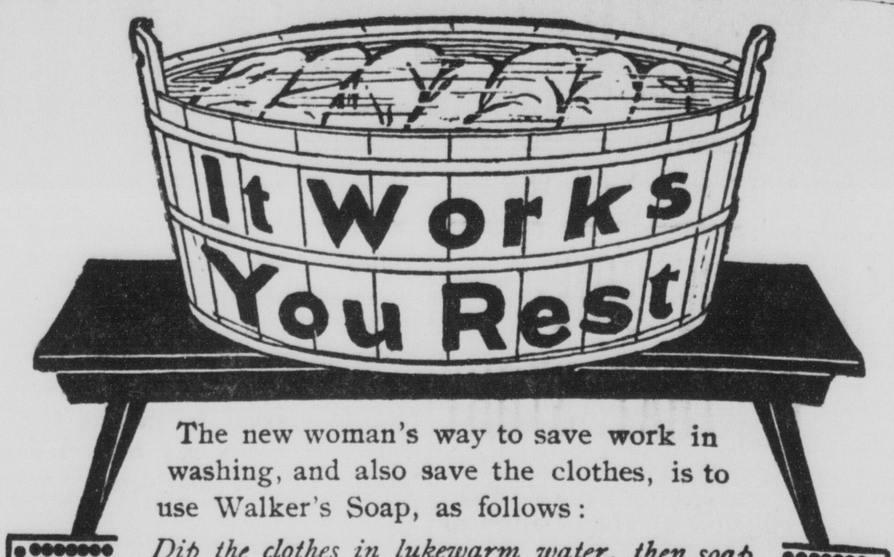

The.....will assume the support of One Orphan for One Year at the rate of $15 a year.

[Church, Society or Sunday School, as the case may be]

.....

[Name and address of the Writer]

Mention Denominational preference.

The new woman's way to save work in washing, and also save the clothes, is to use Walker's Soap, as follows:

Dip the clothes in lukewarm water, then soap each piece thoroughly, roll in a tight roll, place in a tub and cover with lukewarm water, allowing them to remain half an hour. During this time the soap will do its work. Then wring out, rinse out and hang out to dry.

WALKER'S SOAP

Is a good soap. Contains no alkali

That is why clothes washed with it last longest. Look for the Game Rooster trademark.

A DAY IN WALL STREET.

Some Notable Advances Scored In Steel Group—Renewed Weakness Among Railroads and Specialties.

New York, Jan. 15.—In the stock market Monday there were some notable advances scored in the steel group and with renewed weakness among the railroads and specialties, some of the latter two classes selling at the lowest on the last sales. There were points of strength during the day in the railroad list and among quite a number of the stocks not usually conspicuous in the trading. The Eries had a notable recovery from early weakness, the first preferred getting 2⅜ above Saturday. The southwestern group showed signs of strength, and St. Louis Southwestern preferred got a point above Saturday at one time. Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis stocks rose 3 and 3¼ respectively for the common and preferred. The National Salt stocks gained 2 and 2¾ respectively and Lead preferred recovered 5 points of its recent heavy decline. American Tobacco was 2½ points over Saturday at the highest. But these points of strength were the exceptions in the market, although they had an effect in rallying other stocks and in largely reducing the average losses. The market gave unmistakable evidence of a decline in the speculative furore and a disposition to revise the more sanguine estimates of the high price already attained for many stocks and those expected for others. St. Paul was forced at one time below 153, which was 4⅝ below Saturday, and closed with a net loss of 3¼. The other grangers were weak, apparently in sympathy. The local traction stocks relapsed sharply after the buoyant movement of Saturday, and Manhattan closed weak at the lowest after a midday rally at a net loss of 2¾. The Pacifics were vigorously sold, but Missouri Pacific showed a good recovery. At one time the majority of the active stocks in the list were from 1 to over 2 points below Saturday.

The railroad bond market was weak in sympathy with stocks. Total sales, par value, $2,850,000.

United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

ROBERT PITCAIRN CHOSEN.

He Is to Carry the Pennsylvania Returns to Washington.

Harrisburg, Jan. 15.—The Pennsylvania electoral college met here and counted the vote for president and vice president. Robert Pitcairn, of Pittsburg, was selected to deliver the returns to the president of the United States. Four years ago this honor was given to William Witherow, of Pittsburg.

All the 32 electors were present except Frank H. Buhl, of Mercer. He was ill and requested that Calvin W. Ray be substituted. The college elected him. The meeting was held in the senate chamber and the galleries were filled with people.

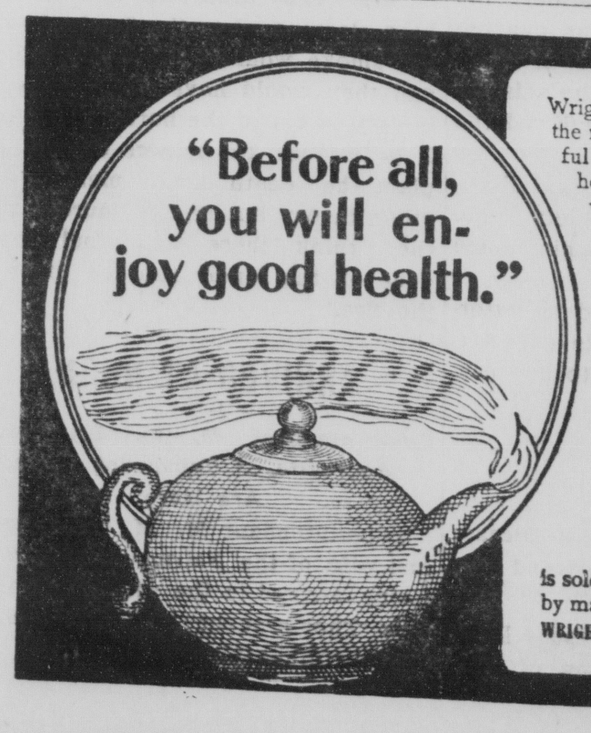

Ex-Mayor Edwin S. Stuart, of Philadelphia, was elected president. Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth Lewis Beitler was chosen secretary. Robert Pitcairn was made chairman of the committee that notified the governor that the college was ready for business. D. R. Greenwood will carry the returns to Judge McPherson, of the Eastern district court in Philadelphia, and J. L. Hower is the messenger who will see that the third package is mailed at the Harrisburg postoffice.

Two Would-Be Bank Robbers Caught.

Cumberland, Md., Jan. 15.—Two of the men implicated in the attempted bank robbery here early Sunday morning were arrested at Keyser, W. Va., by a United States postoffice inspector, the sheriff of Mineral county and a constable. They are Alonzo Evy, of Keyser and a man giving the name of Thomas Moore. A third man named McNamar eluded capture. Partial identification has been made of the prisoners.

Decided Neely Can Be Extradited.

Washington, Jan. 16.—The United States Supreme court decided that Neely, the Cuban postoffice embezzler, could be extradited.

Wright's Celery Tea soothes the nerves, promotes healthful sleep, creates appetite, helps digestion, renews vigor. The surest remedy for chronic constipation, rheumatism and all nervous and stomach troubles.

Wright's Celery Tea

is sold by all druggists or sent by mail. Price 25c. and 50c.

WRIGHT MEDICAL CO., Columbus, O.

25th Anniversary of Electoral College.

Ohio State Journal.

The final meeting of the Ohio electoral college yesterday and the casting of the 23 votes of Ohio for McKinley and Roosevelt has caused considerable discussion of the possibilities of the electoral machinery, and much comment among the members of the college as to what might happen if President McKinley might die before his inauguration.

Mr. Hane, of the Thirteenth district, during the course of a talk on the subject in the lobby of the Niel house yesterday, asked this question, and his colleagues who heard the inquiry were unable to answer it. Elaborate as the machinery for the election of a president is, it does not contemplate or supply an alternative for the situation that would arise in case of the death of the president-elect. In all probability, Vice President-elect Roosevelt would be held to be the successor of Mr. McKinley on March 4. But as the law now stands this would be an act of interpretation, and not by direction of any law of the land. There is no provision in the constitution or in any law of congress to cover the death of a president-elect or a vice president-elect. The constitution says:

"In case of the removal of the president from office, or of his death, resignation or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve upon the vice president."

Of course, if Mr. McKinley should die before March 4, he would not be president on that date and the constitution vacancy could not exist. All the same there would be a vacancy, and good constitutional lawyers say the only course to pursue would be to have Roosevelt qualify as vice president and then inaugurate him as president.

If President McKinley should die before March 4 Secretary Hay would act as president until March 4, and in the contingency of his being incapacitated for the duty, Secretary Gage and the other members of the cabinet in the order of the seniority of their departments would serve. The law provides amply for the succession until March 4.

Formerly the succession fell to the speaker of the house of representatives, in case there was no vice president, and after him the president pro tem of the senate. This at one time following the death of Vice President Hendricks proved a too precarious arrangement, and the Hoar plan was made a law.

The Ohio electoral college, in session in this city yesterday was the 25th in the history of the state—the silver wedding anniversary, so to speak. Beginning in 1804, when the three electors cast their vote for Thomas Jefferson, and coming down the line until the present time, there have been some pretty big men in the story of the state and the nation who have been the members of the Ohio electoral college. The list embraces one president (William Henry Harrison, who in 1820 voted for James Monroe and in 1824 for Henry Clay), several United States senators, members of the United States supreme court, members of congress, governors and other leading men in the state. Governors Nathaniel Massie, Jeremiah Morrow, Thomas Corwin, Robert Lucas, Mordecai Bartley, Ethan Allen Brown and David Tod served as members of the Ohio electoral college (Tod voting for Grant in 1868).

In the list of Ohio's representative men who have been members of the college since the organization of the state are such leaders as Nathaniel Massie, Jeremiah Morrow, William Henry Harrison, Ethan Allen Brown, Robert Lucas, Thomas L. Hamer, Jeremiah McLean, Moredcai Bartley, William C. Kirker, Benjamin Ruggles, Samuel F. Vinton, Thomas Corwin, Peter Hitchcock, Bellamy Storer, G. Volney Dorsey, LeGrand Byington, Washington McLean, Hugh J. Jewett, J. B. Stallo, Frederick Hasaurek, Benjamin Eggleston, Hezekiah Bundy, James R. Stanbery, Stanley Matthews, Mills Gardner, Samuel Galloway, A. G. McBurney, John C. Lee, Alphonso Hart, Charles H. Grosvenor, Aaron F. Perry, John W. Herron, Benjamin F. Wade, James M. Comly, Lorenzo Danford and a host of others who have a high place in the hearts of Ohioans and have held positions of honor and trust at the hands of their fellow citizens.

Beginning with 1804, when the three electors (William Goforth, James Pritchard and Nathaniel Massie) voted for Thomas Jefferson, the record discloses some interesting features. In 1808 there were still but three electors and they voted for James Madison. In 1812 there were eight, and they assisted in the re-election of James Madison. In 1816 there were eight, and they voted for Monroe. In 1820 the number was the same, and they again voted for Monroe. In 1824 the number was increased to 16, and Henry Clay got the vote. In 1828 the 16 Ohio votes went to Andrew Jackson, and in 1832 Jackson got the 21 votes of Ohio. In 1836 and 1840 the 21 votes were cast for William Henry Harrison. In 1844 Henry Clay got the 23 votes, in 1848 the state was carried by Lewis Cass, in 1852 by Franklin Pierce, in 1856 by John C. Fremont, in 1860 and 1864 by Lincoln, in 1868 and 1872 for Grant, in 1876 for Rutherford B. Hayes, in 1880 for James A. Garfield, in 1884 for James G. Blaine, in 1888 for Benjamin Harrison, in 1892, 22 votes were cast in the college for Benjamin Harrison and one (James P. Seward, of the 14th district) for Grover Cleveland, the first time in the history of the state the college has been split.

The present electorate college that yesterday completed the work of honoring Ohio's great son, William McKinley, is composed of representative Republicans, well known throughout the state. But one of the 23 has ever seen service before on the college—Myron T. Herrick, one of the electors at large, who, in 1892, shared with the late Hon. Lorenzo Danford the honor of being an elector-at-large and voting for Harrison. William Woodbury, of the Twelth district, has the honor of being the youngest man who ever served in the position, being but 23 years of age.

HE WAS SAD.

The Absence of Little Virgil Halstead Caused a School Boy to Shed Tears.

When little Virgil Halstead ran away a few days ago her parents were not the only sad people she left in the city. In one of the rooms at the Central building is a 13-year-old boy who is much smitten with Virgil, and the day she was gone his teacher had her troubles, as the youngster spent the entire day crying. He is now once more in a happy frame of mind.

On the River.

The river started to fall yesterday and the marks at the wharf this morning registered 13 feet and falling.

Advantage was taken of the rise and during yesterday and today a large amount of coal passed this port.

The Ben Hur passed down last night and the Kanawha is due down tonight. The Queen City landed at this port this morning from Cincinnati and brought a large shipment of straw to the city.

Sympathy With Quay.

Pittsburg Commercial.

Congressman R. W. Tayler, of the Eighteenth Ohio district, was a passenger for Washington last night. He said the sympathy of the lower house of congress was with Colonel Quay, and that the majority is gratified over the good prospects of his election.

Left for St. Augustine.

Mr. and Mrs. George Peach and H. S. Rinehart made up a party which left this morning for St. Augustine, Florida.

Mr. Peach has been ill for some time and goes to that place in the hope of benefiting his health. The party may remain at that place until April.

—Harry Davis left yesterday afternoon for a visit with his mother at Sebring.

A MESSAGE FOR YOUR PASTOR--CARRY IT TO HIM.

OUR PLAN FOR INDIA ORPHAN ADOPTION.

Between now and January 31, 1901, for the purpose of adopting all the famine orphans now in the hands of our American missionaries in India—who should be supplied with the necessary funds for the support of these orphans, and not be compelled to divert missionary funds for that purpose—we call upon every church in the United States, of whatever denomination, to adopt one single orphan, to be trained in a mission of their own selection. And we appeal to the reader of this announcement to present it to the pastor of the church to which he belongs, and to urge upon him compliance with the foregoing request. Should it be impracticable for any church to undertake the support of one orphan, at the rate of five cents a day, the members of the Sunday school, or the Young People's Society might be induced to assume the obligation. In its first issue in March next, the Christian Herald will publish the names of every church, Young People's Society, Sunday school and Foreign Missionary Society which, responding to this call, has undertaken the support of at least one orphan. We hope that every denomination will be largely represented in this monumental Christian charity, which is the crown of glory of the closing nineteenth century.

It Costs Only $15 a Year to Support One Orphan

If you succeed in getting an orphan adopted by church, Sunday school or society,

Take a Postal Card and Write as Follows

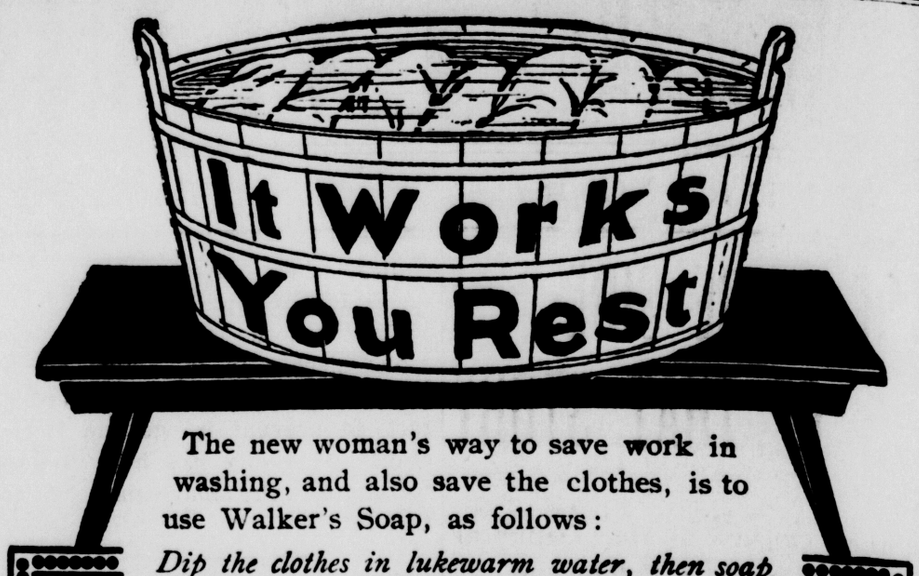

and mail it to the India Orphan Department, Christian Herald, Bible House, New York.

The.....will assume the support of One Orphan for One Year at the rate of $15 a year.

[Church, Society or Sunday School, as the case may be]

.....
[Name and address of the Writer]

Mention Denominational preference.

The new woman's way to save work in washing, and also save the clothes, is to use Walker's Soap, as follows:

Dip the clothes in lukewarm water, then soap each piece thoroughly, roll in a tight roll, place in a tub and cover with lukewarm water, allowing them to remain half an hour. During this time the soap will do its work. Then wring out, rinse out and hang out to dry.

WALKER'S SOAP

is a good soap. Contains no alkali

That is why clothes washed with it last longest. Look for the Game Rooster trademark.

A DAY IN WALL STREET.

Some Notable Advances Scored In Steel Group—Renewed Weakness Among Railroads and Specialties.

New York, Jan. 15.—In the stock market Monday there were some notable advances scored in the steel group and with renewed weakness among the railroads and specialties, some of the latter two classes selling at the lowest on the last sales. There were points of strength during the day in the railroad list and among quite a number of the stocks not usually conspicuous in the trading. The Eries had a notable recovery from early weakness, the first preferred getting 2¾ above Saturday. The southwestern group showed signs of strength, and St. Louis Southwestern preferred got a point above Saturday at one time. Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis stocks rose 3 and 3¼ respectively for the common and preferred. The National Salt stocks gained 2 and 2¾ respectively and Lead preferred recovered 5 points of its recent heavy decline. American Tobacco was 2½ points over Saturday at the highest. But these points of strength were the exceptions in the market, although they had an effect in rallying other stocks and in largely reducing the average losses. The market gave unmistakable evidence of a decline in the speculative furore and a disposition to revise the more sanguine estimates of the high price already attained for many stocks and those expected for others. St. Paul was forced at one time below 153, which was 4⅝ below Saturday, and closed with a net loss of 3¼. The other grangers were weak, apparently in sympathy. The local traction stocks relapsed sharply after the buoyant movement of Saturday, and Manhattan closed weak at the lowest after a midday rally at a net loss of 2⅝. The Pacifics were vigorously sold, but Missouri Pacific showed a good recovery. At one time the majority of the active stocks in the list were from 1 to over 2 points below Saturday.

The railroad bond market was weak in sympathy with stocks. Total sales, par value $2,870,000.

United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

ROBERT PITCAIRN CHOSEN.

He Is to Carry the Pennsylvania Returns to Washington.

Harrisburg, Jan. 15.—The Pennsylvania electoral college met here and counted the vote for president and vice president. Robert Pitcairn, of Pittsburg, was selected to deliver the returns to the president of the United States. Four years ago this honor was given to William Witherow, of Pittsburg.

All the 32 electors were present except Frank H. Buhl, of Mercer. He was ill and requested that Calvin W. Ray be substituted. The college elected him. The meeting was held in the senate chamber and the galleries were filled with people.

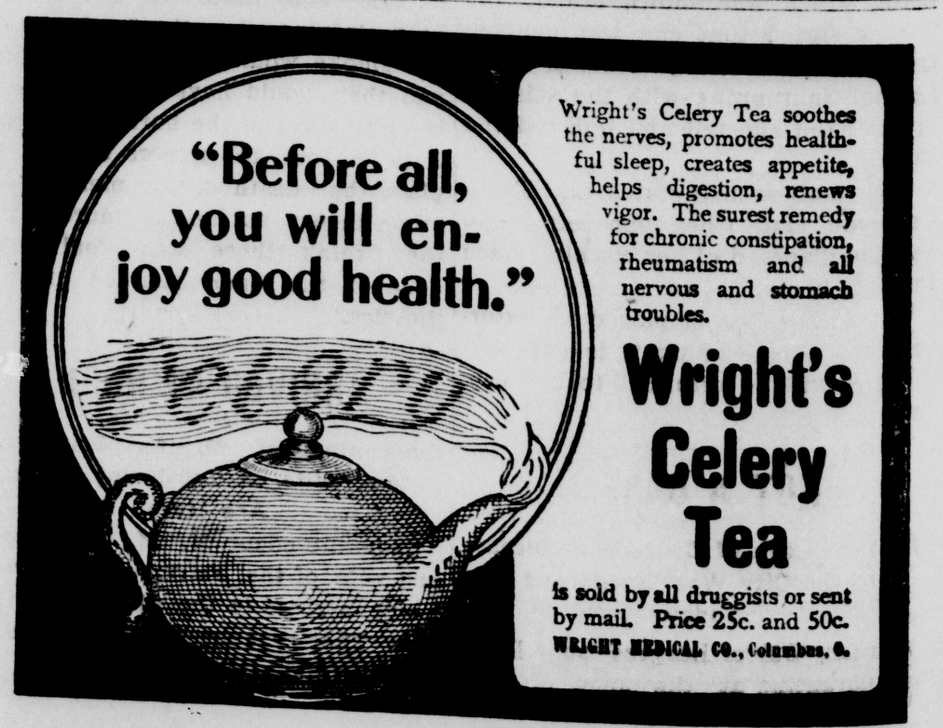

Ex-Mayor Edwin S. Stuart, of Philadelphia, was elected president. Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth Lewis Beitler was chosen secretary. Robert Pitcairn was made chairman of the committee that notified the governor that the college was ready for business. D. R. Greenwood will carry the returns to Judge McPherson, of the Eastern district court in Philadelphia, and J. L. Hower is the messenger who will see that the third package is mailed at the Harrisburg postoffice.

Two Would-Be Bank Robbers Caught.

Cumberland, Md., Jan. 15.—Two of the men implicated in the attempted bank robbery here early Sunday morning were arrested at Keyser, W. Va., by a United States postoffice inspector, the sheriff of Mineral county and a constable. They are Alonzo Evy, of Keyser and a man giving the name of Thomas Moore. A third man named McNamar eluded capture. Partial identification has been made of the prisoners.

Decided Neely Can Be Extradited.

Washington, Jan. 16.—The United States Supreme court decided that Neely, the Cuban postoffice embezzler, could be extradited.

25th Anniversary of Electoral College.

Ohio State Journal.

The final meeting of the Ohio electoral college yesterday and the casting of the 23 votes of Ohio for McKinley and Roosevelt has caused considerable discussion of the possibilities of the electoral machinery, and much comment among the members of the college as to what might happen if President McKinley might die before his inauguration.

Mr. Hane, of the Thirteenth district, during the course of a talk on the subject in the lobby of the Niel house yesterday, asked this question, and his colleagues who heard the inquiry were unable to answer it. Elaborate as the machinery for the election of a president is, it does not contemplate or supply an alternative for the situation that would arise in case of the death of the president-elect. In all probability, Vice President-elect Roosevelt would be held to be the successor of Mr. McKinley on March 4. But as the law now stands this would be an act of interpretation, and not by direction of any law of the land. There is no provision in the constitution or in any law of congress to cover the death of a president-elect or a vice president-elect. The constitution says:

"In case of the removal of the president from office, or of his death, resignation or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve upon the vice president."

Of course, if Mr. McKinley should die before March 4, he would not be president on that date and the constitution vacancy could not exist. All the same there would be a vacancy, and good constitutional lawyers say the only course to pursue would be to have Roosevelt qualify as vice president and then inaugurate him as president.

If President McKinley should die before March 4 Secretary Hay would act as president until March 4, and in the contingency of his being incapacitated for the duty, Secretary Gage and the other members of the cabinet in the order of the seniority of their departments would serve. The law provides amply for the succession until March 4.

Formerly the succession fell to the speaker of the house of representatives, in case there was no vice president, and after him the president pro tem of the senate. This at one time following the death of Vice President Hendricks proved a too precarious arrangement, and the Hoar plan was made a law.

The Ohio electoral college, in session in this city yesterday was the 25th in the history of the state—the silver wedding anniversary, so to speak. Beginning in 1804, when the three electors cast their vote for Thomas Jefferson, and coming down the line until the present time, there have been some pretty big men in the story of the state and the nation who have been the members of the Ohio electoral college. The list embraces one president (William Henry Harrison, who in 1820 voted for James Monroe and in 1824 for Henry Clay), several United States senators, members of the United States supreme court, members of congress, governors and other leading men in the state. Governors Nathaniel Massie, Jeremiah Morrow, Thomas Corwin, Robert Lucas, Mordecai Bartley, Ethan Allen Brown and David Tod served as members of the Ohio electoral college (Tod voting for Grant in 1868).

In the list of Ohio's representative men who have been members of the college since the organization of the state are such leaders as Nathaniel Massie, Jeremiah Morrow, William Henry Harrison, Ethan Allen Brown, Robert Lucas, Thomas L. Hamer, Jeremiah McLean, Moredcai Bartley, William C. Kirker, Benjamin Ruggles, Samuel F. Vinton, Thomas Corwin, Peter Hitchcock, Bellamy Storer, G. Volney Dorsey, LeGrand Byington, Washington McLean, Hugh J. Jewett, J. B. Stallo, Frederick Hasaurek, Benjamin Eggleston, Hezekiah Bundy, James R. Stanbery, Stanley Matthews, Mills Gardner, Samuel Galloway, A. G. McBurney, John C. Lee, Alphonso Hart, Charles H. Grosvenor, Aaron F. Perry, John W. Herron, Benjamin F. Wade, James M. Comly, Lorenzo Danford and a host of others who have a high place in the hearts of Ohioans and have held positions of honor and trust at the hands of their fellow citizens.

Beginning with 1804, when the three electors (William Goforth, James Pritchard and Nathaniel Massie) voted for Thomas Jefferson, the record discloses some interesting features. In 1808 there were still but three electors and they voted for James Madison. In 1812 there were eight, and they assisted in the re-election of James Madison. In 1816 there were eight, and they voted for Monroe. In 1820 the number was the same, and they again voted for Monroe. In 1824 the number was increased to 16, and Henry Clay got the vote. In 1828 the 16 Ohio votes went to Andrew Jackson, and in 1832 Jackson got the 21 votes of Ohio. In 1836 and 1840 the 21 votes were cast for William Henry Harrison. In 1844 Henry Clay got the 23 votes, in 1848 the state was carried by Lewis Cass, in 1852 by Franklin Pierce, in 1856 by John C. Fremont, in 1860 and 1864 by Lincoln, in 1868 and 1872 for Grant, in 1876 for Rutherford B. Hayes, in 1880 for James A. Garfield, in 1884 for James G. Blaine, in 1888 for Benjamin Harrison, in 1892, 22 votes were cast in the college for Benjamin Harrison and one (James P. Seward, of the 14th district) for Grover Cleveland, the first time in the history of the state the college has been split.

The present electorate college that yesterday completed the work of honoring Ohio's great son, William McKinley, is composed of representative Republicans, well known throughout the state. But one of the 23 has ever seen service before on the college—Myron T. Herrick, one of the electors at large, who, in 1892, shared with the late Hon. Lorenzo Danford the honor of being an elector-at-large and voting for Harrison. William Woodbury, of the Twelth district, has the honor of being the youngest man who ever served in the position, being but 23 years of age.

HE WAS SAD.

The Absence of Little Virgil Halstead Caused a School Boy to Shed Tears.

When little Virgil Halstead ran away a few days ago her parents were not the only sad people she left in the city. In one of the rooms at the Central building is a 13-year-old boy who is much smitten with Virgil, and the day she was gone his teacher had her troubles, as the youngster spent the entire day crying. He is now once more in a happy frame of mind.

On the River.

The river started to fall yesterday and the marks at the wharf this morning registered 13 feet and falling.

Advantage was taken of the rise and during yesterday and today a large amount of coal passed this port.

The Ben Hur passed down last night and the Kanawha is due down tonight. The Queen City landed at this port this morning from Cincinnati and brought a large shipment of straw to the city.

Sympathy With Quay.

Pittsburg Commercial.

Congressman R. W. Tayler, of the Eighteenth Ohio district, was a passenger for Washington last night. He said the sympathy of the lower house of congress was with Colonel Quay, and that the majority is gratified over the good prospects of his election.

Left for St. Augustine.

Mr. and Mrs. George Peach and H. S. Rinehart made up a party which left this morning for St. Augustine, Florida.

Mr. Peach has been ill for some time and goes to that place in the hope of benefiting his health. The party may remain at that place until April.

—Harry Davis left yesterday afternoon for a visit with his mother at Sebring.

A MESSAGE FOR YOUR PASTOR--CARRY IT TO HIM.

OUR PLAN FOR INDIA ORPHAN ADOPTION.

Between now and January 31, 1901, for the purpose of adopting all the famine orphans now in the hands of our American missionaries in India—who should be supplied with the necessary funds for the support of these orphans, and not be compelled to divert missionary funds for that purpose—we call upon every church in the United States, of whatever denomination, to adopt one single orphan, to be trained in a mission of their own selection. And we appeal to the reader of this announcement to present it to the pastor of the church to which he belongs, and to urge upon him compliance with the foregoing request. Should it be impracticable for any church to undertake the support of one orphan, at the rate of five cents a day, the members of the Sunday school, or the Young People's Society might be induced to assume the obligation. In its first issue in March next, the Christian Herald will publish the names of every church, Young People's Society, Sunday school and Foreign Missionary Society which, responding to this call, has undertaken the support of at least one orphan. We hope that every denomination will be largely represented in this monumental Christian charity, which is the crown of glory of the closing nineteenth century.

It Costs Only $15 a Year to Support One Orphan

If you succeed in getting an orphan adopted by church, Sunday school or society,

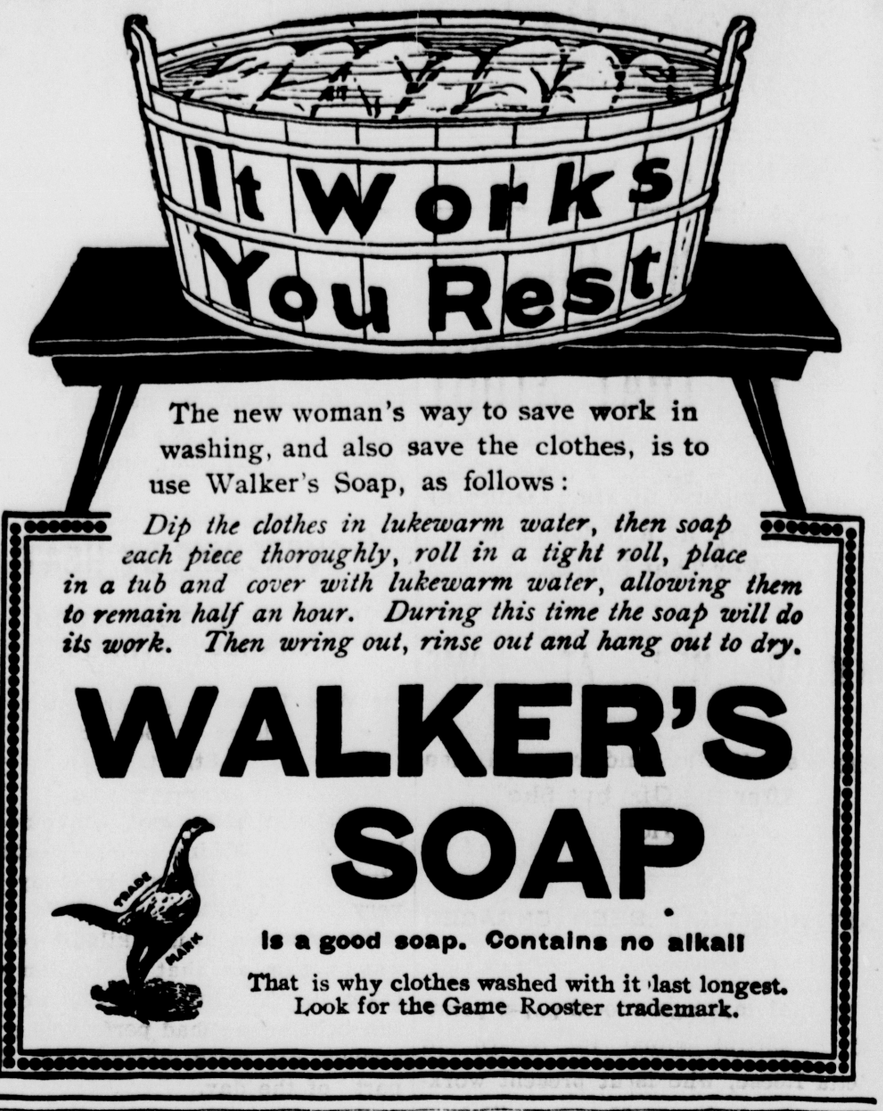

Take a Postal Card and Write as Follows

and mail it to the India Orphan Department, Christian Herald, Bible House, New York.

The.....will assume the [Church, Society or Sunday School, as the case may be] support of One Orphan for One Year at the rate of $15 a year.

.....
[Name and address of the Writer]

Mention Denominational preference.

The new woman's way to save work in washing, and also save the clothes, is to use Walker's Soap, as follows:

Dip the clothes in lukewarm water, then soap each piece thoroughly, roll in a tight roll, place in a tub and cover with lukewarm water, allowing them to remain half an hour. During this time the soap will do its work. Then wring out, rinse out and hang out to dry.

WALKER'S SOAP

Is a good soap. Contains no alkali

That is why clothes washed with it last longest. Look for the Game Rooster trademark.

A DAY IN WALL STREET.

Some Notable Advances Scored In Steel Group—Renewed Weakness Among Railroads and Specialties.

New York, Jan. 15.—In the stock market Monday there were some notable advances scored in the steel group and with renewed weakness among the railroads and specialties, some of the latter two classes selling at the lowest on the last sales. There were points of strength during the day in the railroad list and among quite a number of the stocks not usually conspicuous in the trading. The Eries had a notable recovery from early weakness, the first preferred getting 2¾ above Saturday. The southwestern group showed signs of strength, and St. Louis Southwestern preferred got a point above Saturday at one time. Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis stocks rose 3 and 3¼ respectively for the common and preferred. The National Salt stocks gained 2 and 2¾ respectively and Lead preferred recovered 5 points of its recent heavy decline. American Tobacco was 2½ points over Saturday at the highest. But these points of strength were the exceptions in the market, although they had an effect in rallying other stocks and in largely reducing the average losses. The market gave unmistakable evidence of a decline in the speculative furore and a disposition to revise the more sanguine estimates of the high price already attained for many stocks and those expected for others. St. Paul was forced at one time below 153, which was 4¾ below Saturday, and closed with a net loss of 3¼. The other grangers were weak, apparently in sympathy. The local traction stocks relapsed sharply after the buoyant movement of Saturday, and Manhattan closed weak at the lowest after a midday rally at a net loss of 2¾. The Pacifics were vigorously sold, but Missouri Pacific showed a good recovery. At one time the majority of the active stocks in the list were from 1 to over 2 points below Saturday.

The railroad bond market was weak in sympathy with stocks. Total sales, par value $2,850,000.

United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

ROBERT PITCAIRN CHOSEN.

He Is to Carry the Pennsylvania Returns to Washington.

Harrisburg, Jan. 15.—The Pennsylvania electoral college met here and counted the vote for president and vice president. Robert Pitcairn, of Pittsburg, was selected to deliver the returns to the president of the United States. Four years ago this honor was given to William Witherow, of Pittsburg.

All the 32 electors were present except Frank H. Buhl, of Mercer. He was ill and requested that Calvin W. Ray be substituted. The college elected him. The meeting was held in the senate chamber and the galleries were filled with people.

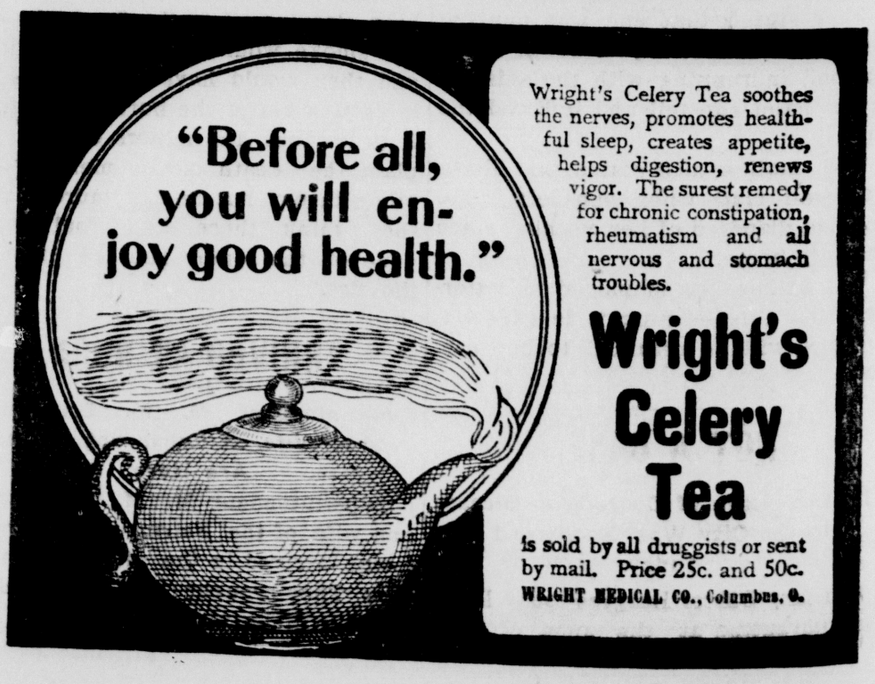

Ex-Mayor Edwin S. Stuart, of Philadelphia, was elected president. Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth Lewis Beitler was chosen secretary. Robert Pitcairn was made chairman of the committee that notified the governor that the college was ready for business. D. R. Greenwood will carry the returns to Judge McPherson, of the Eastern district court in Philadelphia, and J. L. Hower is the messenger who will see that the third package is mailed at the Harrisburg postoffice.

Two Would-Be Bank Robbers Caught.

Cumberland, Md., Jan. 15.—Two of the men implicated in the attempted bank robbery here early Sunday morning were arrested at Keyser, W. Va., by a United States postoffice inspector, the sheriff of Mineral county and a constable. They are Alonzo Evy, of Keyser and a man giving the name of Thomas Moore. A third man named McNamar eluded capture. Partial identification has been made of the prisoners.

Decided Neely Can Be Extradited.

Washington, Jan. 16.—The United States Supreme court decided that Neely, the Cuban postoffice embezzler, could be extradited.

Wright's Celery Tea soothes the nerves, promotes healthful sleep, creates appetite, helps digestion, renews vigor. The surest remedy for chronic constipation, rheumatism and all nervous and stomach troubles.

Wright's Celery Tea

is sold by all druggists or sent by mail. Price 25c. and 50c.

WRIGHT MEDICAL CO., Columbus, O.

A NEW CRUSADE TO PROTECT NATIVE RACES.

By Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts.

A movement is getting momentum which aims at nothing less than the protection of native races the world over against intoxicants and opium. It is by no means chimerical for the great nations of the world have already marked two stages in this direction.

In 1890-92, sixteen great nations made a treaty to suppress in the Congo region the traffic in slaves, spirituous liquors and firearms. It is abundantly shown by many letters of missionaries that this "zone de prohibition," as it is called on official maps, greatly benefited by this treaty. It was supplemented in 1899 by another treaty extending the protection thus afforded to native races, so far as intoxicants are concerned to a much larger region of Africa, from 20 degrees north latitude to 22 degrees south, and from sea to sea. The treaty was prepared by a great official temperance convention of nations in June, 1899, and provides for raising the tax on spirituous liquors from about ten cents a gallon to about fifty-two, which is considered prohibition for the poor natives. Whether adequate or not the treaty is a step in the right direction, the most advanced step taken in the international restriction of the liquor traffic, begun in 1892.

In an official letter to the Reform Bubeau, Washington, D. C., from the department of foreign affairs of the Congo Free State, dated October 20, 1900, the following are named as the governments that had ratified the international treaty of 1899: Germany, Belgium, Spain, Congo Free State, French Republic, Great Britain, Italy, Holland, Portugal, Russia, Sweden and Norway, Turkey.

Our own government is the only one of first rank that has not ratified. As in 1890-92, the Moslems and the monarchies have gone before us.

Let every Christian man (and woman) in the United States to whom this word comes stop right here and write brief, courteous letters to both of the senators from his state, unless he can call upon one or both of them —if with a deputation so much the better—urging that the United States shall at once ratify the treaty.

It would be sufficient to say: "Hon. ———, Dear Sir: We hope you will do your utmost to secure the ratification by the senate at an early day of the pending treaty for the restriction of the liquor traffic in Africa."

If every one to whom this message will come will devote four minutes and four cents to these two letters to their senators, the ratification will surely be secured, and millions of our brothers in Africa will be saved from the destruction of body and soul.

Since the foregoing was written new encouragement to write and work for this result has come in that the president has in his message advised not only the ratification of this treaty, but the world-wide protection of all native races against intoxicants by other treaties, and the senate committee on foreign affairs, after a hearing secured by the Reform Bureau, had reported in favor of ratification. In writing your senator we suggest that you not only urge ratification, but also the adoption of a "sider," a resolution in favor of the universal protection of native races, such as Senator Lodge has introduced. Telegrams and deputations are even better than petitions and letters.

Representative Gillet, of Massachusetts, has introduced a bill in the house which follows in its wording a treaty submitted by Great Britain to several nations in 1884, and repeatedly since, which is said to have been favorably considered by Frelinghuysen, Foster and Hay and the presidents under whom they served. As it will take a long time to consummate the treaty, it is proposed to follow British precedent and forbid American merchants to sell fire arms, opium and liquors in many of the islands of the Pacific that are under the protectorate of any civilized power. There is assurance that Germany and France will also follow English precedent if we do.

This is the law that the venerable Dr. John G. Paton has twice come to this country to secure and for which thousands of Americans have petitioned.

ANNUAL PRAISE SERVICE

Will be Held at the Second Presbyterian Church Thursday Evening, January 31.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Second Presbyterian church will hold its annual praise service on the evening of Thursday, January 31, upon which occasion Miss Charlotte E. Hawes will deliver the address. Miss Hawes had an experience in connection with the Boxer raids in China last summer which was tragic. She was doing work as a Presbyterian missionary at Wei Hien. It was at this station that Rev. Frank Chalfant made his gallant defense of the ladies of the mission station, and from which all escaped without harm, but with great difficulty. Miss Hawes holds her audiences spellbound until the close of her address, in which she graphically relates the particulars of the siege of Wei Hien and the escape of the missionaries.

SURPRISED HER.

A Pleasant Party Held Last Evening at the Home of Miss Mary Farmer.

A surprise party was held on Miss Mary Farmer at her home on Sixth street last evening, the occasion being the young lady's birthday.

About 30 of her young friends were present and a very enjoyable time is reported. Miss Farmer was the recipient of several handsome and useful presents.

CROSS EXAMINATION

Will Only Strengthen the Testimony of East Liverpool Citizens.

The testimony which follows will stand the test of closest investigation. Cross-examination of such evidence will only strengthen it. Proof of this nature is plentiful in East Liverpool, and the most skeptical can hardly doubt the claims made for "the Little Conqueror" when placed face to face with the public utterances of friends, neighbors and loyal citizens. Read the experience given below, it may save you many hours of future trouble:

Mr. Charles Smith, of 198 Fourth street, letter carrier, says: "I contracted cold which settled in my kidneys and caused such severe pains across the small of my back that I could scarcely get around my trip. I thought it would wear off, but as it did not but got worse I got Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. pharmacy and took them. The result was that the pain soon left me and I was all right again."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

DELGADO A PRISONER

Rebel Commander of Iloilo Province Surrenders.

RELIGIOUS TEACHING IS DESIRED.

The Philippine Commissioners Unanimous In Believing That the People Want It. Military Men at Manila Were More Hopeful of the Situation.

Washington, Jan. 15.—General MacArthur reported the surrender of Delgado, commander-in-chief of Iloilo province, Panay. He also reported that other important surrenders are expected during the next few days.

Manila, Jan. 15.—Optimism is taking the place of conservatism among the military men here, the cause being the numerous surrenders, captures and destruction of insurgent camps, coupled with the increasing understanding of the Americans' intentions among the natives, the propagation of the principles of the Federal party, and the knowledge that they are approved by the United States Philippine commission and the military authorities, and that the carrying out of the terms of General MacArthur's proclamation, classing all who do things inimical to the interests of the army as rebels and traitors, are having pointed effect, with the offering of local autonomy and protection, and showing the certainty of the punishment of those who remain rebellious.

The Phillippine commissioners were unanimously of the belief that a great majority of thePhillipinno people desired religious teachings in the public schools. They held that the purpose of thebill, for public education, would be partially defeated, unless the childrenof Catholics were permitted to attend the public schools.

The cutting of communications and supplies has destroyed the remnants of the insurgents' organization. The inhabitants of the towns are disinclined to any longer contribute secretly to a hopeless cause, and it is generally believed that the pacification of a sufficient number of provinces to inaugurate a general scheme of provincial government would be accomplished before many more weeks have elapsed. The most pronounced resistance at present is in remote Southern Luzon, Northern Mindanao, Cebu and Bohol.

The first batch of 30 leading insurrectionists who have been ordered to be deported to the island of Guam sail on the transport Rosecrans.

General Wheaton reports that 53 armed bolomen have surrendered at Beguet.

Sixteen of Geronimo's band were captured Sunday night and brought to Montalban.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Secretary Root said that all the Filipino insurgent leaders deported to Guam would be placed in the custody of the naval forces in control of that island, who would be responsible for their control and safe keeping. He said he had no idea of the number of such prisoners, but did not believe it was large enough to necessitate any increase in the naval force for guard or other duty in connection with their captivity.

CADETS VIOLATE RULES.

A Witness So Admitted—Three of the Congressmen Figuratively Handled Cadet Brown Roughly.

West Point, Jan. 15.—The congressional investigating committee held three sessions at the West Point military academy. The first two sessions and the greater part of the night session were occupied in the examination of Cadet Lewis Brown, Jr., of Newport, R. I., who was one of Cadet Keller's seconds in his fight with Booz.

From the line of examination adopted by the cimmittee, the congressmen are evidently bent on the abolition of hazing and fighting at the academy. They put Brown through an exhaustive examination, in the course of which they elicited the fact that in violation of the rules and regulations of the institution, the upper class men carry intoxicating liquor into the reservation and consume quite a considerable quantity of it.

Another stringent rule seems to have been broken with impunity. This is the regulation prohibiting smoking. Cadet Brown acknowledged that the majority of the cadets were cigarette smokers and that plenty of cigaretts were smuggled into the institution.

General Dick, Judge Smith and Mr. Driggs handled Brown without gloves. Mr. Driggs told him that the first class men thought they were the whole thing. Judge Smith asked him if he did not think that they were conceited, arogant and ignorant in their presumption in setting their judgment against that of the authorities of the academy, but the witness did not see it in that light.

Cadet Joseph F. Barnes, of the District of Columbia, another of Keller's seconds, was the only other witness called.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Colonel Mills, superintendent of the West Point military academy, was before the senate committee on military affairs, which is considering the military academy bill. Colonel Mills told the committee he felt sure that hazing was on the decrease and finally would be stamped out. He was ready to co-operate or receive any suggestion from congress, but expressed the opinion that legislation was unnecessary.

Easy.

Benham—There isn't room here to swing a cat.

Mrs. Benham—Then we won't have a cat.—Brooklyn Life.

Nerve Slavery.

It is present-day conditions—heaping burdens of work upon the nervous system that tells the story—premature breaking up of health.

It tells why so many men and women, who so far as age in years is concerned, should be in the prime of health, find themselves letting go of the strength, the power, the vitality they once possessed. It is because that great motor power of the body, nerve force, is impaired. Every organ depends upon its controlling power just as much as the engine depends upon the steam to put it into action. An engine won't go without steam. Neither will the heart, the brain, the liver, the kidneys, the stomach act right without their proper nerve force supply. Let any organ be lacking in this essential and troubles begin—some of them are:

Throbbing, palpitating heart.
Sleepless nights.
Sudden startings.
Morning languor.
Brain fag.
Inability to work or think.
Exhaustion on exertion.
Flagging appetite.
Digestion slow.
Food heavy.
Easily excited, nervous, irritable.
Strength fails.
Loss of flesh and muscular power.
Settled melancholia.
Utter despondency.

A picture, hideous, but easily changed to one of brightness by use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. They build up the nerves and supply nerve force.

The above is the genuine package of Dr A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills, are sold by dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Company, Buffalo, N. Y. Price 50 cents.

WOODBURY CHOSEN MESSENGER.

He Is to Carry the Ohio Voted to Washington.

Columbus, O., Jan. 15.—The Ohio electors met here and cast their 21 votes for McKinley and Roosevelt. William B. Woodbury, of Cleveland, was selected messenger to carry the vote to Washington.

For a Successor to Wolcott.

Denver, Jan. 15.—The caucus of the fusion members of the legislature last night nominated Thomas M. Patterson, of Denver, for the United States senate to succeed Senator E. O. Wolcott. He received 73 out of 91 votes in the caucus.

Phelps' Bydy Interred at Arlington.

Washington, Jan. 15.—The remains of the late Rear Admiral Thomas F. Phelps, retired, were interred at Arlington national cemetery, with honors accorded officers of his rank.

WANTED.

WANTED—Two or three apprentice girls for ladies' tailoring department. Apply to East Liverpool Tailoring and Clothing company, 224 Washington street.

FOR RENT.

FOR SALE—Lot 30x130 and three room house in the best of condition located on Fourth street, near Monroe. Price, $1,800. Apply to J. P. Hanlon, 315 Lincoln avenue.

MUSIC STORE.

We Sell

BRIGGS PIANOS.

We Sell

PHONOGRAPHS

SMITH and PHILLIPS.

A NEW CRUSADE TO PROTECT NATIVE RACES.

By Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts.

A movement is getting momentum which aims at nothing less than the protection of native races the world over against intoxicants and opium. It is by no means chimerical for the great nations of the world have already marked two stages in this direction.

In 1890-92, sixteen great nations made a treaty to suppress in the Congo region the traffic in slaves, spirituous liquors and firearms. It is abundantly shown by many letters of missionaries that this "zone de prohibition," as it is called on official maps, greatly benefited by this treaty. It was supplemented in 1899 by another treaty extending the protection thus afforded to native races, so far as intoxicants are concerned to a much larger region of Africa, from 20 degrees north latitude to 22 degrees south, and from sea to sea. The treaty was prepared by a great official temperance convention of nations in June, 1899, and provides for raising the tax on spirituous liquors from about ten cents a gallon to about fifty-two, which is considered prohibition for the poor natives. Whether adequate or not the treaty is a step in the right direction, the most advanced step taken in the international restriction of the liquor traffic, begun in 1892.

In an official letter to the Reform Bubeau, Washington, D. C., from the department of foreign affairs of the Congo Free State, dated October 20, 1900, the following are named as the governments that had ratified the international treaty of 1899: Germany, Belgium, Spain, Congo Free State, French Republic, Great Britain, Italy, Holland, Portugal, Russia, Sweden and Norway, Turkey.

Our own government is the only one of first rank that has not ratified. As in 1890-92, the Moslems and the monarchies have gone before us.

Let every Christian man (and woman) in the United States to whom this word comes stop right here and write brief, courteous letters to both of the senators from his state, unless he can call upon one or both of them —if with a deputation so much the better—urging that the United States shall at once ratify the treaty.

It would be sufficient to say: "Hon. ———, Dear Sir: We hope you will do your utmost to secure the ratification by the senate at an early day of the pending treaty for the restriction of the liquor traffic in Africa."

If every one to whom this message will come will devote four minutes and four cents to these two letters to their senators, the ratification will surely be secured, and millions of our brothers in Africa will be saved from the destruction of body and soul.

Since the foregoing was written new encouragement to write and work for this result has come in that the president has in his message advised not only the ratification of this treaty, but the world-wide protection of all native races against intoxicants by other treaties, and the senate committee on foreign affairs, after a hearing secured by the Reform Bureau, had reported in favor of ratification. In writing your senator we suggest that you not only urge ratification, but also the adoption of a "sider," a resolution in favor of the universal protection of native races, such as Senator Lodge has introduced. Telegrams and deputations are even better than petitions and letters.

Representative Gillet, of Massachusetts, has introduced a bill in the house which follows in its wording a treaty submitted by Great Britain to several nations in 1884, and repeatedly since, which is said to have been favorably considered by Frelinghuysen, Foster and Hay and the presidents under whom they served. As it will take a long time to consummate the treaty, it is proposed to follow British precedent and forbid American merchants to sell fire arms, opium and liquors in many of the islands of the Pacific that are under the protectorate of any civilized power. There is assurance that Germany and France will also follow English precedent if we do.

This is the law that the venerable Dr. John G. Paton has twice come to this country to secure and for which thousands of Americans have petitioned.

ANNUAL PRAISE SERVICE

Will be Held at the Second Presbyterian Church Thursday Evening, January 31.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Second Presbyterian church will hold its annual praise service on the evening of Thursday, January 31, upon which occasion Miss Charlotte E. Hawes will deliver the address. Miss Hawes had an experience in connection with the Boxer raids in China last summer which was tragic. She was doing work as a Presbyterian missionary at Wei Hien. It was at this station that Rev. Frank Chalfant made his gallant defense of the ladies of the mission station, and from which all escaped without harm, but with great difficulty. Miss Hawes holds her audiences spellbound until the close of her address, in which she graphically relates the particulars of the siege of Wei Hien and the escape of the missionaries.

SURPRISED HER.

A Pleasant Party Held Last Evening at the Home of Miss Mary Farmer.

A surprise party was held on Miss Mary Farmer at her home on Sixth street last evening, the occasion being the young lady's birthday.

About 30 of her young friends were present and a very enjoyable time is reported. Miss Farmer was the recipient of several handsome and useful presents.

CROSS EXAMINATION

Will Only Strengthen the Testimony of East Liverpool Citizens.

The testimony which follows will stand the test of closest investigation. Cross-examination of such evidence will only strengthen it. Proof of this nature is plentiful in East Liverpool, and the most skeptical can hardly doubt the claims made for "the Little Conqueror" when placed face to face with the public utterances of friends, neighbors and loyal citizens. Read the experience given below, it may save you many hours of future trouble:

Mr. Charles Smith, of 198 Fourth street, letter carrier, says: "I contracted cold which settled in my kidneys and caused such severe pains across the small of my back that I could scarcely get around my trip. I thought it would wear off, but as it did not but got worse I got Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. pharmacy and took them. The result was that the pain soon left me and I was all right again."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

DELGADO A PRISONER

Rebel Commander of Iloilo Province Surrenders.

RELIGIOUS TEACHING IS DESIRED.

The Philippine Commissioners Unanimous In Believing That the People Want It. Military Men at Manila Were More Hopeful of the Situation.

Washington, Jan. 15.—General MacArthur reported the surrender of Delgado, commander-in-chief of Iloilo province, Panay. He also reported that other important surrenders are expected during the next few days.

Manila, Jan. 15.—Optimism is taking the place of conservatism among the military men here, the cause being the numerous surrenders, captures and destruction of insurgent camps, coupled with the increasing understanding of the Americans' intentions among the natives, the propagation of the principles of the Federal party, and the knowledge that they are approved by the United States Philippine commission and the military authorities, and that the carrying out of the terms of General MacArthur's proclamation, classing all who do things inimical to the interests of the army as rebels and traitors, are having pointed effect, with the offering of local autonomy and protection, and showing the certainty of the punishment of those who remain rebellious.

The Phillippine commissioners were unanimously of the belief that a great majority of thePhillipinno people desired religious teachings in the public schools. They held that the purpose of thebill, for public education, would be partially defeated, unless the childrenof Catholics were permitted to attend the public schools.

The cutting of communications and supplies has destroyed the remnants of the insurgents' organization. The inhabitants of the towns are disinclined to any longer contribute secretly to a hopeless cause, and it is generally believed that the pacification of a sufficient number of provinces to inaugurate a general scheme of provincial government would be accomplished before many more weeks have elapsed. The most pronounced resistance at present is in remote Southern Luzon, Northern Mindanao, Cebu and Bohol.

The first batch of 30 leading insurrectionists who have been ordered to be deported to the island of Guam sail on the transport Rosecrans.

General Wheaton reports that 53 armed bolomen have surrendered at Beguet.

Sixteen of Geronimo's band were captured Sunday night and brought to Montalban.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Secretary Root said that all the Filipino insurgent leaders deported to Guam would be placed in the custody of the naval forces in control of that island, who would be responsible for their control and safe keeping. He said he had no idea of the number of such prisoners, but did not believe it was large enough to necessitate any increase in the naval force for guard or other duty in connection with their captivity.

CADETS VIOLATE RULES.

A Witness So Admitted—Three of the Congressmen Figuratively Handled Cadet Brown Roughly.

West Point, Jan. 15.—The congressional investigating committee held three sessions at the West Point military academy. The first two sessions and the greater part of the night session were occupied in the examination of Cadet Lewis Brown, Jr., of Newport, R. I., who was one of Cadet Keller's seconds in his fight with Booz.

From the line of examination adopted by the cimmittee, the congressmen are evidently bent on the abolition of hazing and fighting at the academy. They put Brown through an exhaustive examination, in the course of which they elicited the fact that in violation of the rules and regulations of the institution, the upper class men carry intoxicating liquor into the reservation and consume quite a considerable quantity of it.

Another stringent rule seems to have been broken with impunity. This is the regulation prohibiting smoking. Cadet Brown acknowledged that the majority of the cadets were cigarette smokers and that plenty of cigaretts were smuggled into the institution.

General Dick, Judge Smith and Mr. Driggs handled Brown without gloves. Mr. Driggs told him that the first class men thought they were the whole thing. Judge Smith asked him if he did not think that they were conceited, arogant and ignorant in their presumption in setting their judgment against that of the authorities of the academy, but the witness did not see it in that light.

Cadet Joseph F. Barnes, of the District of Columbia, another of Keller's seconds, was the only other witness called.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Colonel Mills, superintendent of the West Point military academy, was before the senate committee on military affairs, which is considering the military academy bill. Colonel Mills told the committee he felt sure that hazing was on the decrease and finally would be stamped out. He was ready to co-operate or receive any suggestion from congress, but expressed the opinion that legislation was unnecessary.

Easy.

Benham—There isn't room here to swing a cat.

Mrs. Benham—Then we won't have a cat.—Brooklyn Life.

Nerve Slavery.

It is present-day conditions—heaping burdens of work upon the nervous system that tells the story—premature breaking up of health.

It tells why so many men and women, who so far as age in years is concerned, should be in the prime of health, find themselves letting go of the strength, the power, the vitality they once possessed. It is because that great motor power of the body, nerve force, is impaired. Every organ depends upon its controlling power just as much as the engine depends upon the steam to put it into action. An engine won't go without steam. Neither will the heart, the brain, the liver, the kidneys, the stomach act right without their proper nerve force supply. Let any organ be lacking in this essential and troubles begin—some of them are:

Throbbing, palpitating heart.
Sleepless nights.
Sudden startings.
Morning languor.
Brain fag.
Inability to work or think.
Exhaustion on exertion,
Flagging appetite.
Digestion slow.
Food heavy.
Easily excited, nervous, irritable.
Strength fails.
Loss of flesh and muscular power.
Settled melancholia.
Utter despondency.

A picture, hideous, but easily changed to one of brightness by use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. They build up the nerves and supply nerve force.

The above is the genuine package of Dr A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills, are sold by dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Company, Buffalo, N. Y. Price 50 cents.

Aid for the Lame

Every rheumatic sufferer may choose a cane or a cure. Tongaline is the cure. It heals lameness, limbers stiffened muscles, soothes pain—cures the disease.

Tongaline
TRADE MARK

is also a cure for neuralgia, sciatica and lumbago. Doctors prescribe it. Druggists recommend and sell it.

Write for the Tongaline book.

MELLIER DRUG COMPANY, St. Louis.

WOODBURY CHOSEN MESSENGER.

He Is to Carry the Ohio Voted to Washington.

Columbus, O., Jan. 15.—The Ohio electors met here and cast their 21 votes for McKinley and Roosevelt. William B. Woodbury, of Cleveland, was selected messenger to carry the vote to Washington.

For a Successor to Wolcott.

Denver, Jan. 15.—The caucus of the fusion members of the legislature last night nominated Thomas M. Patterson, of Denver, for the United States senate to succeed Senator E. O. Wolcott. He received 73 out of 91 votes in the caucus.

Phelps' Bydy Interred at Arlington.

Washington, Jan. 15.—The remains of the late Rear Admiral Thomas F. Phelps, retired, were interred at Arlington national cemetery, with honors accorded officers of his rank.

WANTED.

WANTED—Two or three apprentice girls for ladies' tailoring department. Apply to East Liverpool Tailoring and Clothing company, 224 Washington street.

FOR RENT.

FOR SALE—Lot 30x130 and three room house in the best of condition located on Fourth street, near Monroe. Price, $1,800. Apply to J. P. Hanlon, 315 Lincoln avenue.

MUSIC STORE.

We Sell

BRIGGS PIANOS.

We Sell

PHONOGRAPHS

SMITH and PHILLIPS.

A NEW CRUSADE TO PROTECT NATIVE RACES.

By Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts.

A movement is getting momentum which aims at nothing less than the protection of native races the world over against intoxicants and opium. It is by no means chimerical for the great nations of the world have already marked two stages in this direction.

In 1890-92, sixteen great nations made a treaty to suppress in the Congo region the traffic in slaves, spirituous liquors and firearms. It is abundantly shown by many letters of missionaries that this "zone de prohibition," as it is called on official maps, greatly benefited by this treaty. It was supplemented in 1899 by another treaty extending the protection thus afforded to native races, so far as intoxicants are concerned to a much larger region of Africa, from 20 degrees north latitude to 22 degrees south, and from sea to sea. The treaty was prepared by a great official temperance convention of nations in June, 1899, and provides for raising the tax on spirituous liquors from about ten cents a gallon to about fifty-two, which is considered prohibition for the poor natives. Whether adequate or not the treaty is a step in the right direction, the most advanced step taken in the international restriction of the liquor traffic, begun in 1892.

In an official letter to the Reform Bubeau, Washington, D. C., from the department of foreign affairs of the Congo Free State, dated October 20, 1900, the following are named as the governments that had ratified the international treaty of 1899: Germany, Belgium, Spain, Congo Free State, French Republic, Great Britain, Italy, Holland, Portugal, Russia, Sweden and Norway, Turkey.

Our own government is the only one of first rank that has not ratified. As in 1890-92, the Moslems and the monarchies have gone before us.

Let every Christian man (and woman) in the United States to whom this word comes stop right here and write brief, courteous letters to both of the senators from his state, unless he can call upon one or both of them —if with a deputation so much the better—urging that the United States shall at once ratify the treaty.

It would be sufficient to say: "Hon. ———, Dear Sir: We hope you will do your utmost to secure the ratification by the senate at an early day of the pending treaty for the restriction of the liquor traffic in Africa."

If every one to whom this message will come will devote four minutes and four cents to these two letters to their senators, the ratification will surely be secured, and millions of our brothers in Africa will be saved from the destruction of body and soul.

Since the foregoing was written new encouragement to write and work for this result has come in that the president has in his message advised not only the ratification of this treaty, but the world-wide protection of all native races against intoxicants by other treaties, and the senate committee on foreign affairs, after a hearing secured by the Reform Bureau, had reported in favor of ratification. In writing your senator we suggest that you not only urge ratification, but also the adoption of a "sider," a resolution in favor of the universal protection of native races, such as Senator Lodge has introduced. Telegrams and deputations are even better than petitions and letters.

Representative Gillet, of Massachusetts, has introduced a bill in the house which follows in its wording a treaty submitted by Great Britain to several nations in 1884, and repeatedly since, which is said to have been favorably considered by Frelinghuysen, Foster and Hay and the presidents under whom they served. As it will take a long time to consummate the treaty, it is proposed to follow British precedent and forbid American merchants to sell fire arms, opium and liquors in many of the islands of the Pacific that are under the protectorate of any civilized power. There is assurance that Germany and France will also follow English precedent if we do.

This is the law that the venerable Dr. John G. Paton has twice come to this country to secure and for which thousands of Americans have petitioned.

ANNUAL PRAISE SERVICE

Will be Held at the Second Presbyterian Church Thursday Evening, January 31.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Second Presbyterian church will hold its annual praise service on the evening of Thursday, January 31, upon which occasion Miss Charlotte E. Hawes will deliver the address. Miss Hawes had an experience in connection with the Boxer raids in China last summer which was tragic. She was doing work as a Presbyterian missionary at Wei Hien. It was at this station that Rev. Frank Chalfant made his gallant defense of the ladies of the mission station, and from which all escaped without harm, but with great difficulty. Miss Hawes holds her audiences spellbound until the close of her address, in which she graphically relates the particulars of the siege of Wei Hien and the escape of the missionaries.

SURPRISED HER.

A Pleasant Party Held Last Evening at the Home of Miss Mary Farmer.

A surprise party was held on Miss Mary Farmer at her home on Sixth street last evening, the occasion being the young lady's birthday.

About 30 of her young friends were present and a very enjoyable time is reported. Miss Farmer was the recipient of several handsome and useful presents.

CROSS EXAMINATION

Will Only Strengthen the Testimony of East Liverpool Citizens.

The testimony which follows will stand the test of closest investigation. Cross-examination of such evidence will only strengthen it. Proof of this nature is plentiful in East Liverpool, and the most skeptical can hardly doubt the claims made for "the Little Conqueror" when placed face to face with the public utterances of friends, neighbors and loyal citizens. Read the experience given below, it may save you many hours of future trouble:

Mr. Charles Smith, of 198 Fourth street, letter carrier, says: "I contracted cold which settled in my kidneys and caused such severe pains across the small of my back that I could scarcely get around my trip. I thought it would wear off, but as it did not but got worse I got Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. pharmacy and took them. The result was that the pain soon left me and I was all right again."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

DELGADO A PRISONER

Rebel Commander of Iloilo Province Surrenders.

RELIGIOUS TEACHING IS DESIRED.

The Philippine Commissioners Unanimous In Believing That the People Want It. Military Men at Manila Were More Hopeful of the Situation.

Washington, Jan. 15.—General MacArthur reported the surrender of Delgado, commander-in-chief of Iloilo province, Panay. He also reported that other important surrenders are expected during the next few days.

Manila, Jan. 15.—Optimism is taking the place of conservatism among the military men here, the cause being the numerous surrenders, captures and destruction of insurgent camps, coupled with the increasing understanding of the Americans' intentions among the natives, the propagation of the principles of the Federal party, and the knowledge that they are approved by the United States Philippine commission and the military authorities, and that the carrying out of the terms of General MacArthur's proclamation, classing all who do things inimical to the interests of the army as rebels and traitors, are having pointed effect, with the offering of local autonomy and protection, and showing the certainty of the punishment of those who remain rebellious.

The Phillippine commissioners were unanimously of the belief that a great majority of thePhillipinno people desired religious teachings in the public schools. They held that the purpose of thebill, for public education, would be partially defeated, unless the childrenof Catholics were permitted to attend the public schools.

The cutting of communications and supplies has destroyed the remnants of the insurgents' organization. The inhabitants of the towns are disinclined to any longer contribute secretly to a hopeless cause, and it is generally believed that the pacification of a sufficient number of provinces to inaugurate a general scheme of provincial government would be accomplished before many more weeks have elapsed. The most pronounced resistance at present is in remote Southern Luzon, Northern Mindanao, Cebu and Bohol.

The first batch of 30 leading insurrectionists who have been ordered to be deported to the island of Guam sail on the transport Rosecrans.

General Wheaton reports that 53 armed bolomen have surrendered at Beguet.

Sixteen of Geronimo's band were captured Sunday night and brought to Montalban.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Secretary Root said that all the Filipino insurgent leaders deported to Guam would be placed in the custody of the naval forces in control of that island, who would be responsible for their control and safe keeping. He said he had no idea of the number of such prisoners, but did not believe it was large enough to necessitate any increase in the naval force for guard or other duty in connection with their captivity.

CADETS VIOLATE RULES.

A Witness So Admitted—Three of the Congressmen Figuratively Handled Cadet Brown Roughly.

West Point, Jan. 15.—The congressional investigating committee held three sessions at the West Point military academy. The first two sessions and the greater part of the night session were occupied in the examination of Cadet Lewis Brown, Jr., of Newport, R. I., who was one of Cadet Keller's seconds in his fight with Booz.

From the line of examination adopted by the cimmittee, the congressmen are evidently bent on the abolition of hazing and fighting at the academy. They put Brown through an exhaustive examination, in the course of which they elicited the fact that in violation of the rules and regulations of the institution, the upper class men carry intoxicating liquor into the reservation and consume quite a considerable quantity of it.

Another stringent rule seems to have been broken with impunity. This is the regulation prohibiting smoking. Cadet Brown acknowledged that the majority of the cadets were cigarette smokers and that plenty of cigaretts were smuggled into the institution.

General Dick, Judge Smith and Mr. Driggs handled Brown without gloves. Mr. Driggs told him that the first class men thought they were the whole thing. Judge Smith asked him if he did not think that they were conceited, arogant and ignorant in their presumption in setting their judgment against that of the authorities of the academy, but the witness did not see it in that light.

Cadet Joseph F. Barnes, of the District of Columbia, another of Keller's seconds, was the only other witness called.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Colonel Mills, superintendent of the West Point military academy, was before the senate committee on military affairs, which is considering the military academy bill. Colonel Mills told the committee he felt sure that hazing was on the decrease and finally would be stamped out. He was ready to co-operate or receive any suggestion from congress, but expressed the opinion that legislation was unnecessary.

Easy.

Benham—There isn't room here to swing a cat.

Mrs. Benham—Then we won't have a cat.—Brooklyn Life.

Nerve Slavery.

It is present-day conditions—heaping burdens of work upon the nervous system that tells the story—premature breaking up of health.

It tells why so many men and women, who so far as age in years is concerned, should be in the prime of health, find themselves letting go of the strength, the power, the vitality they once possessed. It is because that great motor power of the body, nerve force, is impaired. Every organ depends upon its controlling power just as much as the engine depends upon the steam to put it into action. An engine won't go without steam. Neither will the heart, the brain, the liver, the kidneys, the stomach act right without their proper nerve force supply. Let any organ be lacking in this essential and troubles begin—some of them are:

Throbbing, palpitating heart.
Sleepless nights.
Sudden startings.
Morning languor.
Brain fag.
Inability to work or think.
Exhaustion on exertion.
Flagging appetite.
Digestion slow.
Food heavy.
Easily excited, nervous, irritable.
Strength fails.
Loss of flesh and muscular power.
Settled melancholia.
Utter despondency.

A picture, hideous, but easily changed to one of brightness by use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. They build up the nerves and supply nerve force.

The above is the genuine package of Dr A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills, are sold by dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Company, Buffalo, N. Y. Price 50 cents.

Aid for the Lame

Every rheumatic sufferer may choose a cane or a cure. Tongaline is the cure. It heals lameness, limbers stiffened muscles, soothes pain—cures the disease.

Tongaline TRADE MARK

is also a cure for neuralgia, sciatica and lumbago. Doctors prescribe it. Druggists recommend and sell it.

Write for the Tongaline book.

MELLIER DRUG COMPANY, St. Louis.

WOODBURY CHOSEN MESSENGER.

He Is to Carry the Ohio Voted to Washington.

Columbus, O., Jan. 15.—The Ohio electors met here and cast their 21 votes for McKinley and Roosevelt. William B. Woodbury, of Cleveland, was selected messenger to carry the vote to Washington.

For a Successor to Wolcott.

Denver, Jan. 15.—The caucus of the fusion members of the legislature last night nominated Thomas M. Patterson, of Denver, for the United States senate to succeed Senator E. O. Wolcott. He received 73 out of 91 votes in the caucus.

Phelps' Bydy Interred at Arlington.

Washington, Jan. 15.—The remains of the late Rear Admiral Thomas F. Phelps, retired, were interred at Arlington national cemetery, with honors accorded officers of his rank.

WANTED.

WANTED—Two or three apprentice girls for ladies' tailoring department. Apply to East Liverpool Tailoring and Clothing company, 224 Washington street.

FOR RENT.

FOR SALE—Lot 30x130 and three room house in the best of condition located on Fourth street, near Monroe. Price, $1,800. Apply to J. P. Hanlon, 315 Lincoln avenue.

MUSIC STORE.

We Sell

BRIGGS PIANOS.

We Sell

PHONOGRAPHS

SMITH and PHILLIPS.

THE NEWS REVIEW

LEADING DAILY OF COLUMBIANA COUNTY

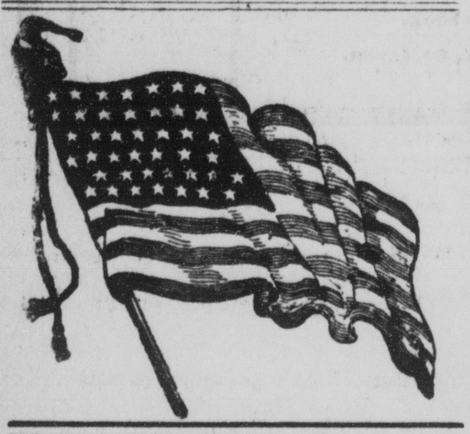

Published Daily Except Sunday by
THE NEWS REVIEW COMPANY,
HARRY PALMER,
Manager and Proprietor.
[Entered as second-class matter at the East Liverpool, Ohio, postoffice.]

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
(Postage free in United States and Canada.)

One year in advance	$5 00
Three months	1 25
By the week	10

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1901.

ARC LIGHTS.

It was very dark this morning. The writer noted two arc lights embraced in the blackness of darkness—one at the corner of Forest and Walnut streets and the other at the corner of Broadway and Fourth. The first named has not been burning during the last two nights. The matter should be remedied at once. Outage does not satisfy, nor give light to pedestrians. Turn on the lights.

THE SALOON MUST GO.

Christian manhood is asserting itself all over this nation. The saloon and its advocates are being properly classed, and the classing is not much to the liking of the men who have, for a matter of sordid gain, so many dollars and cents, resolved to destroy their fellow men, body and soul; yea, deliberately ruin their neighbors, for time and for eternity. The liquor traffic is an infamous curse, hated by God and all good men and women, and it ought to die.

A NOTABLE GATHERING.

Seven different denominations participated in a union communion service on Sunday afternoon last, at the Old Stone church, Cleveland. Ministers and members were present from the Lutheran, Disciple, Reformed, Methodist, Presbyterian, Congregational and United Evangelical churches, and participated in the services. Surely the Christian men and women of the nation are putting away sectarian prejudice in this glorious opening of the twentieth century.

TO TRUE UNIONISTS.

We defy any organization belonging to the craft known as newspaper, job or pressmen's unions, or any person or persons, members thereof, to show where the News Review office has, in any manner or form, disobeyed the rules governing said unions. The management of this office stands ready to conform to any legal rules at a moment's notice—the same rules as govern all union offices of the craft in this city. We have truth, and right, and power, and unionism back of us, and a full and free investigation, such as the international craft will order, will place some so-called union officials in an extremely unfavorable light. In the meantime permit us to say that we glory in the fact— defying successful contradiction—that The News Review office is a full union office, from center to circumference, and that any official of either the Typographical or pressmen's union making an assertion to the contrary is guilty of wicked and premeditated falsehood.

INJUSTICE.

An individual whom we have been given to understand is hand in glove with the liquor and saloon element of this city, made the statement a few evenings since, in the presence of a group of sober union workmen, that an editorial had appeared in this paper lately in which the writer, the editor of the News Review, had condemned all unions and unionism in general, and all union labels, and the use thereof. The poor creature made a laughing stock of himself, as he was talking in the presence of men who read this paper every day; men who are our warm personal friends, and who have knowledge of our union sentiments, based on principle, and carried into life and practice ever since we closed the days of our apprenticeship on the Pittsburg Evening Chronicle, the predecessor of the Chronicle-Telegraph of the present day. Surely the contemptible boodlers, back by their delectable friends and coworkers in villainy and falsehood, the saloon fraternity and liquor league, are terribly stirred up against the manager of the News Review. Well, from their standpoint, the poor creatures have full cause for hatred, as we have seriously interefered with their peculiar and unsavory methods of robbing their fellow creatures. And we further note that the new importation on the Police Gazette has been drafted into the service of his special co-workers and friends. Birds of a feather.

THE CLEVELAND LEADER.

The Cleveland Leader is considered the best and brightest paper on the exchange list of the News Review. In an editorial in this paper on Saturday last, we warmly commended the Leader for the stand it has taken against the army canteen, the un-American saloon and the liquor traffic in general. And now we ask the owners and operators of this strong and splendidly edited sheet to go a step further, and to bar from its columns every liquor advertisement which is offered to it. The News Review is but a small sheet, of limited power and influence; but, by the blessing of the Master, and trusting in His power to sustain and deliver in every emergency, this paper has for years absolutely refused to allow a liquor advertisement to enter its columns, at any price, and we have been offered our own price in case we would consent to receive and publish liquor advertisements. Further, for years the job plant owned and operated by the writer has refused to make estimates upon or receive any job work in which liquor advertisements were to appear, and we have been compelled to turn away many orders for job work in consequence. But, thank God, we have maintained our own Christian self-respect and manhood, and handled no money stained with the taint of widows' tears or orphans' cries; money gained through the deliberate destruction of the bodies and souls of our fellow men. And, thank God, we have been nobly helped and sustained, in the hour of emergency and trial, by Christian ministers and Christian men and women of the city of East Liverpool, influenced, we verily believe, by Him who hath said: "I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee." And His promises are never broken. Throw out the advertisements of the Rum Devil, proprietors and manager of the Cleveland Leader, and other great journals may be constrained to follow your example, and the dawn of a brighter and a better day may thus open up in this great nation, a country freed from the blighting curse of the Rum Demon.

THANK YOU, MAYOR.

Mayor Davidson deserves warm commendation for his order that the Sunday papers brought to this city shall not be "cried" by the newsies on Sabbath, day or night. These newsies have made themselves very objectionable to church goers by this "crying" prccess on Sunday, some of the youngsters becoming so bold as to cry their wares on the very steps at the church doors, thrusting their papers into the very faces of the members of the congregation as they emerge from God's house of worship. Mayor Davidson will accept the thanks of numerous Christians in East Liverpool for his order respecting this matter; an order which will no doubt be obeyed, as our chief magistrate has the happy faculty of knowing how to enforce an order after he legally issues the same. And now comes the wish, straight from the heart, that Mayor Davidson shall issue a still further order, and forbid the sale or delivery of any or all Sunday papers in this city on the Sabbath day. And if every professing Christian in East Liverpool will refuse to subscribe for, pay for or read Sunday papers, and unite in a petition against said papers to the mayor of this city, we believe that the petition will receive due consideration at his hands. Many young boys are losing all respect for the Sabbath, and paving the way for entrance to a life of sin and evil in consequence of being employed as carriers of Sunday papers, and no father or mother who truly love their boy will permit him to engage in any such occupation. We dislike to take this stand on account of a personal friend of long standing being engaged in the dissemination of these Sunday papers. But the call for duty by the voice of the Master dare not be disobeyed. We sincerely hope that, ere long, the Sunday paper shall be barred out of this city, in so far as Sunday selling and delivery is concerned. We sincerely hope that our friend sholl lose this source of income, and then strike it rich in some avenue of life which does not endanger the loss of his soul and the souls of young boys who are just blossoming out into young manhood, and whose lives might otherwise be of great usefulness to themselves and the community in which they reside. It remains to be seen what class of men occupy the pulpits and pews of our Christian churches. Have they the courage of their convictions on this subject? Is the Sunday paper a good or an evil thing, oh ye followers of the meek and lowly Nazarene? If a very evil thing, and an evil which you can destroy, and fail in so doing, will you not be held personally responsible for the failure? Don't dodge the issue. Face it like a little man. Stand up and be counted.

CITIZEN'S COAL AND ICE CO

The New Coal Company Will Succeed Our Townsman, Mr. Will H. Surles.

The Citizens Coal and Ice company took charge on January 1, 1900, with Mr. J. H. Page, late of Parkersburg, W. Va., as manager. Manager Page will add to the coal business that of ice delivery, and will be ready to deliver cool stuff at the proper time in the sultry months. He will handle the very best Pittsburg coal, lump, nut and slack, at reasonable prices, and make prompt delivery of all orders entrusted to his care. Mr. Page has been connected with river work for the past thirty years, from childhood up, running from Parkersburg down. Captain Page has been running on the Little Kanawha for the past four years, and has a host of friends among river men.

The new manager does not want all of the trade connected with East Liverpool, but will be satisfied with a fair share, feeling sure that he can guarantee satisfaction as to product and prices.

Will H. Surles has been connected with the coal business at this point for the last twenty-one years, and has built up an enviable and successful business. He solicits a continuance of the old trade in favor of his friend and successor, and assures the purchasing public that Captain Page will cater to it in a courteous and business like manner.

—H. P. Knobbloch, secretary-treasurer of the Dresden Pottery company, of East Liverpool, O., is a Monongahela guest.—Pittsburg Gazette.

ELIJAH W. HILL,

Real Estate Dealer,

Second Floor Grand Building, Corner Sixth and Washington,

EAST LIVERPOOL, O.

LIST NO. 6.

Call at office for previous lists.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

New Waterford, Ohio.—Hotel of 16 rooms; the only hotel in the town; livery attached; 3-4 acre of ground; a good chance for a profitable business. Owner wishes to sell on account of age. Inquire for price and particulars.

Salineville, Ohio.—Stoneware pottery plant; can be converted into a clay novelty works, door knob factory or the making of specialties; has been used for manufacturing chimney tops, flower vases, ets. Land consists of 3-4 acre. Improvements: 1 double-crown 16 ft. kiln (cost $2,200 to build), 2-story frame addition about 20x40 and a one-story frame shed over boiler and engine. Equipments: One 20-horse power engine, 2 flue boilers, shafting on each floor of brick building; 1 pug mill; 1 brick machine and other usual accessories. Plant is situated on Railroad; good clays in vicinity; will sell entire plant for $1,950.

Newspaper business opportunity in Mahoning county, Ohio—One-half ownership in a weekly paper in an enterprising town, and one-half interest in the business block in which the paper is located. Good rental derived from building outside of what is occupied by paper. A good chance for a competent newspaper man to get in on the ground floor. N a heavy investment and not much ready money needed. See us for further particulars.

FARMS.

8 miles from East Liverpool—80 acre farm; all tillable; good 6-room house; barn and outbuildings, orchard, etc. Inquire for price.

3 miles from East Liverpool—2 miles from Wellsville—20 acres of land, all tillable; well watered; surface level; soil rich, sandy loam; suitable for gardening, chicken raising, truck farming, etc. Inquire for particulars and price.

Beaver Co., Pa.—15 miles from East Liverpool via Chester and Harshaville; 155 acres, 100 acres tillable; 50 acres in timber; balance in orchard of peaches, apples, plums, grapes, etc., well watered; suitable for general farming; 4-room new house, good frame stable; spring house; wagon shed, etc. Will sell in whole or part, cash or time. Will trade for town properties. Inquire for further particulars and prices.

Wellsville, O.—In suburbs—10½ acres of land; 3 veins of coal; flag and sand stone quarries opened; 60 apple, 100 peach, 75 quince and some pear trees, all bearing. A good 4-room house. All in good order. Price $2,900.

Hancock Co., W. Va., 3 miles from river near Fairview—166 acres, 80 acres cleared, balance in timber, underlaid with coal, with mine opened. Farm is well watered; near to church and school. Will trade for town properties or sell on time or for cash. Price $22 per acre.

Salineville—2 miles northeast—159 acres, nearly all tillable; good orchard; berry patches; underlaid with coal and minerals. An 8-room 2-story slate roof dwelling; an 8-stall bank barn. A bargain. Owner a townsman, tired of farming. Price $3,500.

Smith's Ferry, Pa.—(2 miles north)—10 acres, all tillable; well watered; 100 fruit trees, all bearing; producing oil field surrounding; a 5-room dwelling and a bank barn. Price upon inquiry.

Wellsville, O.—(5 miles north)—163 acre farm; level and well watered; orchards, dwelling, barns, etc. Suitable for general farming. Inquire for price.

Hancock Co., W. Va.—1 mile back of Rock Springs Park—75 acres; 20 acres in timber; orchards and usual fruit bearers. Land is excellent; 5 room dwelling and barn. This is a chance for an investor who looks to the future. Price $3,500.

Hancock Co., W. Va.—5 miles from East Liverpool, 5 miles from Wellsville—125 acres, nearly all tillable; about 4 acres in timber; well fenced and well spot; apples, pears, quinces and other fruits; plenty of water; near school and church. An unusually good dwelling of 7 rooms and good bank barn. Will trade for city property. Call for price and particulars.

Do not think this is all the properties we have for sale. Five large lists have preceded this, of which you can obtain copies by calling at our office. Further, there are many properties we have for sale that we do not advertise. Of these you can learn at office.

Many of the above properties can be bought on easy terms. In no case more than one-third cash is required. To specify in each case the terms would require too much space. Inquire of us for full particulars. Like all dealers, we are anxious to display "our goods," and hence be perfectly free to ask us anything you wish to know.

Office open from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Don't Throw Money

Away. It don't pay you to do so, and you know it. You can save 52 cents on every pair of shoes which will cost you elsewhere $3.50. We sell them at $2.98. The best goods on the market.

FRAZIER'S SHOE PARLOR,
167 Fifth Street.

Black Diamonds.

Leave your orders for the best Pittsburg coal, lump, nut or slack, at the Citizen's Coal and Ice Co., successors to Will H. Surles, foot of Market street.

CAPTAIN J. H. PAGE,
Manager.

'Phone, Bell, 43—ring 2.

The News Review for all the news.

Finest Special Service to Florida.

Leaves Pittsburg Tuesday and Fridays after January 15 at 8 a. m.; Steubenville, 9:28 a. m., central time, via Pennsylvania line, through without change from Pittsburg to Cincinnati, Atlanta, Jacksonville and St. Augustine, Florida. Find out about it by calling upon or addressing J. K. Dillon, District Passenger Agent, Room 306, Park building, Pittsburg.

Benjamin Chapin, dramatic interpreter, is able to take his regular place in the High school lecture course and will be at the opera house this evening. Lecture begins at 8:30.

All the News in the News Review.

THE NEWS REVIEW

LEADING DAILY OF COLUMBIANA COUNTY

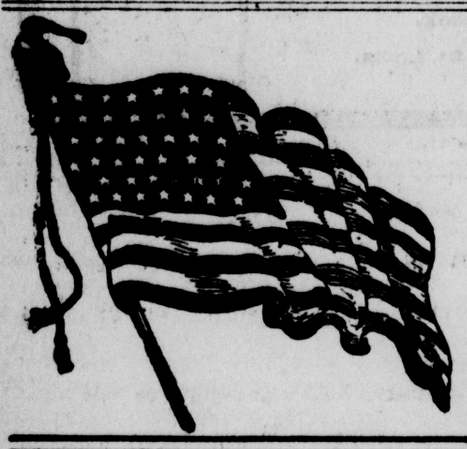

Published Daily Except Sunday by
THE NEWS REVIEW COMPANY,
HARRY PALMER,
Manager and Proprietor.
(Entered as second-class matter at the East Liverpool, Ohio, postoffice.]

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
(Postage free in United States and Canada.)

One year in advance	$5 00
Three months	1 25
By the week	10

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1901.

ARC LIGHTS.

It was very dark this morning. The writer noted two arc lights embraced in the blackness of darkness—one at the corner of Forest and Walnut streets and the other at the corner of Broadway and Fourth. The first named has not been burning during the last two nights. The matter should be remedied at once. Outage does not satisfy, nor give light to pedestrians. Turn on the lights.

THE SALOON MUST GO.

Christian manhood is asserting itself all over this nation. The saloon and its advocates are being properly classed, and the classing is not much to the liking of the men who have, for a matter of sordid gain, so many dollars and cents, resolved to destroy their fellow men, body and soul; yea, deliberately ruin their neighbors, for time and for eternity. The liquor traffic is an infamous curse, hated by God and all good men and women, and it ought to die.

A NOTABLE GATHERING.

Seven different denominations participated in a union communion service on Sunday afternoon last, at the Old Stone church, Cleveland. Ministers and members were present from the Lutheran, Disciple, Reformed, Methodist, Presbyterian, Congregational and United Evangelical churches, and participated in the services. Surely the Christian men and women of the nation are putting away sectarian prejudice in this glorious opening of the twentieth century.

TO TRUE UNIONISTS.

We defy any organization belonging to the craft known as newspaper, job or pressmen's unions, or any person or persons, members thereof, to show where the News Review office has, in any manner or form, disobeyed the rules governing said unions. The management of this office stands ready to conform to any legal rules at a moment's notice—the same rules as govern all union offices of the craft in this city. We have truth, and right, and power, and unionism back of us, and a full and free investigation, such as the international craft will order, will place some so-called union officials in an extremely unfavorable light. In the meantime permit us to say that we glory in the fact— defying successful contradiction—that The News Review office is a full union office, from center to circumference, and that any official of either the Typographical or pressmen's union making an assertion to the contrary is guilty of wicked and premeditated falsehood.

INJUSTICE.

An individual whom we have been given to understand is hand in glove with the liquor and saloon element of this city, made the statement a few evenings since, in the presence of a group of sober union workmen, that an editorial had appeared in this paper lately in which the writer, the editor of the News Review, had condemned all unions and unionism in general, and all union labels, and the use thereof. The poor creature made a laughing stock of himself, as he was talking in the presence of men who read this paper every day; men who are our warm personal friends, and who have knowledge of our union sentiments, based on principle, and carried into life and practice ever since we closed the days of our apprenticeship on the Pittsburg Evening Chronicle, the predecessor of the Chronicle-Telegraph of the present day. Surely the contemptible boodlers, back by their delectable friends and coworkers in villainy and falsehood, the saloon fraternity and liquor league, are terribly stirred up against the manager of the News Review. Well, from their standpoint, the poor creatures have full cause for hatred, as we have seriously interefered with their peculiar and unsavory methods of robbing their fellow creatures. And we further note that the new importation on the Police Gazette has been drafted into the service of his special co-workers and friends. Birds of a feather.

THE CLEVELAND LEADER.

The Cleveland Leader is considered the best and brightest paper on the exchange list of the News Review. In an editorial in this paper on Saturday last, we warmly commended the Leader for the stand it has taken against the army canteen, the un-American saloon and the liquor traffic in general. And now we ask the owners and operators of this strong and splendidly edited sheet to go a step further, and to bar from its columns every liquor advertisement which is offered to it. The News Review is but a small sheet, of limited power and influence; but, by the blessing of the Master, and trusting in His power to sustain and deliver in every emergency, this paper has for years absolutely refused to allow a liquor advertisement to enter its columns, at any price, and we have been offered our own price in case we would consent to receive and publish liquor advertisements. Further, for years the job plant owned and operated by the writer has refused to make estimates upon or receive any job work in which liquor advertisements were to appear, and we have been compelled to turn away many orders for job work in consequence. But, thank God, we have maintained our own Christian self-respect and manhood, and handled no money stained with the taint of widows' tears or orphans' cries; money gained through the deliberate destruction of the bodies and souls of our fellow men. And, thank God, we have been nobly helped and sustained, in the hour of emergency and trial, by Christian ministers and Christian men and women of the city of East Liverpool, influenced, we verily believe, by Him who hath said: "I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee." And His promises are never broken. Throw out the advertisements of the Rum Devil, proprietors and manager of the Cleveland Leader, and other great journals may be constrained to follow your example, and the dawn of a brighter and a better day may thus open up in this great nation, a country freed from the blighting curse of the Rum Demon.

THANK YOU, MAYOR.

Mayor Davidson deserves warm commendation for his order that the Sunday papers brought to this city shall not be "cried" by the newsies on Sabbath, day or night. These newsies have made themselves very objectionable to church goers by this "crying" process on Sunday, some of the youngsters becoming so bold as to cry their wares on the very steps at the church doors, thrusting their papers into the very faces of the members of the congregation as they emerge from God's house of worship. Mayor Davidson will accept the thanks of numerous Christians in East Liverpool for his order respecting this matter; an order which will no doubt be obeyed, as our chief magistrate has the happy faculty of knowing how to enforce an order after he legally issues the same. And now comes the wish, straight from the heart, that Mayor Davidson shall issue a still further order, and forbid the sale or delivery of any or all Sunday papers in this city on the Sabbath day. And if every professing Christian in East Liverpool will refuse to subscribe for, pay for or read Sunday papers, and unite in a petition against said papers to the mayor of this city, we believe that the petition will receive due consideration at his hands. Many young boys are losing all respect for the Sabbath, and paving the way for entrance to a life of sin and evil in consequence of being employed as carriers of Sunday papers, and no father or mother who truly love their boy will permit him to engage in any such occupation. We dislike to take this stand on account of a personal friend of long standing being engaged in the dissemination of these Sunday papers. But the call for duty by the voice of the Master dare not be disobeyed. We sincerely hope that, ere long, the Sunday paper shall be barred out of this city, in so far as Sunday selling and delivery is concerned. We sincerely hope that our friend sholl lose this source of income, and then strike it rich in some avenue of life which does not endanger the loss of his soul and the souls of young boys who are just blossoming out into young manhood, and whose lives might otherwise be of great usefulness to themselves and the community in which they reside. It remains to be seen what class of men occupy the pulpits and pews of our Christian churches. Have they the courage of their convictions on this subject? Is the Sunday paper a good or an evil thing, oh ye followers of the meek and lowly Nazarene? If a very evil thing, and an evil which you can destroy, and fail in so doing, will you not be held personally responsible for the failure? Don't dodge the issue. Face it like a little man. Stand up and be counted.

CITIZEN'S COAL AND ICE CO

The New Coal Company Will Succeed Our Townsman, Mr. Will H. Surles.

The Citizens Coal and Ice company took charge on January 1, 1900, with Mr. J. H. Page, late of Parkersburg, W. Va., as manager. Manager Page will add to the coal business that of ice delivery, and will be ready to deliver cool stuff at the proper time in the sultry months. He will handle the very best Pittsburg coal, lump, nut and slack, at reasonable prices, and make prompt delivery of all orders entrusted to his care. Mr. Page has been connected with river work for the past thirty years, from childhood up, running from Parkersburg down. Captain Page has been running on the Little Kanawha for the past four years, and has a host of friends among river men.

The new manager does not want all of the trade connected with East Liverpool, but will be satisfied with a fair share, feeling sure that he can guarantee satisfaction as to product and prices.

Will H. Surles has been connected with the coal business at this point for the last twenty-one years, and has built up an enviable and successful business. He solicits a continuance of the old trade in favor of his friend and successor, and assures the purchasing public that Captain Page will cater to it in a courteous and business like manner.

—H. P. Knobbloch, secretary-treasurer of the Dresden Pottery company, of East Liverpool, O., is a Monongahela guest.—Pittsburg Gazette.

ELIJAH W. HILL,

Real Estate Dealer,

Second Floor Grand Building, Corner Sixth and Washington,

EAST LIVERPOOL, O.

LIST NO. 6.

☞ Call at office for previous lists.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

New Waterford, Ohio.—Hotel of 16 rooms; the only hotel in the town; livery attached; 3-4 acre of ground; a good chance for a profitable business. Owner wishes to sell on account of age. Inquire for price and particulars.

Salineville, Ohio.—Stoneware pottery plant; can be converted into a clay novelty works, door knob factory or the making of specialties; has been used for manufacturing chimney tops, flower vases, etc. Land consists of 3-4 acre. Improvements: 1 double-crown 16 ft. kiln (cost $2,200 to build), 2-story frame addition about 20x40 and a one-story frame shed over boiler and engine. Equipments: One 20-horse power engine, 2 flue boilers, shafting on each floor of brick building; 1 pug mill; 1 brick machine and other usual accessories. Plant is situated on Railroad; good clays in vicinity; will sell entire plant for $1,950.

Newspaper business opportunity in Mahoning county, Ohio—One-half ownership in a weekly paper in an enterprising town, and one-half interest in the business block in which the paper is located. Good rental derived from building outside of what is occupied by paper. A good chance for a competent newspaper man to get in on the ground floor. N a heavy investment and not much ready money needed. See us for further particulars.

FARMS.

8 miles from East Liverpool—80 acre farm; all tillable; good 6-room house; barn and outbuildings, orchard, etc. Inquire for price.

3 miles from East Liverpool—2 miles from Wellsville—20 acres of land, all tillable; well watered; surface level; soil rich, sandy loam; suitable for gardening, chicken raising, truck farming, etc. Inquire for particulars and price.

Beaver Co., Pa.—15 miles from East Liverpool via Chester and Harshaville; 155 acres, 100 acres tillable; 50 acres in timber; balance in orchard of peaches, apples, plums, grapes, etc., well watered; suitable for general farming; 4-room new house, good frame stable; spring house; wagon shed, etc. Will sell in whole or part, cash or time. Will trade for town properties. Inquire for further particulars and prices.

Wellsville, O.—In suburbs—10½ acres of land; 3 veins of coal; flag and sand stone quarries opened; 60 apple, 100 peach, 75 quince and some pear trees, all bearing. A good 4-room house. All in good order. Price $2,900.

Hancock Co., W. Va., 3 miles from river near Fairview—166 acres, 80 acres cleared, balance in timber, underlaid with coal, with mine opened. Farm is well watered; near to church and school. Will trade for town properties or sell on time or for cash. Price $22 per acre.

Salineville—2 miles northeast—159 acres, nearly all tillable; good orchard; berry patches; underlaid with coal and minerals. An 8-room 2-story slate roof dwelling; an 8-stall bank barn. A bargain. Owner a townsman, tired of farming. Price $3,500.

Smith's Ferry, Pa.—(2 miles north)—10 acres, all tillable; well watered; 100 fruit trees, all bearing; producing oil field surrounding; a 5-room dwelling and a bank barn. Price upon inquiry.

Wellsville, O.—(5 miles north)—163 acre farm; level and well watered; orchards, dwelling, barns, etc. Suitable for general farming. Inquire for price.

Hancock Co., W. Va.—1 mile back of Rock Springs Park—75 acres; 20 acres in timber; orchards and usual fruit bearers. Land is excellent; 5 room dwelling and barn. This is a chance for an investor who looks to the future. Price $3,500.

Hancock Co., W. Va.—5 miles from East Liverpool, 5 miles from Wellsville—125 acres, nearly all tillable; about 4 acres in timber; well fenced and well apt; apples, pears, quinces and other fruits; plenty of water; near school and church. An unusually good dwelling of 7 rooms and good bank barn. Will trade for city property. Call for price and particulars.

Do not think this is all the properties we have for sale. Five large lists have preceded this, of which you can obtain copies by calling at our office. Further, there are many properties we have for sale that we do not advertise. Of these you can learn at office.

Many of the above properties can be bought on easy terms. In no case more than one-third cash is required. To specify in each case the terms would require too much space. Inquire of us for full particulars. Like all dealers, we are anxious to display "our goods," and hence be perfectly free to ask us anything you wish to know.

Office open from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Don't Throw Money

Away. It don't pay you to do so, and you know it. You can save 52 cents on every pair of shoes which will cost you elsewhere $3.50. We sell them at $2.98. The best goods on the market.

FRAZIER'S SHOE PARLOR,
167 Fifth Street.

Black Diamonds.

Leave your orders for the best Pittsburg coal, lump, nut or slack, at the Citizen's Coal and Ice Co., successors to Will H. Surles, foot of Market street. CAPTAIN J. H. PAGE,
Manager.
'Phone, Bell, 43—ring 2.

The News Review for all the news.

Finest Special Service to Florida.

Leaves Pittsburg Tuesday and Fridays after January 15 at 8 a. m.; Steubenville, 9:28 a. m., central time, via Pennsylvania line, through without change from Pittsburg to Cincinnati, Atlanta, Jacksonville and St. Augustine, Florida. Find out about it by calling upon or addressing J. K. Dillon, District Passenger Agent, Room 306, Park building, Pittsburg.

Benjamin Chapin, dramatic interpreter, is able to take his regular place in the High school lecture course and will be at the opera house this evening. Lecture begins at 8:30.

All the News in the News Review.

THE NEWS REVIEW

LEADING DAILY OF COLUMBIANA COUNTY

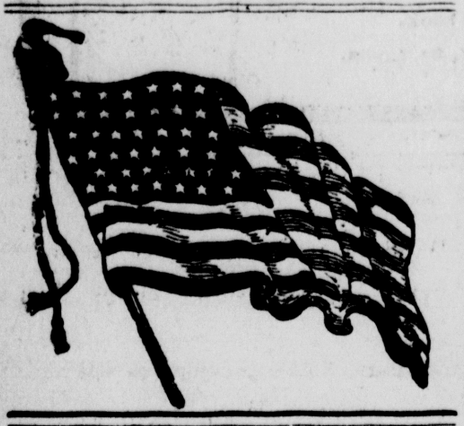

Published Daily Except Sunday by
THE NEWS REVIEW COMPANY,
HARRY PALMER,
Manager and Proprietor.
(Entered as second-class matter at the East Liverpool, Ohio, postoffice.]

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
(Postage free in United States and Canada.)

One year in advance	$5 00
Three months	1 25
By the week	10

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1901.

ARC LIGHTS.

It was very dark this morning. The writer noted two arc lights embraced in the blackness of darkness—one at the corner of Forest and Walnut streets and the other at the corner of Broadway and Fourth. The first named has not been burning during the last two nights. The matter should be remedied at once. Outage does not satisfy, nor give light to pedestrians. Turn on the lights.

THE SALOON MUST GO.

Christian manhood is asserting itself all over this nation. The saloon and its advocates are being properly classed, and the classing is not much to the liking of the men who have, for a matter of sordid gain, so many dollars and cents, resolved to destroy their fellow men, body and soul; yea, deliberately ruin their neighbors, for time and for eternity. The liquor traffic is an infamous curse, hated by God and all good men and women, and it ought to die.

A NOTABLE GATHERING.

Seven different denominations participated in a union communion service on Sunday afternoon last, at the Old Stone church, Cleveland. Ministers and members were present from the Lutheran, Disciple, Reformed, Methodist, Presbyterian, Congregational and United Evangelical churches, and participated in the services. Surely the Christian men and women of the nation are putting away sectarian prejudice in this glorious opening of the twentieth century.

TO TRUE UNIONISTS.

We defy any organization belonging to the craft known as newspaper, job or pressmen's unions, or any person or persons, members thereof, to show where the News Review office has, in any manner or form, disobeyed the rules governing said unions. The management of this office stands ready to conform to any legal rules at a moment's notice—the same rules as govern all union offices of the craft in this city. We have truth, and right, and power, and unionism back of us, and a full and free investigation, such as the international craft will order, will place some so-called union officials in an extremely unfavorable light. In the meantime permit us to say that we glory in the fact— defying successful contradiction—that The News Review office is a full union office, from center to circumference, and that any official of either the Typographical or pressmen's union making an assertion to the contrary is guilty of wicked and premeditated falsehood.

INJUSTICE.

An individual whom we have been given to understand is hand in glove with the liquor and saloon element of this city, made the statement a few evenings since, in the presence of a group of sober union workmen, that an editorial had appeared in this paper lately in which the writer, the editor of the News Review, had condemned all unions and unionism in general, and all union labels, and the use thereof. The poor creature made a laughing stock of himself, as he was talking in the presence of men who read this paper every day; men who are our warm personal friends, and who have knowledge of our union sentiments, based on principle, and carried into life and practice ever since we closed the days of our apprenticeship on the Pittsburg Evening Chronicle, the predecessor of the Chronicle-Telegraph of the present day. Surely the contemptible boodlers, back by their delectable friends and coworkers in villainy and falsehood, the saloon fraternity and liquor league, are terribly stirred up against the manager of the News Review. Well, from their standpoint, the poor creatures have full cause for hatred, as we have seriously interefered with their peculiar and unsavory methods of robbing their fellow creatures. And we further note that the new importation on the Police Gazette has been drafted into the service of his special co-workers and friends. Birds of a feather.

THE CLEVELAND LEADER.

The Cleveland Leader is considered the best and brightest paper on the exchange list of the News Review. In an editorial in this paper on Saturday last, we warmly commended the Leader for the stand it has taken against the army canteen, the un-American saloon and the liquor traffic in general. And now we ask the owners and operators of this strong and splendidly edited sheet to go a step further, and to bar from its columns every liquor advertisement which is offered to it. The News Review is but a small sheet, of limited power and influence; but, by the blessing of the Master, and trusting in His power to sustain and deliver in every emergency, this paper has for years absolutely refused to allow a liquor advertisement to enter its columns, at any price, and we have been offered our own price in case we would consent to receive and publish liquor advertisements. Further, for years the job plant owned and operated by the writer has refused to make estimates upon or receive any job work in which liquor advertisements were to appear, and we have been compelled to turn away many orders for job work in consequence. But, thank God, we have maintained our own Christian self-respect and manhood, and handled no money stained with the taint of widows' tears or orphans' cries; money gained through the deliberate destruction of the bodies and souls of our fellow men. And, thank God, we have been nobly helped and sustained, in the hour of emergency and trial, by Christian ministers and Christian men and women of the city of East Liverpool, influenced, we verily believe, by Him who hath said: "I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee." And His promises are never broken. Throw out the advertisements of the Rum Devil, proprietors and manager of the Cleveland Leader, and other great journals may be constrained to follow your example, and the dawn of a brighter and a better day may thus open up in this great nation, a country freed from the blighting curse of the Rum Demon.

THANK YOU, MAYOR.

Mayor Davidson deserves warm commendation for his order that the Sunday papers brought to this city shall not be "cried" by the newsies on Sabbath, day or night. These newsies have made themselves very objectionable to church goers by this "crying" process on Sunday, some of the youngsters becoming so bold as to cry their wares on the very steps at the church doors, thrusting their papers into the very faces of the members of the congregation as they emerge from God's house of worship. Mayor Davidson will accept the thanks of numerous Christians in East Liverpool for his order respecting this matter; an order which will no doubt be obeyed, as our chief magistrate has the happy faculty of knowing how to enforce an order after he legally issues the same. And now comes the wish, straight from the heart, that Mayor Davidson shall issue a still further order, and forbid the sale or delivery of any or all Sunday papers in this city on the Sabbath day. And if every professing Christian in East Liverpool will refuse to subscribe for, pay for or read Sunday papers, and unite in a petition against said papers to the mayor of this city, we believe that the petition will receive due consideration at his hands. Many young boys are losing all respect for the Sabbath, and paving the way for entrance to a life of sin and evil in consequence of being employed as carriers of Sunday papers, and no father or mother who truly love their boy will permit him to engage in any such occupation. We dislike to take this stand on account of a personal friend of long standing being engaged in the dissemination of these Sunday papers. But the call for duty by the voice of the Master dare not be disobeyed. We sincerely hope that, ere long, the Sunday paper shall be barred out of this city, in so far as Sunday selling and delivery is concerned. We sincerely hope that our friend sholl lose this source of income, and then strike it rich in some avenue of life which does not endanger the loss of his soul and the souls of young boys who are just blossoming out into young manhood, and whose lives might otherwise be of great usefulness to themselves and the community in which they reside. It remains to be seen what class of men occupy the pulpits and pews of our Christian churches. Have they the courage of their convictions on this subject? Is the Sunday paper a good or an evil thing, oh ye followers of the meek and lowly Nazarene? If a very evil thing, and an evil which you can destroy, and fail in so doing, will you not be held personally responsible for the failure? Don't dodge the issue. Face it like a little man. Stand up and be counted.

CITIZEN'S COAL AND ICE CO

The New Coal Company Will Succeed Our Townsman, Mr. Will H. Surles.

The Citizens Coal and Ice company took charge on January 1, 1900, with Mr. J. H. Page, late of Parkersburg, W. Va., as manager. Manager Page will add to the coal business that of ice delivery, and will be ready to deliver cool stuff at the proper time in the sultry months. He will handle the very best Pittsburg coal, lump, nut and slack, at reasonable prices, and make prompt delivery of all orders entrusted to his care. Mr. Page has been connected with river work for the past thirty years, from childhood up, running from Parkersburg down. Captain Page has been running on the Little Kanawha for the past four years, and has a host of friends among river men.

The new manager does not want all of the trade connected with East Liverpool, but will be satisfied with a fair share, feeling sure that he can guarantee satisfaction as to product and prices.

Will H. Surles has been connected with the coal business at this point for the last twenty-one years, and has built up an enviable and successful business. He solicits a continuance of the old trade in favor of his friend and successor, and assures the purchasing public that Captain Page will cater to it in a courteous and business like manner.

—H. P. Knobbloch, secretary-treasurer of the Dresden Pottery company, of East Liverpool, O., is a Monongahela guest.—Pittsburg Gazette.

ELIJAH W. HILL,

Real Estate Dealer,

Second Floor Grand Building, Corner Sixth and Washington,
EAST LIVERPOOL, O.

LIST NO. 6.

☞Call at office for previous lists.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

New Waterford, Ohio.—Hotel of 16 rooms; the only hotel in the town; livery attached; 3-4 acre of ground; a good chance for a profitable business. Owner wishes to sell on account of age. Inquire for price and particulars.

Salineville, Ohio.—Stoneware pottery plant; can be converted into a clay novelty works, door knob factory or the making of specialties; has been used for manufacturing chimney tops, flower vases, ets. Land consists of 3-4 acre. Improvements: 1 double-crown 16 ft. kiln (cost $2,200 to build), 2-story frame addition about 20x40 and a one-story frame shed over boiler and engine. Equipments: One 20-horse power engine, 2 flue boilers, shafting on each floor of brick building; 1 pug mill; 1 brick machine and other usual accessories. Plant is situated on Railroad; good clays in vicinity; will sell entire plant for $1,950.

Newspaper business opportunity in Mahoning county, Ohio—One-half ownership in a weekly paper in an enterprising town, and one-half interest in the business block in which the paper is located. Good rental derived from building outside of what is occupied by paper. A good chance for a competent newspaper man to get in on the ground floor. N a heavy investment and not much ready money needed. See us for further particulars.

FARMS.

8 miles from East Liverpool—80 acre farm; all tillable; good 6-room house; barn and outbuildings, orchard, etc. Inquire for price.

3 miles from East Liverpool—2 miles from Wellsville—20 acres of land, all tillable; well watered; surface level; soil rich, sandy loam; suitable for gardening, chicken raising, truck farming, etc. Inquire for particulars and price.

Beaver Co., Pa.—15 miles from East Liverpool via Chester and Harshaville; 155 acres, 100 acres tillable; 50 acres in timber; balance in orchard of peaches, apples, plums, grapes, etc., well watered; suitable for general farming; 4-room new house, good frame stable; spring house; wagon shed, etc. Will sell in whole or part, cash or time. Will trade for town properties. Inquire for further particulars and prices.

Wellsville, O.—In suburbs—10½ acres of land; 3 veins of coal; flag and sand stone quarries opened; 60 apple, 100 peach, 75 quince and some pear trees, all bearing. A good 4-room house. All in good order. Price $2,900.

Hancock Co., W. Va., 3 miles from river near Fairview—166 acres, 80 acres cleared, balance in timber, underlaid with coal, with mine opened. Farm is well watered; near to church and school. Will trade for town properties or sell on time or for cash. Price $22 per acre.

Salineville—2 miles northeast—159 acres, nearly all tillable; good orchard; berry patches; underlaid with coal and minerals. An 8-room 2-story slate roof dwelling; an 8-stall bank barn. A bargain. Owner a townsman, tired of farming. Price $3,500.

Smith's Ferry, Pa.—(2 miles north)—10 acres, all tillable; well watered; 100 fruit trees, all bearing; producing oil field surrounding; a 5-room dwelling and a bank barn. Price upon inquiry.

Wellsville, O.—(5 miles north)—163 acre farm; level and well watered; orchards, dwelling, barns, etc. Suitable for general farming. Inquire for price.

Hancock Co., W. Va.—1 mile back of Rock Springs Park—75 acres; 20 acres in timber; orchards and usual fruit bearers. Land is excellent; 5 room dwelling and barn. This is a chance for an investor who looks to the future. Price $3,500.

Hancock Co., W. Va.—5 miles from East Liverpool, 5 miles from Wellsville—125 acres, nearly all tillable; about 4 acres in timber; well fenced and well watered; apples, pears, quinces and other fruits; plenty of water; near school and church. An unusually good dwelling of 7 rooms and good bank barn. Will trade for city property. Call for price and particulars.

Do not think this is all the properties we have for sale. Five large lists have preceded this, of which you can obtain copies by calling at our office. Further, there are many properties we have for sale that we do not advertise. Of these you can learn at office.

Many of the above properties can be bought on easy terms. In no case more than one-third cash is required. To specify in each case the terms would require too much space. Inquire of us for full particulars. Like all dealers, we are anxious to display "our goods," and hence be perfectly free to ask us anything you wish to know.

Office open from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Don't Throw Money

Away. It don't pay you to do so, and you know it. You can save 52 cents on every pair of shoes which will cost you elsewhere $3.50. We sell them at $2.98. The best goods on the market.

FRAZIER'S SHOE PARLOR,
167 Fifth Street.

Black Diamonds.

Leave your orders for the best Pittsburg coal, lump, nut or slack, at the Citizen's Coal and Ice Co., successors to Will H. Surles, foot of Market street. CAPTAIN J. H. PAGE,
Manager.
'Phone, Bell, 43—ring 2.

The News Review for all the news.

Finest Special Service to Florida.

Leaves Pittsburg Tuesday and Fridays after January 15 at 8 a. m.; Steubenville, 9:28 a. m., central time, via Pennsylvania line, through without change from Pittsburg to Cincinnati, Atlanta, Jacksonville and St. Augustine, Florida. Find out about it by calling upon or addressing J. K. Dillon, District Passenger Agent, Room 306, Park building, Pittsburg.

Benjamin Chapin, dramatic interpreter, is able to take his regular place in the High school lecture course and will be at the opera house this evening. Lecture begins at 8:30.

All the News in the News Review.

EAST END.

Elected Officers.

At their regular meeting held last evening Goodwill council No. 13, Daughters of Liberty, elected the following officers:

Councilor—T. W. McCain.

Vice councilor—Ed Wilson.

Recording secretary—Mrs. Mollie Hanley.

Treasurer—Jennie Hunter.

Financial secretary—Mrs. Sallie Elliott.

—Guide—Mrs. T. W. McCain.

Outside Protector—Myrtle Hayes.

Inside Protector—Tillie Hayes.

The officers will be installed at the regular meeting which will be held two weeks from last night.

Stalled in the Mud.

A farmer named Graham, who lives northwest of East End, was driving home this morning with a load of lumber when his team stalled in the mud.

In their frantic attempt to pull the wagon, one of the horses fell and broke the tongue. The driver secured two pieces of board and spliced the tongue and the team managed to pull the wagon out.

Deputy Sheriff Bick.

Deputy Sheriff Bick was in the East End yesterday appraising property belonging to M. W. Elliott.

Under the Weather.

Dr. Calhoun is still confined to his home with illness and will not be able to be out this week.

East End Notes.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayes are the guests of friends in Monaca.

Miss Margaret White, of Ohio avenue, is confined to her home with an attack of the measles.

Rev. G. W. Orcutt, who has been ill with the measles, is much improved.

Mrs. Snowden is ill at her home on Ohio avenue.

Miss Maggie Allison, who has been ill for several days, is improving.

Frank Chambers is a Pittsburg visitor today.

W. C. Supplee started to work this morning getting his room ready for occupancy.

The employes of the Columbiana County Telephone company are working on Mullberry street today.

UNTIL MAY

Mrs. Smith Gives Her Daughter That Long to Do Her Duty.

Considerable space has been taken up in the newspapers of eastern Ohio in regard to Mrs. Clarence Smith, of Inverness, O., who recently fell heir to $14,000, and refuses to have anything to do with her parents.

The latest is from the Massillon Independent and is as follows:

Mrs. Joseph Smith, of 81 Cliff street, has received no reply to the letter she wrote her heiress daughter, Mrs. Clarence Smith, of Inverness, O., about the middle of December. "I'll give her till about May," remarked Mrs Smith. "That'll be about enough time for her to get ahead, if that's what she's waiting on. If she don't do her duty by her old mot.er by that time, then I'll have the law on her. It's hard to think of mother proceeding against daughter, but it certainly will come to that if she don't do her duty. My goodness, if I had $40,000 it would be a pleasure for me to do something for my relations. I don't think we could ever get Joe to go on that farm down there, though."

"Have you consulted a lawyer, and do you know positively that the law bears on this case? You know it might be maintained that the fact that your daughter was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Cameron invalided your claim," suggested the reporter.

"I know what people say. But didn't I raise that child until she was seven years old? Nobody can have more than one mother, and in that case I'm the one."

JACK TAR'S GROWL.

A Story Illustrating the Sailor's Habit of Grumbling.

The author of "From Edinburgh to the Antarctic," writing of the sailor's habit of grumbling, says: "The dinners are all the same—that is to say, Monday's dinners are all alike, and what we have today we shall have this day six months hence. Jack's forefather this day 100 years ago had the same menu and made the same uncomplimentary remarks about the dishes, and 100 years hence on this day Jack's children will growl over their salt horse and plumless duff." The author also tells this "yarn" to illustrate that Jack's habit of grumbling can't be cured and must be endured:

Once upon a time there lived a skipper whose wife said to him that if she went to sea the poor men would never find fault with their food. Her husband took her with him on a voyage, and the good woman attended to the cooking in the galley herself.

The scouse was thick with fresh vegetables, the bread was white and without weevils, the meat was good, and the duff was almost half plums, but still the men growled.

Then the skipper's wife thought of the hens she had brought on board to lay eggs for her husband's breakfast. She took them out of the coop, wrung their necks with her own fair hands, plucked them, roasted them and sent them to the forecastle on the cabin china.

"Now the men," she said to herself, "will know how much we think of their comfort."

At eight bells she stole forward to the forecastle to listen to the praise of her skill as a cook. She looked down the hatch and saw a big black fist plunge a fork into the hen and heard a hoarse voice growl, "I say, Bill, what d'ye think this 'ere bloody fowl died of?"

Sympathy Not What Was Wanted.

A native of the mountain district of Kentucky had occasion to go on a journey recently and before starting took out an accident policy. He chanced to be one of the victims of a railway collision, and the next morning his widow, armed with a newspaper report, in which his name was mentioned among the killed, called on the agent of the insurance company and demanded the money.

"But, madam," said the agent, "we will have to have more definite proof before we can pay your claim."

"More proof!" exclaimed the bereaved woman. "Why, he's dead'rn a doornail, I reckon."

"Possibly, my dear madam," answered the polite agent, "and I'm very sorry."

"Sorry! You are sorry, are you?"

"I certainly am, madam. I sincerely sympathize with you in your sad affliction."

"But hain't you goin to give me the money what's comin to me?"

"Not today. Your claim will have to be investigated first."

"That's just like a good fer nothin man," angrily retorted the bereaved woman. "You all are mighty perlite 'bout things so long as they hain't costin you nothin, but the minnet a poor, lone female does git a chance to git holt of a leetle spendin money you got the gall to say you're sorry."

And the indignant female slammed the door.—Chicago News.

Get Your Shoes

Where you can save nice money on every pair you buy. We are closing out. We will leave East Liverpool by the 15th of February. We want to sell every pair of shoes we can, to avoid boxing or packing the same. Our goods are new, nobby and stylish, the best manufactured; shoes for men, women, boys, girls, babies. Buy while you may. You will never have such another chance. Come and test the matter.

FRAZIER'S SHOE PARLOR,
167 Fifth Street.

Benjamin Chapin, dramatic interpreter, is able to take his regular place in the High school lecture course and will be at the opera house this evening. Lecture begins at 8:30.

—Mrs. Wilber Kurtz returned to her home in Akron yesterday afternoon after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Worcester.

SOUTH SIDE.

Will Work in Chester.

R. G. Mercer, who has been employed as night watchman at the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery at Liverpool, has accepted a similar position at the E. M. Knowles pottery in Chester.

Southside Notes.

Dick Johnson is on the sick list.

Phil Marshall is ill at his home about four miles from Chester.

The families of William Mercer, D. M. Cunningham and John Wells are suffering with the measles.

Personals.

William Flowers, John Allison and Harvey Howard, of Fairview, were Chester and Liverpool visitors today.

John Biggerstaff and wife, of Steuvenville, were Chester visitors today.

Relettering the Cars.

A painter was this morning put to work relettering the old cars of the Chester and Liverpool street car line. The cars will be ready for the road in a few days.

Killed a Dog.

Yesterday morning a Panhandle freight train killed the large Newfoundland dog owned by Charles Sinclair in the rear of his home.

The First Section.

The first section of the new canning factory arrived in Chester yesterday tied to the tail of a dog owned by John Boulton.

Stroke of Paralysis.

Frank Wilkinson, who resides on Middle run, suffered a strike of paralysis yesterday. The stroke left him entirely helpless.

Will Start in 60 Days.

The mill failed to start today, but there is a report in circulation that it will be running full within 60 days.

Shoes for Everybody.

And shoes at lower prices than you can get them anywhere else in the city or section. We save you from 21 cents to $1.00 on every pair of shoes sold in our establishment; shoes which formerly sold at from $1.50 to $5.00. We must close out. We move by the 15th of next month. Don't want to pack goods Call at once.

FRAZIER'S SHOE PARLOR,
167 Fifth Street.

Telegraphers' Grip.

"I have lost my grip."

This phrase is applied by men to all kinds of failures. One of the technical usages of losing one's grip is in the case of telegraph operators.

Many of the most skilled operators suffer at times from a loss of the "grip" and are compelled to give way temporarily to a substitute. This "grip" is the hold on the key, and the moment the operator begins to lose the control of this "grip" he realizes a rest, although for only a brief time, is due him.

Another but unpleasant term applied to this loss of "grip" is "telegraphers' paralysis." It shows itself in many curious ways, all showing that the muscles brought into play in working the key are badly worn.

One of the most skillful operators in Louisville, who is subject to these attacks, cannot send "P." The Morse manual calls for five dots for this letter. The operator in question has by some hook or crook lost the power to stop at the fifth dot, and it is a common thing for him to warn the taker to look out for his "P's."

Recently he asked a fellow operator to watch him send "P's" and to stop him at the end of the fifth dot. It resulted that, although he would be warned at the fourth dot, the fingers, no longer mastered by the brain, would continue dotting beyond the fifth.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

No Interference.

Burglar (suddenly confronted by a policeman)—Hello, here's a cop!

Policeman—Don't let me interfere. I'm not on duty tonight. Just dropped in to see the cook.—Boston Transcript.

D. M. Ogilvie & Co.

Cloaks and Suits. About 12 Misses' Suits, sizes 14 and 16, blue, brown and grey, $5.00, regardless of former price.

Still a few left of the Women's Suits at $5.00. You'll find these excellent for the price.

The better grade suits reduced:

$15 Suits to $10. $18 Suits to $12.50.
$20 Suits to $13.50. $22.50 Suits to $15.
$25 Suits to $18. $30.00 Suits to $20.

Capes Long Kersey Capes, nicely lined, one each, brown, castor and red, were $18 and $18.50, now $14. One brown Kersey cape, fur collar and edged down front with fur, was $19; now $14. Two long golf capes, one was $15 the other $18.50, reduced to $10. $8.50 black and white golf cape for $7. $10 black and white golf cape for $7.50. A few children's $5 capes for $2.

Jackets All short jackets at half price. Children's, misses' and women's. Reduced prices on all black 25 inch and 40 inch half fitting box coats.

Sale of Dress Skirts A lot of plaids and black skirts, $2.50. Some of them not the latest styles but very cheap at this price.

Another lot of skirts at half price.

Underwear A table of underwear. Women's drawers, white, cotton fleeced lined; 50c goods, and white and grey wool $1 goods, medium and small sizes, also cotton fleeced union suits, anything on the table for 35c.

A lot of seconds heavy fleeced women's vests and drawers, 25c goods, at 18c per garment.

By seconds we mean imperfections in weave but almost as good as the perfect goods as far as wear is concerned.

D. M. OGILVIE & CO

His Impressive Looks.

Trumbull's cradle was in Connecticut. He came of the old Jonathan Trumbull breed. As a young man he went south to teach school, but he liked it not and dipped into lawbooks. As soon as he was equal to his examination he was called to the Georgia bar, but he never paused to practice there. He migrated to Illinois, then the utter west and settled at Belleville, St. Clair county, in that part of the state known as Egypt.

There he at once took a leading place at the bar. He was always courtly, always carefully polite, what one might call a bit cold, yet he had great sway with the juries. He was a clear, cogent reasoner and had a trick of admonishing with his forefinger. Sometimes it would seem as if that potent forefinger wove a spell. I doubt not it has brought many a jury in its time to Trumbull's side of the question.

Such were the impressive looks of Trumbull that I recall what Governor Reynolds once said of him as he closed his argument in a law case. Trumbull was on the other side.

"And now, gentlemen," said Reynolds as he prepared to close: "I've answered his arguments, I've overturned his statement of facts, I've undone the fallacious law he has announced to you; but, gentlemen, the man never lived who can reply to his looks!"—Chicago Tribune.

Considerate.

Young Writer (to editor of newly established journal)—If you find this little story available for your columns, I don't ask any pay for it beyond a life subscription to your paper.

Editor—But, great goodness, young man, you may live for 50 years!

Young Writer—Oh, I don't mean during my life; during the life of your paper, you know!—London Tit-Bits.

PILES Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment will cure Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles. It absorbs the tumors, allays the itching at once, acts as a poultice, gives instant relief. Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment is prepared for Piles and Itching of the private parts. Every box is warranted. By druggists, by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents and $1.00. WILLIAMS MANUFACTURING CO., Props., Cleveland, Ohio

For sale by Will Reed, C. F. Craig and C. F. Larkin.

Welsbach Light
Only 35c
FOR COMPLETE OUTFIT.

You are interested in securing first class illumination, for reading, writing and like purposes. Think of the superb Welsbach Light, complete, at only 35c.

Very handsome heating stoves. You should inspect them.

Fancy Glassware for Welsbach Lights. Very artistic. All kinds of mantles, from 10 to 50 cents. It will pay you to call at the office of the

OHIO VALLEY GAS CO.,
No. 149 Sixth Street.

HOFMAN,
The Jeweler.

Repairing and Engraving done in the most skillful manner, by an expert of over 40 years experience.

Jewelry of every description.

Prices very reasonable.

No. 205,
Market St., E. Liverpool, O.

MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS

They overcome Weakness, irregularity and omissions, increase vigor and banish "pains of menstruation." They are "Life Savers" to girls at womanhood, aiding development of organs and body. No known remedy for women equals them. Cannot do harm—life becomes a pleasure. $1 per box by mail. Sold by druggists. MOTT CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, O.

For sale by Will Reed, C. F. Craig and C. F. Larkin.

EAST END.

Elected Officers.

At their regular meeting held last evening Goodwill council No. 13, Daughters of Liberty, elected the following officers:

Councilor—T. W. McCain.

Vice councilor—Ed Wilson.

Recording secretary—Mrs. Mollie Hanley.

Treasurer—Jennie Hunter.

Financial secretary—Mrs. Sallie Elliott.

—Guide—Mrs. T. W. McCain.

Outside Protector—Myrtle Hayes.

Inside Protector—Tillie Hayes.

The officers will be installed at the regular meeting which will be held two weeks from last night.

Stalled in the Mud.

A farmer named Graham, who lives northwest of East End, was driving home this morning with a load of lumber when his team stalled in the mud.

In their frantic attempt to pull the wagon, one of the horses fell and broke the tongue. The driver secured two pieces of board and spliced the tongue and the team managed to pull the wagon out.

Deputy Sheriff Bick.

Deputy Sheriff Bick was in the East End yesterday appraising property belonging to M. W. Elliott.

Under the Weather.

Dr. Calhoun is still confined to his home with illness and will not be able to be out this week.

East End Notes.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayes are the guests of friends in Monaca.

Miss Margaret White, of Ohio avenue, is confined to her home with an attack of the measles.

Rev. G. W. Orcutt, who has been ill with the measles, is much improved.

Mrs. Snowden is ill at her home on Ohio avenue.

Miss Maggie Allison, who has been ill for several days, is improving.

Frank Chambers is a Pittsburg visitor today.

W. C. Supplee started to work this morning getting his room ready for occupancy.

The employes of the Columbiana County Telephone company are working on Mullberry street today.

UNTIL MAY

Mrs. Smith Gives Her Daughter That Long to Do Her Duty.

Considerable space has been taken up in the newspapers of eastern Ohio in regard to Mrs. Clarence Smith, of Inverness, O., who recently fell heir to $14,000, and refuses to have anything to do with her parents.

The latest is from the Massillon Independent and is as follows:

Mrs. Joseph Smith, of 81 Cliff street, has received no reply to the letter she wrote her heiress daughter, Mrs. Clarence Smith, of Inverness, O., about the middle of December. "I'll give her till about May," remarked Mrs Smith. "That'll be about enough time for her to get ahead, if that's what she's waiting on. If she don't do her duty by her old mot. er by that time, then I'll have the law on her. It's hard to think of mother proceeding against daughter, but it certainly will come to that if she don't do her duty. My goodness, if I had $40,000 it would be a pleasure for me to do something for my relations. I don't think we could ever get Joe to go on that farm down there, though."

"Have you consulted a lawyer, and do you know positively that the law bears on this case? You know it might be maintained that the fact that your daughter was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Cameron invalided your claim," suggested the reporter.

"I know what people say. But didn't I raise that child until she was seven years old? Nobody can have more than one mother, and in that case I'm the one."

JACK TAR'S GROWL.

A Story Illustrating the Sailor's Habit of Grumbling.

The author of "From Edinburgh to the Antarctic," writing of the sailor's habit of grumbling, says: "The dinners are all the same—that is to say, Monday's dinners are all alike, and what we have today we shall have this day six months hence. Jack's forefather this day 100 years ago had the same menu and made the same uncomplimentary remarks about the dishes, and 100 years hence on this day Jack's children will growl over their salt horse and plumless duff." The author also tells this "yarn" to illustrate that Jack's habit of grumbling can't be cured and must be endured:

Once upon a time there lived a skipper whose wife said to him that if she went to sea the poor men would never find fault with their food. Her husband took her with him on a voyage, and the good woman attended to the cooking in the galley herself.

The scouse was thick with fresh vegetables, the bread was white and without weevils, the meat was good, and the duff was almost half plums, but still the men growled.

Then the skipper's wife thought of the hens she had brought on board to lay eggs for her husband's breakfast. She took them out of the coop, wrung their necks with her own fair hands, plucked them, roasted them and sent them to the forecastle on the cabin china.

"Now the men," she said to herself, "will know how much we think of their comfort."

At eight bells she stole forward to the forecastle to listen to the praise of her skill as a cook. She looked down the hatch and saw a big black fist plunge a fork into the hen and heard a hoarse voice growl, "I say, Bill, what d'ye think this 'ere bloody fowl died of?"

Sympathy Not What Was Wanted.

A native of the mountain district of Kentucky had occasion to go on a journey recently and before starting took out an accident policy. He chanced to be one of the victims of a railway collision, and the next morning his widow, armed with a newspaper report, in which his name was mentioned among the killed, called on the agent of the insurance company and demanded the money.

"But, madam," said the agent, "we will have to have more definite proof before we can pay your claim."

"More proof!" exclaimed the bereaved woman. "Why, he's dead'rn a doornail, I reckon."

"Possibly, my dear madam," answered the polite agent, "and I'm very sorry."

"Sorry! You are sorry, are you?"

"I certainly am, madam. I sincerely sympathize with you in your sad affliction."

"But hain't you goin to give me the money what's comin to me?"

"Not today. Your claim will have to be investigated first."

"That's just like a good fer nothin man," angrily retorted the bereaved woman. "You all are mighty perlite 'bout things so long as they hain't costin you nothin, but the minnet a poor, lone female does git a chance to git holt of a leetle spendin money you got the gall to say you're sorry."

And the indignant female slammed the door.—Chicago News.

Get Your Shoes

Where you can save nice money on every pair you buy. We are closing out. We will leave East Liverpool by the 15th of February. We want to sell every pair of shoes we can, to avoid boxing or packing the same. Our goods are new, nobby and stylish, the best manufactured; shoes for men, women, boys, girls, babies. Buy while you may. You will never have such another chance. Come and test the matter.

FRAZIER'S SHOE PARLOR,
167 Fifth Street.

Benjamin Chapin, dramatic interpreter, is able to take his regular place in the High school lecture course and will be at the opera house this evening. Lecture begins at 8:30.

—Mrs. Wilber Kurtz returned to her home in Akron yesterday afternoon after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Worcester.

SOUTH SIDE.

Will Work in Chester.

R. G. Mercer, who has been employed as night watchman at the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery at Liverpool, has accepted a similar position at the E. M. Knowles pottery in Chester.

Southside Notes.

Dick Johnson is on the sick list.

Phil Marshall is ill at his home about four miles from Chester.

The families of William Mercer, D. M. Cunningham and John Wells are suffering with the measles.

Personals.

William Flowers, John Allison and Harvey Howard, of Fairview, were Chester and Liverpool visitors today.

John Biggerstaff and wife, of Steuvenville, were Chester visitors today.

Relettering the Cars.

A painter was this morning put to work relettering the old cars of the Chester and Liverpool street car line. The cars will be ready for the road in a few days.

Killed a Dog.

Yesterday morning a Panhandle freight train killed the large Newfoundland dog owned by Charles Sinclair in the rear of his home.

The First Section.

The first section of the new canning factory arrived in Chester yesterday tied to the tail of a dog owned by John Boulton.

Stroke of Paralysis.

Frank Wilkinson, who resides on Middle run, suffered a strike of paralysis yesterday. The stroke left him entirely helpless.

Will Start in 60 Days.

The mill failed to start today, but there is a report in circulation that it will be running full within 60 days.

Shoes for Everybody.

And shoes at lower prices than you can get them anywhere else in the city or section. We save you from 21 cents to $1.00 on every pair of shoes sold in our establishment; shoes which formerly sold at from $1.50 to $5.00. We must close out. We move by the 15th of next month. Don't want to pack goods Call at once.

FRAZIER'S SHOE PARLOR,
167 Fifth Street.

Telegraphers' Grip.

"I have lost my grip."

This phrase is applied by men to all kinds of failures. One of the technical usages of losing one's grip is in the case of telegraph operators.

Many of the most skilled operators suffer at times from a loss of the "grip" and are compelled to give way temporarily to a substitute. This "grip" is the hold on the key, and the moment the operator begins to lose the control of this "grip" he realizes a rest, although for only a brief time, is due him.

Another but unpleasant term applied to this loss of "grip" is "telegraphers' paralysis." It shows itself in many curious ways, all showing that the muscles brought into play in working the key are badly worn.

One of the most skillful operators in Louisville, who is subject to these attacks, cannot send "P." The Morse manual calls for five dots for this letter. The operator in question has by some hook or crook lost the power to stop at the fifth dot, and it is a common thing for him to warn the taker to look out for his "P's."

Recently he asked a fellow operator to watch him send "P's" and to stop him at the end of the fifth dot. It resulted that, although he would be warned at the fourth dot, the fingers, no longer mastered by the brain, would continue dotting beyond the fifth.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

No Interference.

Burglar (suddenly confronted by a policeman)—Hello, here's a cop!

Policeman—Don't let me interfere. I'm not on duty tonight. Just dropped in to see the cook.—Boston Transcript.

D. M. Ogilvie & Co.

Cloaks and Suits. About 12 Misses' Suits, sizes 14 and 16, blue, brown and grey, $5.00, regardless of former price.

Still a few left of the Women's Suits at $5.00. You'll find these excellent for the price.

The better grade suits reduced:

$15 Suits to $10. $18 Suits to $12.50.
$20 Suits to $13.50. $22.50 Suits to $15.
$25 Suits to $18. $30.00 Suits to $20.

Capes Long Kersey Capes, nicely lined, one each, brown, castor and red, were $18 and $18.50, now $14. One brown Kersey cape, fur collar and edged down front with fur, was $19; now $14. Two long golf capes, one was $15 the other $18.50, reduced to $10. $8.50 black and white golf cape for $7. $10 black and white golf cape for $7.50. A few children's $5 capes for $2.

Jackets All short jackets at half price. Children's, misses' and women's. Reduced prices on all black 25 inch and 40 inch half fitting box coats.

Sale of Dress Skirts A lot of plaids and black skirts, $2.50. Some of them not the latest styles but very cheap at this price.

Another lot of skirts at half price.

Underwear A table of underwear. Women's drawers, white, cotton fleeced lined; 50c goods, and white and grey wool $1 goods, medium and small sizes, also cotton fleeced union suits, anything on the table for 35c.

A lot of seconds heavy fleeced women's vests and drawers, 25c goods, at 18c per garment.

By seconds we mean imperfections in weave but almost as good as the perfect goods as far as wear is concerned.

D. M. OGILVIE & CO

His Impressive Looks.

Trumbull's cradle was in Connecticut. He came of the old Jonathan Trumbull breed. As a young man he went south to teach school, but he liked it not and dipped into lawbooks. As soon as he was equal to his examination he was called to the Georgia bar, but he never paused to practice there. He migrated to Illinois, then the utter west and settled at Belleville, St. Clair county, in that part of the state known as Egypt.

There he at once took a leading place at the bar. He was always courtly, always carefully polite, what one might call a bit cold, yet he had great sway with the juries. He was a clear, cogent reasoner and had a trick of admonishing with his forefinger. Sometimes it would seem as if that potent forefinger wove a spell. I doubt not it has brought many a jury in its time to Trumbull's side of the question.

Such were the impressive looks of Trumbull that I recall what Governor Reynolds once said of him as he closed his argument in a law case. Trumbull was on the other side.

"And now, gentlemen," said Reynolds as he prepared to close: "I've answered his arguments, I've overturned his statement of facts, I've undone the fallacious law he has announced to you; but, gentlemen, the man never lived who can reply to his looks!"—Chicago Tribune.

Considerate.

Young Writer (to editor of newly established journal)—If you find this little story available for your columns, I don't ask any pay for it beyond a life subscription to your paper.

Editor—But, great goodness, young man, you may live for 50 years!

Young Writer—Oh, I don't mean during my life; during the life of your paper, you know!—London Tit-Bits.

PILES Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment will cure Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles. It absorbs the tumors, allays the itching at once, acts as a poultice, gives instant relief. Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment is prepared for Piles and Itching of the private parts. Every box is warranted. By druggists, by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents and $1.00. WILLIAMS MANUFACTURING CO., Props., Cleveland, Ohio

For sale by Will Reed, C. F. Craig and C. F. Larkin.

Welsbach Light
Only 35c
FOR COMPLETE OUTFIT.

You are interested in securing first class illumination, for reading, writing and like purposes. Think of the superb Welsbach Light, complete, at only 35c.

Very handsome heating stoves. You should inspect them.

Fancy Glassware for Welsbach Lights. Very artistic. All kinds of mantles, from 10 to 50 cents. It will pay you to call at the office of the

OHIO VALLEY GAS CO.,
No. 149 Sixth Street.

HOFMAN,
The Jeweler.

Repairing and Engraving done in the most skillful manner, by an expert of over 40 years experience.

Jewelry of every description.

Prices very reasonable.

No. 205,
Market St., E. Liverpool, O.

MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS

They overcome Weakness, irregularity and omissions, increase vigor and banish "pains of menstruation." They are "Life Savers" to girls at womanhood, aiding development of organs and body. No known remedy for women equals them. Cannot do harm—life becomes a pleasure. $1 per box by mail. Sold by druggists. MOTT CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, O.

For sale by Will Reed, C. F. Craig and C. F. Larkin.

EAST END.

Elected Officers.

At their regular meeting held last evening Goodwill council No. 13, Daughters of Liberty, elected the following officers:

Councilor—T. W. McCain.

Vice councilor—Ed Wilson.

Recording secretary—Mrs. Mollie Hanley.

Treasurer—Jennie Hunter.

Financial secretary—Mrs. Sallie Elliott.

—Guide—Mrs. T. W. McCain.

Outside Protector—Myrtle Hayes.

Inside Protector—Tillie Hayes.

The officers will be installed at the regular meeting which will be held two weeks from last night.

Stalled in the Mud.

A farmer named Graham, who lives northwest of East End, was driving home this morning with a load of lumber when his team stalled in the mud.

In their frantic attempt to pull the wagon, one of the horses fell and broke the tongue. The driver secured two pieces of board and spliced the tongue and the team managed to pull the wagon out.

Deputy Sheriff Bick.

Deputy Sheriff Bick was in the East End yesterday appraising property belonging to M. W. Elliott.

Under the Weather.

Dr. Calhoun is still confined to his home with illness and will not be able to be out this week.

East End Notes.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayes are the guests of friends in Monaca.

Miss Margaret White, of Ohio avenue, is confined to her home with an attack of the measles.

Rev. G. W. Orcutt, who has been ill with the measles, is much improved.

Mrs. Snowden is ill at her home on Ohio avenue.

Miss Maggie Allison, who has been ill for several days, is improving.

Frank Chambers is a Pittsburg visitor today.

W. C. Supplee started to work this morning getting his room ready for occupancy.

The employes of the Columbiana County Telephone company are working on Mullberry street today.

UNTIL MAY

Mrs. Smith Gives Her Daughter That Long to Do Her Duty.

Considerable space has been taken up in the newspapers of eastern Ohio in regard to Mrs. Clarence Smith, of Inverness, O., who recently fell heir to $14,000, and refuses to have anything to do with her parents.

The latest is from the Massillon Independent and is as follows:

Mrs. Joseph Smith, of 81 Cliff street, has received no reply to the letter she wrote her heiress daughter, Mrs. Clarence Smith, of Inverness, O., about the middle of December. "I'll give her till about May," remarked Mrs Smith. "That'll be about enough time for her to get ahead, if that's what she's waiting on. If she don't do her duty by her old mot. er by that time, then I'll have the law on her. It's hard to think of mother proceeding against daughter, but it certainly will come to that if she don't do her duty. My goodness, if I had $40,000 it would be a pleasure for me to do something for my relations. I don't think we could ever get Joe to go on that farm down there, though."

"Have you consulted a lawyer, and do you know positively that the law bears on this case? You know it might be maintained that the fact that your daughter was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Cameron invalided your claim," suggested the reporter.

"I know what people say. But didn't I raise that child until she was seven years old? Nobody can have more than one mother, and in that case I'm the one."

JACK TAR'S GROWL.

A Story Illustrating the Sailor's Habit of Grumbling.

The author of "From Edinburgh to the Antarctic," writing of the sailor's habit of grumbling, says: "The dinners are all the same—that is to say, Monday's dinners are all alike, and what we have today we shall have this day six months hence. Jack's forefather this day 100 years ago had the same menu and made the same uncomplimentary remarks about the dishes, and 100 years hence on this day Jack's children will growl over their salt horse and plumless duff." The author also tells this "yarn" to illustrate that Jack's habit of grumbling can't be cured and must be endured:

Once upon a time there lived a skipper whose wife said to him that if she went to sea the poor men would never find fault with their food. Her husband took her with him on a voyage, and the good woman attended to the cooking in the galley herself.

The scouse was thick with fresh vegetables, the bread was white and without weevils, the meat was good, and the duff was almost half plums, but still the men growled.

Then the skipper's wife thought of the hens she had brought on board to lay eggs for her husband's breakfast. She took them out of the coop, wrung their necks with her own fair hands, plucked them, roasted them and sent them to the forecastle on the cabin china.

"Now the men," she said to herself, "will know how much we think of their comfort."

At eight bells she stole forward to the forecastle to listen to the praise of her skill as a cook. She looked down the hatch and saw a big black fist plunge a fork into the hen and heard a hoarse voice growl, "I say, Bill, what d'ye think this 'ere bloody fowl died of?"

Sympathy Not What Was Wanted.

A native of the mountain district of Kentucky had occasion to go on a journey recently and before starting took out an accident policy. He chanced to be one of the victims of a railway collision, and the next morning his widow, armed with a newspaper report, in which his name was mentioned among the killed, called on the agent of the insurance company and demanded the money.

"But, madam," said the agent, "we will have to have more definite proof before we can pay your claim."

"More proof!" exclaimed the bereaved woman. "Why, he's dead'rn a doornail, I reckon."

"Possibly, my dear madam," answered the polite agent, "and I'm very sorry."

"Sorry! You are sorry, are you?"

"I certainly am, madam. I sincerely sympathize with you in your sad affliction."

"But hain't you goin to give me the money what's comin to me?"

"Not today. Your claim will have to be investigated first."

"That's just like a good fer nothin man," angrily retorted the bereaved woman. "You all are mighty perlite 'bout things so long as they hain't costin you nothin, but the minnet a poor, lone female does git a chance to git holt of a leetle spendin money you got the gall to say you're sorry."

And the indignant female slammed the door.—Chicago News.

Get Your Shoes

Where you can save nice money on every pair you buy. We are closing out. We will leave East Liverpool by the 15th of February. We want to sell every pair of shoes we can, to avoid boxing or packing the same. Our goods are new, nobby and stylish, the best manufactured; shoes for men, women, boys, girls, babies. Buy while you may. You will never have such another chance. Come and test the matter.

FRAZIER'S SHOE PARLOR,
167 Fifth Street.

Benjamin Chapin, dramatic interpreter, is able to take his regular place in the High school lecture course and will be at the opera house this evening. Lecture begins at 8:30.

—Mrs. Wilber Kurtz returned to her home in Akron yesterday afternoon after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Worcester.

SOUTH SIDE.

Will Work in Chester.

R. G. Mercer, who has been employed as night watchman at the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery at Liverpool, has accepted a similar position at the E. M. Knowles pottery in Chester.

Southside Notes.

Dick Johnson is on the sick list.

Phil Marshall is ill at his home about four miles from Chester.

The families of William Mercer, D. M. Cunningham and John Wells are suffering with the measles.

Personals.

William Flowers, John Allison and Harvey Howard, of Fairview, were Chester and Liverpool visitors today.

John Biggerstaff and wife, of Steuvenville, were Chester visitors today.

Relettering the Cars.

A painter was this morning put to work relettering the old cars of the Chester and Liverpool street car line. The cars will be ready for the road in a few days.

Killed a Dog.

Yesterday morning a Panhandle freight train killed the large Newfoundland dog owned by Charles Sinclair in the rear of his home.

The First Section.

The first section of the new canning factory arrived in Chester yesterday tied to the tail of a dog owned by John Boulton.

Stroke of Paralysis.

Frank Wilkinson, who resides on Middle run, suffered a strike of paralysis yesterday. The stroke left him entirely helpless.

Will Start in 60 Days.

The mill failed to start today, but there is a report in circulation that it will be running full within 60 days.

Shoes for Everybody.

And shoes at lower prices than you can get them anywhere else in the city or section. We save you from 21 cents to $1.00 on every pair of shoes sold in our establishment; shoes which formerly sold at from $1.50 to $5.00. We must close out. We move by the 15th of next month. Don't want to pack goods Call at once.

FRAZIER'S SHOE PARLOR,
167 Fifth Street.

Telegraphers' Grip.

"I have lost my grip."

This phrase is applied by men to all kinds of failures. One of the technical usages of losing one's grip is in the case of telegraph operators.

Many of the most skilled operators suffer at times from a loss of the "grip" and are compelled to give way temporarily to a substitute. This "grip" is the hold on the key, and the moment the operator begins to lose the control of this "grip" he realizes a rest, although for only a brief time, is due him.

Another but unpleasant term applied to this loss of "grip" is "telegraphers' paralysis." It shows itself in many curious ways, all showing that the muscles brought into play in working the key are badly worn.

One of the most skillful operators in Louisville, who is subject to these attacks, cannot send "P." The Morse manual calls for five dots for this letter. The operator in question has by some hook or crook lost the power to stop at the fifth dot, and it is a common thing for him to warn the taker to look out for his "P's."

Recently he asked a fellow operator to watch him send "P's" and to stop him at the end of the fifth dot. It resulted that, although he would be warned at the fourth dot, the fingers, no longer mastered by the brain, would continue dotting beyond the fifth.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

No Interference.

Burglar (suddenly confronted by a policeman)—Hello, here's a cop!

Policeman—Don't let me interfere. I'm not on duty tonight. Just dropped in to see the cook.—Boston Transcript.

D. M. Ogilvie & Co.

Cloaks and Suits. About 12 Misses' Suits, sizes 14 and 16, blue, brown and grey, $5.00, regardless of former price.

Still a few left of the Women's Suits at $5.00. You'll find these excellent for the price.

The better grade suits reduced:

$15 Suits to $10.	$18 Suits to $12.50.
$20 Suits to $13.50.	$22.50 Suits to $15.
$25 Suits to $18.	$30.00 Suits to $20.

Capes Long Kersey Capes, nicely lined, one each, brown, castor and red, were $18 and $18.50, now $14. One brown Kersey cape, fur collar and edged down front with fur, was $19; now $14. Two long golf capes, one was $15 the other $18.50, reduced to $10. $8.50 black and white golf cape for $7. $10 black and white golf cape for $7.50. A few children's $5 capes for $2.

Jackets All short jackets at half price. Children's, misses' and women's. Reduced prices on all black 25 inch and 40 inch half fitting box coats.

Sale of Dress Skirts A lot of plaids and black skirts, $2.50. Some of them not the latest styles but very cheap at this price.

Another lot of skirts at half price.

Underwear A table of underwear. Women's drawers, white, cotton fleeced lined; 50c goods, and white and grey wool $1 goods, medium and small sizes, also cotton fleeced union suits, anything on the table for 35c.

A lot of seconds heavy fleeced women's vests and drawers, 25c goods, at 18c per garment.

By seconds we mean imperfections in weave but almost as good as the perfect goods as far as wear is concerned.

D. M. OGILVIE & CO

His Impressive Looks.

Trumbull's cradle was in Connecticut. He came of the old Jonathan Trumbull breed. As a young man he went south to teach school, but he liked it not and dipped into lawbooks. As soon as he was equal to his examination he was called to the Georgia bar, but he never paused to practice there. He migrated to Illinois, then the utter west and settled at Belleville, St. Clair county, in that part of the state known as Egypt.

There he at once took a leading place at the bar. He was always courtly, always carefully polite, what one might call a bit cold, yet he had great sway with the juries. He was a clear, cogent reasoner and had a trick of admonishing with his forefinger. Sometimes it would seem as if that potent forefinger wove a spell. I doubt not it has brought many a jury in its time to Trumbull's side of the question.

Such were the impressive looks of Trumbull that I recall what Governor Reynolds once said of him as he closed his argument in a law case. Trumbull was on the other side.

"And now, gentlemen," said Reynolds as he prepared to close: "I've answered his arguments, I've overturned his statement of facts, I've undone the fallacious law he has announced to you; but, gentlemen, the man never lived who can reply to his looks!"—Chicago Tribune.

Considerate.

Young Writer (to editor of newly established journal)—If you find this little story available for your columns, I don't ask any pay for it beyond a life subscription to your paper.

Editor—But, great goodness, young man, you may live for 50 years!

Young Writer—Oh, I don't mean during my life; during the life of your paper, you know!—London Tit-Bits.

PILES Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment will cure Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles. It absorbs the tumors, allays the itching at once, acts as a poultice, gives instant relief. Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment is prepared for Piles and Itching of the private parts. Every box is warranted. By druggists, by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents and $1.00. WILLIAMS MANUFACTURING CO., Props., Cleveland, Ohio

For sale by Will Reed, C. F. Craig and C. F. Larkin.

Welsbach Light

Only 35c

FOR COMPLETE OUTFIT.

You are interested in securing first class illumination, for reading, writing and like purposes. Think of the superb Welsbach Light, complete, at only 35c.

Very handsome heating stoves. You should inspect them.

Fancy Glassware for Welsbach Lights. Very artistic. All kinds of mantles, from 10 to 50 cents. It will pay you to call at the office of the

OHIO VALLEY GAS CO.,

No. 149 Sixth Street.

HOFMAN,

The Jeweler.

Repairing and Engraving done in the most skillful manner, by an expert of over 40 years experience.

Jewelry of every description.

Prices very reasonable.

No. 205,

Market St., E. Liverpool, O.

MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS

They overcome Weakness, irregularity and omissions, increase vigor and banish "pains of menstruation." They are "Life Savers" to girls at womanhood, aiding development of organs and body. No known remedy for women equals them. Cannot do harm—life becomes a pleasure. $1 per box by mail. Sold by druggists. MOTT CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, O.

For sale by Will Reed, C. F. Craig and C. F. Larkin.

COL. QUAY MAY WIN.

Indications That He Would Be Elected.

DEMOCRATS TO VOTE FOR GUFFEY.

He Was Selected by Their Caucus—Thompson and Reynolds Formally Declared Themselves For the Beaver Man, Anti-Quay Republicans Met Last Night.

Harrisburg, Jan. 15.—There was every indication last night that the bitter struggle for United States senator will terminate today with the election of Colonel M. S. Quay, the nominee of the joint Republican caucus. The Democrats will vote for Colonel James M. Guffey, of Pittsburg, and the anti-Quay Republicans are expected to distribute their votes among several "favorite sons."

The house and senate was to vote separately about 3 o'clock this afternoon, and the probabilities were that Mr. Quay's combined vote will not fall short of 130. It requires 127 votes to elect, and it is pretty generally conceded that he will poll at least this number. Should Mr. Quay or any other person receive the requisite number of votes today the senate and house were to meet jointly at noon tomorrow to canvass the returns and formally declare an election. If, however, there should be no election today the two bodies were to meet jointly on Wednesday and take a ballot every day thereafter or until there is an election or the legislature adjourns. There was nothing to indicate last night that there would not be an election on the first ballot or that there would be another deadlock similar to that of 1899, when the legislature adjourned after taking 79 ballots without making a choice.

The day following the adjournment Governor Stone appointed Colonel Quay to the senate and on April 28, 1899, the appointment was rejected, so that Pennsylvania has since had only one United States senator in Boies Penrose. Several senators and members who were reported ill reached here yesterday and when the ballot is taken Representative Haldeman, of Montgomery, who is pledged to Colonel Quay, will probably be the only absentee.

Representative Thompson, of Centre, who was absent when the house organized, and whose attitude on the senatorship had been in doubt, came to Harrisburg in a private car Monday morning. Last evening Mr. Thompson issued a public statement, in which he said that it is his purpose to be present in the house today and vote for Mr. Quay and that he was detained at home by illness when that body organized.

Representative Reynolds, of Lackawanna, who voted with the anti-Quay Republicans on the organization of the house, last evening transmitted a letter "to the chairman of the fusion caucus," which stated:

"The issue in my district was largely a personal one, but I felt I owed it to my friends to oppose, within party lines, the re-election of M. S. Quay. I came to Harrisburg and acted in all matters with those who had that purpose in view. Upon my return home I found that practically a unanimous sentiment of my constituents was that I had gone far enough and that it was my duty to join with the majority of my party in securing for this great commonwealth the representation to which it is entitled in the highest legislative body on earth—the United States senate.

"Believeing that my first duty is to my constituents and my party, I hereby declare my settled purpose to accept the judgment and shall therefore join with my Republican colleagues in voting for Colonel Quay and acting with them in the future."

Telegrams were received late last night from Representatives Garvin, of Adams, and Maloney, of Venango, Democrats, that they would be unable to be present today when the ballot was taken for senator.

Representative Neeb, of Allegheny, who was also absent on account of illness when the legislature organized, has recovered and will qualify and take his seat today.

Word reached here last night that Representative Galvin, of Schuylkill, died last evening at his home at Shenandoah. The report could not be confirmed.

A meeting of the Republican senators and members pledged to oppose Mr. Quay's election was held last evening to discuss the situation. Senator William Flinn, of Allegheny, said at the close of the meeting that all the members were present except Messrs. Thompson, Neeb, Reynolds and Emery. "The only news from any of the absentees were from Mr. Reynolds," he added, "it being announced that he had succumbed to the influence of the machine. All of the gentlemen present were as strong as ever in the determination to oppose the election of Mr. Quay."

Another meeting of the anti-Quay Republicans was to be held today previous to the meeting of the legislature to formulate a plan of action when the ballot is taken.

Senator Penrose, who is assisting Colonel Quay in the direction of his campaign, said last night, in part:

"On the evening before the first and final balloting in the senatorial contest the evidence is becoming stronger every hour that Senator Quay will be elected on the first ballot in the senate and house by a much larger majority than was expected by even his most sanguine friends. The opposition has gone to pieces, as was expected in the beginning."

Many of Colonel Quay's friends throughout the state are here prepared to celebrate his election if he wins on the first ballot. A delegation of Republicans from his home county of Beaver came in Monday morning and called last evening to pay its respects. The former senator appeared in front of the house where he was living and made a short speech, thanking his neighbors for the active interest they have taken in his fight. The Nineteenth Ward Republican club, of Pittsburg, was also here shouting for the former senator. The club has its headquarters in the ward in which Senator Flinn, the anti-Quay leader, lives.

Colonel Quay expected to take his seat in the senate on Thursday if he should be elected before that time. A large delegation of his friends was to go from here to Washington to be present at the ceremony.

Harrisburg, Jan. 15.—National Committeeman James M. Guffey, of Pittsburg, was last night unanimously nominated for United States senator by the joint caucus of the Democrats of the house and senate. The names of Hon. Chauncey F. Black, of York, and Hon. J. Henry Cochran, of Lycoming, were also presented to the caucus, but they were withdrawn before a vote was taken.

J. Henry Cochran was elected chairman of the caucus and A. J. Palm, of Crawford, secretary. The calling of the roll showed 10 members absent. They were Senators Boyd, of Fayette; Kemerer, of Northampton; Higgins, of Schuylkill; Stiles, of Lehigh, and Representatives Garvin, of Adams; Galvin, of Schuylkill; Maloney, of Venango; Squier, of Wyoming; Smith, of Green, and Brown, of Crawford.

Most of the absentees were reported to be sick. In the case of Representative Maloney, a telegram was received from him, in which he said he had the grip, and would report at Harrisburg in a few days. Secretary Palm read a telegram from the county chairman of Venango county, in which he said that Maloney would be started off to Harrisburg about 5 o'clock today if Colonel Guffey would pay for a special car. It was announced that Mr. Guffey had consented to stand the expense.

Lieutenant Governor Gobin called the senate to order at 8:30 o'clock last night.

Senator Sproull was chosen teller to represent the senate in the counting of the vote for state officers at the last general election.

After Senator Flinn, of Allegheny, had introduced a bill in relation to the state laws, and a batch of executive appointments had been confirmed, Senator Grady offered a resolution for immediate consideration providing that a special committee of nine be appointed, to which all bills be referred until the standing committees shall have been appointed. Flinn objected, saying in part that he would prefer to leave his bill lay on the table until the regular committees were appointed.

Senator Grady said in part that if a member wished to let his bill lie on the table until the committees were appointed he could do so.

The resolution was adopted, 27 to 20.

A resolution was presented by Senator Quail, of Schuylkill, which was adopted, to the effect that "it is the sense of the senate of Pennsylvania that the constitution of the United States should be amended so that United States senators should be elected by the people at the general elections."

There were also other proceedings

The house met last evening, listened to a short prayer by Chaplain Grissinger, and then adjourned until this afternoon, when the ballot will be taken for United States senator. Speaker Marshall last evening did not expect to complete the committee amendments before next Monday.

The house Republican slate committee will probably report on Thursday, and there is nothing to indicate that its report will not be adopted. Bills have been prepared by many members, and as soon as the committees are announced they will be introduced.

$500 REWARD

We will pay the above reward for any case of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Indigestion, Constipation or Costiveness we cannot cure with Liverita, the Up-To-Date Little Liver Pill, when the directions are strictly complied with. They are purely Vegetable, and never fail to give satisfaction. 25c boxes contain 100 Pills, 10c boxes contain 40 Pills, 5c boxes contain 15 Pills. Beware of substitutions and imitations. Sent by mail. Stamps taken. Nervita Medical Co., Corner Clinton and Jackson Streets, Chicago, Ill.

ATTACK BY TELLER.

Stinging Abuse of the President For Retiring Eagan.

DECORATION AND NOT PUNISHMENT.

He Said Many of the American People Believed It Was a Decoration and a Reward For His Attack Upon Miles. Denounced Eagan.

Washington, Jan. 15.- During the discusion of the army reorganization bill in the senate an amendment was offered by Mr. Teller, of Colorado, to that section of the bill which authorizes the president to retire any officer who has been suspended from duty, either by sentence or court martial, or by executive order in mitigation of such sentence, striking out the words "has been" and substituting therefor "shall be hereafter."

After saying that the section had been incorporated in the bill for the purpose of enabling the president to retire General Eagan, former commissary general of the army, Mr. Teller declared it was retained in the bill in order that an officer of the army, Major Joseph W. Wham, might be got rid of. "He cannot be gotten rid of in any other way," said Mr. Teller, "and he ought not to be gotten rid of in any circumstances."

Mr. Teller adverted to the case of General Eagan at some length. Of the beef furnished the army, he said, it was "boiled and canned, and of very ancient lineage, some of which had made a trip to Europe and back, being fed to our soldiers after it had been condemned by European governments."

Mr. Teller denounced General Eagan in severe language.

"As an officer of the United States army," said the senator, "he made an exhibition of himself and showed himself to be a miserable blackguard."

Referring to General Eagan's denial of General Miles' charges as to "embalmed beef," Mr. Teller declared "his language was brutal and low, and so bad it could not be overlooked, although there was a very evident desire to overlook it."

Mr. Teller made a stinging attack upon the president for having retired General Eagan, asserting that "the retirement in the circumstances was a decoration and not a punishment, and many of the American people believe it was a decoration and a reward for his attack upon the general commanding the army."

At considerable length Mr. Teller then discueed the case of Major Wham.

Mr. Carter said that if the bill was not passed at an early day it might be necessary to charter special vessels, fit them up, etc., to get troops back from the Philippines by the time the present law expired.

"I think the senate ought to know," said Mr. Carter, "that each day's delay in the pasage of this bill will involve and additional expenditure of at least $500,000."

Later on Mr. Carter stated he would today ask that a time be set to vote.

Mr. Teller declared immediately that he would object at this time to any date being fixed for a final vote.

The house considered the river and harbor bill, during the course of its session.

THREE BRUTES ON TRIAL

One of the Witnesses Told of Horrible Details Connected With the Murder of Jennie Bosschieter.

New York, Jan. 15.—The trial of Walter L. McAlister, Andrew Campbell and William A. Death, three of the four men accused of the murder of Jennie Bosschieter, a mill girl of Paterson, N. J., under circumstances revolting in their utter lack of humane considerations, commenced before Judge Dixon, in the Passaic county court of oyer and terminer.

George J. Kerr, the fourth man under indictment, was not in court, as he has been granted a separate trial on the ground that he was not present when the fatal dose was administered to the girl.

A jury was secured. Four of the principal witnesses in the case were questioned. Mrs. Nina Bosschieter, the mother of the unfortunate girl, was one; her daughter Susie another; Christopher Saal, the proprietor of the saloon where it is alleged the drug was administered to the girl, was the third, and Gus Schulthorpe, the hack driver of the horrible night ride, was the last. Mother and daughter told of Jennie's life at home, and at the mill. Schulthorpe, in his crude, unvarnished way, told to the minutest detail the story of the crime. He graphically described the taking of the almost unconscious girl from the saloon to his victoria and of the ride out of the county and unspeakable crime committed on the dead or almost dead girl.

Aside from the four principal witnesses examined there were on the stand Z. W. B. Founda, a surveyor, who gave an exact location of the place where the body was found; Cornelius Garry, a teamster for the Ice company, who saw Jennie Bosschieter talking to Campbell on the night of the murder; Nellie Devries and Bertha Dysen, companions, who testified that they saw Jennie Bosschieter and Campbell together early in the night preceding the murder.

CONSULTED CHURCHMEN.

Rev. Wilson, Editor Kelway and Duke of Newcastle Want American Edition of Church Paper.

Philadelphia, Jan. 15.—The Duke of Newcastle arrived here en route to Florida, where he owns considerable property. With the duke came Editor Kelway, of The Church Review, and the Rev. Harry Wilson, rector of St. Augustine's Episcopal church, Stephny, England. The three visitors held a lengthy conference with Rev. Dr. Mortimer, of St. Mark's Protestant Episcopal church, and other ritualistic churchmen of this city relative to the establishment of an American edition of The Church Review. Mr. Kelway and the Rev. Mr. Wilson will go to Boston from here to consult high churchmen in that city as to the advisability of the project.

Word of Caution.

"Never propose to a girl by letter."

"Why not?"

"I did it once, and she stuck the letter in a book she was reading and lent it to my other girl."—Chicago Record.

Cleveland & Pittsburgh Div.

Pennsylvania Lines.

Schedule of Passenger Trains-Central Time

Westward.	335	309	361	303	339	301
	AM	AM	AM	PM	PM	PM
Pittsburgh ...lv.	†5 20			†1 30	†4 45	*11 00
Allegheny..... "	5 30	†7 20		1 35	4 50	11 08
Rochester..... "	6 15	8 15		2 10	5 25	11 50
Beaver..... "	6 21	8 25	8 19	2 17	5 32	11 59
Vanport..... "	6 26	8 32	8 25	.....	5 40	12 06
Industry..... "	6 36	8 40	8 37	.....	5 50	12 15
Cooks Ferry..... "	6 37	8 42	8 39	.....	5 52	12 16
Smiths Ferry..... "	6 48	8 52	8 47	2 40	6 02	12 26
East Liverpool..... "	7 05	9 06	9 06	2 50	6 13	12 36
Wellsville..... ar	7 18	9 20	9 20	3 02	6 28	12 50
Wellsville..... lv.	7 25			3 10		12 53
Wellsville Shop.."	7 30			.....		12 55
Yellow Creek..... "	7 35			.....		†1 00
Hammondsville "	7 42			.....		†1 08
Irondale..... "	7 44			3 26		†1 10
Salineville..... "	8 03			3 42		1 30
Bayard..... "	8 42			4 13		2 12
Alliance..... {ar.	9 10			4 40		2 42
lv.	9 30			4 50		2 47
Ravenna..... "	10 00			5 16		3 30
Hudson..... "	10 22			5 34		3 57
Cleveland.....ar.	11 20			6 30		5 00
Wellsville.....lv.	7 30	†11 16	9 20	3 15	6 55	†6 10
Wellsville Shop.."	7 35	11 19	9 25	3 20	7 00	6 15
Yellow Creek..... "	7 40	11 24	9 30	3 25	7 05	6 23
Empire..... "	7 50	11 32	9 40	3 35	7 17	6 33
Freeman..... "	7 54	11 35	9 43	3 37	7 20	6 35
Toronto..... "	8 02	11 42	9 50	3 47	7 27	6 45
Steubenville..{ar.	8 23	11 59	10 07	4 10	7 45	7 07
lv.	8 23	11 59	10 07	4 10	7 45	7 07
Mingo Jc..... "	8 29	12 04	10 17	4 20	7 53	7 17
Brilliant..... "	8 38	12 10	10 25	4 30	8 03	7 27
Rush Run..... "	8 47	12 18	10 34	4 40	8 11	7 36
Portland..... "	8 52	12 23	10 39	4 50	8 18	7 44
Yorkville..... "	†8 57	12 27	10 44	†4 55	†8 23	7 50
Martins Ferry..."	9 15	12 33	10 54	5 05	8 35	8 05
Bridgeport..... "	9 25	12 40	11 00	5 10	8 42	8 11
Bellaire..... ar.	9 35	12 50	11 10	5 20	8 50	8 20
	A M	AM	AM	PM	PM	AM

Eastward.	340	336	360	316	48	362
	AM	AM	PM	PM	PM	PM
Bellaire..... lv.	†4 40	†9 00	†1 05	†4 30	†6 30	3 25
Bridgeport..... "	4 48	9 09	1 15	4 38	6 39	3 35
Martins Ferry..."	4 55	9 15	1 23	4 43	6 45	3 42
Yorkville..... "	†5 05			4 55	6 59	†3 52
Portland..... "	5 09	9 28	1 38	5 02	7 04	3 57
Rush Run..... "	5 14	9 33	1 43	5 10	7 10	4 03
Brilliant..... "	5 21	9 41	1 52	5 20	7 20	4 13
Mingo Jc..... "	5 31	9 48	2 00	5 28	7 28	4 21
Steubenville..{ar.	5 41	9 58	2 08	5 40	7 37	4 30
lv.	5 41	9 58	2 08	5 40	7 37	4 30
Toronto..... "	6 03	10 23	2 25	6 01	8 02	4 50
Freeman..... "	6 06	10 27	2 28	6 05	8 07	4 59
Empire..... "	6 13	10 39	2 35	6 14	8 12	5 00
Yellow Creek..... "	6 23	10 54	.....	6 25	8 22	5 10
Wellsville Shop."	6 30	10 59	.....	6 30	8 26	5 15
Wellsville..... ar.	6 35	11 04	2 55	6 35	8 30	5 18
Wellsville..... lv.	7 25	3 10
Wellsville Shop."	7 30	.....
Yellow Creek..... "	7 35	.....
Hammondsville "	7 42	.....
Irondale..... "	7 44	3 26
Salineville..... "	8 03	3 42
Bayard..... "	8 42	4 13
Alliance..... {ar.	9 10	4 40
lv.	9 30	4 50
Ravenna..... "	10 00	5 16
Hudson..... "	10 22	5 34
Cleveland.....ar.	11 20	6 30
Wellsville..... lv.	6 45	11 14	3 02	6 53	*3 50	5 18
East Liverpool..."	6 51	11 21	3 12	7 00	3 56	5 25
Smiths Ferry..... "	7 13	11 36	3 24	7 16	4 10	5 43
Cooks Ferry..... "	7 18	11 43	3 30	.....	†4 17	5 50
Industry..... "	7 25	11 53	3 36	7 28	4 22	5 56
Vanport..... "	7 35	12 05	3 46	.....	†4 32	6 06
Beaver..... "	7 42	12 10	3 50	7 45	4 36	6 12
Rochester..... "	7 50	12 20	3 58	7 55	4 45	6 20
Allegheny..... "	8 30	1 03	4 50	8 34	5 30	7 00
Pittsburgh ...ar	8 40	1 10	5 00	8 40	5 40	7 10
	AM	PM	PM	PM	AM	PM

†Daily, Ex. Sunday. ‡Sundays only.

*Daily. |Meals.

Nos. 302 and 360 connect in Union Station, Pitts., with through trains East.

302

Dark Faced Type denotes 12 noon to 12 midnight. Light Faced, 12 midnight to 12 noon.

Pullman Sleeping Cars are run on Nos. 61 and 302, and Parlor Cars on Nos 363 and 316 between Pittsburgh and Cleveland via Yellow Creek and Alliance. No. 336 connects at Rochester for New Castle, Jamestown, Youngstown, Niles, Warren, Ashtabula and intermediate stations; No. 340 for Erie, Ashtabula and intermediate stations; No. 360 for Youngstown.

Nos. 335 and 303 connect at Bayard for New Philadelphia, and stations on Tuscarawas Branch. Nos. 340 and 360 connect with Nos. 335 and 303 at Wellsville.

L. F. LOREE, General Manager. E. A. FORD, General Passenger Agent.

11-25-00.-H PITTSBURGH, PENN'A.

For time cards, rates of fare, through tickets, baggage checks, and further information regarding the running of trains, apply to any Agent of the Pennsylvania Lines.

RUBBER STAMPS

THE NEWS REVIEW.

COL. QUAY MAY WIN.

Indications That He Would Be Elected.

DEMOCRATS TO VOTE FOR GUFFEY.

He Was Selected by Their Caucus—Thompson and Reynolds Formally Declared Themselves For the Beaver Man. Anti-Quay Republicans Met Last Night.

Harrisburg, Jan. 15.—There was every indication last night that the bitter struggle for United States senator will terminate today with the election of Colonel M. S. Quay, the nominee of the joint Republican caucus. The Democrats will vote for Colonel James M. Guffey, of Pittsburg, and the anti-Quay Republicans are expected to distribute their votes among several "favorite sons."

The house and senate was to vote separately about 3 o'clock this afternoon, and the probabilities were that Mr. Quay's combined vote will not fall short of 130. It requires 127 votes to elect, and it is pretty generally conceded that he will poll at least this number. Should Mr. Quay or any other person receive the requisite number of votes today the senate and house were to meet jointly at noon tomorrow to canvass the returns and formally declare an election. If, however, there should be no election today the two bodies were to meet jointly on Wednesday and take a ballot every day thereafter or until there is an election or the legislature adjourns. There was nothing to indicate last night that there would not be an election on the first ballot or that there would be another deadlock similar to that of 1899, when the legislature adjourned after taking 79 ballots without making a choice.

The day following the adjournment Governor Stone appointed Colonel Quay to the senate and on April 28, 1899, the appointment was rejected, so that Pennsylvania has since had only one United States senator in Boies Penrose. Several senators and members who were reported ill reached here yesterday and when the ballot is taken Representative Haldeman, of Montgomery, who is pledged to Colonel Quay, will probably be the only absentee.

Representative Thompson, of Centre, who was absent when the house organized, and whose attitude on the senatorship had been in doubt, came to Harrisburg in a private car Monday morning. Last evening Mr. Thompson issued a public statement, in which he said that it is his purpose to be present in the house today and vote for Mr. Quay and that he was detained at home by illness when that body organized.

Representative Reynolds, of Lackawanna, who voted with the anti-Quay Republicans on the organization of the house, last evening transmitted a letter "to the chairman of the fusion caucus," which stated:

"The issue in my district was largely a personal one, but I felt I owed it to my friends to oppose, within party lines, the re-election of M. S. Quay. I came to Harrisburg and acted in all matters with those who had that purpose in view. Upon my return home I found that practically a unanimous sentiment of my constituents was that I had gone far enough and that it was my duty to join with the majority of my party in securing for this great commonwealth the representation to which it is entitled in the highest legislative body on earth—the United States senate.

"Believeing that my first duty is to my constituents and my party, I hereby declare my settled purpose to accept the judgment and shall therefore join with my Republican colleagues in voting for Colonel Quay and acting with them in the future."

Telegrams were received late last night from Representatives Garvin, of Adams, and Maloney, of Venango, Democrats, that they would be unable to be present today when the ballot was taken for senator.

Representative Neeb, of Allegheny, who was also absent on account of illness when the legislature organized, has recovered and will qualify and take his seat today.

Word reached here last night that Representative Galvin, of Schuylkill, died last evening at his home at Shenandoah. The report could not be confirmed.

A meeting of the Republican senators and members pledged to oppose Mr. Quay's election was held last evening to discuss the situation. Senator William Flinn, of Allegheny, said at the close of the meeting that all the members were present except Messrs. Thompson, Neeb, Reynolds and Emery. "The only news from any of the absentees were from Mr. Reynolds," he added, "it being announced that he had succumbed to the influence of the machine. All of the gentlemen present were as strong as ever in the determination to oppose the election of Mr. Quay."

Another meeting of the anti-Quay Republicans was to be held today previous to the meeting of the legislature to formulate a plan of action when the ballot is taken.

Senator Penrose, who is assisting Colonel Quay in the direction of his campaign, said last night, in part:

"On the evening before the first and final balloting in the senatorial contest the evidence is becoming stronger every hour that Senator Quay will be elected on the first ballot in the senate and house by a much larger majority than was expected by even his most sanguine friends. The opposition has gone to pieces, as was expected in the beginning."

Many of Colonel Quay's friends throughout the state are here prepared to celebrate his election if he wins on the first ballot. A delegation of Republicans from his home county of Beaver came in Monday morning and called last evening to pay its respects. The former senator appeared in front of the house where he was living and made a short speech, thanking his neighbors for the active interest they have taken in his fight. The Nineteenth Ward Republican club, of Pittsburg, was also here shouting for the former senator. The club has its headquarters in the ward in which Senator Flinn, the anti-Quay leader, lives.

Colonel Quay expected to take his seat in the senate on Thursday if he should be elected before that time. A large delegation of his friends was to go from here to Washington to be present at the ceremony.

Harrisburg, Jan. 15.—National Committeeman James M. Guffey, of Pittsburg, was last night unanimously nominated for United States senator by the joint caucus of the Democrats of the house and senate. The names of Hon. Chauncey F. Black, of York, and Hon. J. Henry Cochran, of Lycoming, were also presented to the caucus, but they were withdrawn before a vote was taken.

J. Henry Cochran was elected chairman of the caucus and A. J. Palm, of Crawford, secretary. The calling of the roll showed 10 members absent. They were Senators Boyd, of Fayette; Kemerer, of Northampton; Higgins, of Schuylkill; Stiles, of Lehigh, and Representatives Garvin, of Adams; Galvin, of Schuylkill; Maloney, of Venango; Squier, of Wyoming; Smith, of Green, and Brown, of Crawford.

Most of the absentees were reported to be sick. In the case of Representative Maloney, a telegram was received from him, in which he said he had the grip, and would report at Harrisburg in a few days. Secretary Palm read a telegram from the county chairman of Venango county, in which he said that Maloney would be started off to Harrisburg about 5 o'clock today if Colonel Guffey would pay for a special car. It was announced that Mr. Guffey had consented to stand the expense.

Lieutenant Governor Gobin called the senate to order at 8:30 o'clock last night.

Senator Sproull was chosen teller to represent the senate in the counting of the vote for state officers at the last general election.

After Senator Flinn, of Allegheny, had introduced a bill in relation to the state laws, and a batch of executive appointments had been confirmed, Senator Grady offered a resolution for immediate consideration providing that a special committee of nine be appointed, to which all bills be referred until the standing committees shall have been appointed. Flinn objected, saying in part that he would prefer to leave his bill lay on the table until the regular committees were appointed.

Senator Grady said in part that if a member wished to let his bill lie on the table until the committees were appointed he could do so.

The resolution was adopted, 27 to 20.

A resolution was presented by Senator Quail, of Schuylkill, which was adopted, to the effect that "it is the sense of the senate of Pennsylvania that the constitution of the United States should be amended so that United States senators should be elected by the people at the general elections."

There were also other proceedings. The house met last evening, listened to a short prayer by Chaplain Grissinger, and then adjourned until this afternoon, when the ballot will be taken for United States senator. Speaker Marshall last evening did not expect to complete the committee amendments before next Monday.

The house Republican slate committee will probably report on Thursday, and there is nothing to indicate that its report will not be adopted. Bills have been prepared by many members, and as soon as the committees are announced they will be introduced.

$500 REWARD

We will pay the above reward for any case of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Indigestion, Constipation or Costiveness we cannot cure with Liverita, the Up-To-Date Little Liver Pill, when the directions are strictly complied with. They are purely Vegetable, and never fail to give satisfaction. 25c boxes contain 100 Pills, 10c boxes contain 40 Pills, 5c boxes contain 15 Pills. Beware of substitutions and imitations. Sent by mail. Stamps taken. Nervita Medical Co., Corner Clinton and Jackson Streets, Chicago, Ill.

ATTACK BY TELLER.

Stinging Abuse of the President For Retiring Eagan.

DECORATION AND NOT PUNISHMENT.

He Said Many of the American People Believed It Was a Decoration and a Reward For His Attack Upon Miles. Denounced Eagan.

Washington, Jan. 15.- During the discusion of the army reorganization bill in the senate an amendment was offered by Mr. Teller, of Colorado, to that section of the bill which authorizes the president to retire any officer who has been suspended from duty, either by sentence or court martial, or by executive order in mitigation of such sentence, striking out the words "has been" and substituting therefor "shall be hereafter."

After saying that the section had been incorporated in the bill for the purpose of enabling the president to retire General Eagan, former commissary general of the army, Mr. Teller declared it was retained in the bill in order that an officer of the army, Major Joseph W. Wham, might be got rid of. "He cannot be gotten rid of in any other way," said Mr. Teller, "and he ought not to be gotten rid of in any circumstances."

Mr. Teller adverted to the case of General Eagan at some length. Of the beef furnished the army, he said, it was "boiled and canned, and of very ancient lineage, some of which had made a trip to Europe and back, being fed to our soldiers after it had been condemned by European governments."

Mr. Teller denounced General Eagan in severe language.

"As an officer of the United States army," said the senator, "he made an exhibition of himself and showed himself to be a miserable blackguard."

Referring to General Eagan's denial of General Miles' charges as to "embalmed beef," Mr. Teller declared "his language was brutal and low, and so bad it could not be overlooked, although there was a very evident desire to overlook it."

Mr. Teller made a stinging attack upon the president for having retired General Eagan, asserting that "the retirement in the circumstances was a decoration and not a punishment, and many of the American people believe it was a decoration and a reward for his attack upon the general commanding the army."

At considerable length Mr. Teller then discueed the case of Major Wham.

Mr. Carter said that if the bill was not passed at an early day it might be necessary to charter special vessels, fit them up, etc., to get troops back from the Philippines by the time the present law expired.

"I think the senate ought to know," said Mr. Carter, "that each day's delay in the pasage of this bill will involve and additional expenditure of at least $500,000."

Later on Mr. Carter stated he would today ask that a time be set to vote.

Mr. Teller declared immediately that he would object at this time to any date being fixed for a final vote.

The house considered the river and harbor bill, during the course of its session.

THREE BRUTES ON TRIAL

One of the Witnesses Told of Horrible Details Connected With the Murder of Jennie Bosschieter.

New York, Jan. 15.—The trial of Walter L. McAlister, Andrew Campbell and William A. Death, three of the four men accused of the murder of Jennie Bosschieter, a mill girl of Paterson, N. J., under circumstances revolting in their utter lack of humane considerations, commenced before Judge Dixon, in the Passaic county court of oyer and terminer.

George J. Kerr, the fourth man under indictment, was not in court, as he has been granted a separate trial on the ground that he was not present when the fatal dose was administered to the girl.

A jury was secured. Four of the principal witnesses in the case were questioned. Mrs. Nina Bosschieter, the mother of the unfortunate girl, was one; her daughter Susie another; Christopher Saal, the proprietor of the saloon where it is alleged the drug was administered to the girl, was the third, and Gus Schulthorpe, the hack driver of the horrible night ride, was the last. Mother and daughter told of Jennie's life at home, and at the mill. Schulthorpe, in his crude, unvarnished way, told to the minutest detail the story of the crime. He graphically described the taking of the almost unconscious girl from the saloon to his victoria and of the ride out of the county and unspeakable crime committed on the dead or almost dead girl.

Aside from the four principal witnesses examined there were on the stand Z. W. B. Founda, a surveyor, who gave an exact location of the place where the body was found; Cornelius Garry, a teamster for the ice company, who saw Jennie Bosschieter talking to Campbell on the night of the murder; Nellie Devries and Bertha Dysen, companions, who testified that they saw Jennie Bosschieter and Campbell together early in the night preceding the murder.

CONSULTED CHURCHMEN.

Rev. Wilson, Editor Kelway and Duke of Newcastle Want American Edition of Church Paper.

Philadelphia, Jan. 15.—The Duke of Newcastle arrived here en route to Florida, where he owns considerable property. With the duke came Editor Kelway, of The Church Review, and the Rev. Harry Wilson, rector of St. Augustine's Episcopal church, Stephny, England. The three visitors held a lengthy conference with Rev. Dr. Mortimer, of St. Mark's Protestant Episcopal church, and other ritualistic churchmen of this city relative to the establishment of an American edition of The Church Review. Mr. Kelway and the Rev. Mr. Wilson will go to Boston from here to consult high churchmen in that city as to the advisability of the project.

Word of Caution.

"Never propose to a girl by letter."

"Why not?"

"I did it once, and she stuck the letter in a book she was reading and lent it to my other girl."—Chicago Record.

Cleveland & Pittsburgh Div.

Pennsylvania Lines.

Schedule of Passenger Trains-Central Time

Westward.	335	309	361	303	339	301
	AM	AM	AM	PM	PM	PM
Pittsburgh ...lv.	15 20			†1 30	†4 45	*11 00
Allegheny..... "	5 30	†7 20		1 35	4 50	11 08
Rochester..... "	6 15	8 15		2 10	5 25	11 50
Beaver..... "	6 21	8 25	§8 19	2 17	5 32	11 59
Vanport..... "	6 26	8 32	8 25	.....	5 40	12 05
Industry..... "	6 36	8 40	8 37	.....	5 50	12 15
Cooks Ferry..... "	6 37	8 42	8 39	.....	5 52	12 16
Smiths Ferry..... "	6 48	8 52	8 47	2 40	6 02	12 26
East Liverpool.. "	7 05	9 06	9 06	2 50	6 13	12 36
Wellsville..... ar	7 18	9 20	9 20	3 02	6 28	12 50
Wellsville ..... lv.	7 25			3 10		12 53
Wellsville Shop.. "	7 30			.....		12 55
Yellow Creek..... "	7 35			.....		†1 00
Hammondsville "	7 42			.....		†1 08
Irondale ..... "	7 44			3 26		†1 10
Salineville ..... "	8 03			3 42		1 30
Bayard..... "	8 42			4 13		2 12
Alliance..... ar.	9 10			4 40		2 42
Alliance..... lv.	9 30			4 50		2 47
Ravenna ..... "	10 00			5 16		3 30
Hudson..... "	10 22			5 34		3 57
Cleveland..... ar.	11 20			6 30		5 00
Wellsville.....lv.	7 30	11 16	§9 20	3 15	6 55	†6 10
Wellsville Shop.. "	7 35	11 19	9 25	3 20	7 00	†6 15
Yellow Creek..... "	7 40	11 24	9 30	3 25	7 05	†6 23
Empire..... "	7 50	11 32	9 40	3 35	7 17	†6 33
Freeman..... "	7 54	11 35	9 43	3 37	7 20	†6 35
Toronto..... "	8 02	11 42	9 50	3 47	7 27	†6 45
Steubenville... ar.	8 23	11 59	10 07	4 10	7 45	†7 07
Steubenville... lv.	8 23	11 59	10 07	4 10	7 45	†7 07
Mingo Jc..... "	8 29	12 04	10 17	4 20	7 53	†7 17
Brilliant..... "	8 38	12 10	10 25	4 30	8 03	†7 27
Rush Run..... "	8 47	12 18	10 34	4 40	8 11	†7 36
Portland..... "	8 52	12 23	10 39	4 50	8 18	†7 44
Yorkville..... "	8 57	12 27	10 44	4 55	8 23	†7 50
Martins Ferry.... "	9 15	12 33	10 54	5 05	8 35	8 05
Bridgeport..... "	9 25	12 40	11 00	5 10	8 42	8 11
Bellaire..... ar.	9 35	12 50	11 10	5 20	8 50	8 20
	A M	AM	AM	PM	PM	AM

Eastward.	340	336	360	316	18	362
	AM	AM	PM	PM	PM	PM
Bellaire..... lv.	†4 40	†9 00	†1 05	†4 30	†6 30	†3 25
Bridgeport..... "	4 48	9 09	1 15	4 38	6 39	3 35
Martins Ferry ... "	4 55	9 15	1 23	4 43	6 45	3 42
Yorkville..... "	†5 05			4 55	6 59	†3 52
Portland..... "	5 09	9 28	1 38	5 02	7 04	3 57
Rush Run..... "	5 14	9 33	1 43	5 10	7 10	4 03
Brilliant..... "	5 21	9 41	1 52	5 20	7 20	4 13
Mingo Jc..... "	5 31	9 48	2 00	5 28	7 28	4 21
Steubenville... ar.	5 41	9 58	2 08	5 40	7 37	4 30
Steubenville... lv.	5 41	9 58	2 08	5 40	7 37	4 30
Toronto..... "	6 03	10 23	2 25	6 01	8 02	4 50
Freeman..... "	6 06	10 27	2 28	6 05	8 07	4 59
Empire..... "	6 13	10 39	2 35	6 14	8 12	5 00
Yellow Creek..... "	6 23	10 54	.....	6 25	8 22	5 10
Wellsville Shop "	6 30	10 59		6 30	8 26	5 15
Wellsville..... ar.	6 35	11 04	2 55	6 35	8 30	5 18
Wellsville..... lv.	7 25	3 10				†daily, ex. Sunday.
Wellsville Shop.. "	7 30	.....				§Sundays only.
Yellow Creek..... "	7 35	.....
Hammondsville "	7 42	.....
Irondale..... "	7 44	3 26
Salineville..... "	8 03	3 42
Bayard..... "	8 42	4 13
Alliance..... ar.	9 10	4 40
Alliance..... lv.	9 30	4 50
Ravenna..... "	10 00	5 16
Hudson..... "	10 22	5 34
Cleveland..... ar.	11 20	6 30
Wellsville..... lv.	6 45	11 14	3 02	6 53	*3 50	5 18
East Liverpool... "	6 51	11 21	3 12	7 00	3 56	5 25
Smiths Ferry..... "	7 13	11 39	3 24	7 16	4 10	5 43
Cooks Ferry..... "	7 18	11 43	3 30	.....	†4 17	5 50
Industry..... "	7 25	11 53	3 36	7 28	4 22	5 56
Vanport..... "	7 35	12 05	3 46	.....	†4 32	6 06
Beaver..... "	7 42	12 10	3 50	7 45	4 36	6 12
Rochester..... "	7 50	12 20	3 58	7 55	4 45	6 20
Allegheny..... "	8 30	1 03	4 50	8 34	5 30	7 00
Pittsburgh ...ar.	8 40	1 10	5 00	8 40	5 40	7 10
	AM	PM	PM	PM	AM	PM

Nos. 302 and 360 connect in Union Station, Pitts., with through trains East.

•Daily. ‖Meals.

302

Dark Faced Type denotes 12 noon to 12 midnight. Light Faced, 12 midnight to 12 noon.

Pullman Sleeping Cars are run on Nos. 361 and 302, and Parlor Cars on Nos 303 and 316 between Pittsburgh and Cleveland via Yellow Creek and Alliance. No. 336 connects at Rochester for New Castle, Jamestown, Youngstown, Niles, Warren, Ashtabula and intermediate stations; No. 340 for Erie, Ashtabula and intermediate stations; No. 360 for Youngstown.

Nos. 335 and 303 connect at Bayard for New Philadelphia, and stations on Tuscarawas Branch. Nos. 340 and 360 connect with Nos. 335 and 303 at Wellsville.

L. F. LOREE, General Manager. E. A. FORD, General Passenger Agent.

11-25-00.-H PITTSBURGH, PENN'A.

For time cards, rates of fare, through tickets, baggage checks, and further information regarding the running of trains, apply to any Agent of the Pennsylvania Lines.

RUBBER STAMPS

THE NEWS REVIEW.

COL. QUAY MAY WIN.

Indications That He Would Be Elected.

DEMOCRATS TO VOTE FOR GUFFEY.

He Was Selected by Their Caucus—Thompson and Reynolds Formally Declared Themselves For the Beaver Man. Anti-Quay Republicans Met Last Night.

Harrisburg, Jan. 15.—There was every indication last night that the bitter struggle for United States senator will terminate today with the election of Colonel M. S. Quay, the nominee of the joint Republican caucus. The Democrats will vote for Colonel James M. Guffey, of Pittsburg, and the anti-Quay Republicans are expected to distribute their votes among several "favorite sons."

The house and senate was to vote separately about 3 o'clock this afternoon, and the probabilities were that Mr. Quay's combined vote will not fall short of 130. It requires 127 votes to elect, and it is pretty generally conceded that he will poll at least this number. Should Mr. Quay or any other person receive the requisite number of votes today the senate and house were to meet jointly at noon tomorrow to canvass the returns and formally declare an election. If, however, there should be no election today the two bodies were to meet jointly on Wednesday and take a ballot every day thereafter or until there is an election or the legislature adjourns. There was nothing to indicate last night that there would not be an election on the first ballot or that there would be another deadlock similar to that of 1899, when the legislature adjourned after taking 79 ballots without making a choice.

The day following the adjournment Governor Stone appointed Colonel Quay to the senate and on April 28, 1899, the appointment was rejected, so that Pennsylvania has since had only one United States senator in Boies Penrose. Several senators and members who were reported ill reached here yesterday and when the ballot is taken Representative Haldeman, of Montgomery, who is pledged to Colonel Quay, will probably be the only absentee.

Representative Thompson, of Centre, who was absent when the house organized, and whose attitude on the senatorship had been in doubt, came to Harrisburg in a private car Monday morning. Last evening Mr. Thompson issued a public statement, in which he said that it is his purpose to be present in the house today and vote for Mr. Quay and that he was detained at home by illness when that body organized.

Representative Reynolds, of Lackawanna, who voted with the anti-Quay Republicans on the organization of the house, last evening transmitted a letter "to the chairman of the fusion caucus," which stated:

"The issue in my district was largely a personal one, but I felt I owed it to my friends to oppose, within party lines, the re-election of M. S. Quay. I came to Harrisburg and acted in all matters with those who had that purpose in view. Upon my return home I found that practically a unanimous sentiment of my constituents was that I had gone far enough and that it was my duty to join with the majority of my party in securing for this great commonwealth the representation to which it is entitled in the highest legislative body on earth—the United States senate.

"Believeing that my first duty is to my constituents and my party, I hereby declare my settled purpose to accept the judgment and shall therefore join with my Republican colleagues in voting for Colonel Quay and acting with them in the future."

Telegrams were received late last night from Representatives Garvin, of Adams, and Maloney, of Venango, Democrats, that they would be unable to be present today when the ballot was taken for senator.

Representative Neeb, of Allegheny, who was also absent on account of illness when the legislature organized, has recovered and will qualify and take his seat today.

Word reached here last night that Representative Galvin, of Schuylkill, died last evening at his home at Shenandoah. The report could not be confirmed.

A meeting of the Republican senators and members pledged to oppose Mr. Quay's election was held last evening to discuss the situation. Senator William Flinn, of Allegheny, said at the close of the meeting that all the members were present except Messrs. Thompson, Neeb, Reynolds and Emery. "The only news from any of the absentees were from Mr. Reynolds," he added, "it being announced that he had succumbed to the influence of the machine. All of the gentlemen present were as strong as ever in the determination to oppose the election of Mr. Quay."

Another meeting of the anti-Quay Republicans was to be held today previous to the meeting of the legislature to formulate a plan of action when the ballot is taken.

Senator Penrose, who is assisting Colonel Quay in the direction of his campaign, said last night, in part:

"On the evening before the first and final balloting in the senatorial contest the evidence is becoming stronger every hour that Senator Quay will be elected on the first ballot in the senate and house by a much larger majority than was expected by even his most sanguine friends. The opposition has gone to pieces, as was expected in the beginning."

Many of Colonel Quay's friends throughout the state are here prepared to celebrate his election if he wins on the first ballot. A delegation of Republicans from his home county of Beaver came in Monday morning and called last evening to pay its respects. The former senator appeared in front of the house where he was living and made a short speech, thanking his neighbors for the active interest they have taken in his fight. The Nineteenth Ward Republican club, of Pittsburg, was also here shouting for the former senator. The club has its headquarters in the ward in which Senator Flinn, the anti-Quay leader, lives.

Colonel Quay expected to take his seat in the senate on Thursday if he should be elected before that time. A large delegation of his friends was to go from here to Washington to be present at the ceremony.

Harrisburg, Jan. 15.—National Committeeman James M. Guffey, of Pittsburg, was last night unanimously nominated for United States senator by the joint caucus of the Democrats of the house and senate. The names of Hon. Chauncey F. Black, of York, and Hon. J. Henry Cochran, of Lycoming, were also presented to the caucus, but they were withdrawn before a vote was taken.

J. Henry Cochran was elected chairman of the caucus and A. J. Palm, of Crawford, secretary. The calling of the roll showed 10 members absent. They were Senators Boyd, of Fayette; Kemerer, of Northampton; Higgins, of Schuylkill; Stiles, of Lehigh, and Representatives Garvin, of Adams; Galvin, of Schuylkill; Maloney, of Venango; Squier, of Wyoming; Smith, of Green, and Brown, of Crawford.

Most of the absentees were reported to be sick. In the case of Representative Maloney, a telegram was received from him, in which he said he had the grip, and would report at Harrisburg in a few days. Secretary Palm read a telegram from the county chairman of Venango county, in which he said that Maloney would be started off to Harrisburg about 5 o'clock today if Colonel Guffey would pay for a special car. It was announced that Mr. Guffey had consented to stand the expense.

Lieutenant Governor Gobin called the senate to order at 8:30 o'clock last night.

Senator Sproull was chosen teller to represent the senate in the counting of the vote for state officers at the last general election.

After Senator Flinn, of Allegheny, had introduced a bill in relation to the state laws, and a batch of executive appointments had been confirmed, Senator Grady offered a resolution for immediate consideration providing that a special committee of nine be appointed, to which all bills be referred until the standing committees shall have been appointed. Flinn objected, saying in part that he would prefer to leave his bill lay on the table until the regular committees were appointed.

Senator Grady said in part that if a member wished to let his bill lie on the table until the committees were appointed he could do so.

The resolution was adopted, 27 to 20.

A resolution was presented by Senator Quail, of Schuylkill, which was adopted, to the effect that "it is the sense of the senate of Pennsylvania that the constitution of the United States should be amended so that United States senators should be elected by the people at the general elections."

There were also other proceedings

The house met last evening, listened to a short prayer by Chaplain Grissinger, and then adjourned until this afternoon, when the ballot will be taken for United States senator. Speaker Marshall last evening did not expect to complete the committee amendments before next Monday.

The house Republican slate committee will probably report on Thursday, and there is nothing to indicate that its report will not be adopted. Bills have been prepared by many members, and as soon as the committees are announced they will be introduced.

$500 REWARD

We will pay the above reward for any case of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Indigestion, Constipation or Costiveness we cannot cure with Liverita, the Up-To-Date Little Liver Pill, when the directions are strictly complied with. They are purely Vegetable, and never fail to give satisfaction. 25c boxes contain 100 Pills, 10c boxes contain 40 Pills, 5c boxes contain 15 Pills. Beware of substitutions and imitations. Sent by mail. Stamps taken. Nervita Medical Co., Corner Clinton and Jackson Streets, Chicago, Ill.

ATTACK BY TELLER.

Stinging Abuse of the President For Retiring Eagan.

DECORATION AND NOT PUNISHMENT.

He Said Many of the American People Believed It Was a Decoration and a Reward For His Attack Upon Miles. Denounced Eagan.

Washington, Jan. 15.—During the discussion of the army reorganization bill in the senate an amendment was offered by Mr. Teller, of Colorado, to that section of the bill which authorizes the president to retire any officer who has been suspended from duty, either by sentence or court martial, or by executive order in mitigation of such sentence, striking out the words "has been" and substituting therefor "shall be hereafter."

After saying that the section had been incorporated in the bill for the purpose of enabling the president to retire General Eagan, former commissary general of the army, Mr. Teller declared it was retained in the bill in order that an officer of the army, Major Joseph W. Wham, might be got rid of. "He cannot be gotten rid of in any other way," said Mr. Teller, "and he ought not to be gotten rid of in any circumstances."

Mr. Teller adverted to the case of General Eagan at some length. Of the beef furnished the army, he said, it was "boiled and canned, and of very ancient lineage, some of which had made a trip to Europe and back, being fed to our soldiers after it had been condemned by European governments."

Mr. Teller denounced General Eagan in severe language.

"As an officer of the United States army," said the senator, "he made an exhibition of himself and showed himself to be a miserable blackguard."

Referring to General Eagan's denial of General Miles' charges as to "embalmed beef," Mr. Teller declared "his language was brutal and low, and so bad it could not be overlooked, although there was a very evident desire to overlook it."

Mr. Teller made a stinging attack upon the president for having retired General Eagan, asserting that "the retirement in the circumstances was a decoration and not a punishment, and many of the American people believe it was a decoration and a reward for his attack upon the general commanding the army."

At considerable length Mr. Teller then discueed the case of Major Wham.

Mr. Carter said that if the bill was not passed at an early day it might be necessary to charter special vessels, fit them up, etc., to get troops back from the Philippines by the time the present law expired.

"I think the senate ought to know," said Mr. Carter, "that each day's delay in the pasage of this bill will involve and additional expenditure of at least $500,000."

Later on Mr. Carter stated he would today ask that a time be set to vote.

Mr. Teller declared immediately that he would object at this time to any date being fixed for a final vote.

The house considered the river and harbor bill, during the course of its session.

THREE BRUTES ON TRIAL

One of the Witnesses Told of Horrible Details Connected With the Murder of Jennie Bosschieter.

New York, Jan. 15.—The trial of Walter L. McAlister, Andrew Campbell and William A. Death, three of the four men accused of the murder of Jennie Bosschieter, a mill girl of Paterson, N. J., under circumstances revolting in their utter lack of humane considerations, commenced before Judge Dixon, in the Passaic county court of oyer and terminer.

George J. Kerr, the fourth man under indictment, was not in court, as he has been granted a separate trial on the ground that he was not present when the fatal dose was administered to the girl.

A jury was secured. Four of the principal witnesses in the case were questioned. Mrs. Nina Bosschieter, the mother of the unfortunate girl, was one; her daughter Susie another; Christopher Saal, the proprietor of the saloon where it is alleged the drug was administered to the girl, was the third, and Gus Schulthorpe, the hack driver of the horrible night ride, was the last. Mother and daughter told of Jennie's life at home, and at the mill. Schulthorpe, in his crude, unvarnished way, told to the minutest detail the story of the crime. He graphically described the taking of the almost unconscious girl from the saloon to his victoria and of the ride out of the county and unspeakable crime committed on the dead or almost dead girl.

Aside from the four principal witnesses examined there were on the stand Z. W. B. Founda, a surveyor, who gave an exact location of the place where the body was found; Cornelius Garry, a teamster for the ice company, who saw Jennie Bosschieter talking to Campbell on the night of the murder; Nellie Devries and Bertha Dysen, companions, who testified that they saw Jennie Bosschieter and Campbell together early in the night preceding the murder.

CONSULTED CHURCHMEN.

Rev. Wilson, Editor Kelway and Duke of Newcastle Want American Edition of Church Paper.

Philadelphia, Jan. 15.—The Duke of Newcastle arrived here en route to Florida, where he owns considerable property. With the duke came Editor Kelway, of The Church Review, and the Rev. Harry Wilson, rector of St. Augustine's Episcopal church, Stephny, England. The three visitors held a lengthy conference with Rev. Dr. Mortimer, of St. Mark's Protestant Episcopal church, and other ritualistic churchmen of this city relative to the establishment of an American edition of The Church Review. Mr. Kelway and the Rev. Mr. Wilson will go to Boston from here to consult high churchmen in that city as to the advisability of the project.

Word of Caution.

"Never propose to a girl by letter."

"Why not?"

"I did it once, and she stuck the letter in a book she was reading and lent it to my other girl."—Chicago Record.

Pennsylvania Lines. — Cleveland & Pittsburgh Div.

Schedule of Passenger Trains-Central Time

Westward.	335	309	361	303	339	301
	AM	AM	AM	PM	PM	PM
Pittsburgh ...lv.	†5 20			†1 30	†4 45	*11 00
Allegheny..... "	5 30	†7 20		1 35	4 50	11 08
Rochester..... "	6 15	8 15		2 10	5 25	11 50
Beaver..... "	6 21	8 25	8 19	2 17	5 32	11 59
Vanport..... "	6 26	8 32	8 25	.....	5 40	12 05
Industry..... "	6 36	8 40	8 37	.....	5 50	12 15
Cooks Ferry..... "	6 37	8 42	8 39	.....	5 52	12 16
Smiths Ferry..... "	6 48	8 52	8 47	2 40	6 02	12 26
East Liverpool.. "	7 05	9 06	9 06	2 50	6 13	12 36
Wellsville ar	7 18	9 20	9 20	3 02	6 28	12 50
Wellsville ..... lv.	7 25			3 10		12 53
Wellsville Shop.."	7 30			.....		12 55
Yellow Creek..... "	7 35			.....		†1 00
Hammondsville"	7 42			.....		†1 08
Irondale ..... "	7 44			3 26		†1 10
Salineville ..... "	8 03			3 42		1 30
Bayard..... "	8 42			4 13		2 12
Alliance..... {ar.	9 10			4 40		2 42
Alliance..... {lv.	9 30			4 50		2 47
Ravenna ..... "	10 00			5 16		3 30
Hudson..... "	10 22			5 34		3 57
Cleveland..... ar.	11 20			6 30		5 00

Flag stop.

Wellsville.....lv.	7 30	11 16	9 20	3 15	6 55	†6 10
Wellsville Shop.."	7 35	11 19	9 25	3 20	7 00	6 15
Yellow Creek..... "	7 40	11 24	9 30	3 25	7 05	6 23
Empire ..... "	7 50	11 32	9 40	3 35	7 17	6 33
Freeman..... "	7 54	11 35	9 43	3 37	7 20	6 35
Toronto ..... "	8 02	11 42	9 50	3 47	7 27	6 45
Steubenville... {ar.	8 23	11 59	10 07	4 10	7 45	7 07
Steubenville... {lv.	8 23	11 59	10 07	4 10	7 45	7 07
Mingo Jc..... "	8 29	12 04	10 17	4 20	7 53	7 17
Brilliant..... "	8 38	12 10	10 25	4 30	8 03	7 27
Rush Run ..... "	8 47	12 18	10 34	4 40	8 11	7 36
Portland ..... "	8 52	12 23	10 39	4 50	8 18	7 44
Yorkville ..... "	8 57	12 27	10 44	4 55	8 23	7 50
Martins Ferry..... "	9 15	12 33	10 54	5 05	8 35	8 05
Bridgeport ..... "	9 25	12 40	11 00	5 10	8 42	8 11
Bellaire ..... ar.	9 35	12 50	11 10	5 20	8 50	8 20
	A M	AM	AM	PM	PM	AM

Eastward.	340	336	360	316	18	362
	AM	AM	PM	PM	PM	PM
Bellaire lv	†4 40	†9 00	†1 05	†4 30	†6 30	3 25
Bridgeport ..... "	4 48	9 09	1 15	4 38	6 39	3 35
Martins Ferry ..."	4 55	9 15	1 23	4 43	6 45	3 42
Yorkville ..... "	†5 05			4 55	6 59	3 52
Portland ..... "	5 09	9 28	1 38	5 02	7 04	3 57
Rush Run ..... "	5 14	9 33	1 43	5 10	7 10	4 03
Brilliant..... "	5 21	9 41	1 52	5 20	7 20	4 13
Mingo Jc ..... "	5 31	9 48	2 00	5 28	7 28	4 21
Steubenville... {ar.	5 41	9 58	2 08	5 40	7 37	4 30
Steubenville... {lv	5 41	9 58	2 08	5 40	7 37	4 30
Toronto ..... "	6 03	10 23	2 25	6 01	8 02	4 50
Freeman..... "	6 06	10 27	2 28	6 05	8 07	4 55
Empire ..... "	6 13	10 39	2 35	6 14	8 12	5 00
Yellow Creek..... "	6 23	10 54	.....	6 25	8 22	5 10
Wellsville Shop "	6 30	10 59		6 30	8 26	5 15
Wellsville ..... ar.	6 35	11 04	2 55	6 35	8 30	5 18

Wellsville lv	7 25	3 10
Wellsville Shop.."	7 30	.....
Yellow Creek..... "	7 35
Hammondsville"	7 42
Irondale ..... "	7 44	3 26
Salineville..... "	8 03	3 42
Bayard ..... "	8 42	4 13
Alliance ..... {ar.	9 10	4 40
Alliance ..... {lv.	9 30	4 50
Ravenna ..... "	10 00	5 16
Hudson..... "	10 22	5 34
Cleveland..... ar.	11 20	6 30

Nos. 302 and 360 connect in Union Station, Pitts., with through trains East.

						302
Wellsville ..... lv.	6 45	11 14	3 02	6 53	*3 50	5 18
East Liverpool... "	6 51	11 21	3 12	7 00	3 56	5 25
Smiths Ferry..... "	7 13	11 39	3 24	7 16	4 10	5 43
Cooks Ferry..... "	7 18	11 43	3 30	.....	†4 17	5 50
Industry ..... "	7 25	11 53	3 36	7 28	4 22	5 56
Vanport ..... "	7 35	12 05	3 46	.....	†4 32	6 06
Beaver ..... "	7 42	12 10	3 50	7 45	4 36	6 12
Rochester ..... "	7 50	12 20	3 58	7 55	4 45	6 20
Allegheny ..... "	8 30	1 03	4 50	8 34	5 30	7 00
Pittsburgh ...ar.	8 40	1 10	5 00	8 40	5 40	7 10
	AM	PM	PM	PM	AM	PM

*Daily. †Meals. ‡Daily, Ex. Sunday. §Sundays only.

Dark Faced Type denotes 12 noon to 12 midnight. Light Faced, 12 midnight to 12 noon.

Pullman Sleeping Cars are run on Nos. 361 and 302, and Parlor Cars on Nos 363 and 316 between Pittsburgh and Cleveland via Yellow Creek and Alliance. No. 336 connects at Rochester for New Castle, Jamestown, Youngstown, Niles, Warren, Ashtabula and intermediate stations; No. 340 for Erie, Ashtabula and intermediate stations; No. 360 for Youngstown.

Nos. 335 and 303 connect at Bayard for New Philadelphia, and stations on Tuscarawas Branch. Nos. 340 and 360 connect with Nos. 335 and 303 at Wellsville.

L. F. LOREE, General Manager. E. A. FORD, General Passenger Agent.

11-25-00.-H PITTSBURGH, PENN'A.

For time cards, rates of fare, through tickets, baggage checks, and further information regarding the running of trains, apply to any Agent of the Pennsylvania Lines.

RUBBER STAMPS

THE NEWS REVIEW.

WORDS.

Words are great forces in the realm of life.
Be careful of their use. Who talks of hate,
Of poverty, of sickness, but sets rife
These very elements to mar his fate.

When love, health, happiness and plenty hear
Their names repeated over day by day,
They wing their way like answering fairies near,
Then nestle down within our homes to stay

Who talks of evil conjures into shape
That formless thing and gives it life and scope.
This is the law; then let no word escape
That does not breathe of everlasting hope.
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox in Woman's Home Companion.

A MATCH FOR A MILLION.

Winning a Wrestling Bout the Foundation of a Fortune.

"Had I caught my train that night," laughed the man who has had nothing to do for a quarter of a century but to sit and watch pine trees grow to swell his bank account, "I would probably be a farmer now trying to raise a mortgage and a few other things. I had gone to a little town in lower Wisconsin to see a colt that a man there wanted to sell. I was a good judge of stock and pretty shrewd on a trade, but a greener country lad never broke into a town. I would have walked back to the farm after I found myself too late for the train, but I saw a handbill announcing a show that night and could not resist the temptation to see it, though it did cost a quarter.

"In my hilarious appreciation I was more of an entertainment than they had on the stage, especially as I was utterly oblivious to the fact that I did not look like any one else in the audience. Toward the end of the performance a huge fellow came out, tossed cannon balls in the air, held men out at arm's length and lifted heavy weights. After this showing of his prowess he offered $10 to any one whom he could not throw inside of two minutes. I was the crack wrestler in all our section, though none present knew it, and I felt as though the challenge was aimed directly at me. I turned hot and cold during a few seconds of extreme silence. Then I sprang up and as I came out of my old blouse shouted, 'I'll go you, b'gosh!'

"There was a roar of laughter, and then some of those about me urged me not to go up there and have my neck broken. But one old man told me to go in and do my best. It was a tough job, but I finally threw the giant almost through the floor with a hip lock. There was a little hesitancy about giving me the $10, but the crowd shouted until I got it. The old man took me home with him, and in a week I had charge of all the teams in his lumber camps. In time I became a partner, and he cleared the way to make me rich. That was really a match for a million."—Washington Star.

How He Earned Breakfast.

I must have walked the streets (of Richmond) till after midnight. At last I became so exhausted that I could walk no longer. I was tired, I was hungry, I was everything but discouraged. Just about the time when I reached extreme physical exhaustion I came upon a portion of a street where the board sidewalk was considerably elevated. I waited for a few minutes till I was sure that no passersby could see me and then crept under the sidewalk and lay for the night upon the ground, with my satchel of clothing for a pillow. Nearly all night I could hear the tramp of feet over my head.

The next morning I found myself somewhat refreshed, but I was extremely hungry, because it had been a long time since I had had sufficient food. As soon as it became light enough for me to see my surroundings I noticed that I was near a large ship and that this ship seemed to be unloading a cargo of pig iron. I went at once to the vessel and asked the captain to permit me to help unload the vessel in order to get money for food. The captain, a white man, who seemed to be kind hearted, consented. I worked long enough to earn money for my breakfast, and it seems to me, as I remember it now, to have been about the best breakfast that I have ever eaten.—Booker T. Washington in Outlook.

Little Harry's Diplomacy.

Little Harry was very fond of sweet things to eat, and especially of puddings, which were his favorite dessert. Accordingly his dinners were made a burden to him, since his parents persisted that he must make his meals off the substantials and leave what Harry called the good things until last. One day while Harry's nostrils were tickled with the tantalizing odors of his most favored pudding a scheme was born in his brain that points his way to future greatness. When his mother put before him a plate of meat and potatoes he eyed it a moment in apparent ecstasy; then, shoving it regretfully away, he said:

"I declare that looks so good I guess I'll leave it till the very last thing and get rid of that pudding first!"—What to Eat.

His Words Were Prophetic.

"Making a photograph of James Harper was the most startling experience of my life," says George G. Rockwood, the New York photographer. "In the year 1869 it transpired that no good picture existed of the four Harper brothers, and it was determined that they should sit to the same photographer and have a uniform series of pictures made. A very successful photograph of Fletcher brought them all.

"James Harper was the second to sit for me, and as he was passing out of the door of my studio he saw a portrait of Rev. Dr. Muhlenburgh, the founder of St. Luke's hospital. We entered into a brief discussion of the mighty results of the well and wisely directed efforts of one man as illustrated in the establishment of this beneficent institution. He said, 'If anything should happen to me, I believe I should like to be taken to St. Luke's hospital, for there organized, practiced skill would perhaps be paramount to even the tender care and love one gets at home.'

"His words were prophetic. After declining his warm invitation for me to ride with him he left the gallery, I think, near 2 o'clock in the afternoon. About 5 o'clock a gentleman rushed into the reception room and asked, 'Was James Harper here today?' 'Yes.' 'Did he sit for a photograph?' 'Yes, and here is the negative—a superb one.' 'Thank God! He was thrown from his carriage this afternoon and now lies dying in St. Luke's hospital.'"

He Knew.

They met in front of the Read House. One was fat and black, with a wonderful expanse of mouth and a voice like a couple of fog horns. The other was black and lean and weazened.

Said the fat black to the lean black, "Why doan' you 'gratulate me, Brudder Johnsing?"

"Whut fer I 'gratulate you?" said Brudder Johnsing.

"Whut fer you 'gratulate me! Why, man, kase I done mar'd de Widder Jeff'son."

"You is—you dun mar'd de Widder Jeff'son?" squeaked out the lean one.

"I sho' is dun mar'd dat lady," said the fat one, with an air of great satisfaction.

"Den I does 'gratulate you wif my whole heart; I sho' does."

The two separated, when the lean one turned to a knot of white gentlemen who had been interested and amused auditors of the conversation and remarked:

"Yas, I 'gratulate him! Haw, haw, haw! He, he! I sho' does. He's de wus en'my I has, an I cert'inly 'gratulates. Why, boss," he said confidentially, singling out one of the spectators, "I wus mar'd to dat 'oman fer a year myself. Yas, I sho' do 'gratulate dat man." And he moved off toward Market street, chuckling and muttering to himself.—Chattanooga News.

Wouldn't Be Fooled Again.

A shepherd once, to prove the quickness of his dog, which was lying before the fire in the house where we were talking, said to me in the middle of a sentence concerning something else, "I'm thinking, sir, the cow is in the potatoes."

Though he purposely laid no stress on these words and said them in a quiet, unconcerned tone of voice, the dog, who appeared to be asleep, immediately jumped up and, leaping through the open window, scrambled up to the turf roof of the house, from which he could see the potato field. He then, not seeing the cow there, ran and looked into the barn where she was and, finding that all was right, came back to the house.

After a short time the shepherd said the same words again, and the dog repeated his lookout, but on the false alarm being the third time given the dog got up and, wagging his tail, looked his master in the face with so comical an expression of interrogation that he could not help laughing aloud at him, on which, with a slight growl, he laid himself down in his warm corner with an offended air, as if determined not to be made a fool of again.—Exchange.

Always speak well of the dead, and if you have time you might speak a good word for the living occasionally.—Chicago News.

A CREDIT CHECK SWINDLE.

Trick by Which One Firm Got Dollars Without Selling Shirt Waists.

That there is no end to the ways of imposing upon the suffering New York public was illustrated by the failure of a small store recently. The newly appointed receiver was surprised by having many women come to his office with credit checks. These checks were for small amounts, ranging from $1 to $10. At first the receiver couldn't understand it, but upon investigation he learned the details of a pretty system of fleecing.

The firm, it seems, had made a specialty of silk and cotton shirt waists. These were, with few exceptions, shapeless, ill fitting garments, and when the unfortunate women shoppers got home with their purchases and put them on they were disgusted to find that the bargain sale waists were baggy and puckery and altogether so poorly fashioned that it would be next to impossible to make them fit even by a complete ripping up and remaking. Such being the conditions they invariably took the goods back and demanded other waists or their money. It was contrary to the principles of the firm to refund money, and as they seldom had waists more becoming either in style or shape than the ones returned, they were driven to the extremity of credit checks.

"We will get in a new supply of waists in a few days," was the suave assurance of the manager and his well trained assistants. "Your check will be good at any time, and when we replenish our stock you can select a waist that suits you."

But the new stock never arrived, and in spite of the good dollars received from deluded customers without decreasing their capital of waists, the firm became insolvent and then the women began to come with credit checks. So far the receiver has been unable to compensate them for their loss through the swindle which, in its way, was rather neat.—New York Sun.

AARON BURR'S MAGNETISM.

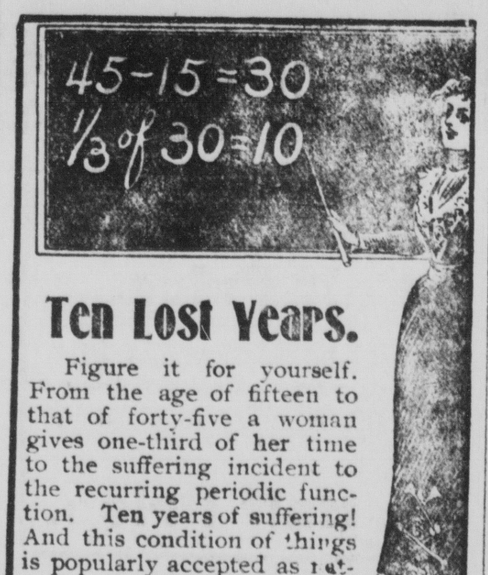

He Conquered All Feminine Hearts Without an Effort.

"From the time the beautiful and brilliant Mme. Jumel had been a young girl and when Aaron Burr was only a captain in the American army she had been more than once under the spell of his strange fascination," writes William Perrine in The Ladies' Home Journal. "Burr had introduced her to the celebrated Margaret Moncrieff, had desperately flirted with her and had implanted within her an admiration which was still alive when he was an aged social exile. She had written of him in earlier days that he appeared to her to be 'the perfection of manhood,' that his figure and form had been fashioned in the mold of the graces and that he was as familiar with the drawing room as with the camp.

"'In a word,' she said, 'he was a combined model of Mars and Apollo. His eye was of the deepest black and sparkled with an incomprehensible brilliancy when he smiled, but if enraged its power was absolutely terrific. Into whatever female society he chanced by the fortunes of war or the vicissitudes of private life to be cast, he conquered all hearts without an effort, and until he became deeply involved in the affairs of state and the vexations incident to the political arena I do not believe a female capable of the gentle emotions of love ever looked upon him without loving him.' Wherever he went he was petted and caressed by her sex, and hundreds vied with each other in a continuous struggle to offer him some testimonial of their adulation. Subsequently Mme. Jumel was married to Burr, who was nearly 80 and she nearly 60. The marriage was not a happy one, and the two soon separated."

Old Apothecaries and Doctors.

The offenses of apothecaries in the middle ages were numerous and the punishment in some cases a whipping. The worst was the improper sale of poisons—that is to say, except when not duly prescribed by a known physician of reputation, and even then not to put down in a register the name of the doctor and person to whom such prescription containing poison was delivered, was punishable likewise. The sale of poison for drugging fish was prohibited and also that of inferior drugs by any apothecary. To prescribe himself (unless a doctor could not be found) was an offense punishable by a whipping, and all preparations sold by him had to be made up in the presence of the doctor or of another apothecary. A barber surgeon might only prescribe for exterior applications "according to surgery," but we are not told what was the penalty in such a case.—Gentleman's Magazine.

Ten Lost Years.

Figure it for yourself. From the age of fifteen to that of forty-five a woman gives one-third of her time to the suffering incident to the recurring periodic function. Ten years of suffering! And this condition of things is popularly accepted as natural, and endured as a feminine disability for which there is no help! Is there no help? There is help for every woman and for almost every woman perfect healing in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It insures regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It is a temperance medicine—non-alcoholic and non-narcotic.

"I was so weak I did not have breath to walk across my room," writes Miss Isabel Miller, of New Providence, Calloway Co., Ky. "My periods occurred too often and the hemorrhage would be prolonged and the loss of blood very excessive. I also had spells which the doctor said were fainting fits. I did not gain strength from one monthly period to another; was very weak and nervous all the time. Was confined to my bed for three months and the doctor told me I would never be any better. I lived in this way from sixteen years old to twenty-three. I was at last advised by a kind friend to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which I did, and before I had taken two bottles of it I could work all day. I took in all six bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and about five vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets. I used no other medicine. I have never had a return of this trouble since."

Cock Shooting In Tall Corn.

Cock shooting in tall corn is as easy to the expert as it is puzzling to the novice. You will, of course, work with the rows, not across them, and if you are wise you will shoot at every glimpse of a bird and very frequently after an instant's sight of him, when you can only guess where he is. Sharp work, say ye, my masters. Yes, in a measure, but not so wonderful after all. You certainly must be ever ready and swift and smooth in action, but actual sight of the bird at the instant of puling trigger is not necessary.

Green corn won't stop even fine shot and your charge will give a pattern as big as a bushel basket; hence the shaking of a leaf, the flick of a vanishing wing, are enough for the master of the art. In an instant his gun is on the spot where a species of lightning calculation tells him the bird should be, and the trigger is pressed without the slightest delay. The difficulty with the novice is to get him to shoot at once instead of waiting in vain for a clear view. Experts kill bird after bird in this way. The novice must dismiss all thoughts of empty shells. No good sportsman worries over misses, though he will learn from failures how to hold next time. There is no royal road to success in the field. Nothing but experience really counts. So let the novice crack away, although he may only get one bird in ten. We all know what he'll get if he doesn't shoot at all.—Outing.

Her Meanness.

An American hostess, on the occasion of a gathering of distinguished people, was endeavoring to add to the pleasure of a Frenchman by talking to him in his native language. Noticing that her lack of fluency was irksome to the lady and desiring to relieve her embarrassment, with praiseworthy amiability the foreigner said:

"Pardon, madame, somewhat the French is difficult for you. I am able to understand your mean-ness if you will speak English."—London Chronicle.

At the Finger's End.

"My niece," said the doctor, "has joined an organization they call the—the—strange I can't think of the name. I had it at my tongue's end a moment ago—oh, yes, I remember it now. They call it the Thimble club."

"Then you didn't have it at your tongue's end," objected the professor. "You had it at your finger's end."—Chicago Tribune.

The First National Bank
Of East Liverpool, O.

President—DAVID BOYCE.
Vice President—J. M. KELLY.
Cashier—N. G. MACRUM.
Asst. Cash'r—THOS. H. FISHER

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

DAVID BOYCE. W. L. THOMPSON.
J. M. KELLY. O. C. VODREY.
B. C. SIMMS. JNO. C. THOMPSON.
JAS. N. VODREY.

Capital, - - - $100,000
Surplus, - - - 100,000

General Banking Business.

Invite Business and Personal Account.

Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent.

193 Washington Street.

ACCIDENT?

Have you thought of the many accidents which have occurred in our midst in the last few weeks? Have you been prudent and protected your family as well as your estate, with insurance against injury or loss of life? If not call at our office and secure a policy in one of the Strongest Companies in the land. The cost is but a trifle when you consider the protection.

Geo. H. Owen & Co.
General Insurance and Real Estate Agents.
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING,
Both Phones 49.

Time table effective Nov 26, 1900. Trains daily except Sunday. Central time.

	Lv. Lisbon.	Ar N. Galilee
No. 6	2 35 p. m.	3 40 p. m
No. 40	6 25 a. m.	7 30 a. m

	Lv. N. Galilee.	Ar. Lisbon
No. 9	8 25 a. m.	9 30 a. m
No. 45	5 10 p. m.	6 08 p. m.

CONNECTIONS AT NEW GALILEE.

Connections at New Galilee with Pennsylvania Co's trains to and from New York Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburg, Beaver Falls, East Liverpool, Wellsville, Bellaire, Alliance, Canton, Chicago, Erie, New Castle, Ashtabula, Youngstown, and intermediate points.

K. E. BARINGER,
General Passenger Agent.

DO YOU suffer from Nervous Prostration, Failing or Lost Manhood, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Shrunken or Undeveloped Organs, Youthful Errors, Excessive Use of Tobacco or Opium? Sent by mail on receipt of price. DR. MOTT'S CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, Ohio.

WE GUARANTEE to cure you or refund money, and we stand by our guarantee.

Sold at $1 per Box, 6 Boxes for $5.

For sale by Will Reed, C. F. Craig and C. F. Larkin.

The Sanitary Reduction Co.
James Murphy, Manager, dispose of all refuse by incineration according to Board of Health regulations.
Bell 'Phone 373.

S. J. MARTIN,
RESTAURANT,
175 BROADWAY.
CHOICE MEALS. Only 25c.

ALL the latest and best local and telegraph news can be found in this paper.

WORDS.

Words are great forces in the realm of life,
Be careful of their use. Who talks of hate,
Of poverty, of sickness, but sets rife
These very elements to mar his fate.

When love, health, happiness and plenty hear
Their names repeated over day by day,
They wing their way like answering fairies near,
Then nestle down within our homes to stay

Who talks of evil conjures into shape
That formless thing and gives it life and scope.
This is the law; then let no word escape
That does not breathe of everlasting hope.
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox in Woman's Home Companion.

A MATCH FOR A MILLION.

Winning a Wrestling Bout the Foundation of a Fortune.

"Had I caught my train that night," laughed the man who has had nothing to do for a quarter of a century but to sit and watch pine trees grow to swell his bank account, "I would probably be a farmer now trying to raise a mortgage and a few other things. I had gone to a little town in lower Wisconsin to see a colt that a man there wanted to sell. I was a good judge of stock and pretty shrewd on a trade, but a greener country lad never broke into a town. I would have walked back to the farm after I found myself too late for the train, but I saw a handbill announcing a show that night and could not resist the temptation to see it, though it did cost a quarter.

"In my hilarious appreciation I was more of an entertainment than they had on the stage, especially as I was utterly oblivious to the fact that I did not look like any one else in the audience. Toward the end of the performance a huge fellow came out, tossed cannon balls in the air, held men out at arm's length and lifted heavy weights. After this showing of his prowess he offered $10 to any one whom he could not throw inside of two minutes. I was the crack wrestler in all our section, though none present knew it, and I felt as though the challenge was aimed directly at me. I turned hot and cold during a few seconds of extreme silence. Then I sprang up and as I came out of my old blouse shouted, 'I'll go you, b'gosh!'

"There was a roar of laughter, and then some of those about me urged me not to go up there and have my neck broken. But one old man told me to go in and do my best. It was a tough job, but I finally threw the giant almost through the floor with a hip lock. There was a little hesitancy about giving me the $10, but the crowd shouted until I got it. The old man took me home with him, and in a week I had charge of all the teams in his lumber camps. In time I became a partner, and he cleared the way to make me rich. That was really a match for a million."—Washington Star.

How He Earned Breakfast.

I must have walked the streets (of Richmond) till after midnight. At last I became so exhausted that I could walk no longer. I was tired, I was hungry, I was everything but discouraged. Just about the time when I reached extreme physical exhaustion I came upon a portion of a street where the board sidewalk was considerably elevated. I waited for a few minutes till I was sure that no passersby could see me and then crept under the sidewalk and lay for the night upon the ground, with my satchel of clothing for a pillow. Nearly all night I could hear the tramp of feet over my head.

The next morning I found myself somewhat refreshed, but I was extremely hungry, because it had been a long time since I had had sufficient food. As soon as it became light enough for me to see my surroundings I noticed that I was near a large ship and that this ship seemed to be unloading a cargo of pig iron. I went at once to the vessel and asked the captain to permit me to help unload the vessel in order to get money for food. The captain, a white man, who seemed to be kind hearted, consented. I worked long enough to earn money for my breakfast, and it seems to me, as I remember it now, to have been about the best breakfast that I have ever eaten.—Booker T. Washington in Outlook.

Little Harry's Diplomacy.

Little Harry was very fond of sweet things to eat, and especially of puddings, which were his favorite dessert. Accordingly his dinners were made a burden to him, since his parents persisted that he must make his meals off the substantials and leave what Harry called the good things until last. One day while Harry's nostrils were tickled with the tantalizing odors of his most favored pudding a scheme was born in his brain that points his way to future greatness. When his mother put before him a plate of meat and potatoes he eyed it a moment in apparent ecstasy; then, shoving it regretfully away, he said:

"I declare that looks so good I guess I'll leave it till the very last thing and get rid of that pudding first!"—What to Eat.

His Words Were Prophetic.

"Making a photograph of James Harper was the most startling experience of my life," says George G. Rockwood, the New York photographer. "In the year 1869 it transpired that no good picture existed of the four Harper brothers, and it was determined that they should sit to the same photographer and have a uniform series of pictures made. A very successful photograph of Fletcher brought them all.

"James Harper was the second to sit for me, and as he was passing out of the door of my studio he saw a portrait of Rev. Dr. Muhlenburgh, the founder of St. Luke's hospital. We entered into a brief discussion of the mighty results of the well and wisely directed efforts of one man as illustrated in the establishment of this beneficent institution. He said, 'If anything should happen to me, I believe I should like to be taken to St. Luke's hospital, for there organized, practiced skill would perhaps be paramount to even the tender care and love one gets at home.'

"His words were prophetic. After declining his warm invitation for me to ride with him he left the gallery, I think, near 2 o'clock in the afternoon. About 5 o'clock a gentleman rushed into the reception room and asked, 'Was James Harper here today?' 'Yes.' 'Did he sit for a photograph?' 'Yes, and here is the negative—a superb one.' 'Thank God! He was thrown from his carriage this afternoon and now lies dying in St. Luke's hospital.' "

He Knew.

They met in front of the Read House. One was fat and black, with a wonderful expanse of mouth and a voice like a couple of fog horns. The other was black and lean and weazened.

Said the fat black to the lean black, "Why doan' you 'gratulate me, Brudder Johnsing?"

"Whut fer I 'gratulate you?" said Brudder Johnsing.

"Whut fer you 'gratulate me! Why, man, kase I done mar'd de Widder Jeff'son."

"You is—you dun mar'd de Widder Jeff'son?" squeaked out the lean one.

"I sho' is dun mar'd dat lady," said the fat one, with an air of great satisfaction.

"Den I does 'gratulate you wif my whole heart; I sho' does."

The two separated, when the lean one turned to a knot of white gentlemen who had been interested and amused auditors of the conversation and remarked:

"Yas, I 'gratulate him! Haw, haw, haw! He, he! I sho' does. He's de wus en'my I has, an I cert'inly 'gratulates. Why, boss," he said confidentially, singling out one of the spectators, "I wus mar'd to dat 'oman fer a year myself. Yas, I sho' do 'gratulate dat man." And he moved off toward Market street, chuckling and muttering to himself.—Chattanooga News.

Wouldn't Be Fooled Again.

A shepherd once, to prove the quickness of his dog, which was lying before the fire in the house where we were talking, said to me in the middle of a sentence concerning something else, "I'm thinking, sir, the cow is in the potatoes."

Though he purposely laid no stress on these words and said them in a quiet, unconcerned tone of voice, the dog, who appeared to be asleep, immediately jumped up and, leaping through the open window, scrambled up to the turf roof of the house, from which he could see the potato field. He then, not seeing the cow there, ran and looked into the barn where she was and, finding that all was right, came back to the house.

After a short time the shepherd said the same words again, and the dog repeated his lookout, but on the false alarm being the third time given the dog got up and, wagging his tail, looked his master in the face with so comical an expression of interrogation that he could not help laughing aloud at him, on which, with a slight growl, he laid himself down in his warm corner with an offended air, as if determined not to be made a fool of again.—Exchange.

Always speak well of the dead, and if you have time you might speak a good word for the living occasionally.—Chicago News.

A CREDIT CHECK SWINDLE.

Trick by Which One Firm Got Dollars Without Selling Shirt Waists.

That there is no end to the ways of imposing upon the suffering New York public was illustrated by the failure of a small store recently. The newly appointed receiver was surprised by having many women come to his office with credit checks. These checks were for small amounts, ranging from $1 to $10. At first the receiver couldn't understand it, but upon investigation he learned the details of a pretty system of fleecing.

The firm, it seems, had made a specialty of silk and cotton shirt waists. These were, with few exceptions, shapeless, ill fitting garments, and when the unfortunate women shoppers got home with their purchases and put them on they were disgusted to find that the bargain sale waists were baggy and puckery and altogether so poorly fashioned that it would be next to impossible to make them fit even by a complete ripping up and remaking. Such being the conditions they invariably took the goods back and demanded other waists or their money. It was contrary to the principles of the firm to refund money, and as they seldom had waists more becoming either in style or shape than the ones returned, they were driven to the extremity of credit checks.

"We will get in a new supply of waists in a few days," was the suave assurance of the manager and his well trained assistants. "Your check will be good at any time, and when we replenish our stock you can select a waist that suits you."

But the new stock never arrived, and in spite of the good dollars received from deluded customers without decreasing their capital of waists, the firm became insolvent and then the women began to come with credit checks. So far the receiver has been unable to compensate them for their loss through the swindle which, in its way, was rather neat.—New York Sun.

AARON BURR'S MAGNETISM.

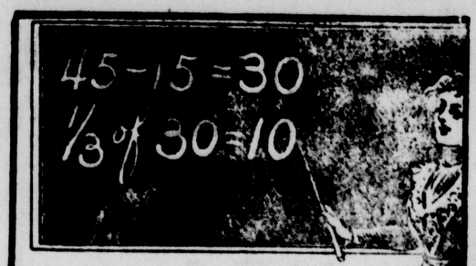

He Conquered All Feminine Hearts Without an Effort.

"From the time the beautiful and brilliant Mme. Jumel had been a young girl and when Aaron Burr was only a captain in the American army she had been more than once under the spell of his strange fascination," writes William Perrine in The Ladies' Home Journal. "Burr had introduced her to the celebrated Margaret Moncrieff, had desperately flirted with her and had implanted within her an admiration which was still alive when he was an aged social exile. She had written of him in earlier days that he appeared to her to be 'the perfection of manhood,' that his figure and form had been fashioned in the mold of the graces and that he was as familiar with the drawing room as with the camp.

"'In a word,' she said, 'he was a combined model of Mars and Apollo. His eye was of the deepest black and sparkled with an incomprehensible brilliancy when he smiled, but if enraged its power was absolutely terrific. Into whatever female society he chanced by the fortunes of war or the vicissitudes of private life to be cast, he conquered all hearts without an effort, and until he became deeply involved in the affairs of state and the vexations incident to the political arena I do not believe a female capable of the gentle emotions of love ever looked upon him without loving him.' Wherever he went he was petted and caressed by her sex, and hundreds vied with each other in a continuous struggle to offer him some testimonial of their adulation. Subsequently Mme. Jumel was married to Burr, who was nearly 80 and she nearly 60. The marriage was not a happy one, and the two soon separated."

Old Apothecaries and Doctors.

The offenses of apothecaries in the middle ages were numerous and the punishment in some cases a whipping. The worst was the improper sale of poisons—that is to say, except when not duly prescribed by a known physician of reputation, and even then not to put down in a register the name of the doctor and person to whom such prescription containing poison was delivered, was punishable likewise. The sale of poison for drugging fish was prohibited and also that of inferior drugs by any apothecary. To prescribe himself (unless a doctor could not be found) was an offense punishable by a whipping, and all preparations sold by him had to be made up in the presence of the doctor or of another apothecary. A barber surgeon might only prescribe for exterior applications "according to surgery," but we are not told what was the penalty in such a case.—Gentleman's Magazine.

Ten Lost Years.

Figure it for yourself. From the age of fifteen to that of forty-five a woman gives one-third of her time to the suffering incident to the recurring periodic function. Ten years of suffering! And this condition of things is popularly accepted as natural, and endured as a feminine disability for which there is no help! Is there no help? There is help for every woman and for almost every woman perfect healing in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It insures regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It is a temperance medicine—non-alcoholic and non-narcotic.

"I was so weak I did not have breath to walk across my room," writes Miss Isabel Miller, of New Providence, Calloway Co., Ky. "My periods occurred too often and the hemorrhage would be prolonged and the loss of blood very excessive. I also had spells which the doctor said were fainting fits. I did not gain strength from one monthly period to another; was very weak and nervous all the time. Was confined to my bed for three months and the doctor told me I would never be any better. I lived in this way from sixteen years old to twenty-three. I was at last advised by a kind friend to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which I did, and before I had taken two bottles of it I could work all day. I took in all six bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and about five vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets. I used no other medicine. I have never had a return of this trouble since."

Cock Shooting In Tall Corn.

Cock shooting in tall corn is as easy to the expert as it is puzzling to the novice. You will, of course, work with the rows, not across them, and if you are wise you will shoot at every glimpse of a bird and very frequently after an instant's sight of him, when you can only guess where he is. Sharp work, say ye, my masters. Yes, in a measure, but not so wonderful after all. You certainly must be ever ready and swift and smooth in action, but actual sight of the bird at the instant of pulling trigger is not necessary.

Green corn won't stop even fine shot and your charge will give a pattern as big as a bushel basket; hence the shaving of a leaf, the flick of a vanishing wing, are enough for the master of the art. In an instant his gun is on the spot where a species of lightning calculation tells him the bird should be, and the trigger is pressed without the slightest delay. The difficulty with the novice is to get him to shoot at once instead of waiting in vain for a clear view. Experts kill bird after bird in this way. The novice must dismiss all thoughts of empty shells. No good sportsman worries over misses, though he will learn from failures how to hold next time. There is no royal road to success in the field. Nothing but experience really counts. So let the novice crack away, although he may only get one bird in ten. We all know what he'll get if he doesn't shoot at all.—Outing.

Her Meanness.

An American hostess, on the occasion of a gathering of distinguished people, was endeavoring to add to the pleasure of a Frenchman by talking to him in his native language. Noticing that her lack of fluency was irksome to the lady and desiring to relieve her embarrassment, with praiseworthy amiability the foreigner said:

"Pardon, madame, somewhat the French is difficult for you. I am able to understand your mean-ness if you will speak English."—London Chronicle.

At the Finger's End.

"My niece," said the doctor, "has joined an organization they call the—the—strange I can't think of the name. I had it at my tongue's end a moment ago—oh, yes, I remember it now. They call it the Thimble club."

"Then you didn't have it at your tongue's end," objected the professor. "You had it at your finger's end."—Chicago Tribune.

The First National Bank
Of East Liverpool, O.

President—DAVID BOYCE.
Vice President—J. M. KELLY.
Cashier—N. G. MACRUM.
Asst. Cash'r—THOS. H. FISHER

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

DAVID BOYCE. W. L. THOMPSON.
J. M. KELLY. O. C. VODREY.
B. O. SIMMS. JNO. C. THOMPSON.
JAS. N. VODREY.

Capital, - - - $100,000
Surplus, - - - 100,000

General Banking Business.

Invite Business and Personal Account.

Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent.

193 Washington Street.

ACCIDENT?

Have you thought of the many accidents which have occurred in our midst in the last few weeks? Have you been prudent and protected your family as well as your estate, with insurance against injury or loss of life? If not call at our office and secure a policy in one of the Strongest Companies in the land. The cost is but a trifle when you consider the protection.

Geo. H. Owen & Co.
General Insurance and Real Estate Agents.
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING,
Both Phones 49.

Time table effective Nov 26, 1900. Trains daily except Sunday. Central time.

	Lv. Lisbon.	Ar N. Galilee
No. 6	2 35 p. m.	3 40 p. m
No. 40	6 25 a. m.	7 30 a. m

	Lv. N. Galilee.	Ar. Lisbon
No. 9	8 25 a. m.	9 30 a. m
No. 45	5 10 p. m.	6 00 p. m.

CONNECTIONS AT NEW GALILEE.

Connections at New Galilee with Pennsylvania Co's trains to and from New York Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburg, Beaver Falls, East Liverpool, Wellsville, Bellaire, Alliance, Canton, Chicago, Erie, New Castle, Ashtabula, Youngstown, and intermediate points.

K. E. BARINGER,
General Passenger Agent.

DO YOU suffer from Nervous Prostration, Failing or Lost Manhood, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Shrunken or Undeveloped Organs, Youthful Errors, Excessive Use of Tobacco or Opium? Sent by mail on receipt of price. DR. MOTT'S CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, Ohio.

WE GUARANTEE to cure you or refund money and we stand by our guarantee.

Sold at $1 per Box, 6 Boxes for $5.

For sale by Will Reed, C. F. Craig and C F. Larkin.

The Sanitary Reduction Co.
James Murphy, Manager, dispose of all refuse by incineration according to Board of Health regulations.
Bell 'Phone 373.

S. J. MARTIN,
RESTAURANT,
175 BROADWAY.
CHOICE MEALS. Only 25c.

ALL the latest and best local and telegraph news can be found in this paper.

WORDS.

Words are great forces in the realm of life.
Be careful of their use. Who talks of hate,
Of poverty, of sickness, but sets rife
These very elements to mar his fate.

When love, health, happiness and plenty hear
Their names repeated over day by day,
They wing their way like answering fairies near,
Then nestle down within our homes to stay

Who talks of evil conjures into shape
That formless thing and gives it life and scope.
This is the law; then let no word escape
That does not breathe of everlasting hope.
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox in Woman's Home Companion.

A MATCH FOR A MILLION.

Winning a Wrestling Bout the Foundation of a Fortune.

"Had I caught my train that night," laughed the man who has had nothing to do for a quarter of a century but to sit and watch pine trees grow to swell his bank account, "I would probably be a farmer now trying to raise a mortgage and a few other things. I had gone to a little town in lower Wisconsin to see a colt that a man there wanted to sell. I was a good judge of stock and pretty shrewd on a trade, but a greener country lad never broke into a town. I would have walked back to the farm after I found myself too late for the train, but I saw a handbill announcing a show that night and could not resist the temptation to see it, though it did cost a quarter.

"In my hilarious appreciation I was more of an entertainment than they had on the stage, especially as I was utterly oblivious to the fact that I did not look like any one else in the audience. Toward the end of the performance a huge fellow came out, tossed cannon balls in the air, held men out at arm's length and lifted heavy weights. After this showing of his prowess he offered $10 to any one whom he could not throw inside of two minutes. I was the crack wrestler in all our section, though none present knew it, and I felt as though the challenge was aimed directly at me. I turned hot and cold during a few seconds of extreme silence. Then I sprang up and as I came out of my old blouse shouted, 'I'll go you, b'gosh!'

"There was a roar of laughter, and then some of those about me urged me not to go up there and have my neck broken. But one old man told me to go in and do my best. It was a tough job, but I finally threw the giant almost through the floor with a hip lock. There was a little hesitancy about giving me the $10, but the crowd shouted until I got it. The old man took me home with him, and in a week I had charge of all the teams in his lumber camps. In time I became a partner, and he cleared the way to make me rich. That was really a match for a million."—Washington Star.

How He Earned Breakfast.

I must have walked the streets (of Richmond) till after midnight. At last I became so exhausted that I could walk no longer. I was tired, I was hungry, I was everything but discouraged. Just about the time when I reached extreme physical exhaustion I came upon a portion of a street where the board sidewalk was considerably elevated. I waited for a few minutes till I was sure that no passersby could see me and then crept under the sidewalk and lay for the night upon the ground, with my satchel of clothing for a pillow. Nearly all night I could hear the tramp of feet over my head.

The next morning I found myself somewhat refreshed, but I was extremely hungry, because it had been a long time since I had had sufficient food. As soon as it became light enough for me to see my surroundings I noticed that I was near a large ship and that this ship seemed to be unloading a cargo of pig iron. I went at once to the vessel and asked the captain to permit me to help unload the vessel in order to get money for food. The captain, a white man, who seemed to be kind hearted, consented. I worked long enough to earn money for my breakfast, and it seems to me, as I remember it now, to have been about the best breakfast that I have ever eaten.—Booker T. Washington in Outlook.

Little Harry's Diplomacy.

Little Harry was very fond of sweet things to eat, and especially of puddings, which were his favorite dessert. Accordingly his dinners were made a burden to him, since his parents persisted that he must make his meals off the substantials and leave what Harry called the good things until last. One day while Harry's nostrils were tickled with the tantalizing odors of his most favored pudding a scheme was born in his brain that points his way to future greatness. When his mother put before him a plate of meat and potatoes he eyed it a moment in apparent ecstasy; then, shoving it regretfully away, he said:

"I declare that looks so good I guess I'll leave it till the very last thing and get rid of that pudding first!"—What to Eat.

His Words Were Prophetic.

"Making a photograph of James Harper was the most startling experience of my life," says George G. Rockwood, the New York photographer. "In the year 1869 it transpired that no good picture existed of the four Harper brothers, and it was determined that they should sit to the same photographer and have a uniform series of pictures made. A very successful photograph of Fletcher brought them all.

"James Harper was the second to sit for me, and as he was passing out of the door of my studio he saw a portrait of Rev. Dr. Muhlenburgh, the founder of St. Luke's hospital. We entered into a brief discussion of the mighty results of the well and wisely directed efforts of one man as illustrated in the establishment of this beneficent institution. He said, 'If anything should happen to me, I believe I should like to be taken to St. Luke's hospital, for there organized, practiced skill would perhaps be paramount to even the tender care and love one gets at home.'

"His words were prophetic. After declining his warm invitation for me to ride with him he left the gallery, I think, near 2 o'clock in the afternoon. About 5 o'clock a gentleman rushed into the reception room and asked, 'Was James Harper here today?' 'Yes.' 'Did he sit for a photograph?' 'Yes, and here is the negative—a superb one.' 'Thank God! He was thrown from his carriage this afternoon and now lies dying in St. Luke's hospital.'"

He Knew.

They met in front of the Read House. One was fat and black, with a wonderful expanse of mouth and a voice like a couple of fog horns. The other was black and lean and weazened.

Said the fat black to the lean black, "Why doan' you 'gratulate me, Brudder Johnsing?"

"Whut fer I 'gratulate you?" said Brudder Johnsing.

"Whut fer you 'gratulate me! Why, man, kase I done mar'd de Widder Jeff'son."

"You is—you dun mar'd de Widder Jeff'son?" squeaked out the lean one.

"I sho' is dun mar'd dat lady," said the fat one, with an air of great satisfaction.

"Den I does 'gratulate you wif my whole heart; I sho' does."

The two separated, when the lean one turned to a knot of white gentlemen who had been interested and amused auditors of the conversation and remarked:

"Yas, I 'gratulate him! Haw, haw, haw! He, he! I sho' does. He's de wus en'my I has, an I cert'inly 'gratulates. Why, boss," he said confidentially, singling out one of the spectators, "I wus mar'd to dat 'oman fer a year myself. Yas, I sho' do 'gratulate dat man." And he moved off toward Market street, chuckling and muttering to himself.—Chattanooga News.

Wouldn't Be Fooled Again.

A shepherd once, to prove the quickness of his dog, which was lying before the fire in the house where we were talking, said to me in the middle of a sentence concerning something else, "I'm thinking, sir, the cow is in the potatoes."

Though he purposely laid no stress on these words and said them in a quiet, unconcerned tone of voice, the dog, who appeared to be asleep, immediately jumped up and, leaping through the open window, scrambled up to the turf roof of the house, from which he could see the potato field. He then, not seeing the cow there, ran and looked into the barn where she was and, finding that all was right, came back to the house.

After a short time the shepherd said the same words again, and the dog repeated his lookout, but on the false alarm being the third time given the dog got up and, wagging his tail, looked his master in the face with so comical an expression of interrogation that he could not help laughing aloud at him, on which, with a slight growl, he laid himself down in his warm corner with an offended air, as if determined not to be made a fool of again.—Exchange.

Always speak well of the dead, and if you have time you might speak a good word for the living occasionally.—Chicago News.

A CREDIT CHECK SWINDLE.

Trick by Which One Firm Got Dollars Without Selling Shirt Waists.

That there is no end to the ways of imposing upon the suffering New York public was illustrated by the failure of a small store recently. The newly appointed receiver was surprised by having many women come to his office with credit checks. These checks were for small amounts, ranging from $1 to $10. At first the receiver couldn't understand it, but upon investigation he learned the details of a pretty system of fleecing.

The firm, it seems, had made a specialty of silk and cotton shirt waists. These were, with few exceptions, shapeless, ill fitting garments, and when the unfortunate women shoppers got home with their purchases and put them on they were disgusted to find that the bargain sale waists were baggy and puckery and altogether so poorly fashioned that it would be next to impossible to make them fit even by a complete ripping up and remaking. Such being the conditions they invariably took the goods back and demanded other waists or their money. It was contrary to the principles of the firm to refund money, and as they seldom had waists more becoming either in style or shape than the ones returned, they were driven to the extremity of credit checks.

"We will get in a new supply of waists in a few days," was the suave assurance of the manager and his well trained assistants. "Your check will be good at any time, and when we replenish our stock you can select a waist that suits you."

But the new stock never arrived, and in spite of the good dollars received from deluded customers without decreasing their capital of waists, the firm became insolvent and then the women began to come with credit checks. So far the receiver has been unable to compensate them for their loss through the swindle which, in its way, was rather neat.—New York Sun.

AARON BURR'S MAGNETISM.

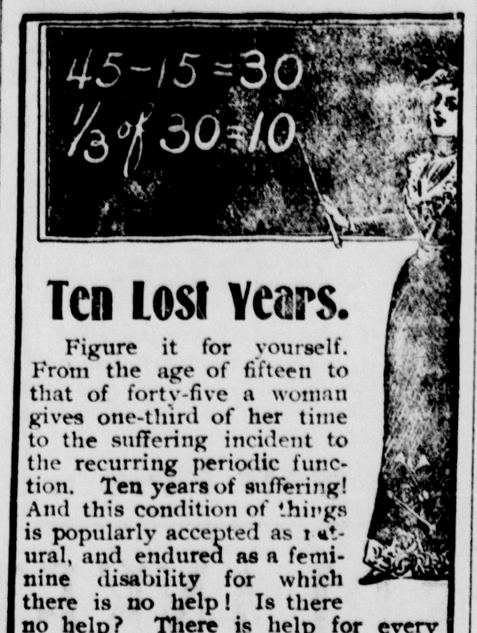

He Conquered All Feminine Hearts Without an Effort.

"From the time the beautiful and brilliant Mme. Jumel had been a young girl and when Aaron Burr was only a captain in the American army she had been more than once under the spell of his strange fascination," writes William Perrine in The Ladies' Home Journal. "Burr had introduced her to the celebrated Margaret Moncrieff, had desperately flirted with her and had implanted within her an admiration which was still alive when he was an aged social exile. She had written of him in earlier days that he appeared to her to be 'the perfection of manhood,' that his figure and form had been fashioned in the mold of the graces and that he was as familiar with the drawing room as with the camp.

"'In a word,' she said, 'he was a combined model of Mars and Apollo. His eye was of the deepest black and sparkled with an incomprehensible brilliancy when he smiled, but if enraged its power was absolutely terrific. Into whatever female society he chanced by the fortunes of war or the vicissitudes of private life to be cast, he conquered all hearts without an effort, and until he became deeply involved in the affairs of state and the vexations incident to the political arena I do not believe a female capable of the gentle emotions of love ever looked upon him without loving him.' Wherever he went he was petted and caressed by her sex, and hundreds vied with each other in a continuous struggle to offer him some testimonial of their adulation. Subsequently Mme. Jumel was married to Burr, who was nearly 80 and she nearly 60. The marriage was not a happy one, and the two soon separated."

Old Apothecaries and Doctors.

The offenses of apothecaries in the middle ages were numerous and the punishment in some cases a whipping. The worst was the improper sale of poisons—that is to say, except when not duly prescribed by a known physician of reputation, and even then not to put down in a register the name of the doctor and person to whom such prescription containing poison was delivered, was punishable likewise. The sale of poison for drugging fish was prohibited and also that of inferior drugs by any apothecary. To prescribe himself (unless a doctor could not be found) was an offense punishable by a whipping, and all preparations sold by him had to be made up in the presence of the doctor or of another apothecary. A barber surgeon might only prescribe for exterior applications "according to surgery," but we are not told what was the penalty in such a case.—Gentleman's Magazine.

Ten Lost Years.

Figure it for yourself. From the age of fifteen to that of forty-five a woman gives one-third of her time to the suffering incident to the recurring periodic function. Ten years of suffering! And this condition of things is popularly accepted as natural, and endured as a feminine disability for which there is no help! Is there no help? There is help for every woman and for almost every woman perfect healing in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It insures regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It is a temperance medicine—non-alcoholic and non-narcotic.

"I was so weak I did not have breath to walk across my room," writes Miss Isabel Miller, of New Providence, Calloway Co., Ky. "My periods occurred too often and the hemorrhage would be prolonged and the loss of blood very excessive. I also had spells which the doctor said were fainting fits. I did not gain strength from one monthly period to another; was very weak and nervous all the time. Was confined to my bed for three months and the doctor told me I would never be any better. I lived in this way from sixteen years old to twenty-three. I was at last advised by a kind friend to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which I did, and before I had taken two bottles of it I could work all day. I took in all six bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and about five vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets. I used no other medicine. I have never had a return of this trouble since."

Cock Shooting In Tall Corn.

Cock shooting in tall corn is as easy to the expert as it is puzzling to the novice. You will, of course, work with the rows, not across them, and if you are wise you will shoot at every glimpse of a bird and very frequently after an instant's sight of him, when you can only guess where he is. Sharp work, say ye, my masters. Yes, in a measure, but not so wonderful after all. You certainly must be ever ready and swift and smooth in action, but actual sight of the bird at the instant of pulling trigger is not necessary.

Green corn won't stop even fine shot and your charge will give a pattern as big as a bushel basket; hence the shaving of a leaf, the flick of a vanishing wing, are enough for the master of the art. In an instant his gun is on the spot where a species of lightning calculation tells him the bird should be, and the trigger is pressed without the slightest delay. The difficulty with the novice is to get him to shoot at once instead of waiting in vain for a clear view. Experts kill bird after bird in this way. The novice must dismiss all thoughts of empty shells. No good sportsman worries over misses, though he will learn from failures how to hold next time. There is no royal road to success in the field. Nothing but experience really counts. So let the novice crack away, although he may only get one bird in ten. We all know what he'll get if he doesn't shoot at all.—Outing.

Her Meanness.

An American hostess, on the occasion of a gathering of distinguished people, was endeavoring to add to the pleasure of a Frenchman by talking to him in his native language. Noticing that her lack of fluency was irksome to the lady and desiring to relieve her embarrassment, with praiseworthy amiability the foreigner said:

"Pardon, madame, somewhat the French is difficult for you. I am able to understand your mean-ness if you will speak English."—London Chronicle.

At the Finger's End.

"My niece," said the doctor, "has joined an organization they call the—the—strange I can't think of the name. I had it at my tongue's end a moment ago—oh, yes, I remember it now. They call it the Thimble club."

"Then you didn't have it at your tongue's end," objected the professor. "You had it at your finger's end."—Chicago Tribune.

The First National Bank
Of East Liverpool, O.

President—DAVID BOYCE.
Vice President—J. M. KELLY.
Cashier—N. G. MACRUM.
Asst. Cash'r—THOS. H. FISHER

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

DAVID BOYCE. W. L. THOMPSON.
J. M. KELLY. O. C. VODREY.
B. O. SIMMS. JNO. C. THOMPSON
JAS. N. VODREY.

Capital, - - - $100,000
Surplus, - - - 100,000

General Banking Business.

Invite Business and Personal Account.

Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent.

193 Washington Street.

ACCIDENT?

Have you thought of the many accidents which have occurred in our midst in the last few weeks? Have you been prudent and protected your family as well as your estate, with insurance against injury or loss of life? If not call at our office and secure a policy in one of the Strongest Companies in the land. The cost is but a trifle when you consider the protection.

Geo. H. Owen & Co.
General Insurance and Real Estate Agents.
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING,
Both Phones 49.

Time table effective Nov 26, 1900. Trains daily except Sunday. Central time.

	Lv. Lisbon.	Ar N. Galilee
No. 6	2 35 p. m.	3 40 p. m
No. 40	6 25 a. m.	7 30 a. m

	Lv. N. Galilee.	Ar. Lisbon
No. 9	8 25 a. m.	9 30 a. m
No. 45	5 10 p. m.	6 08 p. m.

CONNECTIONS AT NEW GALILEE.

Connections at New Galilee with Pennsylvania Co's trains to and from New York Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburg, Beaver Falls, East Liverpool, Wellsville, Bellaire, Alliance, Canton, Chicago, Erie, New Castle, Ashtabula, Youngstown, and intermediate points.

K. E. BARINGER,
General Passenger Agent.

DO YOU suffer from Nervous Prostration, Failing or Lost Manhood, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Shrunken or Undeveloped Organs, Youthful Errors, Excessive Use of Tobacco or Opium? Sent by mail on receipt of price. DR. MOTT'S CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, Ohio.

WE GUARANTEE to cure you or refund money and we stand by our guarantee.

Sold at $1 per Box, 6 Boxes for $5.

For sale by Will Reed, C. F. Craig and C F. Larkin.

The Sanitary Reduction Co.
James Murphy, Manager, dispose of all refuse by incineration according to Board of Health regulations.
Bell 'Phone 373.

S. J. MARTIN,
RESTAURANT,
175 BROADWAY.
CHOICE MEALS. Only 25c.

ALL the latest and best local and telegraph news can be found in this paper.

HIGH GRADE

Decorator's Pencils,
All Artist's Supplies,
Water Colors,
Oil Colors,
Crayons,
Pastells,
AT

BULGER'S PHARMACY.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

A. M. Black, salesman for a Pittsburg grocery house, is in the city today.

Charles Walker is confined to his home on Fifth street with an attack of grip.

Trades Council will hold a regular session tomorrow evening and transact routine business.

Miss Nellie Porter is ill at her home on Seventh street with an attack of grip.

Mrs. Bratt is recovering from an attack of pleurisy. The lady is now able to sit up.

Walter, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Adams, is very ill at their home on Monroe street.

Plans are already being formulated in the city for a first-class base ball club for next season.

Howard Williams, of Fifth street, is able to be up after an illness of two weeks with malaria fever.

There are no new developments in the Christie inquest, and it is probable the matter has ended.

Harry Haden is very seriously ill in a hospital at Pittsburg, and it is feared he will not recover.

A number of the sidewalks in the city could stand a good dose of water, as they are extremely dirty.

The William Brunt Pottery company expect to resume operations tomorrow after a shutdown of several weeks.

Baggage Agent George B. Smith, of the Cleveland & Pittsburg passenger station, was off duty today on account of illness.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Thomas Anderson were held this afternoon at her late home on Walnut street.

Miss Minnie Haden, of Fourth street, who has been very ill for some time with an attack of typhoid fever, is slowly recoving.

George, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webster, who has been very ill at their home on Broadway, is slowly improving.

Mrs. George Heisler, who has been confined to her home on Sixth street for the past week with an attack of the grip, is able to be out.

The streets in the suburban districts of this city are a mass of mud, and many complaints are heard from the residents who would like to have cinder walks.

In the case of Will Timmons versus Contractor Robert Gravatt, Squire McLane rendered judgment for the full amount, $36 and costs, and costs that may occur.

There is a great deal of sickness among the school children of the city, and in some of the rooms not more than half the regular number of scholars are present.

The remains of Edgar Megalley were this morning taken to Salineville, where services were held in the Catholic church and interment was made in St. Patrick's cemetery.

A basket ball game will be played at the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Friday evening between the local team and the Tigers of Pittsburg. The latter is one of the strongest teams in this section and a good game is looked for.

THE BOSTON STORE.

X Special at Half Price.

A lot of Framed Pictures, very desirable subjects black frames—to close out at

Half Price.

Clearance Sale . . .
—OF—

X Special at 50c a yard.

Choice of all our Fancy Taffeta Silks that formerly sold at $1, $1.25 and $1.50 a yard, for

Only 50c yd.

BLANKETS AND COMFORTS.

This sale comes in just right for the weather, and affords an opportunity to buy a seasonable article at considerable saving.

BLANKETS.

65c and 59c Cotton Blankets at..... 50c a pair

These are full size, all wool plaid blankets in black and white and red and black.

Extra value at $3.50 a pair, the price whittled down for this sale to ..... $2.69 a pair

If they are not worth $3.50 to you don't buy them.

$4.00 Plaid Blankets for..... $3.25 a pair

$5.00 Plaid Blankets for..... $4.00 a pair

$5.00 All Wool White Blankets for..... $3.75 a pair

$6.00 All Wool White Blankets for..... $5.00 a pair

$7.50 All Wool White Blankets for..... $6.50 a pair

$9.00 All Wool Whlte Blankets for..... $7.75 a pair

COMFORTS.

All $1.00 Comforts for..... 80c each

All $1.25 Comforts for..... $1.00 each

All $1.50 Comforts for..... $1.20 each

All $1.75 Comforts for..... $1.35 each

All $2.00 Comforts for..... $1.50 each

All $2.50 Comforts for..... $2.00 each

All $3.00 Comforts for..... $2.50 each

All $3.50 Comforts for..... $2.75 each

All $4.00 Comforts for..... $3.25 each

$7.50 Down Comforts for..... $6.50 each

$8.50 Down Comforts for..... $7.00 each

1/4 Off this week on all Mackintoshes and Rainy Day Skirts; also on all Umbrellas, Ladies' and Gents',

From $2 to $7.50 Each.

Clearance Sales now going on in Dress Goods, Silks, all Ready to Wear Garments, Lace Curtains, Draperies, Hosiery, Underwear, Laces, Embroideries, and Muslin Underwear.

At $1.50 Each. Your choice this week of all our $2.50, $2.25 and $2 Ladies' Fleece Lined Wrappers for Only $1.50 Each

At $2.00 Each. A lot of very fine Wrappers sold at $3.50, $4.00 and $4.50, to close out this week, we name the small figure of $2.50 for Each.

X Special at Half Price.

A lot of Portieres to close out at

Half Price.

Come and Bring Your Friends to the

January Clearance Sale at

X Special at $5 Each.

A lot of Ladies' Tailor Made Suits $10, $12.50 and $15 values at only

$5.00 Each.

THE BOSTON STORE

A. S. YOUNG, Fifth and Market.

NOW IS MRS. VANDERBILT.

Miss Elsie French United In Marriage to Alfred G. Vanderbilt—Revs. Beatty and Morgan Officiated.

Newport, R. I., Jan. 15.—Miss Elsie French, a Newport girl and former playmate of the bridegroom, the daughter of Mrs. Frederick Orme French, a resident of the city for many years, and Alfred Gwynn Vanderbilt, probably the most wealthy of the third generation of the Vanderbilt family, were married here. The sun shone brightly.

The ceremony took place in the Zabriski Memorial church of St. John the Evangelist, far up in the old north part of the city, on the very shores of Narragansett bay, once the center of Newport's fashion, but now far removed from the social whirl of Bellevue avenue. Miss French made the choice of her own place of worship and her own home for the scene of her marriage, instead of selecting the more pretentious but less familiar surroundings which would have been found in New York.

As the tones of the "Lohengrin" march breathed softly forth, the two clergymen, the Rev. George F. Beatty, rector of the church, and the Rev. G. Brindley Morgan, rector of Christ church at New Haven, entered from the side door, followed by the bridegroom and his brother, Reginald Vanderbilt, the best man. At the same time the bridal procession started up the main aisle, the ushers leading, followed by the four bridesmaids. Eight personal friends of the bridegroom acted as ushers. They were Messrs. Worthington Fitzhugh Whitehouse, Frederick Martin Davies, Robert Livingstone Gerry, Ord Preston, Ernest Iselin, William P. Boarden, Potter Palmer, Jr., and W. Bayard Cutting, Jr.

MRS. ALFRED G. VANDERBILT.

The bridesmaids were: Miss Pauline French, the bride's niece; Miss Elsa Bronson, daughter of the late Frederick Bronson; Miss Isabel C. Stillman, daughter of Mr. James Stillman, of New York, who shortly will become the bride of Percy Avery Rockefeller, and Miss Edith Gray, daughter of Judge Gray, of Albany. The maid of honor was Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, sister of the bridegroom.

Some distance behind walked the bride, leaning on the arm of her brother, Amos Tuck French. The bride's gown was of rich ivory white satin, the skirt having a train more than three yards in length. The long, close-fitting sleeves of satin were finished with deep cuffs of exquisite lace. The high collar of the corsage was of lace. The bottom of the skirt around the long train was trimmed with tulle and sprays of orange blossoms. The bridal veil, entirely covering the gown and falling to the end of the train, was a magnificent piece of Brussels point lace and was the same veil worn by her sister when she married General Eaton in England about ten years ago. The bride carried a boquent of white orchids and lillies of the valley. No jewels were worn.

At the altar Mr. Vanderbilt met his bride. Together they stood before the steps of the chancel until Dr. Morgan had finished reading the betrothal portion of the service, when they ascended into the chancel, and at the altar Dr. Beatty completed the ceremony and pronounced them husband and wife. The Mendelssohn wedding march was played as the wedding procession moved down the aisle and out of the church. The ceremony occupied seven minutes.

At "Harborview," the residence of Mrs. French, the bride and groom received.

At the conclusion of the wedding breakfast a number of toasts were drunk to the health and happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt. The bridal pair left later on their honeymoon trip.

In the billiard room were displayed an elaborate and costly store of wedding gifts.

HIGH GRADE

Decorator's Pencils,
All Artist's Supplies,
Water Colors,
Oil Colors,
Crayons,
Pastells,
AT

BULGER'S PHARMACY.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

A. M. Black, salesman for a Pittsburg grocery house, is in the city today.

Charles Walker is confined to his home on Fifth street with an attack of grip.

Trades Council will hold a regular session tomorrow evening and transact routine business.

Miss Nellie Porter is ill at her home on Seventh street with an attack of grip.

Mrs. Bratt is recovering from an attack of pleurisy. The lady is now able to sit up.

Walter, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Adams, is very ill at their home on Monroe street.

Plans are already being formulated in the city for a first-class base ball club for next season.

Howard Williams, of Fifth street, is able to be up after an illness of two weeks with malaria fever.

There are no new developments in the Christie inquest, and it is probable the matter has ended.

Harry Haden is very seriously ill in a hospital at Pittsburg, and it is feared he will not recover.

A number of the sidewalks in the city could stand a good dose of water, as they are extremely dirty.

The William Brunt Pottery company expect to resume operations tomorrow after a shutdown of several weeks.

Baggage Agent George B. Smith, of the Cleveland & Pittsburg passenger station, was off duty today on account of illness.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Thomas Anderson were held this afternoon at her late home on Walnut street.

Miss Minnie Haden, of Fourth street, who has been very ill for some time with an attack of typhoid fever, is slowly recoving.

George, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webster, who has been very ill at their home on Broadway, is slowly improving.

Mrs. George Heisler, who has been confined to her home on Sixth street for the past week with an attack of the grip, is able to be out.

The streets in the suburban districts of this city are a mass of mud, and many complaints are heard from the residents who would like to have cinder walks.

In the case of Will Timmons versus Contractor Robert Gravatt, Squire McLane rendered judgment for the full amount, $36 and costs, and costs that may occur.

There is a great deal of sickness among the school children of the city, and in some of the rooms not more than half the regular number of scholars are present.

The remains of Edgar Megalley were this morning taken to Salineville, where services were held in the Catholic church and interment was made in St. Patrick's cemetery.

A basket ball game will be played at the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Friday evening between the local team and the Tigers of Pittsburg. The latter is one of the strongest teams in this section and a good game is looked for.

THE BOSTON STORE.

X Special at Half Price.

A lot of Framed Pictures, very desirable subjects black frames—to close out at

Half Price.

Clearance Sale . . . —OF—

X Special at 50c a yard.

Choice of all our Fancy Taffeta Silks that formerly sold at $1, $1.25 and $1.50 a yard, for

Only 50c yd.

BLANKETS AND COMFORTS.

This sale comes in just right for the weather, and affords an opportunity to buy a seasonable article at considerable saving.

BLANKETS.

65c and 59c Cotton Blankets at..... 50c a pair

These are full size, all wool plaid blankets in black and white and red and black.

Extra value at $3.50 a pair, the price whittled down for this sale to..... $2.69 a pair

If they are not worth $3.50 to you don't buy them.

$4.00 Plaid Blankets for..... $3.25 a pair

$5.00 Plaid Blankets for..... $4.00 a pair

$5.00 All Wool White Blankets for..... $3.75 a pair

$6.00 All Wool White Blankets for..... $5.00 a pair

$7.50 All Wool White Blankets for..... $6.50 a pair

$9.00 All Wool Whlte Blankets for..... $7.75 a pair

COMFORTS.

All $1.00 Comforts for..... 80c each

All $1.25 Comforts for..... $1.00 each

All $1.50 Comforts for..... $1.20 each

All $1.75 Comforts for..... $1.35 each

All $2.00 Comforts for..... $1.50 each

All $2.50 Comforts for..... $2.00 each

All $3.00 Comforts for..... $2.50 each

All $3.50 Comforts for..... $2.75 each

All $4.00 Comforts for..... $3.25 each

$7.50 Down Comforts for..... $6.50 each

$8.50 Down Comforts for..... $7.00 each

1/4 Off this week on all Mackintoshes and Rainy Day Skirts; also on all Umbrellas, Ladies' and Gents',

From $2 to $7.50 Each.

Clearance Sales now going on in Dress Goods, Silks, all Ready to Wear Garments, Lace Curtains, Draperies, Hosiery, Underwear, Laces, Embroideries, and Muslin Underwear.

At $1.50 Each. Your choice this week of all our $2.50, $2.25 and $2 Ladies' Fleece Lined Wrappers for Only $1.50 Each

At $2.00 Each. A lot of very fine Wrappers sold at $3.50, $4.00 and $4.50, to close out this week, we name the small figure of $2.50 for Each.

X Special at Half Price.

A lot of Portieres to close out at

Half Price.

Come and Bring Your Friends to the

January Clearance Sale at

X Special at $5 Each.

A lot of Ladies' Tailor Made Suits $10, $12.50 and $15 values at only

$5.00 Each.

THE BOSTON STORE

A. S. YOUNG, Fifth and Market.

NOW IS MRS. VANDERBILT.

Miss Elsie French United In Marriage to Alfred G. Vanderbilt—Revs. Beatty and Morgan Officiated.

Newport, R. I., Jan. 15.—Miss Elsie French, a Newport girl and former playmate of the bridegroom, the daughter of Mrs. Frederick Orme French, a resident of the city for many years, and Alfred Gwynn Vanderbilt, probably the most wealthy of the third generation of the Vanderbilt family, were married here. The sun shone brightly.

The ceremony took place in the Zabriski Memorial church of St. John the Evangelist, far up in the old north part of the city, on the very shores of Narragansett Bay, once the center of Newport's fashion, but now far removed from the social whirl of Bellevue avenue. Miss French made the choice of her own place of worship and her own home for the scene of her marriage, instead of selecting the more pretentious but less familiar surroundings which would have been found in New York.

As the tones of the "Lohengrin" march breathed softly forth, the two clergymen, the Rev. George F. Beatty, rector of the church, and the Rev. G. Brindley Morgan, rector of Christ church at New Haven, entered from the side door, followed by the bridegroom and his brother, Reginald Vanderbilt, the best man. At the same time the bridal procession started up the main aisle, the ushers leading, followed by the four bridesmaids. Eight personal friends of the bridegroom acted as ushers. They were Messrs. Worthington Fitzhugh Whitehouse, Frederick Martin Davies, Robert Livingstone Gerry, Ord Preston, Ernest Iselin, William P. Boarden, Potter Palmer, Jr., and W. Bayard Cutting, Jr.

MRS. ALFRED G. VANDERBILT.

The bridesmaids were: Miss Pauline French, the bride's niece; Miss Elsa Bronson, daughter of the late Frederick Bronson; Miss Isabel C. Stillman, daughter of Mr. James Stillman, of New York, who shortly will become the bride of Percy Avery Rockefeller, and Miss Edith Gray, daughter of Judge Gray, of Albany. The maid of honor was Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, sister of the bridegroom.

Some distance behind walked the bride, leaning on the arm of her brother, Amos Tuck French. The bride's gown was of rich ivory white satin, the skirt having a train more than three yards in length. The long, close-fitting sleeves of satin were finished with deep cuffs of exquisite lace. The high collar of the corsage was of lace. The bottom of the skirt around the long train was trimmed with tulle and sprays of orange blossoms. The bridal veil, entirely covering the gown and falling to the end of the train, was a magnificent piece of Brussels point lace and was the same veil worn by her sister when she married General Eaton in England about ten years ago. The bride carried a boquent of white orchids and lillies of the valley. No jewels were worn.

At the altar Mr. Vanderbilt met his bride. Together they stood before the steps of the chancel until Dr. Morgan had finished reading the betrothal portion of the service, when they ascended into the chancel, and at the altar Dr. Beatty completed the ceremony and pronounced them husband and wife. The Mendelssohn wedding march was played as the wedding procession moved down the aisle and out of the church. The ceremony occupied seven minutes.

At "Harborview," the residence of Mrs. French, the bride and groom received.

At the conclusion of the wedding breakfast a number of toasts were drunk to the health and happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt. The bridal pair left later on their honeymoon trip.

In the billiard room were displayed an elaborate and costly store of wedding gifts.

HIGH GRADE

Decorator's Pencils,
All Artist's Supplies,
Water Colors,
Oil Colors,
Crayons,
Pastells,
AT

BULGER'S PHARMACY.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

A. M. Black, salesman for a Pittsburg grocery house, is in the city today.

Charles Walker is confined to his home on Fifth street with an attack of grip.

Trades Council will hold a regular session tomorrow evening and transact routine business.

Miss Nellie Porter is ill at her home on Seventh street with an attack of grip.

Mrs. Bratt is recovering from an attack of pleurisy. The lady is now able to sit up.

Walter, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Adams, is very ill at their home on Monroe street.

Plans are already being formulated in the city for a first-class base ball club for next season.

Howard Williams, of Fifth street, is able to be up after an illness of two weeks with malaria fever.

There are no new developments in the Christie inquest, and it is probable the matter has ended.

Harry Haden is very seriously ill in a hospital at Pittsburg, and it is feared he will not recover.

A number of the sidewalks in the city could stand a good dose of water, as they are extremely dirty.

The William Brunt Pottery company expect to resume operations tomorrow after a shutdown of several weeks.

Baggage Agent George B. Smith, of the Cleveland & Pittsburg passenger station, was off duty today on account of illness.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Thomas Anderson were held this afternoon at her late home on Walnut street.

Miss Minnie Haden, of Fourth street, who has been very ill for some time with an attack of typhoid fever, is slowly recoving.

George, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webster, who has been very ill at their home on Broadway, is slowly improving.

Mrs. George Heisler, who has been confined to her home on Sixth street for the past week with an attack of the grip, is able to be out.

The streets in the suburban districts of this city are a mass of mud, and many complaints are heard from the residents who would like to have cinder walks.

In the case of Will Timmons versus Contractor Robert Gravatt, Squire McLane rendered judgment for the full amount, $36 and costs, and costs that may occur.

There is a great deal of sickness among the school children of the city, and in some of the rooms not more than half the regular number of scholars are present.

The remains of Edgar Megalley were this morning taken to Salineville, where services were held in the Catholic church and interment was made in St. Patrick's cemetery.

A basket ball game will be played at the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Friday evening between the local team and the Tigers of Pittsburg. The latter is one of the strongest teams in this section and a good game is looked for.

THE BOSTON STORE.

X Special at Half Price.

A lot of Framed Pictures, very desirable subjects black frames—to close out at

Half Price.

Clearance Sale . . . OF

X Special at 50c a yard.

Choice of all our Fancy Taffeta Silks that formerly sold at $1, $1.25 and $1.50 a yard, for

Only 50c yd.

BLANKETS AND COMFORTS.

This sale comes in just right for the weather, and affords an opportunity to buy a seasonable article at considerable saving.

BLANKETS.

65c and 59c Cotton Blankets at..... 50c a pair

These are full size, all wool plaid blankets in black and white and red and black.

Extra value at $3.50 a pair, the price whittled down for this sale to ..... $2.69 a pair

If they are not worth $3.50 to you don't buy them.

$4.00 Plaid Blankets for..... $3.25 a pair

$5.00 Plaid Blankets for..... $4.00 a pair

$5.00 All Wool White Blankets for..... $3.75 a pair

$6.00 All Wool White Blankets for..... $5.00 a pair

$7.50 All Wool White Blankets for..... $6.50 a pair

$9.00 All Wool Whlte Blankets for..... $7.75 a pair

COMFORTS.

All $1.00 Comforts for..... 80c each

All $1.25 Comforts for..... $1.00 each

All $1.50 Comforts for..... $1.20 each

All $1.75 Comforts for..... $1.35 each

All $2.00 Comforts for..... $1.50 each

All $2.50 Comforts for..... $2.00 each

All $3.00 Comforts for..... $2.50 each

All $3.50 Comforts for..... $2.75 each

All $4.00 Comforts for..... $3.25 each

$7.50 Down Comforts for..... $6.50 each

$8.50 Down Comforts for..... $7.00 each

1/4 Off this week on all Mackintoshes and Rainy Day Skirts; also on all Umbrellas, Ladies' and Gents',

1/4 From $2 to $7.50 Each.

Clearance Sales now going on in Dress Goods, Silks, all Ready to Wear Garments, Lace Curtains, Draperies, Hosiery, Underwear, Laces, Embroideries, and Muslin Underwear.

At $1.50 Each. Your choice this week of all our $2.50, $2.25 and $2 Ladies' Fleece Lined Wrappers for Only $1.50 Each

At $2.00 Each. A lot of very fine Wrappers sold at $3.50, $4.00 and $4.50, to close out this week, we name the small figure of $2.50 for Each.

X Special at Half Price.

A lot of Portieres to close out at

Half Price.

Come and Bring Your Friends to the

January Clearance Sale at

X Special at $5 Each.

A lot of Ladies' Tailor Made Suits $10, $12.50 and $15 values at only

$5.00 Each.

THE BOSTON STORE

A. S. YOUNG, Fifth and Market.

NOW IS MRS. VANDERBILT.

Miss Elsie French United In Marriage to Alfred G. Vanderbilt—Revs. Beatty and Morgan Officiated.

Newport, R. I., Jan. 15.—Miss Elsie French, a Newport girl and former playmate of the bridegroom, the daughter of Mrs. Frederick Orme French, a resident of the city for many years, and Alfred Gwynn Vanderbilt, probably the most wealthy of the third generation of the Vanderbilt family, were married here. The sun shone brightly.

The ceremony took place in the Zabriski Memorial church of St. John the Evangelist, far up in the old north part of the city, on the very shores of Narragansett bay, once the center of Newport's fashion, but now far removed from the social whirl of Bellevue avenue. Miss French made the choice of her own place of worship and her own home for the scene of her marriage, instead of selecting the more pretentious but less familiar surroundings which would have been found in New York.

As the tones of the "Lohengrin" march breathed softly forth, the two clergymen, the Rev. George F. Beatty, rector of the church, and the Rev. G. Brindley Morgan, rector of Christ church at New Haven, entered from the side door, followed by the bridegroom and his brother, Reginald Vanderbilt, the best man. At the same time the bridal procession started up the main aisle, the ushers leading, followed by the four bridesmaids. Eight personal friends of the bridegroom acted as ushers. They were Messrs. Worthington Fitzhugh Whitehouse, Frederick Martin Davies, Robert Livingstone Gerry, Ord Preston, Ernest Iselin, William P. Boarden, Potter Palmer, Jr., and W. Bayard Cutting, Jr.

MRS. ALFRED G. VANDERBILT.

The bridesmaids were: Miss Pauline French, the bride's niece; Miss Elsa Bronson, daughter of the late Frederick Bronson; Miss Isabel C. Stillman, daughter of Mr. James Stillman, of New York, who shortly will become the bride of Percy Avery Rockefeller, and Miss Edith Gray, daughter of Judge Gray, of Albany. The maid of honor was Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, sister of the bridegroom.

Some distance behind walked the bride, leaning on the arm of her brother, Amos Tuck French. The bride's gown was of rich ivory white satin, the skirt having a train more than three yards in length. The long, close-fitting sleeves of satin were finished with deep cuffs of exquisite lace. The high collar of the corsage was of lace. The bottom of the skirt around the long train was trimmed with tulle and sprays of orange blossoms. The bridal veil, entirely covering the gown and falling to the end of the train, was a magnificent piece of Brussels point lace and was the same veil worn by her sister when she married General Eaton in England about ten years ago. The bride carried a boquent of white orchids and lillies of the valley. No jewels were worn.

At the altar Mr. Vanderbilt met his bride. Together they stood before the steps of the chancel until Dr. Morgan had finished reading the betrothal portion of the service, when they ascended into the chancel, and at the altar Dr. Beatty completed the ceremony and pronounced them husband and wife. The Mendelssohn wedding march was played as the wedding procession moved down the aisle and out of the church. The ceremony occupied seven minutes.

At "Harborview," the residence of Mrs. French, the bride and groom received.

At the conclusion of the wedding breakfast a number of toasts were drunk to the health and happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt. The bridal pair left later on their honeymoon trip.

In the billiard room were displayed an elaborate and costly store of wedding gifts.

THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

16TH YEAR. NO. 185. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1901. TWO CENTS

DIRTY DEVILTRY BY SO-CALLED

Union Men In This City Who Are Basely Misrepresenting Trades' Council.

THE TYPOGRAPHICAL LABEL

Of No. 318 Has Been Declared by Unanimous Note of Our Trades' Council.

ALL THAT IS NECESSARY TO USE

In the year 1898, the Labor day picnic committee, backed by Trades Council, decided that the labels of both Typographical union and the Pressmen's union must appear on the printing matter issued by the picnic committee. William Cornelius was at that time in charge of the press room of the News Review. The owner of this paper was then in the Philippines, carrying Old Glory. A short time previously the bitter enemies of the News Review had concocted a scheme to advance wages and make an effort to kill the paper during the owner's absence. This move was adopted, but a true and tried and trusted union employe checkmated the move with a measure permitted by the Typographical union and rendered abortive the plot hatched by the tricksters.

Mrs. Palmer, in charge of the paper, was notified in 1898 that she could not bid on the Labor day job work unless she could make use of the Pressmen's label. As per the new plot by the man or men engineering this feature, this would necessitate Mrs. Palmer employing another pressman, with an additional expenditure of $14.00 per week. She earnestly protested against this outrage, declaring that it would ruin her from a financial standpoint.

Unknown to her, a champion appeared in the ranks of Trades Council, he asserting that the matter bore the ear marks of discrimination and injustice against the News Review; that it was a shame to spring such a thing against Captain Palmer when he was doing duty in the service of his country. There are lots of good men and true in our Trades Council, and this statement met with their hearty approval, and the committee gave instructions that Mrs. Palmer could bid on the job work for the Labor day picnic, and in case she was the fortunate bidder, she could send out for any pressman, have him affix the Pressmen's label, in company with the Typographical label, and matters would be all right.

Now note the villainy and skullduggery of the matter. Mrs. Palmer was never notified of this action on the part of the committee or council, and she was left under the impression that she was compelled to put in another man regularly, at $14 a week, which she did, against her most earnest protest, and that $14 a week, afterwards increased to $15 per week, has been going on ever since.

As soon as Captain Palmer came home from Manila, he took measures to curtail expenses, and made open proclamation that there were but two full union offices in East Liverpool, those of the two daily papers, the captain being determined to reach for every penny that the two labels entitled him to.

This stirred up a hornet's nest, as the plotters had been caught in their own trap, and candidates for office dare not get their tickets printed at the other offices, and lots of union printing left them. How the plotters howled and kicked and protested and finally called upon Trades Council for relief, with the following result and decision by Trades Council, which stands as law today, and which concisely and decisively declares that the use of the Typographical union label of No. 318 covers the full work and makes all job work turned out in this city the full product of union labor. Further, for the benefit of our friends, and the public in general, and all candidates for political office, there is no Pressmen's union in this city. Read the action of our Trades Council, the controlling and deciding body:

"E. B. Orr, from Typographical union No. 318, referred to an item which had recently been published in a local paper asserting that by the action of Trades and Labor Council only the printing matter from the offices of the two daily papers of the city could be considered the product of union labor. This apprehension seemed to have grown from the fact that the Labor day picnic committee, a year or two ago, supported by Trades Council, required that labels of both Typographical union and the Pressmen's union appear on the printing matter issued by the picnic committee. Some contention has since ensued as to whether that regulation was to be continuous in its application. By a unanimous vote it was resolved at this meeting that "Trades and Labor Council wish it understood that we never took action" to the effect that there were "but two union printing offices in East Liverpool," and that "a job of printing bearing the label of Typographical union No. 318, of this city, be recognized to be the product of union labor."

We will make further exposure of trickery and chicanery in a future issue. We have absolute proof of very dirty work on the part of men who should hang their heads in very shame, did they possess the shadow of honor or makeup in their composition.

NOMINATED OFFICERS.

WAREHOUSEMEN HELD A MEETING LAST NIGHT.

The Election Will Take Place in Just Two Weeks.

Local union No. 48, warehousemen, held their regular meeting last night at Odd Fellows hall and nominated th following officers:

For president, Fred Johnson, Joseph Cordingley, Lawrence White; vice president, W. W. Powell, Collin McLane; for recording secretary, J. G. Pittinger; assistant financial secretary, E. Wallover, George Baum; treasurer, T. O. Terrance, Charles Hanes; statistician, Roy Alley, Scott Campbell, Samuel Pollock; inspector, R. Neville; inside guard, Carl Weaver, Alfred Oppell; trustee, W. W. Powell.

The organization will hold their election in two weeks.

ONE DRUNK.

Ed Joyce Was Arrested on Sixth Street Last Evening by Fireman Wood.

Ed Joyce was drunk and disorderly on Sixth street last night and he was placed under arrest by Fireman Wood and taken to city hall.

When he faced the mayor this morning he pleaded not guilty to the charge and unless he changes his plea will be given a trial tomorrow morning.

DUNK PICKERING TAKEN IN CUSTODY

He Falls a Victim to the Virgilance of Chief Thompson and Was TAKEN TO THE CITY HALL

Where He Was Wanted For Assisting In Stealing a Firkin of Butter.

GAVE SECURITY FOR HIS FINE

Dunk Pickering, who has been wanted by the police for over three months, was arrested at his home, near Boyce foundry, yesterday by Chief Thompson and Officer Aufderheide.

It will be remembered that Pickering several months ago, in company with Buck Dobbins, stole a firkin of butter belonging to F. E. Oyster,

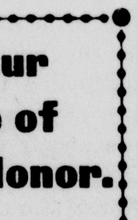

This is our Badge of Honor.

Tested for lo these many years.

UNION LABEL

Backed by the International Typographical Union.

which was put off a street car on Second street. Dobbins was arrested and was sentenced to the Canton work house, while Pickering shook the dust of the city from his feet.

Yesterday Chief Thompson learned that he was in town and in company with Officer Aufderheide went to his home. The chief went to the rear, while the officer stood guard over the front of the house. Chief Thompson knocked at the door and when it was opened he espied Pickering sitting in the room, who said: "Do you want me?" and when informed that he did, said he thought some of the officers would be after him soon.

He accompanied the officers to city hall, where he was given a hearing and pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs.

Pickering put up security for his fine and was released.

PROBATE COURT NEWS.

A Number of Matters That Judge Boone Has Acted Upon.

Lisbon, Jan. 16.—(Special.)—No will was found in the estate of the late Jonathan Harris, of Salem township, and Anthony M. Fisher was appointed administrator, with $600 bond. John Moore, Franklin Harris and Henry Garrigues were appointed appraisers.

James W. Kerr having failed to qualify as trustee under the will of the late Dora M. Kerr, of Wellsville, A. G. Smith was appointed with $4,000 bond.

Grove W. Anthony, as administrator of the estate of the late Hannah Rutledge, was authorized to sell 32 acres of land in Hanover township at private sale.

William G. Steele, the assignee of William Steele, has presented a claim against the estate in the sum of $480, alleged to be due for his services.

NON-UNION MEN.

TWO BEAVER FALLS MOTORMEN ASKED FOR POSITIONS.

They Made Two or Three Trips And Then Returned to Their Homes.

In the early part of the week two non-union street railway men from Beaver Falls applied for positions on the East Liverpool street railway.

Superintendent Wescott put them on the cars with two motormen to learn the road. The motormen refused to teach them, and after making two or three trips the Beaver Falls motormen returned to their homes.

OUR DEATH RATE.

FOR THE YEAR JUST ENDED WILL BE 12.3 PER CENT.

That is What the Annual Report of Health Officer Ogden Will Show It.

When the annual report of Health Officer Ogden is presented to the board of health it will show that the death rate of the city for the year just ended will be 12.3 per cent.

APPEALED A CASE.

A Suit in Which Liverpool Parties are Interested Taken to Common Pleas.

Lisbon, Jan. 16.—(Special.)—The suit recently instituted by D. E. McNicol and W. L. and C. A. Smith against the Pennsylvania company in a Wellsville court has been appealed here.

The property sought to be replevined is paper and music racks, etc., which, it is claimed, was wrongfully detained by the defendants.

BENJAMIN CHAPIN.

The Entertainment Given Last Night Was a Splendid One.

Benjamin Chapin, dramatic interpreter, at the opera house last night, proved to be one of the best numbers of the high school lecture course. Too much cannot be said of his ability.

CONDUCTOR MORGAN

Who Was in the Street Car Wreck, is Now Able to be Out.

Conductor Morgan, who was so seriously injured in the Calcutta street car wreck, was able to be out yesterday.

He is walking with the aid of crutches.

THEY ARE WAITING.

A Number of Persons in the County Jail Waiting on the Grand Jury.

Lisbon, Jan. 16.—(Special.)—There are now 10 prisoners in the county jail, nine of whom are awaiting the action of the January term of the grand jury.

LIGHT BILL IS STILL UNSETTLED

The Committee Had a Meeting With Anderson Last Night but Arrived At

NO DEFINITE CONCLUSION

Committee Offered to Pay the Company the Sum of $500 For Last Month.

A MEETING NEXT MONDAY NIGHT

Members McLane and Heddleston, of the light committee of council, met last evening at city hall with George O. Anderson, of the Ceramic City Light company, to see if they could not come to some agreement in regard to the bill of the light company, which was referred to the committee at the last meeting of council.

The original bill of the company amounted to over $600, but after a deduction for outage had been made it came to $591 16.

The light committee agreed to pay the company an even $500 and wanted the $91 16 deducted on account of the lights not being up to the contract in regard to candle power.

This tender brought out the fact that there was in existence a contract between the light company and the Manhattan company, of Newark, in which the latter company agrees to furnish the Ceramic City Light company lights with 450 watts, which produces 2,000 candle power.

The fact that the Manhattan company had recalled Expert Davis was also discussed. Expert Davis has been here for several weeks.

The tender of $500 was refused and the meeting adjourned without any conclusion being reached. Another session will be held next Monday evening when Anderson will produce a contract between the local and Manhattan company to prove that the lights received by the city are 2,000 candle power.

A DAMAGE SUIT

From This City Will Be Heard in the Common Pleas Court.

Lisbon, Jan. 16.—Special.)—The case of George Wilshaw, George Hughes and John Roberts versus Ellen O'Connor, has been appealed to common pleas court.

The case was tried in Rose's court, East Liverpool, where judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiffs for $52.

The suit was brought to recover damages in the sum of $200.

THE USUAL RESULT.

Insanity of a Columbiana Man Said to be Due to the Use of Intoxicants.

Lisbon, Jan. 16.—(Special.)—A. H. Porter, of Columbiana, was adjudged to be insane at his home last evening and will be taken to the asylum at Massillon.

Porter is 48 years of age and his condition is said to be due to the excessive use of intoxicants. He has been insane the last month.

Has a Severe Cold.

Rev. A. T. Steele, pastor of the New Brighton M. P. church, is ill with a severe cold.

HIGH GRADE

Decorator's Pencils,
All Artist's Supplies,
Water Colors,
Oil Colors,
Crayons,
Pastels,
AT

BULGER'S PHARMACY.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

A. M. Black, salesman for a Pittsburg grocery house, is in the city today.

Charles Walker is confined to his home on Fifth street with an attack of grip.

Trades Council will hold a regular session tomorrow evening and transact routine business.

Miss Nellie Porter is ill at her home on Seventh street with an attack of grip.

Mrs. Bratt is recovering from an attack of pleurisy. The lady is now able to sit up.

Walter, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Adams, is very ill at their home on Monroe street.

Plans are already being formulated in the city for a first-class base ball club for next season.

Howard Williams, of Fifth street, is able to be up after an illness of two weeks with malaria fever.

There are no new developments in the Christie inquest, and it is probable the matter has ended.

Harry Haden is very seriously ill in a hospital at Pittsburg, and it is feared he will not recover.

A number of the sidewalks in the city could stand a good dose of water, as they are extremely dirty.

The William Brunt Pottery company expect to resume operations tomorrow after a shutdown of several weeks.

Baggage Agent George B. Smith, of the Cleveland & Pittsburg passenger station, was off duty today on account of illness.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Thomas Anderson were held this afternoon at her late home on Walnut street.

Miss Minnie Haden, of Fourth street, who has been very ill for some time with an attack of typhoid fever, is slowly recoving.

George, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webster, who has been very ill at their home on Broadway, is slowly improving.

Mrs. George Heisler, who has been confined to her home on Sixth street for the past week with an attack of the grip, is able to be out.

The streets in the suburban districts of this city are a mass of mud, and many complaints are heard from the residents who would like to have cinder walks.

In the case of Will Timmons versus Contractor Robert Gravatt, Squire McLane rendered judgment for the full amount, $36 and costs, and costs that may occur.

There is a great deal of sickness among the school children of the city, and in some of the rooms not more than half the regular number of scholars are present.

The remains of Edgar Megalley were this morning taken to Salineville, where services were held in the Catholic church and interment was made in St. Patrick's cemetery.

A basket ball game will be played at the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Friday evening between the local team and the Tigers of Pittsburg. The latter is one of the strongest teams in this section and a good game is looked for.

THE BOSTON STORE.

X Special at Half Price.

A lot of Framed Pictures, very desirable subjects black frames—to close out at

Half Price.

Clearance Sale . . .
—OF—

X Special at 50c a yard.

Choice of all our Fancy Taffeta Silks that formerly sold at $1, $1.25 and $1.50 a yard, for

Only 50c yd.

BLANKETS AND COMFORTS.

This sale comes in just right for the weather, and affords an opportunity to buy a seasonable article at considerable saving.

BLANKETS.

65c and 59c Cotton Blankets at..... 50c a pair

These are full size, all wool plaid blankets in black and white and red and black.

Extra value at $3.50 a pair, the price whittled down for this sale to ..... $2.69 a pair

If they are not worth $3.50 to you don't buy them.

$4.00 Plaid Blankets for..... $3.25 a pair

$5.00 Plaid Blankets for..... $4.00 a pair

$5.00 All Wool White Blankets for..... $3.75 a pair

$6.00 All Wool White Blankets for..... $5.00 a pair

$7.50 All Wool White Blankets for..... $6.50 a pair

$9.00 All Wool Whlte Blankets for..... $7.75 a pair

COMFORTS.

All $1.00 Comforts for..... 80c each

All $1.25 Comforts for..... $1.00 each

All $1.50 Comforts for..... $1.20 each

All $1.75 Comforts for..... $1.35 each

All $2.00 Comforts for..... $1.50 each

All $2.50 Comforts for..... $2.00 each

All $3.00 Comforts for..... $2.50 each

All $3.50 Comforts for..... $2.75 each

All $4.00 Comforts for..... $3.25 each

$7.50 Down Comforts for..... $6.50 each

$8.50 Down Comforts for..... $7.00 each

1/4 Off this week on all Mackintoshes and Rainy Day Skirts; also on all Umbrellas, Ladies' and Gents',

From $2 to $7.50 Each.

Clearance Sales now going on in Dress Goods, Silks, all Ready to Wear Garments, Lace Curtains, Draperies, Hosiery, Underwear, Laces, Embroideries, and Muslin Underwear.

At $1.50 Each. | Your choice this week of all our $2.50, $2.25 and $2 Ladies' Fleece Lined Wrappers for Only $1.50 Each

At $2.00 Each. | A lot of very fine Wrappers sold at $3.50, $4.00 and $4.50, to close out this week, we name the small figure of $2.50 for Each.

X Special at Half Price.

A lot of Portieres to close out at

Half Price.

Come and Bring Your Friends to the

January Clearance Sale at

X Special at $5 Each.

A lot of Ladies' Tailor Made Suits $10, $12.50 and $15 values at only

$5.00 Each.

THE BOSTON STORE

A. S. YOUNG, Fifth and Market.

NOW IS MRS. VANDERBILT.

Miss Elsie French United In Marriage to Alfred G. Vanderbilt—Revs. Beatty and Morgan Officiated.

Newport, R. I., Jan. 15.—Miss Elsie French, a Newport girl and former playmate of the bridegroom, the daughter of Mrs. Frederick Orme French, a resident of the city for many years, and Alfred Gwynn Vanderbilt, probably the most wealthy of the third generation of the Vanderbilt family, were married here. The sun shone brightly.

The ceremony took place in the Zabriski Memorial church of St. John the Evangelist, far up in the old north part of the city, on the very shores of Narragansett bay, once the center of Newport's fashion, but now far removed from the social whirl of Bellevue avenue. Miss French made the choice of her own place of worship and her own home for the scene of her marriage, instead of selecting the more pretentious but less familiar surroundings which would have been found in New York.

As the tones of the "Lohengrin" march breathed softly forth, the two clergymen, the Rev. George F. Beatty, rector of the church, and the Rev. G. Brindley Morgan, rector of Christ church at New Haven, entered from the side door, followed by the bridegroom and his brother, Reginald Vanderbilt, the best man. At the same time the bridal procession started up the main aisle, the ushers leading, followed by the four bridesmaids. Eight personal friends of the bridegroom acted as ushers. They were Messrs. Worthington Fitzhugh Whitehouse, Frederick Martin Davies, Robert Livingstone Gerry, Ord Preston, Ernest Iselin, William P. Boarden, Potter Palmer, Jr., and W. Bayard Cutting, Jr.

MRS. ALFRED G. VANDERBILT.

The bridesmaids were: Miss Pauline French, the bride's niece; Miss Elsa Bronson, daughter of the late Frederick Bronson; Miss Isabel C. Stillman, daughter of Mr. James Stillman, of New York, who shortly will become the bride of Percy Avery Rockefeller, and Miss Edith Gray, daughter of Judge Gray, of Albany. The maid of honor was Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, sister of the bridegroom.

Some distance behind walked the bride, leaning on the arm of her brother, Amos Tuck French. The bride's gown was of rich ivory white satin, the skirt having a train more than three yards in length. The long, close-fitting sleeves of satin were finished with deep cuffs of exquisite lace. The high collar of the corsage was of lace. The bottom of the skirt around the long train was trimmed with tulle and sprays of orange blossoms. The bridal veil, entirely covering the gown and falling to the end of the train, was a magnificent piece of Brussels point lace and was the same veil worn by her sister when she married General Eaton in England about ten years ago. The bride carried a boquent of white orchids and lillies of the valley. No jewels were worn.

At the altar Mr. Vanderbilt met his bride. Together they stood before the steps of the chancel until Dr. Morgan had finished reading the betrothal portion of the service, when they ascended into the chancel, and at the altar Dr. Beatty completed the ceremony and pronounced them husband and wife. The Mendelssohn wedding march was played as the wedding procession moved down the aisle and out of the church. The ceremony occupied seven minutes.

At "Harborview," the residence of Mrs. French, the bride and groom received.

At the conclusion of the wedding breakfast a number of toasts were drunk to the health and happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt. The bridal pair left later on their honeymoon trip.

In the billiard room were displayed an elaborate and costly store of wedding gifts.

THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

16TH YEAR. NO. 184. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1901. TWO CENTS

THE REESE SIDE OF THAT STORY

Mother Objects to Her Daughter Working at a Saloon and For That Reason

WANTED HER AT HOME

She Went to the Anderson House After the Girl but She Hid.

ATTORNEY HAS BEEN ENGAGED

Several days ago a local paper printed a pitiful story in regard to Retta Reese, who is at present working at the Anderson House on Walnut street.

According to the story told the little girl had been subjected to much cruelty and Humane Officer Miller was asked to take a hand in the matter.

James Reese, the father of the girl, who works in a clay bank at Walker's, accompanied by his wife and the blind girl mentioned in the article called at this office today and asked that the impresseion given out be corrected.

Mrs. Reese stated that one day she sent her daughter to a West End grocery for some articles and that she ran away and came to this city and secured employment at the Anderson House. She afterwards came home and told her mother where she had secured employment and stated that the saloon run by Anderson was across the street from the building in which she was working. When her mother came to the city and found that her daughter was working for parties who conducted a saloon she told her that must come home. She didn't accede to her mother's wish and on Saturday evening the mother again came to the city and told her daughter that she must go home with her and that Mrs. Anderson was not her guardian. A man came in for his supper and the girl went to wait on him. Mrs. Reese waited for some time and then Mrs. Anderson went to the dining room and returned with the information that Retta had departed. The mother went to the office of Squire McLane, told him the story and was told to go and get her child. She returned to the Anderson House the same evening, but the girl was not to be found.

The blind girl, who is but 16 years old, said she had never gone to the Anderson House and demanded her sister's wages.

In regard to the gash in the side of Retta, which was shown Miller, the mother stated that she was quarreling with her sister just seven years ago and in running with the scissors in her hand she fell and inflicted the gash.

The mother also stated that Retta was well clad when she left home and had disposed of her clothing since she left home.

The father has employed an attorney, and this evening it is expected the girl will be returned to her parents.

NOT A CASE.

The Last Case of Contagious Disease in the City Was Discharged Today.

Sanitary Officer Burgess today lifted the quarantine at the home of John Bailey, whose wife has been ill with an attack of diphtheria.

This was the only case of contagious disease in the city and the health authorities will use every effort to prevent it getting another start. This city has been unusually fortunate in the small number of cases this fall.

OVERCOME BY HEAT.

A HOT KILN TOO MUCH FOR CHARLES STRAUSS.

He Was Taken in a Carriage to His Home on Second Street.

Charles Strauss was overcome by heat at the China works yesterday afternoon at 2:30, and is today in a very bad condition.

The young man is a kilndrawer and was engaged at that occupation when taken ill. The kiln was very hot, and the whole crew had performed a vast amount of work during the early part of the day.

Strauss was taken to his home at the foot of Second street in a carriage and medical aid summoned. He is resting comparatively easy today.

THE M. P. REVIVAL.

More Enthusiasm And Zeal Manifested Than at a Any Previous Meeting.

There was more enthusiasm and zeal apparent in the revival meetings in the Methodist Protestant church last night than at any previous meeting since the beginning of the revival. This was shown in various ways by the spontaniety of every thing that was done, the vigorous singing, the voluntary, earnest, importunate prayers and the personal work of the members. This latter feature is the most hopeful one yet.

Rev. W. A. Curfman was present and took part in the meetings, expressing himself as delighted with the prospect.

The pastor, Rev. Gladden, took his text in Romans 8:31, "If God be for us, who can be against us?" and he showed the many invincible auxiliaries of the Christian church, urging still more aggressive activities.

The meeting tonight is at 8 o'clock. All are cordially invited.

SUSPECT MURDER.

Coal Miners at Wellsville Don't Think Yates And Son Burned to Death.

The coal miners who are employed in the banks along McQueen's Run, in the neighborhood where John Yates and son George were burned to death in their cabin recently, are of the opinion that they were murdered and their cabin set on fire to destroy traces.

The miners have no evidence that the men were killed and the cabin set on fire. They think that had the men been sleeping when the fire broke out the smoke would have aroused them and they would have had no trouble in getting out of the burning building. It is because the miners cannot explain the death of the men on any other theory but one of murder that they think there was foul work done on the lonely run the night of the fire.

ARRIVED AT NOON.

Superintendent M. M. Southworth And Wife, of Fairmount Home, Are Here.

Superintendent M. M. Southworth and wife, of the Fairmount Children's Home, arrived in the city at noon today. They brought with them a child which will be placed here.

THE SMALL BOYS WILL HAVE TO QUIT

The Practice of Crying the Sale of Sunday Papers on the Streets.

THEY DISTURB THE SABBATH

Mayor Davidson Is In Earnest About the Matter and Arrests May Follow.

DEALERS WERE ALSO NOTIFIED

The practice of small boys crying the sale of Sunday papers has become a condemned nuisance in this city, and the fact that the habit has grown worse within the last few weeks has caused the authorities to resolve that it must be stopped at once.

Mayor Davidson asserts that he has on several occasions notified the agents of the different papers delivered here on Sunday that the boys must refrain from yelling on the streets, especially in the proximity of several churches of the city, but so far it seems they have paid little or no attention to the warning.

The Pittsburg papers arrive on the train between 9 and 10 o'clock, and from that time until almost 2 o'clock the streets are filled with small boys. No attention whatever is paid to the fact that church services are in progress about that time and it would seem that they yell the loudest at the very places they should not, and the result is they have annoyed the various down town church organizations a great deal.

Then when the New York Sunday papers arrive there is another din which lasts for almost three hours, between 5 and 8 o'clock. This is also just in time to annoy the church people, and the local authorities have determined to put a stop to it once and for all. Mayor Davidson asserts that he has become weary of the nuisance and will stop it.

This is our Badge of Honor.

Tested for lo these many years.

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION LABEL

Backed by the International Typographical Union.

ENORMOUS

Has Been the Money Paid Out in Sebring During the Last Six Months.

During the past six months and since the Sebring pottery was first started there has been paid out for labor the enormous sum of $300,000. This includes the street and pottery pay. Besides this vast amount there has been paid out many thousands of dollars to mechanics, who have been engaged upon buildings which have been erected in the embryo city.

AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH.

The Revival Meeting Last Night Was an Inspiring Service.

The revival service held last evening at the First M. E. church was largely attended and the meeting was a glorious one, and throughout the church the spirit of the gospel was manifest. Much interest was displayed and it was an inspiring meeting.

The pastor, Dr. Crawford, delivered an eloquent sermon from Heb. 2:3, taking as his subject, "The Great Salvation."

HOT WATER.

This Young Man Will Explain When He Makes Any More Gifts of Art Ware.

A young man who resides in this city purchased a handsome piece of Oakwood ware and sent it to his best girl, who resides in Lisbon. The young lady was not up in art ware and poured hot water in it, with the result that the bottom dropped out.

The young man is now figuring whether he can stand the price of another piece of art ware to replace it.

IT IS SLOW.

Business at Police Court Continues to be Unusually Dull.

If business at police court don't pick up pretty soon, Mayor Davidson will decide the city has no need of a chief magistrate. There was not an arrest made last evening.

Chief Thompson has received no further word in regard to the man held at Altoona, who is supposed to be Milton Drew, wanted in this city for larceny.

SIDEWALKS.

Council Will Take Action And See That Some of Them Are Relaid.

When spring arrives it is probable council will take some action in regard to the many sidewalks in the city that need relaying.

The property owners will be notified to relay them or the city will do the work and charge the expenses up to them on the tax duplicate.

THE CASES

Against Contractor Robert Gravatt Were Heard Last Evening by Squire McCarrorn.

The cases of the Riverview Land company for $100 and J. W. Gipner for $88 against Contractor Robert Gravatt were heard last evening by Squire McCarron. By mutual consent the cases were both heard at the same time and judgment for the full amount was rendered in both cases.

A NICE GIFT.

Ladies of the Maccabees Present Mrs. Bostock With a Beautiful Walnut Secretary.

The Ladies of the Golden Rod Hive No. 20, of L. O. T. M., at their meeting last night, presented Mrs. James Bostock with a beautiful walnut secretary as their appreciation of her work as record keeper during the past term.

—George F. Brunt was a Pittsburg visitor yesterday.

MAY BUILT A ROW OF FLATS

It Is Stated That Professor Thompson Is Seriously Considering the Plan.

ONE FINE BUSINESS BLOCK

Will Be Erected on Washington Street and May Be Occupied By A

A NEW FURNITURE HOUSE

While it is not known definitely how Prof. W. L. Thompson will improve the land he purchased on Washington and Fifth streets, it is said he contemplates building an apartment and business house.

From a thoroughly reliable source it is learned that the professor is seriously thinking of putting up a business block on the Washington street side of his lot, extending it back to the alley in an L shape and making a splendid business room. It is said the room will be occupied by a new furniture house when it is finished.

On the Fifth street side of the lot it is stated he will build a splendid row of flats, up to date in every particular, and something the city has long needed.

A RUNOFF.

George Brunt's Fast Horse Made Time Down Fifth Street Today.

George F. Brunt's fast horse ran away on Fifth street and was stopped in the old cemetery just in time to save it from going over the bank.

Mr. Brunt's driver was holding the reins when the animal made the burst of speed.

Hoopes Has Retired.

Infirmary Director S. T. Hoopes, who for a number of years has faithfully served the county, has completed his term and retired from office. Thomas Kelley, who was the successful candidate at the last election, has taken his place.

PERSONAL NEWS

Paragraphs About People Coming And Going And Those Who Are Sick.

—John Weaver left this morning for Minerva.

—John McKinney was a Pittsburg visitor yesterday and today.

—Harry Horwell was in Beaver Falls yesterday on business.

—J. H. Mackall left this morning for Ada, O., to attend the college at that place.

—R. C. Miller left yesterday afternoon for a week's visit in western Pennsylvania.

—Mr.and Mrs. Joseph Smith returned home this morning after a visit at Steubenville.

—Miss Anna Irwin, of Morristown, O., is in the city the guest of Mrs. W. R. Clark, Sixth street.

—Mrs. George Blake returned to her home in Columbus yesterday afternoon after a visit in this city.

—Mrs. James Logan, of Sixth street, left this morning for a visit at East Palestine with her son Robert.

—Frank Ikirt returned to Cleveland yesterday to resume his studies in a college after a visit in this city.

25th Anniversary of Electoral College.

Ohio State Journal.

The final meeting of the Ohio electoral college yesterday and the casting of the 23 votes of Ohio for McKinley and Roosevelt has caused considerable discussion of the possibilities of the electoral machinery, and much comment among the members of the college as to what might happen if President McKinley might die before his inauguration.

Mr. Hane, of the Thirteenth district, during the course of a talk on the subject in the lobby of the Niel house yesterday, asked this question, and his colleagues who heard the inquiry were unable to answer it. Elaborate as the machinery for the election of a president is, it does not contemplate or supply an alternative for the situation that would arise in case of the death of the president-elect. In all probability, Vice President-elect Roosevelt would be held to be the successor of Mr. McKinley on March 4. But as the law now stands this would be an act of interpretation, and not by direction of any law of the land. There is no provision in the constitution or in any law of congress to cover the death of a president-elect or a vice president-elect. The constitution says:

"In case of the removal of the president from office, or of his death, resignation or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve upon the vice president."

Of course, if Mr. McKinley should die before March 4, he would not be president on that date and the constitution vacancy could not exist. All the same there would be a vacancy, and good constitutional lawyers say the only course to pursue would be to have Roosevelt qualify as vice president and then inaugurate him as president.

If President McKinley should die before March 4 Secretary Hay would act as president until March 4, and in the contingency of his being incapacitated for the duty, Secretary Gage and the other members of the cabinet in the order of the seniority of their departments would serve. The law provides amply for the succession until March 4.

Formerly the succession fell to the speaker of the house of representatives, in case there was no vice president, and after him the president pro tem of the senate. This at one time following the death of Vice President Hendricks proved a too precarious arrangement, and the Hoar plan was made a law.

The Ohio electoral college, in session in this city yesterday was the 25th in the history of the state—the silver wedding anniversary, so to speak. Beginning in 1804, when the three electors cast their vote for Thomas Jefferson, and coming down the line until the present time, there have been some pretty big men in the story of the state and the nation who have been the members of the Ohio electoral college. The list embraces one president (William Henry Harrison, who in 1820 voted for James Monroe and in 1824 for Henry Clay), several United States senators, members of the United States supreme court, members of congress, governors and other leading men in the state. Governors Nathaniel Massie, Jeremiah Morrow, Thomas Corwin, Robert Lucas, Mordecai Bartley, Ethan Allen Brown and David Tod served as members of the Ohio electoral college (Tod voting for Grant in 1868).

In the list of Ohio's representative men who have been members of the college since the organization of the state are such leaders as Nathaniel Massie, Jeremiah Morrow, William Henry Harrison, Ethan Allen Brown, Robert Lucas, Thomas L. Hamer, Jeremiah McLean, Moredcai Bartley, William C. Kirker, Benjamin Ruggles, Samuel F. Vinton, Thomas Corwin, Peter Hitchcock, Bellamy Storer, G. Volney Dorsey, LeGrand Byington, Washington McLean, Hugh J. Jewett, J. B. Stallo, Frederick Hasaurek, Benjamin Eggleston, Hezekiah Bundy, James R. Stanbery, Stanley Matthews, Mills Gardner, Samuel Galloway, A. G. McBurney, John C. Lee, Alphonso Hart, Charles H. Grosvenor, Aaron F. Perry, John W. Herron, Benjamin F. Wade, James M. Comly, Lorenzo Danford and a host of others who have a high place in the hearts of Ohioans and have held positions of honor and trust at the hands of their fellow citizens.

Beginning with 1804, when the three electors (William Goforth, James Pritchard and Nathaniel Massie) voted for Thomas Jefferson, the record discloses some interesting features. In 1808 there were still but three electors and they voted for James Madison. In 1812 there were eight, and they assisted in the re-election of James Madison. In 1816 there were eight, and they voted for Monroe. In 1820 the number was the same, and they again voted for Monroe. In 1824 the number was increased to 16, and Henry Clay got the vote. In 1828 the 16 Ohio votes went to Andrew Jackson, and in 1832 Jackson got the 21 votes of Ohio. In 1836 and 1840 the 21 votes were cast for William Henry Harrison. In 1844 Henry Clay got the 23 votes, in 1848 the state was carried by Lewis Cass, in 1852 by Franklin Pierce, in 1856 by John C. Fremont, in 1860 and 1864 by Lincoln, in 1868 and 1872 for Grant, in 1876 for Rutherford B. Hayes, in 1880 for James A. Garfield, in 1884 for James G. Blaine, in 1888 for Benjamin Harrison, in 1892, 22 votes were cast in the college for Benjamin Harrison and one (James P. Seward, of the 14th district) for Grover Cleveland, the first time in the history of the state the college has been split.

The present electorate college that yesterday completed the work of honoring Ohio's great son, William McKinley, is composed of representative Republicans, well known throughout the state. But one of the 23 has ever seen service before on the college—Myron T. Herrick, one of the electors at large, who, in 1892, shared with the late Hon. Lorenzo Danford the honor of being an elector-at-large and voting for Harrison. William Woodbury, of the Twelth district, has the honor of being the youngest man who ever served in the position, being but 23 years of age.

HE WAS SAD.

The Absence of Little Virgil Halstead Caused a School Boy to Shed Tears.

When little Virgil Halstead ran away a few days ago her parents were not the only sad people she left in the city. In one of the rooms at the Central building is a 13-year-old boy who is much smitten with Virgil, and the day she was gone his teacher had her troubles, as the youngster spent the entire day crying. He is now once more in a happy frame of mind.

On the River.

The river started to fall yesterday and the marks at the wharf this morning registered 13 feet and falling.

Advantage was taken of the rise and during yesterday and today a large amount of coal passed this port.

The Ben Hur passed down last night and the Kanawha is due down tonight. The Queen City landed at this port this morning from Cincinnati and brought a large shipment of straw to the city.

A MESSAGE FOR YOUR PASTOR--CARRY IT TO HIM.

OUR PLAN FOR INDIA ORPHAN ADOPTION.

Between now and January 31, 1901, for the purpose of adopting all the famine orphans now in the hands of our American missionaries in India—who should be supplied with the necessary funds for the support of these orphans, and not be compelled to divert missionary funds for that purpose—we call upon every church in the United States, of whatever denomination, to adopt one single orphan, to be trained in a mission of their own selection. And we appeal to the reader of this announcement to present it to the pastor of the church to which he belongs, and to urge upon him compliance with the foregoing request. Should it be impracticable for any church to undertake the support of one orphan, at the rate of five cents a day, the members of the Sunday school, or the Young People's Society might be induced to assume the obligation. In its first issue in March next, the Christian Herald will publish the names of every church, Young People's Society, Sunday school and Foreign Missionary Society which, responding to this call, has undertaken the support of at least one orphan. We hope that every denomination will be largely represented in this monumental Christian charity, which is the crown of glory of the closing nineteenth century.

It Costs Only $15 a Year to Support One Orphan

If you succeed in getting an orphan adopted by church, Sunday school or society,

Take a Postal Card and Write as Follows

and mail it to the India Orphan Department, Christian Herald, Bible House, New York.

The.....will assume the support of One Orphan for One Year at the rate of $15 a year.

[Church, Society or Sunday School, as the case may be]

.....
[Name and address of the Writer]

Mention Denominational preference.

Sympathy With Quay.

Pittsburg Commercial.

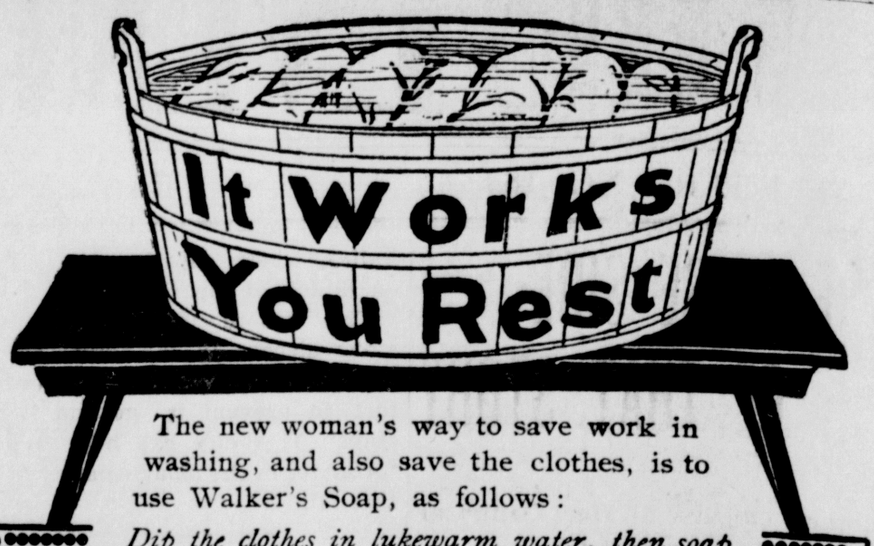

Congressman R. W. Tayler, of the Eighteenth Ohio district, was a passenger for Washington last night. He said the sympathy of the lower house of congress was with Colonel Quay, and that the majority is gratified over the good prospects of his election.

Left for St. Augustine.

Mr. and Mrs. George Peach and H. S. Rinehart made up a party which left this morning for St. Augustine, Florida.

Mr. Peach has been ill for some time and goes to that place in the hope of benefiting his health. The party may remain at that place until April.

—Harry Davis left yesterday afternoon for a visit with his mother at Sebring.

The new woman's way to save work in washing, and also save the clothes, is to use Walker's Soap, as follows:

Dip the clothes in lukewarm water, then soap each piece thoroughly, roll in a tight roll, place in a tub and cover with lukewarm water, allowing them to remain half an hour. During this time the soap will do its work. Then wring out, rinse out and hang out to dry.

WALKER'S SOAP

Is a good soap. Contains no alkali

That is why clothes washed with it last longest. Look for the Game Rooster trademark.

A DAY IN WALL STREET.

Some Notable Advances Scored In Steel Group—Renewed Weakness Among Railroads and Specialties.

New York, Jan. 15.—In the stock market Monday there were some notable advances scored in the steel group and with renewed weakness among the railroads and specialties, some of the latter two classes selling at the lowest on the last sales. There were points of strength during the day in the railroad list and among quite a number of the stocks not usually conspicuous in the trading. The Eries had a notable recovery from early weakness, the first preferred getting 2% above Saturday. The southwestern group showed signs of strength, and St. Louis Southwestern preferred got a point above Saturday at one time. Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis stocks rose 3 and 3¼ respectively for the common and preferred. The National Salt stocks gained 2 and 2⅜ respectively and Lead preferred recovered 5 points of its recent heavy decline. American Tobacco was 2½ points over Saturday at the highest. But these points of strength were the exceptions in the market, although they had an effect in rallying other stocks and in largely reducing the average losses. The market gave unmistakable evidence of a decline in the speculative furore and a disposition to revise the more sanguine estimates of the high price already attained for many stocks and those expected for others. St. Paul was forced at one time below 153, which was 4⅝ below Saturday, and closed with a net loss of 3¼. The other grangers were weak, apparently in sympathy. The local traction stocks relapsed sharply after the buoyant movement of Saturday, and Manhattan closed weak at the lowest after a midday rally at a net loss of 2⅝. The Pacifics were vigorously sold, but Missouri Pacific showed a good recovery. At one time the majority of the active stocks in the list were from 1 to over 2 points below Saturday.

The railroad bond market was weak in sympathy with stocks. Total sales, par value $2,870,000.

United States bonds were all unchanged on the last call.

ROBERT PITCAIRN CHOSEN.

He Is to Carry the Pennsylvania Returns to Washington.

Harrisburg, Jan. 15.—The Pennsylvania electoral college met here and counted the vote for president and vice president. Robert Pitcairn, of Pittsburg, was selected to deliver the returns to the president of the United States. Four years ago this honor was given to William Witherow, of Pittsburg.

All the 32 electors were present except Frank H. Buhl, of Mercer. He was ill and requested that Calvin W. Ray be substituted. The college elected him. The meeting was held in the senate chamber and the galleries were filled with people.

Ex-Mayor Edwin S. Stuart, of Philadelphia, was elected president. Deputy Secretary of the Commonwealth Lewis Beitler was chosen secretary. Robert Pitcairn was made chairman of the committee that notified the governor that the college was ready for business. D. R. Greenwood will carry the returns to Judge McPherson, of the Eastern district court in Philadelphia, and J. L. Hower is the messenger who will see that the third package is mailed at the Harrisburg postoffice.

Two Would-Be Bank Robbers Caught.

Cumberland, Md., Jan. 15.—Two of the men implicated in the attempted bank robbery here early Sunday morning were arrested at Keyser, W. Va., by a United States postoffice inspector, the sheriff of Mineral county and a constable. They are Alonzo Evy, of Keyser and a man giving the name of Thomas Moore. A third man named McNamar eluded capture. Partial identification has been made of the prisoners.

Decided Neely Can Be Extradited.

Washington, Jan. 16.—The United States Supreme court decided that Neely, the Cuban postoffice embezzler, could be extradited.

A NEW CRUSADE TO PROTECT NATIVE RACES.

By Rev. Wilbur F. Crafts.

A movement is getting momentum which aims at nothing less than the protection of native races the world over against intoxicants and opium. It is by no means chimerical for the great nations of the world have already marked two stages in this direction.

In 1890-92, sixteen great nations made a treaty to suppress in the Congo region the traffic in slaves, spirituous liquors and firearms. It is abundantly shown by many letters of missionaries that this "zone de prohibition," as it is called on official maps, greatly benefited by this treaty. It was supplemented in 1899 by another treaty extending the protection thus afforded to native races, so far as intoxicants are concerned to a much larger region of Africa, from 20 degrees north latitude to 22 degrees south, and from sea to sea. The treaty was prepared by a great official temperance convention of nations in June, 1899, and provides for raising the tax on spirituous liquors from about ten cents a gallon to about fifty-two, which is considered prohibition for the poor natives. Whether adequate or not the treaty is a step in the right direction, the most advanced step taken in the international restriction of the liquor traffic, begun in 1892.

In an official letter to the Reform Bubeau, Washington, D. C., from the department of foreign affairs of the Congo Free State, dated October 20, 1900, the following are named as the governments that had ratified the international treaty of 1899: Germany, Belgium, Spain, Congo Free State, French Republic, Great Britain, Italy, Holland, Portugal, Russia, Sweden and Norway, Turkey.

Our own government is the only one of first rank that has not ratified. As in 1890-92, the Moslems and the monarchies have gone before us.

Let every Christian man (and woman) in the United States to whom this word comes stop right here and write brief, courteous letters to both of the senators from his state, unless he can call upon one or both of them —if with a deputation so much the better—urging that the United States shall at once ratify the treaty.

It would be sufficient to say: "Hon. ———, Dear Sir: We hope you will do your utmost to secure the ratification by the senate at an early day of the pending treaty for the restriction of the liquor traffic in Africa."

If every one to whom this message will come will devote four minutes and four cents to these two letters to their senators, the ratification will surely be secured, and millions of our brothers in Africa will be saved from the destruction of body and soul.

Since the foregoing was written new encouragement to write and work for this result has come in that the president has in his message advised not only the ratification of this treaty, but the world-wide protection of all native races against intoxicants by other treaties, and the senate committee on foreign affairs, after a hearing secured by the Reform Bureau, had reported in favor of ratification. In writing your senator we suggest that you not only urge ratification, but also the adoption of a "sider," a resolution in favor of the universal protection of native races, such as Senator Lodge has introduced. Telegrams and deputations are even better than petitions and letters.

Representative Gillet, of Massachusetts, has introduced a bill in the house which follows in its wording a treaty submitted by Great Britain to several nations in 1884, and repeatedly since, which is said to have been favorably considered by Frelinghuysen, Foster and Hay and the presidents under whom they served. As it will take a long time to consummate the treaty, it is proposed to follow British precedent and forbid American merchants to sell fire arms, opium and liquors in many of the islands of the Pacific that are under the protectorate of any civilized power. There is assurance that Germany and France will also follow English precedent if we do.

This is the law that the venerable Dr. John G. Paton has twice come to this country to secure and for which thousands of Americans have petitioned.

ANNUAL PRAISE SERVICE

Will be Held at the Second Presbyterian Church Thursday Evening, January 31.

The Woman's Missionary society of the Second Presbyterian church will hold its annual praise service on the evening of Thursday, January 31, upon which occasion Miss Charlotte E. Hawes will deliver the address. Miss Hawes had an experience in connection with the Boxer raids in China last summer which was tragic. She was doing work as a Presbyterian missionary at Wei Hien. It was at this station that Rev. Frank Chalfant made his gallant defense of the ladies of the mission station, and from which all escaped without harm, but with great difficulty. Miss Hawes holds her audiences spellbound until the close of her address, in which she graphically relates the particulars of the siege of Wei Hien and the escape of the missionaries.

SURPRISED HER.

A Pleasant Party Held Last Evening at the Home of Miss Mary Farmer.

A surprise party was held on Miss Mary Farmer at her home on Sixth street last evening, the occasion being the young lady's birthday.

About 30 of her young friends were present and a very enjoyable time is reported. Miss Farmer was the recipient of several handsome and useful presents.

CROSS EXAMINATION

Will Only Strengthen the Testimony of East Liverpool Citizens.

The testimony which follows will stand the test of closest investigation. Cross-examination of such evidence will only strengthen it. Proof of this nature is plentiful in East Liverpool, and the most skeptical can hardly doubt the claims made for "the Little Conqueror" when placed face to face with the public utterances of friends, neighbors and loyal citizens. Read the experience given below, it may save you many hours of future trouble:

Mr. Charles Smith, of 198 Fourth street, letter carrier, says: "I contracted cold which settled in my kidneys and caused such severe pains across the small of my back that I could scarcely get around my trip. I thought it would wear off, but as it did not but got worse I got Doan's Kidney Pills at the W. & W. pharmacy and took them. The result was that the pain soon left me and I was all right again."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

DELGADO A PRISONER

Rebel Commander of Iloilo Province Surrenders.

RELIGIOUS TEACHING IS DESIRED.

The Philippine Commissioners Unanimous In Believing That the People Want It. Military Men at Manila Were More Hopeful of the Situation.

Washington, Jan. 15.—General MacArthur reported the surrender of Delgado, commander-in-chief of Iloilo province, Panay. He also reported that other important surrenders are expected during the next few days.

Manila, Jan. 15.—Optimism is taking the place of conservatism among the military men here, the cause being the numerous surrenders, captures and destruction of insurgent camps, coupled with the increasing understanding of the Americans' intentions among the natives, the propagation of the principles of the Federal party, and the knowledge that they are approved by the United States Philippine commission and the military authorities, and that the carrying out of the terms of General MacArthur's proclamation, classing all who do things inimical to the interests of the army as rebels and traitors, are having pointed effect, with the offering of local autonomy and protection, and showing the certainty of the punishment of those who remain rebellious.

The Phillippine commissioners were unanimously of the belief that a great majority of thePhillipinno people desired religious teachings in the public schools. They held that the purpose of thebill, for public education, would be partially defeated, unless the childrenof Catholics were permitted to attend the public schools.

The cutting of communications and supplies has destroyed the remnants of the insurgents' organization. The inhabitants of the towns are disinclined to any longer contribute secretly to a hopeless cause, and it is generally believed that the pacification of a sufficient number of provinces to inaugurate a general scheme of provincial government would be accomplished before many more weeks have elapsed. The most pronounced resistance at present is in remote Southern Luzon, Northern Mindanao, Cebu and Bohol.

The first batch of 30 leading insurrectionists who have been ordered to be deported to the island of Guam sail on the transport Rosecrans.

General Wheaton reports that 53 armed bolomen have surrendered at Beguet.

Sixteen of Geronimo's band were captured Sunday night and brought to Montalban.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Secretary Root said that all the Filipino insurgent leaders deported to Guam would be placed in the custody of the naval forces in control of that island, who would be responsible for their control and safe keeping. He said he had no idea of the number of such prisoners, but did not believe it was large enough to necessitate any increase in the naval force for guard or other duty in connection with their captivity.

CADETS VIOLATE RULES.

A Witness So Admitted—Three of the Congressmen Figuratively Handled Cadet Brown Roughly.

West Point, Jan. 15.—The congressional investigating committee held three sessions at the West Point military academy. The first two sessions and the greater part of the night session were occupied in the examination of Cadet Lewis Brown, Jr., of Newport, R. I., who was one of Cadet Keller's seconds in his fight with Booz.

From the line of examination adopted by the cimmittee, the congressmen are evidently bent on the abolition of hazing and fighting at the academy. They put Brown through an exhaustive examination, in the course of which they elicited the fact that in violation of the rules and regulations of the institution, the upper class men carry intoxicating liquor into the reservation and consume quite a considerable quantity of it.

Another stringent rule seems to have been broken with impunity. This is the regulation prohibiting smoking. Cadet Brown acknowledged that the majority of the cadets were cigarette smokers and that plenty of cigaretts were smuggled into the institution.

General Dick, Judge Smith and Mr. Driggs handled Brown without gloves. Mr. Driggs told him that the first class men thought they were the whole thing. Judge Smith asked him if he did not think that they were conceited, arogant and ignorant in their presumption in setting their judgment against that of the authorities of the academy, but the witness did not see it in that light.

Cadet Joseph F. Barnes, of the District of Columbia, another of Keller's seconds, was the only other witness called.

Washington, Jan. 15.—Colonel Mills, superintendent of the West Point military academy, was before the senate committee on military affairs, which is considering the military academy bill. Colonel Mills told the committee he felt sure that hazing was on the decrease and finally would be stamped out. He was ready to co-operate or receive any suggestion from congress, but expressed the opinion that legislation was unnecessary.

Aid for the Lame

Every rheumatic sufferer may choose a cane or a cure. Tongaline is the cure. It heals lameness, limbers stiffened muscles, soothes pain—cures the disease.

Tongaline
TRADE MARK

is also a cure for neuralgia, sciatica and lumbago. Doctors prescribe it. Druggists recommend and sell it.

Write for the Tongaline book.

MELLIER DRUG COMPANY, St. Louis.

Easy.

Benham—There isn't room here to swing a cat.

Mrs. Benham—Then we won't have a cat.—Brooklyn Life.

Nerve Slavery.

It is present-day conditions—heaping burdens of work upon the nervous system that tells the story—premature breaking up of health.

It tells why so many men and women, who so far as age in years is concerned, should be in the prime of health, find themselves letting go of the strength, the power, the vitality they once possessed. It is because that great motor power of the body, nerve force, is impaired. Every organ depends upon its controlling power just as much as the engine depends upon the steam to put it into action. An engine won't go without steam. Neither will the heart, the brain, the liver, the kidneys, the stomach act right without their proper nerve force supply. Let any organ be lacking in this essential and troubles begin—some of them are:

Throbbing, palpitating heart.
Sleepless nights.
Sudden startings.
Morning languor.
Brain fag.
Inability to work or think.
Exhaustion on exertion.
Flagging appetite.
Digestion slow.
Food heavy.
Easily excited, nervous, irritable.
Strength fails.
Loss of flesh and muscular power.
Settled melancholia.
Utter despondency.

A picture, hideous, but easily changed to one of brightness by use of Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills. They build up the nerves and supply nerve force.

The above is the genuine package of Dr A. W. Chase's Nerve Pills, are sold by dealers or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Company, Buffalo, N. Y. Price 50 cents.

WOODBURY CHOSEN MESSENGER.

He Is to Carry the Ohio Voted to Washington.

Columbus, O., Jan. 15.—The Ohio electors met here and cast their 21 votes for McKinley and Roosevelt. William B. Woodbury, of Cleveland, was selected messenger to carry the vote to Washington.

For a Successor to Wolcott.

Denver, Jan. 15.—The caucus of the fusion members of the legislature last night nominated Thomas M. Patterson, of Denver, for the United States senate to succeed Senator E. O. Wolcott. He received 73 out of 91 votes in the caucus.

Phelps' Bydy Interred at Arlington.

Washington, Jan. 15.—The remains of the late Rear Admiral Thomas F. Phelps, retired, were interred at Arlington national cemetery, with honors accorded officers of his rank.

WANTED.

WANTED—Two or three apprentice girls for ladies' tailoring department. Apply to East Liverpool Tailoring and Clothing company, 224 Washington street.

FOR RENT.

FOR SALE—Lot 30x130 and three room house in the best of condition located on Fourth street, near Monroe. Price, $1,800. Apply to J. P. Hanlon, 315 Lincoln avenue.

MUSIC STORE.

We Sell

BRIGGS PIANOS.

We Sell

PHONOGRAPHS

SMITH and PHILLIPS.

THE NEWS REVIEW

LEADING DAILY OF COLUMBIANA COUNTY

Published Daily Except Sunday by
THE NEWS REVIEW COMPANY,
HARRY PALMER,
Manager and Proprietor.
[Entered as second-class matter at the East Liverpool, Ohio, postoffice.]

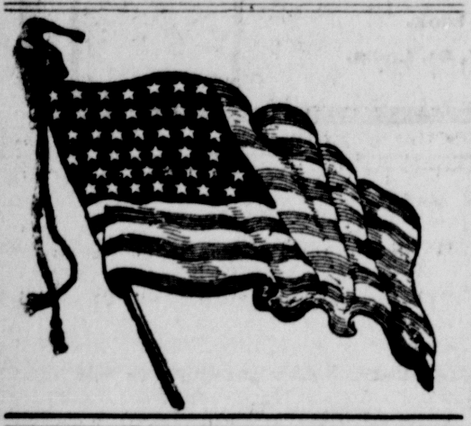

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
(Postage free in United States and Canada.)

One year in advance	$5 00
Three months	1 25
By the week	10

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION LABEL

TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1901.

ARC LIGHTS.

It was very dark this morning. The writer noted two arc lights embraced in the blackness of darkness—one at the corner of Forest and Walnut streets and the other at the corner of Broadway and Fourth. The first named has not been burning during the last two nights. The matter should be remedied at once. Outage does not satisfy, nor give light to pedestrians. Turn on the lights.

THE SALOON MUST GO.

Christian manhood is asserting itself all over this nation. The saloon and its advocates are being properly classed, and the classing is not much to the liking of the men who have, for a matter of sordid gain, so many dollars and cents, resolved to destroy their fellow men, body and soul; yea, deliberately ruin their neighbors, for time and for eternity. The liquor traffic is an infamous curse, hated by God and all good men and women, and it ought to die.

A NOTABLE GATHERING.

Seven different denominations participated in a union communion service on Sunday afternoon last, at the Old Stone church, Cleveland. Ministers and members were present from the Lutheran, Disciple, Reformed, Methodist, Presbyterian, Congregational and United Evangelical churches, and participated in the services. Surely the Christian men and women of the nation are putting away sectarian prejudice in this glorious opening of the twentieth century.

TO TRUE UNIONISTS.

We defy any organization belonging to the craft known as newspaper, job or pressmen's unions, or any person or persons, members thereof, to show where the News Review office has, in any manner or form, disobeyed the rules governing said unions. The management of this office stands ready to conform to any legal rules at a moment's notice—the same rules as govern all union offices of the craft in this city. We have truth, and right, and power, and unionism back of us, and a full and free investigation, such as the international craft will order, will place some so-called union officials in an extremely unfavorable light. In the meantime permit us to say that we glory in the fact— defying successful contradiction—that The News Review office is a full union office, from center to circumference, and that any official of either the Typographical or pressmen's union making an assertion to the contrary is guilty of wicked and premeditated falsehood.

INJUSTICE.

An individual whom we have been given to understand is hand in glove with the liquor and saloon element of this city, made the statement a few evenings since, in the presence of a group of sober union workmen, that an editorial had appeared in this paper lately in which the writer, the editor of the News Review, had condemned all unions and unionism in general, and all union labels, and the use thereof. The poor creature made a laughing stock of himself, as he was talking in the presence of men who read this paper every day; men who are our warm personal friends, and who have knowledge of our union sentiments, based on principle, and carried into life and practice ever since we closed the days of our apprenticeship on the Pittsburg Evening Chronicle, the predecessor of the Chronicle-Telegraph of the present day. Surely the contemptible boodlers, back by their delectable friends and coworkers in villainy and falsehood, the saloon fraternity and liquor league, are terribly stirred up against the manager of the News Review. Well, from their standpoint, the poor creatures have full cause for hatred, as we have seriously interefered with their peculiar and unsavory methods of robbing their fellow creatures. And we further note that the new importation on the Police Gazette has been drafted into the service of his special co-workers and friends. Birds of a feather.

THE CLEVELAND LEADER.

The Cleveland Leader is considered the best and brightest paper on the exchange list of the News Review. In an editorial in this paper on Saturday last, we warmly commended the Leader for the stand it has taken against the army canteen, the un-American saloon and the liquor traffic in general. And now we ask the owners and operators of this strong and splendidly edited sheet to go a step further, and to bar from its columns every liquor advertisement which is offered to it. The News Review is but a small sheet, of limited power and influence; but, by the blessing of the Master, and trusting in His power to sustain and deliver in every emergency, this paper has for years absolutely refused to allow a liquor advertisement to enter its columns, at any price, and we have been offered our own price in case we would consent to receive and publish liquor advertisements. Further, for years the job plant owned and operated by the writer has refused to make estimates upon or receive any job work in which liquor advertisements were to appear, and we have been compelled to turn away many orders for job work in consequence. But, thank God, we have maintained our own Christian self-respect and manhood, and handled no money stained with the taint of widows' tears or orphans' cries; money gained through the deliberate destruction of the bodies and souls of our fellow men. And, thank God, we have been nobly helped and sustained, in the hour of emergency and trial, by Christian ministers and Christian men and women of the city of East Liverpool, influenced, we verily believe, by Him who hath said: "I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee." And His promises are never broken. Throw out the advertisements of the Rum Devil, proprietors and manager of the Cleveland Leader, and other great journals may be constrained to follow your example, and the dawn of a brighter and a better day may thus open up in this great nation, a country freed from the blighting curse of the Rum Demon.

THANK YOU, MAYOR.

Mayor Davidson deserves warm commendation for his order that the Sunday papers brought to this city shall not be "cried" by the newsies on Sabbath, day or night. These newsies have made themselves very objectionable to church goers by this "crying" process on Sunday, some of the youngsters becoming so bold as to cry their wares on the very steps at the church doors, thrusting their papers into the very faces of the members of the congregation as they emerge from God's house of worship. Mayor Davidson will accept the thanks of numerous Christians in East Liverpool for his order respecting this matter; an order which will no doubt be obeyed, as our chief magistrate has the happy faculty of knowing how to enforce an order after he legally issues the same. And now comes the wish, straight from the heart, that Mayor Davidson shall issue a still further order, and forbid the sale or delivery of any or all Sunday papers in this city on the Sabbath day. And if every professing Christian in East Liverpool will refuse to subscribe for, pay for or read Sunday papers, and unite in a petition against said papers to the mayor of this city, we believe that the petition will receive due consideration at his hands. Many young boys are losing all respect for the Sabbath, and paving the way for entrance to a life of sin and evil in consequence of being employed as carriers of Sunday papers, and no father or mother who truly love their boy will permit him to engage in any such occupation. We dislike to take this stand on account of a personal friend of long standing being engaged in the dissemination of these Sunday papers. But the call for duty by the voice of the Master dare not be disobeyed. We sincerely hope that, ere long, the Sunday paper shall be barred out of this city, in so far as Sunday selling and delivery is concerned. We sincerely hope that our friend sholl lose this source of income, and then strike it rich in some avenue of life which does not endanger the loss of his soul and the souls of young boys who are just blossoming out into young manhood, and whose lives might otherwise be of great usefulness to themselves and the community in which they reside. It remains to be seen what class of men occupy the pulpits and pews of our Christian churches. Have they the courage of their convictions on this subject? Is the Sunday paper a good or an evil thing, oh ye followers of the meek and lowly Nazarene? If a very evil thing, and an evil which you can destroy, and fail in so doing, will you not be held personally responsible for the failure? Don't dodge the issue. Face it like a little man. Stand up and be counted.

CITIZEN'S COAL AND ICE CO

The New Coal Company Will Succeed Our Townsman, Mr. Will H. Surles.

The Citizens Coal and Ice company took charge on January 1, 1900, with Mr. J. H. Page, late of Parkersburg, W. Va., as manager. Manager Page will add to the coal business that of ice delivery, and will be ready to deliver cool stuff at the proper time in the sultry months. He will handle the very best Pittsburg coal, lump, nut and slack, at reasonable prices, and make prompt delivery of all orders entrusted to his care. Mr. Page has been connected with river work for the past thirty years, from childhood up, running from Parkersburg down. Captain Page has been running on the Little Kanawha for the past four years, and has a host of friends among river men.

The new manager does not want all of the trade connected with East Liverpool, but will be satisfied with a fair share, feeling sure that he can guarantee satisfaction as to product and prices.

Will H. Surles has been connected with the coal business at this point for the last twenty-one years, and has built up an enviable and successful business. He solicits a continuance of the old trade in favor of his friend and successor, and assures the purchasing public that Captain Page will cater to it in a courteous and business like manner.

—H. P. Knobbloch, secretary-treasurer of the Dresden Pottery company, of East Liverpool, O., is a Monongahela guest.—Pittsburg Gazette.

ELIJAH W. HILL,

Real Estate Dealer,

Second Floor Grand Building, Corner Sixth and Washington,

EAST LIVERPOOL, O.

LIST NO. 6.

Call at office for previous lists.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIES.

New Waterford, Ohio.—Hotel of 16 rooms; the only hotel in the town; livery attached; 3-4 acre of ground; a good chance for a profitable business. Owner wishes to sell on account of age. Inquire for price and particulars.

Salineville, Ohio.—Stoneware pottery plant; can be converted into a clay novelty works, door knob factory or the making of specialties; has been used for manufacturing chimney tops, flower vases, ets. Land consists of 3-4 acre. Improvements: 1 double-crown 16 ft. kiln (cost $2,200 to build), 2-story frame addition about 20x40 and a one-story frame shed over boiler and engine. Equipments: One 20-horse power engine, 2 flue boilers, shafting on each floor of brick building; 1 pug mill; 1 brick machine and other usual accessories. Plant is situated on Railroad; good clays in vicinity; will sell entire plant for $1,950.

Newspaper business opportunity in Mahoning county, Ohio—One-half ownership in a weekly paper in an enterprising town, and one-half interest in the business block in which the paper is located. Good rental derived from building outside of what is occupied by paper. A good chance for a competent newspaper man to get in on the ground floor. N a heavy investment and not much ready money needed. See us for further particulars.

FARMS.

8 miles from East Liverpool—80 acre farm; all tillable; good 6-room house; barn and outbuildings, orchard, etc. Inquire for price.

3 miles from East Liverpool—2 miles from Wellsville—20 acres of land, all tillable; well watered; surface level; soil rich, sandy loam; suitable for gardening, chicken raising, truck farming, etc. Inquire for particulars and price.

Beaver Co., Pa.—15 miles from East Liverpool via Chester and Harshaville; 155 acres, 100 acres tillable; 50 acres in timber; balance in orchard of peaches, apples, plums, grapes, etc., well watered; suitable for general farming; 4-room new house, good frame stable; spring house; wagon shed, etc. Will sell in whole or part, cash or time. Will trade for town properties. Inquire for further particulars and prices.

Wellsville, O.—In suburbs—10½ acres of land; 3 veins of coal; flag and sand stone quarries opened; 60 apple, 100 peach, 75 quince and some pear trees, all bearing. A good 4-room house. All in good order. Price $2,900.

Hancock Co., W. Va., 3 miles from river near Fairview—166 acres, 80 acres cleared, balance in timber, underlaid with coal, with mine opened. Farm is well watered; near to church and school. Will trade for town properties or sell on time or for cash. Price $22 per acre.

Salineville—2 miles northeast—159 acres, nearly all tillable; good orchard; berry patches; underlaid with coal and minerals. An 8-room 2-story slate roof dwelling; an 8-sta bank barn. A bargain. Owner a townsman, tired of farming. Price $3,500.

Smith's Ferry, Pa.—(2 miles north)—10 acres, all tillable; well watered; 100 fruit trees, all bearing; producing oil fiel surrounding; a 5-room dwelling and a bank barn. Price upon inquiry.

Wellsville, O.—(5 miles north)—163 acre farm; level and well watered; orchards, dwelling, barns, etc. Suitable for general farming. Inquire for price.

Hancock Co., W. Va.—1 mile back of Rock Springs Park—75 acres; 20 acres in timber; orchards and usual fruit bearers. Land is excellent; 5 room dwelling and barn. This is a chance for an investor who looks to the future. Price $3,500.

Hancock Co., W. Va.—5 miles from East Liverpool, 5 miles from Wellsville—125 acres, nearly all tillable; about 4 acres in timber; well fenced and well pt; apples, pears, quinces and other fruits; plenty of water; near school and church. An unusually good dwelling of 7 rooms and good bank barn. Will trade for city property. Call for price and particulars.

Do not think this is all the properties we have for sale. Five large lists have preceded this, of which you can obtain copies by calling at our office. Further, there are many properties we have for sale that we do not advertise. Of these you can learn at office.

Many of the above properties can be bought on easy terms. In no case more than one-third cash is required. To specify in each case the terms would require too much space. Inquire of us for full particulars. Like all dealers, we are anxious to display "our goods," and hence be perfectly free to ask us anything you wish to know.

Office open from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Don't Throw Money

Away. It don't pay you to do so, and you know it. You can save 52 cents on every pair of shoes which will cost you elsewhere $3.50. We sell them at $2.98. The best goods on the market.

FRAZIER'S SHOE PARLOR,
167 Fifth Street.

Black Diamonds.

Leave your orders for the best Pittsburg coal, lump, nut or slack, at the Citizen's Coal and Ice Co., successors to Will H. Surles, foot of Market street.

CAPTAIN J. H. PAGE,
Manager.

'Phone, Bell, 43—ring 2.

The News Review for all the news.

Finest Special Service to Florida.

Leaves Pittsburg Tuesday and Fridays after January 15 at 8 a. m.; Steubenville, 9:28 a. m., central time, via Pennsylvania line, through without change from Pittsburg to Cincinnati, Atlanta, Jacksonville and St. Augustine, Florida. Find out about it by calling upon or addressing J. K. Dillon, District Passenger Agent, Room 306, Park building, Pittsburg.

Benjamin Chapin, dramatic interpreter, is able to take his regular place in the High school lecture course and will be at the opera house this evening. Lecture begins at 8:30.

All the News in the News Review.

EAST END.

Elected Officers.

At their regular meeting held last evening Goodwill council No. 13, Daughters of Liberty, elected the following officers:

Councilor—T. W. McCain.

Vice councilor—Ed Wilson.

Recording secretary—Mrs. Mollie Hanley.

Treasurer—Jennie Hunter.

Financial secretary—Mrs. Sallie Elliott.

—Guide—Mrs. T. W. McCain.

Outside Protector—Myrtle Hayes.

Inside Protector—Tillie Hayes.

The officers will be installed at the regular meeting which will be held two weeks from last night.

Stalled in the Mud.

A farmer named Graham, who lives northwest of East End, was driving home this morning with a load of lumber when his team stalled in the mud.

In their frantic attempt to pull the wagon, one of the horses fell and broke the tongue. The driver secured two pieces of board and spliced the tongue and the team managed to pull the wagon out.

Deputy Sheriff Bick.

Deputy Sheriff Bick was in the East End yesterday appraising property belonging to M. W. Elliott.

Under the Weather.

Dr. Calhoun is still confined to his home with illness and will not be able to be out this week.

East End Notes.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayes are the guests of friends in Monaca.

Miss Margaret White, of Ohio avenue, is confined to her home with an attack of the measles.

Rev. G. W. Orcutt, who has been ill with the measles, is much improved.

Mrs. Snowden is ill at her home on Ohio avenue.

Miss Maggie Allison, who has been ill for several days, is improving.

Frank Chambers is a Pittsburg visitor today.

W. C. Supplee started to work this morning getting his room ready for occupancy.

The employes of the Columbiana County Telephone company are working on Mullberry street today.

UNTIL MAY

Mrs. Smith Gives Her Daughter That Long to Do Her Duty.

Considerable space has been taken up in the newspapers of eastern Ohio in regard to Mrs. Clarence Smith, of Inverness, O., who recently fell heir to $14,000, and refuses to have anything to do with her parents.

The latest is from the Massillon Independent and is as follows:

Mrs. Joseph Smith, of 81 Cliff street, has received no reply to the letter she wrote her heiress daughter, Mrs. Clarence Smith, of Inverness, O., about the middle of December. "I'll give her till about May," remarked Mrs Smith. "That'll be about enough time for her to get ahead, if that's what she's waiting on. If she don't do her duty by her old mot. er by that time, then I'll have the law on her. It's hard to think of mother proceeding against daughter, but it certainly will come to that if she don't do her duty. My goodness, if I had $40,000 it would be a pleasure for me to do something for my relations. I don't think we could ever get Joe to go on that farm down there, though."

"Have you consulted a lawyer, and do you know positively that the law bears on this case? You know it might be maintained that the fact that your daughter was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. Cameron invalided your claim," suggested the reporter.

"I know what people say. But didn't I raise that child until she was seven years old? Nobody can have more than one mother, and in that case I'm the one."

JACK TAR'S GROWL.

A Story Illustrating the Sailor's Habit of Grumbling.

The author of "From Edinburgh to the Antarctic," writing of the sailor's habit of grumbling, says: "The dinners are all the same—that is to say, Monday's dinners are all alike, and what we have today we shall have this day six months hence. Jack's forefather this day 100 years ago had the same menu and made the same uncomplimentary remarks about the dishes, and 100 years hence on this day Jack's children will growl over their salt horse and plumless duff." The author also tells this "yarn" to illustrate that Jack's habit of grumbling can't be cured and must be endured:

Once upon a time there lived a skipper whose wife said to him that if she went to sea the poor men would never find fault with their food. Her husband took her with him on a voyage, and the good woman attended to the cooking in the galley herself.

The scouse was thick with fresh vegetables, the bread was white and without weevils, the meat was good, and the duff was almost half plums, but still the men growled.

Then the skipper's wife thought of the hens she had brought on board to lay eggs for her husband's breakfast. She took them out of the coop, wrung their necks with her own fair hands, plucked them, roasted them and sent them to the forecastle on the cabin china.

"Now the men," she said to herself, "will know how much we think of their comfort."

At eight bells she stole forward to the forecastle to listen to the praise of her skill as a cook. She looked down the hatch and saw a big black fist plunge a fork into the hen and heard a hoarse voice growl, "I say, Bill, what d'ye think this 'ere bloody fowl died of?"

Sympathy Not What Was Wanted.

A native of the mountain district of Kentucky had occasion to go on a journey recently and before starting took out an accident policy. He chanced to be one of the victims of a railway collision, and the next morning his widow, armed with a newspaper report, in which his name was mentioned among the killed, called on the agent of the insurance company and demanded the money.

"But, madam," said the agent, "we will have to have more definite proof before we can pay your claim."

"More proof!" exclaimed the bereaved woman. "Why, he's dead'rn a doornail, I reckon."

"Possibly, my dear madam," answered the polite agent, "and I'm very sorry."

"Sorry! You are sorry, are you?"

"I certainly am, madam. I sincerely sympathize with you in your sad affliction."

"But hain't you goin to give me the money what's comin to me?"

"Not today. Your claim will have to be investigated first."

"That's just like a good fer nothin man," angrily retorted the bereaved woman. "You all are mighty perlite 'bout things so long as they hain't costin you nothin, but the minnet a poor, lone female does git a chance to git holt of a leetle spendin money you got the gall to say you're sorry."

And the indignant female slammed the door.—Chicago News.

Get Your Shoes

Where you can save nice money on every pair you buy. We are closing out. We will leave East Liverpool by the 15th of February. We want to sell every pair of shoes we can, to avoid boxing or packing the same. Our goods are new, nobby and stylish, the best manufactured; shoes for men, women, boys, girls, babies. Buy while you may. You will never have such another chance. Come and test the matter.

FRAZIER'S SHOE PARLOR,
167 Fifth Street.

Benjamin Chapin, dramatic interpreter, is able to take his regular place in the High school lecture course and will be at the opera house this evening. Lecture begins at 8:30.

—Mrs. Wilber Kurtz returned to her home in Akron yesterday afternoon after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. John Worcester.

SOUTH SIDE.

Will Work in Chester.

R. G. Mercer, who has been employed as night watchman at the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles pottery at Liverpool, has accepted a similar position at the E. M. Knowles pottery in Chester.

Southside Notes.

Dick Johnson is on the sick list.

Phil Marshall is ill at his home about four miles from Chester.

The families of William Mercer, D. M. Cunningham and John Wells are suffering with the measles.

Personals.

William Flowers, John Allison and Harvey Howard, of Fairview, were Chester and Liverpool visitors today.

John Biggerstaff and wife, of Steubenville, were Chester visitors today.

Relettering the Cars.

A painter was this morning put to work relettering the old cars of the Chester and Liverpool street car line. The cars will be ready for the road in a few days.

Killed a Dog.

Yesterday morning a Panhandle freight train killed the large Newfoundland dog owned by Charles Sinclair in the rear of his home.

The First Section.

The first section of the new canning factory arrived in Chester yesterday tied to the tail of a dog owned by John Boulton.

Stroke of Paralysis.

Frank Wilkinson, who resides on Middle run, suffered a strike of paralysis yesterday. The stroke left him entirely helpless.

Will Start in 60 Days.

The mill failed to start today, but there is a report in circulation that it will be running full within 60 days.

Shoes for Everybody.

And shoes at lower prices than you can get them anywhere else in the city or section. We save you from 21 cents to $1.00 on every pair of shoes sold in our establishment; shoes which formerly sold at from $1.50 to $5.00. We must close out. We move by the 15th of next month. Don't want to pack goods Call at once.

FRAZIER'S SHOE PARLOR,
167 Fifth Street.

Telegraphers' Grip.

"I have lost my grip."

This phrase is applied by men to all kinds of failures. One of the technical usages of losing one's grip is in the case of telegraph operators.

Many of the most skilled operators suffer at times from a loss of the "grip" and are compelled to give way temporarily to a substitute. This "grip" is the hold on the key, and the moment the operator begins to lose the control of this "grip" he realizes a rest, although for only a brief time, is due him.

Another but unpleasant term applied to this loss of "grip" is "telegraphers' paralysis." It shows itself in many curious ways, all showing that the muscles brought into play in working the key are badly worn.

One of the most skillful operators in Louisville, who is subject to these attacks, cannot send "P." The Morse manual calls for five dots for this letter. The operator in question has by some hook or crook lost the power to stop at the fifth dot, and it is a common thing for him to warn the taker to look out for his "P's."

Recently he asked a fellow operator to watch him send "P's" and to stop him at the end of the fifth dot. It resulted that, although he would be warned at the fourth dot, the fingers, no longer mastered by the brain, would continue dotting beyond the fifth.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

No Interference.

Burglar (suddenly confronted by a policeman)—Hello, here's a cop!

Policeman—Don't let me interfere. I'm not on duty tonight. Just dropped in to see the cook.—Boston Transcript.

D. M. Ogilvie & Co.

Cloaks and Suits. About 12 Misses' Suits, sizes 14 and 16, blue, brown and grey, $5.00, regardless of former price.

Still a few left of the Women's Suits at $5.00. You'll find these excellent for the price.

The better grade suits reduced:

$15 Suits to $10. $18 Suits to $12.50.
$20 Suits to $13.50. $22.50 Suits to $15.
$25 Suits to $18. $30.00 Suits to $20.

Capes Long Kersey Capes, nicely lined, one each, brown, castor and red, were $18 and $18.50, now $14. One brown Kersey cape, fur collar and edged down front with fur, was $19; now $14. Two long golf capes, one was $15 the other $18.50, reduced to $10. $8.50 black and white golf cape for $7. $10 black and white golf cape for $7.50. A few children's $5 capes for $2.

Jackets All short jackets at half price. Children's, misses' and women's. Reduced prices on all black 25 inch and 40 inch half fitting box coats.

Sale of Dress Skirts A lot of plaids and black skirts, $2.50. Some of them not the latest styles but very cheap at this price.

Another lot of skirts at half price.

Underwear A table of underwear. Women's drawers, white, cotton fleeced lined; 50c goods, and white and grey wool $1 goods, medium and small sizes, also cotton fleeced union suits, anything on the table for 35c.

A lot of seconds heavy fleeced women's vests and drawers, 25c goods, at 18c per garment.

By seconds we mean imperfections in weave but almost as good as the perfect goods as far as wear is concerned.

D. M. OGILVIE & CO

His Impressive Looks.

Trumbull's cradle was in Connecticut. He came of the old Jonathan Trumbull breed. As a young man he went south to teach school, but he liked it not and dipped into lawbooks. As soon as he was equal to his examination he was called to the Georgia bar, but he never paused to practice there. He migrated to Illinois, then the utter west and settled at Belleville, St. Clair county, in that part of the state known as Egypt.

There he at once took a leading place at the bar. He was always courtly, always carefully polite, what one might call a bit cold, yet he had great sway with the juries. He was a clear, cogent reasoner and had a trick of admonishing with his forefinger. Sometimes it would seem as if that potent forefinger wove a spell. I doubt not it has brought many a jury in its time to Trumbull's side of the question.

Such were the impressive looks of Trumbull that I recall what Governor Reynolds once said of him as he closed his argument in a law case. Trumbull was on the other side.

"And now, gentlemen," said Reynolds as he prepared to close: "I've answered his arguments, I've overturned his statement of facts, I've undone the fallacious law he has announced to you; but, gentlemen, the man never lived who can reply to his looks!"—Chicago Tribune.

Considerate.

Young Writer (to editor of newly established journal)—If you find this little story available for your columns, I don't ask any pay for it beyond a life subscription to your paper.

Editor—But, great goodness, young man, you may live for 50 years!

Young Writer—Oh, I don't mean during my life; during the life of your paper, you know!—London Tit-Bits.

PILES Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment will cure Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles. It absorbs the tumors, allays the itching at once, acts as a poultice, gives instant relief. Dr. Williams' Indian Pile Ointment is prepared for Piles and Itching of the private parts. Every box is warranted. By druggists, by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents and $1.00. WILLIAMS MANUFACTURING CO., Props., Cleveland, Ohio

For sale by Will Reed, C. F. Craig and C. F. Larkin.

Welsbach Light
Only 35c
FOR COMPLETE OUTFIT.

You are interested in securing first class illumination, for reading, writing and like purposes. Think of the superb Welsbach Light, complete, at only 35c.

Very handsome heating stoves. You should inspect them.

Fancy Glassware for Welsbach Lights. Very artistic. All kinds of mantles, from 10 to 50 cents. It will pay you to call at the office of the

OHIO VALLEY GAS CO.,
No. 149 Sixth Street.

HOFMAN,
The Jeweler.

Repairing and Engraving done in the most skillful manner, by an expert of over 40 years experience.

Jewelry of every description.

Prices very reasonable.

No. 205,
Market St., E. Liverpool, O.

MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS

They overcome Weakness, irregularity and omissions, increase vigor and banish "pains of menstruation." They are "Life Savers" to girls at womanhood, aiding development of organs and body. No known remedy for women equals them. Cannot do harm—life becomes a pleasure. $1 per box by mail. Sold by druggists. MOTT CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, O.

For sale by Will Reed, C. F. Craig and C. F. Larkin.

COL. QUAY MAY WIN.

Indications That He Would Be Elected.

DEMOCRATS TO VOTE FOR GUFFEY.

He Was Selected by Their Caucus—Thompson and Reynolds Formally Declared Themselves For the Beaver Man. Anti-Quay Republicans Met Last Night.

Harrisburg, Jan. 15.—There was every indication last night that the bitter struggle for United States senator will terminate today with the election of Colonel M. S. Quay, the nominee of the joint Republican caucus. The Democrats will vote for Colonel James M. Guffey, of Pittsburg, and the anti-Quay Republicans are expected to distribute their votes among several "favorite sons."

The house and senate was to vote separately about 3 o'clock this afternoon, and the probabilities were that Mr. Quay's combined vote will not fall short of 130. It requires 127 votes to elect, and it is pretty generally conceded that he will poll at least this number. Should Mr. Quay or any other person receive the requisite number of votes today the senate and house were to meet jointly at noon tomorrow to canvass the returns and formally declare an election. If, however, there should be no election today the two bodies were to meet jointly on Wednesday and take a ballot every day thereafter or until there is an election or the legislature adjourns. There was nothing to indicate last night that there would not be an election on the first ballot or that there would be another deadlock similar to that of 1899, when the legislature adjourned after taking 79 ballots without making a choice.

The day following the adjournment Governor Stone appointed Colonel Quay to the senate and on April 23, 1899, the appointment was rejected, so that Pennsylvania has since had only one United States senator in Boies Penrose. Several senators and members who were reported ill reached here yesterday and when the ballot is taken Representative Haldeman, of Montgomery, who is pledged to Colonel Quay, will probably be the only absentee.

Representative Thompson, of Centre, who was absent when the house organized, and whose attitude on the senatorship had been in doubt, came to Harrisburg in a private car Monday morning. Last evening Mr. Thompson issued a public statement, in which he said that it is his purpose to be present in the house today and vote for Mr. Quay and that he was detained at home by illness when that body organized.

Representative Reynolds, of Lackawanna, who voted with the anti-Quay Republicans on the organization of the house, last evening transmitted a letter "to the chairman of the fusion caucus," which stated:

"The issue in my district was largely a personal one, but I felt I owed it to my friends to oppose, within party lines, the re-election of M. S. Quay. I came to Harrisburg and acted in all matters with those who had that purpose in view. Upon my return home I found that practically a unanimous sentiment of my constituents was that I had gone far enough and that it was my duty to join with the majority of my party in securing for this great commonwealth the representation to which it is entitled in the highest legislative body on earth—the United States senate.

"Believeing that my first duty is to my constituents and my party, I hereby declare my settled purpose to accept the judgment and shall therefore join with my Republican colleagues in voting for Colonel Quay and acting with them in the future."

Telegrams were received late last night from Representatives Garvin, of Adams, and Maloney, of Venango, Democrats, that they would be unable to be present today when the ballot was taken for senator.

Representative Neeb, of Allegheny, who was also absent on account of illness when the legislature organized, has recovered and will qualify and take his seat today.

Word reached here last night that Representative Galvin, of Schuylkill, died last evening at his home at Shenandoah. The report could not be confirmed.

A meeting of the Republican senators and members pledged to oppose Mr. Quay's election was held last evening to discuss the situation. Senator William Flinn, of Allegheny, said at the close of the meeting that all the members were present except Messrs. Thompson, Neeb, Reynolds and Emery. "The only news from any of the absentees were from Mr. Reynolds," he added, "it being announced that he had succumbed to the influence of the machine. All of the gentlemen present were as strong as ever in the determination to oppose the election of Mr. Quay."

Another meeting of the anti-Quay Republicans was to be held today previous to the meeting of the legislature to formulate a plan of action when the ballot is taken.

Senator Penrose, who is assisting Colonel Quay in the direction of his campaign, said last night, in part:

"On the evening before the first and final balloting in the senatorial contest the evidence is becoming stronger every hour that Senator Quay will be elected on the first ballot in the senate and house by a much larger majority than was expected by even his most sanguine friends. The opposition has gone to pieces, as was expected in the beginning."

Many of Colonel Quay's friends throughout the state are here prepared to celebrate his election if he wins on the first ballot. A delegation of Republicans from his home county of Beaver came in Monday morning and called last evening to pay its respects. The former senator appeared in front of the house where he was living and made a short speech, thanking his neighbors for the active interest they have taken in his fight. The Nineteenth Ward Republican club, of Pittsburg, was also here shouting for the former senator. The club has its headquarters in the ward in which Senator Flinn, the anti-Quay leader, lives.

Colonel Quay expected to take his seat in the senate on Thursday if he should be elected before that time. A large delegation of his friends was to go from here to Washington to be present at the ceremony.

Harrisburg, Jan. 15.—National Committeeman James M. Guffey, of Pittsburg, was last night unanimously nominated for United States senator by the joint caucus of the Democrats of the house and senate. The names of Hon. Chauncey F. Black, of York, and Hon. J. Henry Cochran, of Lycoming, were also presented to the caucus, but they were withdrawn before a vote was taken.

J. Henry Cochran was elected chairman of the caucus and A. J. Palm, of Crawford, secretary. The calling of the roll showed 10 members absent. They were Senators Boyd, of Fayette; Kemerer, of Northampton; Higgins, of Schuylkill; Stiles, of Lehigh, and Representatives Garvin, of Adams; Galvin, of Schuylkill; Maloney, of Venango; Squier, of Wyoming; Smith, of Green, and Brown, of Crawford.

Most of the absentees were reported to be sick. In the case of Representative Maloney, a telegram was received from him, in which he said he had the grip, and would report at Harrisburg in a few days. Secretary Palm read a telegram from the county chairman of Venango county, in which he said that Maloney would be started off to Harrisburg about 5 o'clock today if Colonel Guffey would pay for a special car. It was announced that Mr. Guffey had consented to stand the expense.

Lieutenant Governor Gobin called the senate to order at 8:30 o'clock last night.

Senator Sproull was chosen teller to represent the senate in the counting of the vote for state officers at the last general election.

After Senator Flinn, of Allegheny, had introduced a bill in relation to the state laws, and a batch of executive appointments had been confirmed, Senator Grady offered a resolution for immediate consideration providing that a special committee of nine be appointed, to which all bills be referred until the standing committees shall have been appointed. Flinn objected, saying in part that he would prefer to leave his bill lay on the table until the regular committees were appointed.

Senator Grady said in part that if a member wished to let his bill lie on the table until the committees were appointed he could do so.

The resolution was adopted, 27 to 20.

A resolution was presented by Senator Quail, of Schuylkill, which was adopted, to the effect that "it is the sense of the senate of Pennsylvania that the constitution of the United States should be amended so that United States senators should be elected by the people at the general elections."

There were also other proceedings

The house met last evening, listened to a short prayer by Chaplain Grissinger, and then adjourned until this afternoon, when the ballot will be taken for United States senator. Speaker Marshall last evening did not expect to complete the committee amendments before next Monday.

The house Republican slate committee will probably report on Thursday, and there is nothing to indicate that its report will not be adopted. Bills have been prepared by many members, and as soon as the committees are announced they will be introduced.

$500 REWARD

We will pay the above reward for any case of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Sick Headache, Indigestion, Constipation or Costiveness we cannot cure with Liverita, the Up-To-Date Little Liver Pill, when the directions are strictly complied with. They are purely Vegetable, and never fail to give satisfaction. 25c boxes contain 100 Pills, 10c boxes contain 40 Pills, 5c boxes contain 15 Pills. Beware of substitutions and imitations. Sent by mail. Stamps taken. Nervita Medical Co., Corner Clinton and Jackson Streets, Chicago, Ill.

ATTACK BY TELLER.

Stinging Abuse of the President For Retiring Eagan.

DECORATION AND NOT PUNISHMENT.

He Said Many of the American People Believed It Was a Decoration and a Reward For His Attack Upon Miles. Denounced Eagan.

Washington, Jan. 15.—During the discusion of the army reorganization bill in the senate an amendment was offered by Mr. Teller, of Colorado, to that section of the bill which authorizes the president to retire any officer who has been suspended from duty, either by sentence or court martial, or by executive order in mitigation of such seatence, striking out the words "has been" and substituting therefor "shall be hereafter."

After saying that the section had been incorporated in the bill for the purpose of enabling the president to retire General Eagan, former commissary general of the army, Mr. Teller declared it was retained in the bill in order that an officer of the army, Major Joseph W. Wham, might be got rid of. "He cannot be gotten rid of in any other way," said Mr. Teller, "and he ought not to be gotten rid of in any circumstances."

Mr. Teller adverted to the case of General Eagan at some length. Of the beef furnished the army, he said, it was "boiled and canned, and of very ancient lineage, some of which had made a trip to Europe and back, being fed to our soldiers after it had been condemned by European governments."

Mr. Teller denounced General Eagan in severe language.

"As an officer of the United States army," said the senator, "he made an exhibition of himself and showed himself to be a miserable blackguard."

Referring to General Eagan's denial of General Miles' charges as to "embalmed beef," Mr. Teller declared "his language was brutal and low, and so bad it could not be overlooked, although there was a very evident desire to overlook it."

Mr. Teller made a stinging attack upon the president for having retired General Eagan, asserting that "the retirement in the circumstances was a decoration and not a punishment, and many of the American people believe it was a decoration and a reward for his attack upon the general commanding the army."

At considerable length Mr. Teller then discueed the case of Major Wham.

Mr. Carter said that if the bill was not passed at an early day it might be necessary to charter special vessels, fit them up, etc., to get troops back from the Philippines by the time the present law expired.

"I think the senate ought to know," said Mr. Carter, "that each day's delay in the pasage of this bill will involve and additional expenditure of at least $500,000."

Later on Mr. Carter stated he would today ask that a time be set to vote.

Mr. Teller declared immediately that he would object at this time to any date being fixed for a final vote.

The house considered the river and harbor bill, during the course of its session.

THREE BRUTES ON TRIAL

One of the Witnesses Told of Horrible Details Connected With the Murder of Jennie Bosschieter.

New York, Jan. 15.—The trial of Walter L. McAlister, Andrew Campbell and William A. Death, three of the four men accused of the murder of Jennie Bosschieter, a mill girl of Paterson, N. J., under circumstances revolting in their utter lack of humane considerations, commenced before Judge Dixon, in the Passaic county court of oyer and terminer.

George J. Kerr, the fourth man under indictment, was not in court, as he has been granted a separate trial on the ground that he was not present when the fatal dose was administered to the girl.

A jury was secured. Four of the principal witnesses in the case were questioned. Mrs. Nina Bosschieter, the mother of the unfortunate girl, was one; her daughter Susie another; Christopher Saal, the proprietor of the saloon where it is alleged the drug was administered to the girl, was the third, and Gus Schulthorpe, the hack driver of the horrible night ride, was the last. Mother and daughter told of Jennie's life at home, and at the mill. Schulthorpe, in his crude, unvarnished way, told to the minutest detail the story of the crime. He graphically described the taking of the almost unconscious girl from the saloon to his victoria and of the ride out of the county and unspeakable crime committed on the dead or almost dead girl.

Aside from the four principal witnesses examined there were on the stand Z. W. B. Founda, a surveyor, who gave an exact location of the place where the body was found; Cornelius Garry, a teamster for the ice company, who saw Jennie Bosschieter talking to Campbell on the night of the murder; Nellie Devries and Bertha Dysen, companions, who testified that they saw Jennie Bosschieter and Campbell together early in the night preceding the murder.

CONSULTED CHURCHMEN.

Rev. Wilson, Editor Kelway and Duke of Newcastle Want American Edition of Church Paper.

Philadelphia, Jan. 15.—The Duke of Newcastle arrived here en route to Florida, where he owns considerable property. With the duke came Editor Kelway, of The Church Review, and the Rev. Harry Wilson, rector of St. Augustine's Episcopal church, Stephny, England. The three visitors held a lengthy conference with Rev. Dr. Mortimer, of St. Mark's Protestant Episcopal church, and other ritualistic churchmen of this city relative to the establishment of an American edition of The Church Review. Mr. Kelway and the Rev. Mr. Wilson will go to Boston from here to consult high churchmen in that city as to the advisability of the project.

Word of Caution.

"Never propose to a girl by letter."

"Why not?"

"I did it once, and she stuck the letter in a book she was reading and lent it to my other girl."—Chicago Record.

Cleveland & Pittsburgh Div.

Pennsylvania Lines.

Schedule of Passenger Trains—Central Time

Westward.	335	309	361	303	339	301
	AM	AM	AM	PM	PM	PM
Pittsburgh ...lv.	†5 20			†1 30	†4 45	*11 00
Allegheny..... "	5 30	†7 20		1 35	4 50	11 08
Rochester..... "	6 15	8 15		2 10	5 25	11 50
Beaver..... "	6 21	8 25	8 19	2 17	5 32	11 59
Vanport..... "	6 26	8 32	8 25	.....	5 40	12 05
Industry..... "	6 36	8 40	8 37	.....	5 50	12 15
Cooks Ferry..... "	6 37	8 42	8 39	.....	5 52	12 16
Smiths Ferry..... "	6 48	8 52	8 47	2 40	6 02	12 26
East Liverpool... "	7 05	9 06	9 06	2 50	6 13	12 36
Wellsville..... ar	7 18	9 20	9 20	3 02	6 28	12 50
Wellsville ..... lv.	7 25			3 10		12 53
Wellsville Shop.."	7 30			.....		12 55
Yellow Creek ..... "	7 35			.....		†1 00
Hammondsville "	7 42			.....		†1 08
Irondale ..... "	7 44			3 26		†1 10
Salineville ..... "	8 03			3 42		1 30
Bayard..... "	8 42			4 13		2 12
Alliance ..... {ar.	9 10			4 40		2 42
Alliance ..... {lv.	9 30			4 50		2 47
Ravenna ..... "	10 00			5 16		3 30
Hudson..... "	10 22			5 34		3 57
Cleveland.....ar.	11 20			6 30		5 00
Wellsville.....lv.	7 30	11 16	9 20	3 15	6 55	†6 10
Wellsville Shop.."	7 35	11 19	9 25	3 20	7 00	6 15
Yellow Creek..... "	7 40	11 24	9 30	3 25	7 05	6 23
Empire..... "	7 50	11 32	9 40	3 35	7 17	6 33
Freeman..... "	7 54	11 35	9 43	3 37	7 20	6 35
Toronto..... "	8 02	11 42	9 50	3 47	7 27	6 45
Steubenville... {ar.	8 23	11 59	10 07	4 10	7 45	7 07
Steubenville... {lv.	8 23	11 59	10 07	4 10	7 45	7 07
Mingo Jc..... "	8 29	12 04	10 17	4 20	7 53	7 17
Brilliant..... "	8 38	12 10	10 25	4 30	8 03	7 27
Rush Run..... "	8 47	12 18	10 34	4 40	8 11	7 36
Portland..... "	8 52	12 23	10 39	4 50	8 18	7 44
Yorkville..... "	†8 57	12 27	10 44	†4 55	†8 23	7 50
Martins Ferry..... "	9 15	12 33	10 54	5 05	8 35	8 05
Bridgeport..... "	9 25	12 40	11 00	5 10	8 42	8 11
Bellaire..... ar.	9 35	12 50	11 10	5 20	8 50	8 20
	A M	A M	A M	P M	P M	A M

Eastward.	340	336	360	316	18	362
	AM	AM	PM	PM	PM	PM
Bellaire..... lv.	†4 40	†9 00	†1 05	†4 30	†6 20	3 25
Bridgeport..... "	4 48	9 09	1 15	4 38	6 39	3 35
Martins Ferry ... "	4 55	9 15	1 23	4 43	6 45	3 42
Yorkville..... "	†5 05			4 55	†6 59	3 52
Portland..... "	5 09	9 28	1 38	5 02	7 04	3 57
Rush Run..... "	5 14	9 33	1 43	5 10	7 10	4 03
Brilliant..... "	5 21	9 41	1 52	5 20	7 20	4 13
Mingo Jc..... "	5 31	9 48	2 00	5 28	7 28	4 21
Steubenville... {ar.	5 41	9 58	2 08	5 40	7 37	4 30
Steubenville... {lv.	5 41	9 58	2 08	5 40	7 37	4 30
Toronto..... "	6 03	10 23	2 25	6 01	8 02	4 50
Freeman..... "	6 06	10 27	2 28	6 05	8 07	4 59
Empire..... "	6 13	10 39	2 35	6 14	8 12	5 00
Yellow Creek..... "	6 23	10 54	.....	6 25	8 22	5 10
Wellsville Shop.."	6 30	10 59	.....	6 30	8 26	5 15
Wellsville..... ar.	6 35	11 04	2 55	6 35	8 30	5 18

	335	309	361	303	339	301
Wellsville.....lv.	7 25			3 10
Wellsville Shop.."	7 30			.....
Yellow Creek..... "	7 35			.....
Hammondsville "	7 42			.....
Irondale..... "	7 44			3 26
Salineville..... "	8 03			3 42
Bayard..... "	8 42			4 13
Alliance ..... {ar.	9 10			4 40
Alliance ..... {lv.	9 30			4 50
Ravenna ..... "	10 00			5 16
Hudson..... "	10 22			5 34
Cleveland.....ar.	11 20			6 30

Nos. 302 and 360 connect in Union Station, Pitts., with through trains East.

*Daily. ‖Meals. †Daily, Ex. Sunday. §Sundays only.

	302
Wellsville .....lv.	6 45
East Liverpool... "	6 51
Smiths Ferry..... "	7 13
Cooks Ferry..... "	7 18
Industry ..... "	7 25
Vanport ..... "	7 35
Beaver..... "	7 42
Rochester ..... "	7 50
Allegheny ..... "	8 30
Pittsburgh ...ar.	8 40
	A M

11 14	3 02	6 53	*3 50	5 18
11 21	3 12	7 00	3 56	5 25
11 39	3 24	7 16	4 10	5 43
11 43	3 30	.....	†4 17	5 50
11 53	3 36	7 28	4 22	5 56
12 05	3 46	.....	†4 32	6 06
12 10	3 50	7 45	4 36	6 12
12 20	3 58	7 55	4 45	6 20
1 03	4 50	8 34	5 30	7 00
1 10	5 00	8 40	5 40	7 10
P M	P M	P M	A M	P M

Dark Faced Type denotes 12 noon to 12 midnight. Light Faced, 12 midnight to 12 noon.

Pullman Sleeping Cars are run on Nos. 361 and 302, and Parlor Cars on Nos 303 and 316 between Pittsburgh and Cleveland via Yellow Creek and Alliance. No. 336 connects at Rochester for New Castle, Jamestown, Youngstown, Niles, Warren, Ashtabula and intermediate stations; No. 340 for Erie, Ashtabula and intermediate stations; No. 360 for Youngstown.

Nos. 335 and 303 connect at Bayard for New Philadelphia, and stations on Tuscarawas Branch. Nos. 340 and 360 connect with Nos. 335 and 303 at Wellsville.

L. F. LOREE, General Manager. E. A. FORD, General Passenger Agent.

11-25-00.-H PITTSBURGH, PENN'A.

For time cards, rates of fare, through tickets, baggage checks, and further information regarding the running of trains, apply to any Agent of the Pennsylvania Lines.

RUBBER STAMPS

THE NEWS REVIEW.

WORDS.

Words are great forces in the realm of life.
Be careful of their use. Who talks of hate,
Of poverty, of sickness, but sets rife
These very elements to mar his fate.

When love, health, happiness and plenty hear
Their names repeated over day by day,
They wing their way like answering fairies near,
Then nestle down within our homes to stay

Who talks of evil conjures into shape
That formless thing and gives it life and scope.
This is the law; then let no word escape
That does not breathe of everlasting hope.
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox in Woman's Home Companion.

A MATCH FOR A MILLION.

Winning a Wrestling Bout the Foundation of a Fortune.

"Had I caught my train that night," laughed the man who has had nothing to do for a quarter of a century but to sit and watch pine trees grow to swell his bank account, "I would probably be a farmer now trying to raise a mortgage and a few other things. I had gone to a little town in lower Wisconsin to see a colt that a man there wanted to sell. I was a good judge of stock and pretty shrewd on a trade, but a greener country lad never broke into a town. I would have walked back to the farm after I found myself too late for the train, but I saw a handbill announcing a show that night and could not resist the temptation to see it, though it did cost a quarter.

"In my hilarious appreciation I was more of an entertainment than they had on the stage, especially as I was utterly oblivious to the fact that I did not look like any one else in the audience. Toward the end of the performance a huge fellow came out, tossed cannon balls in the air, held men out at arm's length and lifted heavy weights. After this showing of his prowess he offered $10 to any one whom he could not throw inside of two minutes. I was the crack wrestler in all our section, though none present knew it, and I felt as though the challenge was aimed directly at me. I turned hot and cold during a few seconds of extreme silence. Then I sprang up and as I came out of my old blouse shouted, 'I'll go you, b'gosh!'

"There was a roar of laughter, and then some of those about me urged me not to go up there and have my neck broken. But one old man told me to go in and do my best. It was a tough job, but I finally threw the giant almost through the floor with a hip lock. There was a little hesitancy about giving me the $10, but the crowd shouted until I got it. The old man took me home with him, and in a week I had charge of all the teams in his lumber camps. In time I became a partner, and he cleared the way to make me rich. That was really a match for a million."—Washington Star.

How He Earned Breakfast.

I must have walked the streets (of Richmond) till after midnight. At last I became so exhausted that I could walk no longer. I was tired, I was hungry, I was everything but discouraged. Just about the time when I reached extreme physical exhaustion I came upon a portion of a street where the board sidewalk was considerably elevated. I waited for a few minutes till I was sure that no passersby could see me and then crept under the sidewalk and lay for the night upon the ground, with my satchel of clothing for a pillow. Nearly all night I could hear the tramp of feet over my head.

The next morning I found myself somewhat refreshed, but I was extremely hungry, because it had been a long time since I had had sufficient food. As soon as it became light enough for me to see my surroundings I noticed that I was near a large ship and that this ship seemed to be unloading a cargo of pig iron. I went at once to the vessel and asked the captain to permit me to help unload the vessel in order to get money for food. The captain, a white man, who seemed to be kind hearted, consented. I worked long enough to earn money for my breakfast, and it seems to me, as I remember it now, to have been about the best breakfast that I have ever eaten.—Booker T. Washington in Outlook.

Little Harry's Diplomacy.

Little Harry was very fond of sweet things to eat, and especially of puddings, which were his favorite dessert. Accordingly his dinners were made a burden to him, since his parents persisted that he must make his meals off the substantials and leave what Harry called the good things until last. One day while Harry's nostrils were tickled with the tantalizing odors of his most favored pudding a scheme was born in his brain that points his way to future greatness. When his mother put before him a plate of meat and potatoes he eyed it a moment in apparent ecstasy; then, shoving it regretfully away, he said:

"I declare that looks so good I guess I'll leave it till the very last thing and get rid of that pudding first!"—What to Eat.

His Words Were Prophetic.

"Making a photograph of James Harper was the most startling experience of my life," says George G. Rockwood, the New York photographer. "In the year 1869 it transpired that no good picture existed of the four Harper brothers, and it was determined that they should sit to the same photographer and have a uniform series of pictures made. A very successful photograph of Fletcher brought them all.

"James Harper was the second to sit for me, and as he was passing out of the door of my studio he saw a portrait of Rev. Dr. Muhlenburgh, the founder of St. Luke's hospital. We entered into a brief discussion of the mighty results of the well and wisely directed efforts of one man as illustrated in the establishment of this beneficent institution. He said, 'If anything should happen to me, I believe I should like to be taken to St. Luke's hospital, for there organized, practiced skill would perhaps be paramount to even the tender care and love one gets at home.'

"His words were prophetic. After declining his warm invitation for me to ride with him he left the gallery, I think, near 2 o'clock in the afternoon. About 5 o'clock a gentleman rushed into the reception room and asked, 'Was James Harper here today?' 'Yes.' 'Did he sit for a photograph?' 'Yes, and here is the negative—a superb one.' 'Thank God! He was thrown from his carriage this afternoon and now lies dying in St. Luke's hospital.' "

He Knew.

They met in front of the Read House. One was fat and black, with a wonderful expanse of mouth and a voice like a couple of fog horns. The other was black and lean and weazened.

Said the fat black to the lean black, "Why doan' you 'gratulate me, Brudder Johnsing?"

"Whut fer I 'gratulate you?" said Brudder Johnsing.

"Whut fer you 'gratulate me! Why, man, kase I done mar'd de Widder Jeff'son."

"You is—you dun mar'd de Widder Jeff'son?" squeaked out the lean one.

"I sho' is dun mar'd dat lady," said the fat one, with an air of great satisfaction.

"Den I does 'gratulate you wif my whole heart; I sho' does."

The two separated, when the lean one turned to a knot of white gentlemen who had been interested and amused auditors of the conversation and remarked:

"Yas, I 'gratulate him! Haw, haw, haw! He, he! I sho' does. He's de wus en'my I has, an I cert'inly 'gratulates. Why, boss," he said confidentially, singling out one of the spectators, "I wus mar'd to dat 'oman fer a year myself. Yas, I sho' do 'gratulate dat man." And he moved off toward Market street, chuckling and muttering to himself.—Chattanooga News.

Wouldn't Be Fooled Again.

A shepherd once, to prove the quickness of his dog, which was lying before the fire in the house where we were talking, said to me in the middle of a sentence concerning something else, "I'm thinking, sir, the cow is in the potatoes."

Though he purposely laid no stress on these words and said them in a quiet, unconcerned tone of voice, the dog, who appeared to be asleep, immediately jumped up and, leaping through the open window, scrambled up to the turf roof of the house, from which he could see the potato field. He then, not seeing the cow there, ran and looked into the barn where she was and, finding that all was right, came back to the house.

After a short time the shepherd said the same words again, and the dog repeated his lookout, but on the false alarm being the third time given the dog got up and, wagging his tail, looked his master in the face with so comical an expression of interrogation that he could not help laughing aloud at him, on which, with a slight growl, he laid himself down in his warm corner with an offended air, as if determined not to be made a fool of again.—Exchange.

Always speak well of the dead, and if you have time you might speak a good word for the living occasionally.—Chicago News.

A CREDIT CHECK SWINDLE.

Trick by Which One Firm Got Dollars Without Selling Shirt Waists.

That there is no end to the ways of imposing upon the suffering New York public was illustrated by the failure of a small store recently. The newly appointed receiver was surprised by having many women come to his office with credit checks. These checks were for small amounts, ranging from $1 to $10. At first the receiver couldn't understand it, but upon investigation he learned the details of a pretty system of fleecing.

The firm, it seems, had made a specialty of silk and cotton shirt waists. These were, with few exceptions, shapeless, ill fitting garments, and when the unfortunate women shoppers got home with their purchases and put them on they were disgusted to find that the bargain sale waists were baggy and puckery and altogether so poorly fashioned that it would be next to impossible to make them fit even by a complete ripping up and remaking. Such being the conditions they invariably took the goods back and demanded other waists or their money. It was contrary to the principles of the firm to refund money, and as they seldom had waists more becoming either in style or shape than the ones returned, they were driven to the extremity of credit checks.

"We will get in a new supply of waists in a few days," was the suave assurance of the manager and his well trained assistants. "Your check will be good at any time, and when we replenish our stock you can select a waist that suits you."

But the new stock never arrived, and in spite of the good dollars received from deluded customers without decreasing their capital of waists, the firm became insolvent and then the women began to come with credit checks. So far the receiver has been unable to compensate them for their loss through the swindle which, in its way, was rather neat.—New York Sun.

AARON BURR'S MAGNETISM.

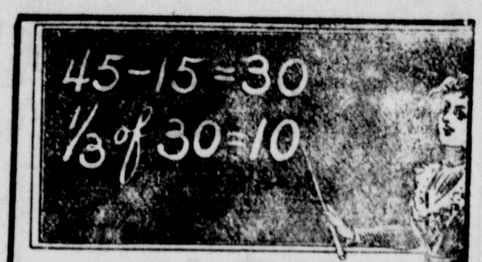

He Conquered All Feminine Hearts Without an Effort.

"From the time the beautiful and brilliant Mme. Jumel had been a young girl and when Aaron Burr was only a captain in the American army she had been more than once under the spell of his strange fascination," writes William Perrine in The Ladies' Home Journal. "Burr had introduced her to the celebrated Margaret Moncrieff, had desperately flirted with her and had implanted within her an admiration which was still alive when he was an aged social exile. She had written of him in earlier days that he appeared to her to be 'the perfection of manhood,' that his figure and form had been fashioned in the mold of the graces and that he was as familiar with the drawing room as with the camp.

"'In a word,' she said, 'he was a combined model of Mars and Apollo. His eye was of the deepest black and sparkled with an incomprehensible brilliancy when he smiled, but if enraged its power was absolutely terrific. Into whatever female society he chanced by the fortunes of war or the vicissitudes of private life to be cast, he conquered all hearts without an effort, and until he became deeply involved in the affairs of state and the vexations incident to the political arena I do not believe a female capable of the gentle emotions of love ever looked upon him without loving him.' Wherever he went he was petted and caressed by her sex, and hundreds vied with each other in a continuous struggle to offer him some testimonial of their adulation. Subsequently Mme. Jumel was married to Burr, who was nearly 80 and she nearly 60. The marriage was not a happy one, and the two soon separated."

Old Apothecaries and Doctors.

The offenses of apothecaries in the middle ages were numerous and the punishment in some cases a whipping. The worst was the improper sale of poisons—that is to say, except when not duly prescribed by a known physician of reputation, and even then not to put down in a register the name of the doctor and person to whom such prescription containing poison was delivered, was punishable likewise. The sale of poison for drugging fish was prohibited and also that of inferior drugs by any apothecary. To prescribe himself (unless a doctor could not be found) was an offense punishable by a whipping, and all preparations sold by him had to be made up in the presence of the doctor or of another apothecary. A barber surgeon might only prescribe for exterior applications "according to surgery," but we are not told what was the penalty in such a case.—Gentleman's Magazine.

Ten Lost Years.

Figure it for yourself. From the age of fifteen to that of forty-five a woman gives one-third of her time to the suffering incident to the recurring periodic function. Ten years of suffering! And this condition of things is popularly accepted as natural, and endured as a feminine disability for which there is no help! Is there no help? There is help for every woman and for almost every woman perfect healing in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It insures regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. It is a temperance medicine—non-alcoholic and non-narcotic.

"I was so weak I did not have breath to walk across my room," writes Miss Isabel Miller, of New Providence, Calloway Co., Ky. "My periods occurred too often and the hemorrhage would be prolonged and the loss of blood very excessive. I also had spells which the doctor said were fainting fits. I did not gain strength from one monthly period to another; was very weak and nervous all the time. Was confined to my bed for three months and the doctor told me I would never be any better. I lived in this way from sixteen years old to twenty-three. I was at last advised by a kind friend to try Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which I did, and before I had taken two bottles of it I could work all day. I took in all six bottles of the 'Favorite Prescription' and about five vials of Dr. Pierce's Pellets. I used no other medicine. I have never had a return of this trouble since."

Cock Shooting In Tall Corn.

Cock shooting in tall corn is as easy to the expert as it is puzzling to the novice. You will, of course, work with the rows, not across them, and if you are wise you will shoot at every glimpse of a bird and very frequently after an instant's sight of him, when you can only guess where he is. Sharp work, say ye, my masters. Yes, in a measure, but not so wonderful after all. You certainly must be ever ready and swift and smooth in action, but actual sight of the bird at the instant of pulling trigger is not necessary.

Green corn won't stop even fine shot and your charge will give a pattern as big as a bushel basket; hence the shaking of a leaf, the flick of a vanishing wing, are enough for the master of the art. In an instant his gun is on the spot where a species of lightning calculation tells him the bird should be, and the trigger is pressed without the slightest delay. The difficulty with the novice is to get him to shoot at once instead of waiting in vain for a clear view. Experts kill bird after bird in this way. The novice must dismiss all thoughts of empty shells. No good sportsman worries over misses, though he will learn from failures how to hold next time. There is no royal road to success in the field. Nothing but experience really counts. So let the novice crack away, although he may only get one bird in ten. We all know what he'll get if he doesn't shoot at all.—Outing.

Her Meanness.

An American hostess, on the occasion of a gathering of distinguished people, was endeavoring to add to the pleasure of a Frenchman by talking to him in his native language. Noticing that her lack of fluency was irksome to the lady and desiring to relieve her embarrassment, with praiseworthy amiability the foreigner said:

"Pardon, madame, somewhat the French is difficult for you. I am able to understand your mean-ness if you will speak English."—London Chronicle.

At the Finger's End.

"My niece," said the doctor, "has joined an organization they call the—the—strange I can't think of the name. I had it at my tongue's end a moment ago—oh, yes, I remember it now. They call it the Thimble club."

"Then you didn't have it at your tongue's end," objected the professor. "You had it at your finger's end."—Chicago Tribune.

The First National Bank
Of East Liverpool, O.

President—DAVID BOYCE.
Vice President—J. M. KELLY.
Cashier—N. G. MACRUM.
Asst. Cash'r—THOS. H. FISHER

BOARD OF DIRECTORS.

DAVID BOYCE. W. L. THOMPSON.
J. M. KELLY. O. C. VODREY.
B. C. SIMMS. JNO. C. THOMPSON.
JAS. N. VODREY.

Capital, - - - $100,000
Surplus, - - - 100,000

General Banking Business.

Invite Business and Personal Account.

Safe Deposit Boxes for Rent.

193 Washington Street.

ACCIDENT?

Have you thought of the many accidents which have occurred in our midst in the last few weeks? Have you been prudent and protected your family as well as your estate, with insurance against injury or loss of life? If not call at our office and secure a policy in one of the Strongest Companies in the land. The cost is but a trifle when you consider the protection.

Geo. H. Owen & Co.
General Insurance and Real Estate Agents.
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING,
Both Phones 49.

Time table effective Nov 26, 1900. Trains daily except Sunday. Central time.

	Lv. Lisbon.	Ar N. Galilee
No. 6	2 35 p. m.	3 40 p. m
No. 40	6 25 a. m.	7 30 a. m

	Lv. N. Galilee.	Ar. Lisbon
No. 9	8 25 a. m.	9 30 a. m
No. 45	5 10 p. m.	6 08 p. m.

CONNECTIONS AT NEW GALILEE.

Connections at New Galilee with Pennsylvania Co's trains to and from New York Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburg, Beaver Falls, East Liverpool, Wellsville, Bellaire, Alliance, Canton, Chicago, Erie, New Castle, Ashtabula, Youngstown, and intermediate points.

K. E. BARINGER,
General Passenger Agent.

DO YOU suffer from Nervous Prostration, Failing or Lost Manhood, Impotency, Nightly Emissions, Shrunken or Undeveloped Organs, Youthful Errors, Excessive Use of Tobacco or Opium? Sent by mail on receipt of price. DR. MOTT'S CHEMICAL CO., Cleveland, Ohio.

WE GUARANTEE to cure you or refund money, and we stand by our guarantee.

Sold at $1 per Box, 6 Boxes for $5.

For sale by Will Reed, C. F. Craig and C F. Larkin.

The Sanitary Reduction Co.
James Murphy, Manager, dispose of all refuse by incineration according to Board of Health regulations.
Bell 'Phone 373.

S. J. MARTIN,
RESTAURANT,
175 BROADWAY.
CHOICE MEALS. Only 25c.

ALL the latest and best local and telegraph news can be found in this paper.

HIGH GRADE

Decorator's Pencils,
All Artist's Supplies,
Water Colors,
Oil Colors,
Crayons,
Pastells,
AT

BULGER'S PHARMACY.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

A. M. Black, salesman for a Pittsburg grocery house, is in the city today.

Charles Walker is confined to his home on Fifth street with an attack of grip.

Trades Council will hold a regular session tomorrow evening and transact routine business.

Miss Nellie Porter is ill at her home on Seventh street with an attack of grip.

Mrs. Bratt is recovering from an attack of pleurisy. The lady is now able to sit up.

Walter, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Adams, is very ill at their home on Monroe street.

Plans are already being formulated in the city for a first-class base ball club for next season.

Howard Williams, of Fifth street, is able to be up after an illness of two weeks with malaria fever.

There are no new developments in the Christie inquest, and it is probable the matter has ended.

Harry Haden is very seriously ill in a hospital at Pittsburg, and it is feared he will not recover.

A number of the sidewalks in the city could stand a good dose of water, as they are extremely dirty.

The William Brunt Pottery company expect to resume operations tomorrow after a shutdown of several weeks.

Baggage Agent George B. Smith, of the Cleveland & Pittsburg passenger station, was off duty today on account of illness.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Thomas Anderson were held this afternoon at her late home on Walnut street.

Miss Minnie Haden, of Fourth street, who has been very ill for some time with an attack of typhoid fever, is slowly recoving.

George, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webster, who has been very ill at their home on Broadway, is slowly improving.

Mrs. George Heisler, who has been confined to her home on Sixth street for the past week with an attack of the grip, is able to be out.

The streets in the suburban districts of this city are a mass of mud, and many complaints are heard from the residents who would like to have cinder walks.

In the case of Will Timmons versus Contractor Robert Gravatt, Squire McLane rendered judgment for the full amount, $36 and costs, and costs that may occur.

There is a great deal of sickness among the school children of the city, and in some of the rooms not more than half the regular number of scholars are present.

The remains of Edgar Megalley were this morning taken to Salineville, where services were held in the Catholic church and interment was made in St. Patrick's cemetery.

A basket ball game will be played at the Y. M. C. A. rooms on Friday evening between the local team and the Tigers of Pittsburg. The latter is one of the strongest teams in this section and a good game is looked for.

THE BOSTON STORE.

X Special at Half Price.

A lot of Framed Pictures, very desirable subjects black frames—to close out at

Half Price.

Clearance Sale . . .
—OF—

X Special at 50c a yard.

Choice of all our Fancy Taffeta Silks that formerly sold at $1, $1.25 and $1.50 a yard, for

Only 50c yd.

BLANKETS AND COMFORTS.

This sale comes in just right for the weather, and affords an opportunity to buy a seasonable article at considerable saving.

BLANKETS.

65c and 59c Cotton Blankets at..... 50c a pair

These are full size, all wool plaid blankets in black and white and red and black.

Extra value at $3.50 a pair, the price whittled down for this sale to ..... $2.69 a pair

If they are not worth $3.50 to you don't buy them.

$4.00 Plaid Blankets for..... $3.25 a pair

$5.00 Plaid Blankets for..... $4.00 a pair

$5.00 All Wool White Blankets for..... $3.75 a pair

$6.00 All Wool White Blankets for..... $5.00 a pair

$7.50 All Wool White Blankets for..... $6.50 a pair

$9.00 All Wool Whlte Blankets for..... $7.75 a pair

COMFORTS.

All $1.00 Comforts for..... 80c each

All $1.25 Comforts for..... $1.00 each

All $1.50 Comforts for..... $1.20 each

All $1.75 Comforts for..... $1.35 each

All $2.00 Comforts for..... $1.50 each

All $2.50 Comforts for..... $2.00 each

All $3.00 Comforts for..... $2.50 each

All $3.50 Comforts for..... $2.75 each

All $4.00 Comforts for..... $3.25 each

$7.50 Down Comforts for..... $6.50 each

$8.50 Down Comforts for..... $7.00 each

1/4 Off this week on all Mackintoshes and Rainy Day Skirts; also on all Umbrellas, Ladies' and Gents',

4 From $2 to $7.50 Each.

Clearance Sales now going on in Dress Goods, Silks, all Ready to Wear Garments, Lace Curtains, Draperies, Hosiery, Underwear, Laces, Embroideries, and Muslin Underwear.

At $1.50 Each. Your choice this week of all our $2.50, $2.25 and $2 Ladies' Fleece Lined Wrappers for Only $1.50 Each

At $2.00 Each. A lot of very fine Wrappers sold at $3.50, $4.00 and $4.50, to close out this week, we name the small figure of $2.50 for Each.

X Special at Half Price.

A lot of Portieres to close out at

Half Price.

Come and Bring Your Friends to the

January Clearance Sale at

X Special at $5 Each.

A lot of Ladies' Tailor Made Suits $10, $12.50 and $15 values at only

$5.00 Each.

THE BOSTON STORE

A. S. YOUNG, Fifth and Market.

NOW IS MRS. VANDERBILT.

Miss Elsie French United In Marriage to Alfred G. Vanderbilt—Revs. Beatty and Morgan Officiated.

Newport, R. I., Jan. 15.—Miss Elsie French, a Newport girl and former playmate of the bridegroom, the daughter of Mrs. Frederick Orme French, a resident of the city for many years, and Alfred Gwynn Vanderbilt, probably the most wealthy of the third generation of the Vanderbilt family, were married here. The sun shone brightly.

The ceremony took place in the Zabriski Memorial church of St. John the Evangelist, far up in the old north part of the city, on the very shores of Narragansett Bay, once the center of Newport's fashion, but now far removed from the social whirl of Bellevue avenue. Miss French made the choice of her own place of worship and her own home for the scene of her marriage, instead of selecting the more pretentious but less familiar surroundings which would have been found in New York.

As the tones of the "Lohengrin" march breathed softly forth, the two clergymen, the Rev. George F. Beatty, rector of the church, and the Rev. G. Brindley Morgan, rector of Christ church at New Haven, entered from the side door, followed by the bridegroom and his brother, Reginald Vanderbilt, the best man. At the same time the bridal procession started up the main aisle, the ushers leading, followed by the four bridesmaids. Eight personal friends of the bridegroom acted as ushers. They were Messrs. Worthington Fitzhugh Whitehouse, Frederick Martin Davies, Robert Livingstone Gerry, Ord Preston, Ernest Iselin, William P. Boarden, Potter Palmer, Jr., and W. Bayard Cutting, Jr.

MRS. ALFRED G. VANDERBILT.

The bridesmaids were: Miss Pauline French, the bride's niece; Miss Elsa Bronson, daughter of the late Frederick Bronson; Miss Isabel C. Stillman, daughter of Mr. James Stillman, of New York, who shortly will become the bride of Percy Avery Rockefeller, and Miss Edith Gray, daughter of Judge Gray, of Albany. The maid of honor was Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, sister of the bridegroom.

Some distance behind walked the bride, leaning on the arm of her brother, Amos Tuck French. The bride's gown was of rich ivory white satin, the skirt having a train more than three yards in length. The long, close-fitting sleeves of satin were finished with deep cuffs of exquisite lace. The high collar of the corsage was of lace. The bottom of the skirt around the long train was trimmed with tulle and sprays of orange blossoms. The bridal veil, entirely covering the gown and falling to the end of the train, was a magnificent piece of Brussels point lace and was the same veil worn by her sister when she married General Eaton in England about ten years ago. The bride carried a boquent of white orchids and lillies of the valley. No jewels were worn.

At the altar Mr. Vanderbilt met his bride. Together they stood before the steps of the chancel until Dr. Morgan had finished reading the betrothal portion of the service, when they ascended into the chancel, and at the altar Dr. Beatty completed the ceremony and pronounced them husband and wife. The Mendelssohn wedding march was played as the wedding procession moved down the aisle and out of the church. The ceremony occupied seven minutes.

At "Harborview," the residence of Mrs. French, the bride and groom received.

At the conclusion of the wedding breakfast a number of toasts were drunk to the health and happiness of Mr. and Mrs. Vanderbilt. The bridal pair left later on their honeymoon trip.

In the billiard room were displayed an elaborate and costly store of wedding gifts.